THE BRITISH CRISIS IS MORE PACIFIC

Premier Asquith's Stand Generally Approved Except by the Radical Element Who Want to Punish Army Officers

LONDON, March 26.—Premier Asquith was generally conceded today to have regained the support not only of the liberals but of the Irish and labor members of parliament by the stand he took in the house of commons yesterday in repudiating the guarantee given to the mutinous army officers in Ireland that they might decide whether or not they would serve against the Ulster unionists.

The government, however, is not considered as being altogether out of trouble yet. It has still to deal with the army officers under the new conditions established by the premier's speech. It is believed that as soon as the government formally withdraws the guarantees given by Colonel Seely, secretary for war and Field Marshal Sir John French, the officers will again resign their commissions and as one of them said:

"This time in earnest."

There is also to be settled the question of what the army council will do. Brig. General Gough, commander of the third cavalry brigade, in the course of an interview said:

"If Premier Asquith withdraws the guarantees he will have to throw over the army council and the government will be faced practically with the disruption of the army."

The liberal press in the provinces while endorsing what Premier Asquith has already done insists that he must go farther and actually withdraw the guarantee given to the officers. These newspapers say the premier must make it quite plain to all officers of the army and navy that they must under all circumstances obey the orders given them.

Many liberals, too, think Premier Asquith should have accepted the resignation of Colonel Seely who has always been suspected of being more unionist than liberal in his sympathies.

COL. SEELY, WHO TOOK ALL BLAME FOR ULSTER TANGLE, IS STILL IN OFFICE

LONDON, March 26.—Col. John E. B. Seely's statement in the house of commons yesterday, taking upon himself all the blame as secretary of state for war, for the mistakes of the Ulster entanglement, made one of the most dramatic situations in the history of parliament.

To make the drama complete, he at once resigned his office, and to the most public and formal manner Premier Asquith refused to accept the resignation and testified in addition to the affection and confidence in which Col. Seely was held by his colleagues in the cabinet.

Col. Seely's explanation followed a sharp debate, before a crowded house, started by Admiral Beresford's demand for particulars of a threatened naval demonstration off the coast of Ireland. There was a flood of questions on all phases of the crisis and finally A. Bonar Law, leader of the Opposition, asked for details of the contemplated resignations of cavalry officers, which Col. Seely proceeded to give.

He declared he had nothing to conceal, but that he thought, in view of the information received by the government, it was necessary to take certain steps to protect the government depots. He had issued instructions for this purpose with the full authority of the cabinet. Gen. Paget came to London to discuss the best methods of carrying out the movements of troops.

LONDON PAPERS SAY THAT LORD MORLEY OUGHT TO RESIGN HIS POST

LONDON, March 25.—Lord Morley of Blackburn, during the course of his speech in the house of lords made the important admission that the two unauthorized paragraphs added to the Gough letter were drafted by Col. Seely in consultation with Lord Morley. The conservative morning papers commenting on this admission contend that Lord Morley, who holds the office of lord president of the council, ought to resign.

TAILOR SHOP FIRE

DROVE OCCUPANTS FROM BLOCK ON ELLIOT STREET AT MIDNIGHT

The occupants of a lodging house on Elliot street were driven to the street shortly after midnight by a fire which started in a tailor shop on the street floor of the building. A telephone operator discovered smoke coming from the building and notified the fire department, while Patrolman Connolly and Considine also saw the smoke and awakened the tenants.

Hardly had the officers aroused the occupants when the firemen arrived and the blaze was extinguished before it had spread to the second story. However, the tailor shop was wrecked by the fire and the contents were a total loss. The building was owned by John H. Donnelly and the tailor shop by John Marmik. The origin of the fire seemed to be a mystery.

Saturday, April 4th, is Quarter Day at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

BOY WAS BADLY INJURED

JOHN BRADY FELL FROM TREE ON APPLETON STREET LAST EVENING

John Brady, aged 5 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brady of South street, who fell from a tree near the New England Telephone Co.'s office on Appleton street, early last evening lay in an unconscious condition at St. John's hospital all night but it was stated this forenoon that he was slowly regaining consciousness and would probably recover. He is suffering from a very severe scalp wound and it is believed that his skull is fractured.

The youngster was playing with several companions near the corner of Appleton and South streets when the accident occurred. According to one of his playmates, little John had climbed the tree and was standing on a branch when he lost his balance and fell to the ground, striking on his head and shoulder. He was hurried to his home by neighbors and Dr. M. A. Tighe summoned. The latter recommended that he be sent to the hospital and the ambulance was called to convey him to St. John's hospital.

It was reported last night that the boy's injuries would probably prove fatal, but it was stated at the hospital this morning that his condition was improving and his recovery is hoped for.

DEATHS

O'HARE—Michael O'Hare, an old resident of St. Peter's parish, died yesterday at the home of his son, 27 Ellsworth street, at the age of 65 years. He is survived by three sons, James Michael and Joseph; one daughter, Mrs. Charles Bagshaw; two sisters, Mrs. Denis O'Neil and Miss Ann O'Hare, and two brothers, Timothy and Patrick O'Hare of Australia.

CORRIGAN—Frank Corrigan, for the past 60 years a resident of Chelmsford, died last evening at his home in Church street, at the age of 89 years. He is survived by four sons, John J. and William of North Chelmsford, James of Lowell and Frank of Fitchburg, and by two daughters, Mrs. Owen McNally and Miss Mary Corrigan.

LEE—Mrs. Margaret Lee, an old and esteemed parishioner of St. Patrick's church, died this morning at her home, 27 Butterfield street. She leaves to mourn her loss, two sons, Bernard F. and Thomas F. Lee and one daughter, Miss Rose Lee. Deceased was a member of the Holy Rosary sodality.

MALOY—Mrs. Susan A. Maloy died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Bushee, 41 Bellevue street, aged 86 years. She leaves, besides her daughter, one niece in Maine and a nephew in California.

TIERNEY—John Tierney died yesterday at his home, 211 Farnham street, Lawrence. He leaves his wife and one daughter.

TORREON TREMBLES AS MEXICANS SLAY EACH OTHER IN BATTLE

1. MAIN STREET IN TORREON—2. REBEL BATTERIES IN ACTION DURING ADVANCE ON TORREON—3. HOW REBELS ATTACKED TORREON

The main street in Torreon was the scene of frantic panic as the rebels began bombarding the city after a successful advance. Federals were prepared to make the last desperate stand of the battle there. The map shows how Villa's forces were drawn up around the city. Fierce fighting had preceded the clash at the city's gates.

VILLA'S VICTORY AT TORREON IS TURNED TO DEFEAT IN FIERCE ATTACK BY FEDERALS

JUAREZ, Mex., March 26.—A shattering surprise befell Gen. Villa in the midst of what he thought a certain triumph, according to scattering despatches reaching here following rigid censorship began early yesterday.

The last despatch, direct from the firing line at Torreon Tuesday night, announced the crossing of the Nazas river by Gen. Benevides and his Naragoza brigade, his capture of the barracks on the outskirts of the city and the advance of his troops to the city plaza.

This accomplished, Villa was certain of his victory. His soldiers were exhausted by five days of nearly continuous marching and fighting, and Villa ordered that they rest, expecting to swing his main force over bridges into Torreon and take up the pursuit of what he regarded as a thoroughly beaten federal army.

Villa's Centre Attacked

But the strategy of Gen. Velasco, the federal leader, has turned the table, for the time being, with reinforcements, of whose arrival from Mexico City in Torreon in the last few days, Villa seems to have been wholly ignorant.

Velasco, while engaging Benevides and his forces at Torreon, where they still are said to be holding their ground in the suburbs, sent his largest forces of fresh troops that had been massed to the southwest of the city in a driving charge upon the centre of Villa's army as it lay north of Torreon.

It was striking Villa at the weakest point of his line, because in the battle of the day before he had drawn away Gen. Urbina's brigades from Lerdo, southwest of the city, and despatched them to guard the railroad lines to the northwest. There were fewer than expected to challenge the federals in their advance to Villa's centre.

Driven to El Verjel

The result of the sudden aggressive tactics of the reinforced federals sent Villa and his men reeling back to Gomez Palacio, and after furious battling there the federals drove them out of the Torreon suburb and six miles further north to El Verjel.

But the latest despatches to the constitutionalist leaders, though very incomplete, accredit Villa with holding the eastern country and of having in the handling of his men averted the danger of the federals splitting his army, cutting him off from Benevides, who is still fighting at the southeast gateway of Torreon.

TODAY'S REPORT STATES THAT REBELS WERE ROUTED AND REPULSED

WASHINGTON, March 26.—This message sent from Mexico City last night was received at the embassy here today:

"Rebels once more routed and repulsed at Gomez Palacio with heavy losses while trying to approach Torreon."

FRACTURED HIS SKULL

Workman Was Badly Injured at the Saco-Lowell Machine Shop This Morning

While running a machine known as a planer in the plant of the Saco-Lowell Machine company about 7.50 o'clock this morning a man named Patrick Lee, of 43 Lincoln street, was hit on the head with a belt and so seriously injured that he now lies in a critical condition at the Lowell Corporation hospital. Whether or not he will recover is not known, according to the hospital authorities.

Mr. Lee was working at his bench this morning when a counter shaft which runs along the ceiling broke and the belt struck him on the head knocking him to the floor. In falling, the back of his head hit a piece of machinery, it is believed, and fractured his skull. Several of his fellow employes rushed to his side and upon learning the seriousness of his injuries telephoned for the ambulance and he was removed to the hospital.

VERDICT IN "DE LUXE" CASE

BOSTON, March 26.—The jury in the so-called de luxe book case today returned a verdict of guilty against all three defendants, Glen E. Farmer and James Powers of New York and Samuel Rosenfield of Chicago.

Rosenfield was sentenced to from six to eight years in state prison. Farmer also was sent to state prison for a term of from three to five years and Powers was given two and a half years in the house of correction.

The men were accused of conspiracy to defraud Mrs. Mary L. Rogers of this city, and of the larceny from her of $57,087 by inducing her to advance money for the purchase of what were represented to be rare volumes and on which she had been made to believe she would be able to make a large profit soon, when the editions would be out of print.

SEALED VERDICT

BOSTON, March 26.—A few minutes before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the "de luxe" book case went to the jury and the court adjourned until 9.30 o'clock this morning.

A sealed verdict was handed in by the jury at 9.45 last night.

The final arguments occupied all the morning yesterday. The charge to the jury by Judge Chase lasted for an hour and a half during the afternoon session.

Judge Chase refused to allow the counts charging conspiracy between all three defendants, Samuel Rosenfield, Glen E. Farmer and Michael J. Powers, to defraud Mrs. Mary L. Rogers to go to the jury, but allowed Asst. Dist. Atty. Melsaac to charge conspiracy between two of the defendants.

The assistant district attorney in his argument, therefore, charged a conspiracy had existed between Powers and Rosenfield. Farmer was excluded from the conspiracy charge, but all three defendants were accused of larceny.

FEARING INSANITY MAN ENDS HIS LIFE

J. D. Humphrey of Boston Committed Suicide by Jumping From the Saloon Deck of the Steamer Governor

PORTLAND, Me., March 26.—Fearing he would become insane, according to a letter which he left to the purser and a written statement accompanying it, J. D. Humphrey of 171 School street, Boston committed suicide by jumping from the saloon deck of the steamer Governor Dingley this morning when the vessel was about ten miles east of Boone Island. The steamer was stopped and every effort was made to locate Humphrey, but this was impossible because of the high seas.

MANY ARRESTED

Political Situation in Caracas Reported Extremely Unsettled

WILLEMSTAD, Curacoa, March 26.—The political situation in Caracas is reported to be unsettled. Many prominent persons have been placed under arrest, including Col. Samuel McGill, instructor general of the Venezuelan army, who however, was afterward released. General Manuel Matos, former minister of foreign affairs and two of his nephews are said to have become fugitives.

HEINZE ELECTRIC CO.

HAS FILLED PLACES OF THE ALLEGED STRIKERS—UNION ORGANIZED

It was reported last night that between 20 and 25 assemblers employed at the Heinze Electric Co. went out on strike yesterday, because of alleged grievances over their work.

Joseph A. Legare, treasurer of the company, when seen by a Sun reporter this morning said the company does not recognize any strike. He said the men did not go out on strike, but were discharged by the foreman of the department because they refused to do the work brought to them.

Mr. Legare said for some years past the company has been using what are known as spot coils upon which a silk wire secondary was being used. "In order to keep up with our competitors," continued Mr. Legare, "we thought it advisable to use what is known as enamel wire, but the assemblers refused to do their work and accordingly 21 of them were discharged. Their places have been filled and the department is running as before." Mr. Legare also said the men who were discharged were the highest paid unskilled laborers in the country, for their average pay was between $12 and $16 a week.

One of the assemblers called at The Sun office this morning and informed the writer that all the assemblers at the Heinze Electric Co. were out on strike because of alleged reduction in wages. He said the strikers held a meeting yesterday afternoon and organized into a union and the following officers were elected: Fred Welch, president; William Kendall, vice president; Harry Rogers, recording secretary; Oscar McFarland, treasurer; Messrs. Welch, McFarland and Favreau, executive board.

LEE—The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Lee will take place on Saturday morning at 8 o'clock from her late home, 27 Butterfield street. At 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem will be sung at St. Patrick's church. Burial will be in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery under the direction of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

CORRIGAN—The funeral of Mr. Frank Corrigan will take place on Saturday morning at 8 o'clock from his late home on Church street, North Chelmsford. At 9 o'clock a funeral high mass of requiem will be sung at St. John's church, North Chelmsford. Burial will be in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery under the direction of Undertaker James F. O'Donnell & Sons. Kindly omit flowers.

KENNEDY—The funeral of the late Mrs. Ellen Kennedy will take place tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock from her home, 439 Riverside street. A mass of requiem will be sung at St. Columba's church at 9 o'clock. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

GENERAL STRIKE

May be Called in Lawrence—Grievance Against All Mills

LAWRENCE, March 26.—A proposal for a general strike for an eight-hour day was discussed at a meeting of the central committee of the Industrial Workers of the World last night. The matter was put over to Friday night for further consideration.

Members of the committee said after the meeting that grievances of various kinds had been received against most of the mills in the city and that such sentiment had been expressed in favor of making these grievances the basis of a general strike.

WARE MAN PUZZLED

Loses Strip of Hair From Head—Thinks He Shaved It Off While Asleep

WARE, March 26.—Thomas Parr of Main street is puzzled over the loss of hair three inches wide from the top of his head.

When he retired last night he had all of his hair, but when he got up this morning he found that the top of his head was shaved.

He says he does not believe he was shaved by a practical joker and thinks he must have performed the shaving "stunt" while asleep.

COACH OF MUHLENBERG

ALLENTOWN, Pa., March 26.—G. McCaa, former coach at Lafayette was elected last night as coach of the Muhlenberg college football eleven, to succeed Thomas Kelley, who leaves as the result of a disagreement with Dr. J. A. W. Haas, president of Muhlenberg. Kelley will go to the University of Maine as coach.

GIN KILLED TWINS

Four-Year-Old Youngsters Were Playing "Doctor"

FRANKLIN, March 26—Playing "doctor" while their mother was ill, the four year old twins of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McCahill died from drinking the contents of a bottle of gin. One, Joseph, died yesterday. The death of the other, Margaret, occurred today.

Mrs. McCahill was confined to her bed with a baby born three weeks ago and the children obtained the bottle in the absence of an attendant. McCahill is a railroad section foreman.

HOPE FOR SIEGEL FUNDS

DIST. ATTY. PELLETIER MAY CONTRIVE TO REGAIN SOME OF $3000 DEPOSITED DEC. 29 AND 30

BOSTON, March 26.—Dist. Atty. Pelletier has sent letters to those who deposited money in the Siegel bank here Dec. 29 and 30, the last two days the bank did business, that he would protect them as far as he could, and that they may get back their money. The amount is about $3,000.

The district attorney will make an effort to get back some of the $100,000 bond filed in New York, but entertains doubt as to the success of such a move, as that bond may be held to have been for the benefit of New York depositors only.

LOVE LETTERS WERE READ

AT TRIAL OF JOHN D. KOETTER, ACCUSED OF MURDER OF MRS. KRAFT

CHICAGO, March 26.—The state continued to introduce evidence yesterday in its case against John D. Koetters, accused of the murder of Mrs. Emma Kraft of Cincinnati, a 60 year old widow. Witnesses testified that Koetters stated in Cincinnati in October, 1912, that he did not have enough money to come to Chicago for a course in telegraphy and that in January, 1913, he was in Boston renting a safety deposit box.

Love letters alleged to have been written by Koetters to Mrs. Kraft were read to the jury today.

C. J. Schwener, manager of a Boston safety deposit vault said that Koetters rented a box under the name of John Nieman. Schwener said that detectives with a search warrant opened the box later and found it empty.

The state charges that Koetters lured Mrs. Kraft, an alderly woman, to Chicago with promises of marriage and struck her down with a hammer and robbed her. Mrs. Kraft had sold real estate in Cincinnati for $3000.

CHARGES AGAINST LICENSE BOARD

HOLYOKE, March 26.—Charges were preferred today against License Commissioners T. J. O'Connor and George J. White, alleging that they were holding their offices illegally, owing to all members of the board being of one political party. Commissioner O'Connor was also charged with holding the office of public administrator, this being claimed to conflict with his place on the license board.

MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE WON

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., March 26.—Middlebury college was victorious in a triangular debate last night, winning from the University of Vermont here and from Norwich university at Northfield. The University of Vermont defeated Norwich in the debate in Burlington.

TROUBLE FOR JOHN D.

REFUSED PERMISSION TO USE STREETS FOR REMOVAL OF HUGE STONE

NEW YORK, March 26.—John D. Rockefeller has encountered further trouble in the removal of the huge stone, said to weigh 250 tons, which he is to take to Tarrytown from Long Island. The village boards refused permission to use the streets unless he furnished a bond.

The board of water supply learned that the rock will have to be taken across the old Croton aqueduct and demanded that Mr. Rockefeller build a steel structure over the highway at that point. Instead of horses, it is said, a giant tractor, possibly two or three, will be used to draw the stone up the hills.

DROP IN ICE PRICES

LARGEST LEOMINSTER DEALER MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT OF SCHEDULE

LEOMINSTER, March 26.—The largest dealer in ice here announced summer prices yesterday. The schedule announced, to go into effect April 1, is as follows: Family trade, 30 cents per 100 pounds, formerly 60; drug stores and restaurants, 20 cents, formerly 40; markets and stores, 15 cents, formerly 35; chipped ice in baskets, 10 cents, formerly 20.

It is expected that the action by this dealer will govern the prices to be fixed by the smaller icemen.

Money deposited on or before Saturday, April 4th, in The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank goes on interest that date.

PROPOSED BY J. F. JACKSON

Amendment to Bill to Prohibit Interlocking Directors Exempting Lighting and Trolley Companies

WASHINGTON, March 26.—James F. Jackson of Boston sent to the house judiciary committee yesterday a proposed amendment to the bill to prohibit interlocking directorates. By this the law would not apply "to any corporation conducting a gas, electric light or street railway business which is wholly or chiefly interstate in character and subject to state control over management or issues of securities." As an alternative amendment, he proposed that the interstate commerce commission may exempt such corporations.

DAMAGES FOR MAN'S LIFE

Providence Administrator Seeks $30,000 for Fatal Accident to Motorist Because of Gully in Road

PROVIDENCE, March 26.—A suit for $30,00 damages for the death of Joseph M. Beddington of Pawtucket, formerly of Massachusetts, was filed in the superior court yesterday by Anthony H. Beddington, administrator, against Waldo I. Getchell of Cambridge, Mass.

Beddington alleges that Getchell, through land of his, on the northerly side of Chalkstone avenue, opened a highway for public use in the direction of Pleasant Valley parkway, known as Banfor street, and no notice was posted to warn the public that it was not accepted by the city as a highway.

The allegation continues that Sept. 29, 1913, Joseph M. Beddington, driving a motor vehicle by night in the locality mentioned, failed to see a deep gully, until his machine ran into it and capsized, falling upon him and inflicting fatal injuries.

TO BAR PRISON GOODS

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The bill barring foreign convict or pauper-made goods from competition with the products of American free labor went to the senate today from the house where it was passed yesterday following a vigorous partisan contest. In the senate the measure was referred for committee consideration.

WILSON VISITS SENATOR

PRESIDENT BREAKS PRECEDENT AND CALLS ON CHAIRMAN OF FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, March 26.—President Wilson kept pace yesterday with his precedent-shattering reputation and exemplified the human side of himself, which he described in a talk to newspaper men a few days ago, by motoring to the home of Senator William J. Stone of Missouri, who has been ill for several weeks and having a chat about official business.

Senator Stone, who is the new chairman of the foreign relations committee, had sought a conference with the president. Mr. Wilson suggested that he visit the senator rather than put the latter to the trouble of visiting the White House.

The president, it is understood, told the senator that the Mexican situation had undergone no change.

The toll exemption repeal matter was discussed at length and a point particularly emphasized was that South American nations were just as much opposed to the exemption from tolls to coastwise shipping of the United States passing through the Panama canal as was Canada.

Argentina and Brazil, it developed, hold that their own coastwise shipping should be free from tolls if American coastwise ships are to enjoy that advantage. The South American governments argue that they are in the same position as Canada and that so long as their ships are not engaged in oversea traffic, coastwise ships of the United States would have a discriminatory advantage through canal toll exemption.

WAS TOLD TO SHUT UP

AUGUSTA, Me., March 26.—The pardon petition of Grace E. Royce of this city, now serving 20 years in the state prison for poisoning her baby, was heard by the governor and council yesterday and tabled for the next executive session.

In her petition Mrs. Royce says that the poison was given by mistake by her little daughter Grace, she thinking it was cologne. But the little daughter, who is now eight years of age, was brought before the governor and council and denied emphatically that she gave the baby poison.

"Stephen Norris put the red stuff in the baby's mouth," said the child. "I told him to stop, but he told me to shut up and he slapped me hard in the face."

Mrs. Royce at the time was keeping house for Mr. Norris, her husband, Henry C. Royce, being at work at the time at a private hatchery. The crime was committed July 15, 1911, and soon after that Mr. Royce obtained a divorce, although he stated at the hearing yesterday that he believed Mrs. Royce was convicted unjustly. In answer to a question by the county attorney, he said he obtained a divorce because she had been sent to state prison. He said he had courted his wife two weeks before he was married.

At the trial Mrs. Royce claimed that Norris took a hand in the poisoning, and he was tried as an accessory after the fact and acquitted.

Mrs. Royce was formerly Grace E. Norton, and her first husband was Frank Farris of China, by whom she had eight children, four of whom are now living, and were in the council chamber yesterday, the two daughters going on the stand to testify to her kindly nature and tender-heartedness. Mrs. Royce has now served a year and a half of her sentence.

PASTORS BESEECH MAYOR

LAWRENCE ASSOCIATION ASKS FOR RIGID ENFORCEMENT OF LIQUOR LAW

LAWRENCE, March 26.—The Lawrence Ministers' association, through a committee composed of Revs. Robert W. Beers, E. S. Tasker, Charles E. McColley, H. G. Mank, Samuel Russell, T. C. Atchison and George H. Wallace, yesterday appealed to Mayor Scanlon for a more rigid enforcement of the liquor laws in local hotels Sundays.

Their letter to the mayor follows the remarks of Judge Mahoney in police court a few days ago. The ministers want the police to be especially instructed as to the careful enforcement of the Sunday laws. They also make a second appeal for the mayor to cease granting licenses for Sunday performances in theatres.

KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

BODY OF MISS EDITH MAGOUN WILL PROBABLY BE BROUGHT TO MARSHFIELD

TACOMA, March 25.—Miss Edith Magoun, aged 29, an expert stenographer, was struck by an automobile Tuesday evening in front of the Y. M. C. A. building and instantly killed. The driver of the machine took her to the hospital and surrendered. She was identified yesterday afternoon. She was going to the Eastern Star social in Masonic Temple and her umbrella shut off sight of the approaching machine. The driver will be released.

Miss Magoun was for five years a stenographer for a Boston tea company. Two years ago she went to Spokane and came to Tacoma in January for a position with the Consumers' Manufacturing and Supply company. Her parents and brother reside in Marshfield, Mass. She was a member of Rexhame Chapter, Eastern Star, and past grand noble of Rebekah lodge, Marshfield. At Spokane she lived with David Magoun, her brother. Her body will probably be sent home.

RHEUMATISM

Remarkable Home Cure Given by One Who Had It—He Wants Every Sufferer to Benefit

Send No Money—Just Your Address

Years of awful suffering and misery have taught this man, Mark H. Jackson of Syracuse, New York, how terrible an enemy to human happiness rheumatism is, and have given him sympathy with all unfortunates who are within its grasp. He wants every rheumatic victim to know how he was cured. Read what he says:

"I Had Sharp Pains Like Lightning Flashes Shooting Through My Joints"

"In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

"I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today. MARK H. JACKSON, No. 936 Gurney Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y."

Mr. Jackson is responsible. Above statement true.—Pub.

The Home Beauty Parlor

by Betty Dean

Sue L: I always recommend quinzoin to put vitality and luxuriance into anyone's hair. It will promptly remedy the dandruff and itching scalp; it cools falls and you can prepare it at home. From your druggist get one ounce quinzoin and one half pint alcohol. Mix and add one half pint cold water. This makes enough tonic to last a long time. Apply to your scalp twice a week. This is fine to prevent falling of the hair and premature loss of color.

Daly: Don't worry about being too "plump" when there is such a simple, easy way to reduce flesh without dieting or any strenuous exercise. Get four ounces of parnotis from your druggist and mix it in one and one-half pints hot water. Take a tablespoonful before meals. This is harmless and inexpensive and I think you will find a beneficial change within a week.

Leonora: There is no virtue in an egg shampoo. The silky and animal matter clings to the strands and clogs the pores of the scalp. Try this simple shampoo: Get some canthrox from your druggist and dissolve a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. It leaves the scalp stimulated and cleaned, and the hair beautifully soft and fluffy.

Polly: You do not need to send abroad for the new, perfect substitute for face powder. Make it yourself at home, by dissolving four ounces spurmax in one half pint hot water. This is the simplest, purest lotion for making the skin soft and naturally fair. It stays on closely, and gives a youthful freshness. When on it seems part of the skin and cannot be detected as can the old-style face powder.

Caroline: Yes, if the tissues of your face are inclined to sag, beware, or you will soon have wrinkles! Here is a good massage cream which tones and braces the tissues, while also beautifying the complexion: Mix an ounce of kinzoin (from your druggist) in one half pint of cold water. Add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Apply freely. At the first application you feel the skin contract and you will soon get back the firm contour and a velvety skin. For a good blood-purifier see answer to Maurice.

Maurice: The skin eruptions of which you speak are caused by impure blood and you must eliminate the poisons from the system before you can hope to enjoy complete health. Into one half pint alcohol (whisky must not be used) pour one ounce kardene, then add one-half cupful sugar and hot water to make a full quart. Take one tablespoonful of this old-fashioned blood cleanser and tonic before each meal. This is splendid for that weak, worn feeling and restores the vital organs to a healthy condition, and its timely use will save much serious sickness.

Fanchon: Certainly eyes are harmed by belladonna, but this home-made tonic will clear and make them brilliant while it is strengthening and resting. Anyone can prepare it by dissolving an ounce of cryslos (obtainable at any druggist's) in one half pint of clear water. Use eye cup or put a few drops in each eye at least once a day. Its brightening effect is immediate.

MEN OVER 60 TO RACE

PLANS FOR VETERAN OARSMEN TO HAVE AT IT AT SARATOGA—A 74-YEAR-OLD TO PARTICIPATE

NEW YORK, March 26—James H. Riley, the one-time sculling champion, is planning for a veterans' race on Saratoga lake next August. Riley came into prominence again two years ago by rowing Jim Teneyck, coach of the Syracuse crews a match race at Saratoga. According to the plan announced today by Riley no oarsman under 60 will be allowed to compete in the proposed contest. The distance probably will be a mile.

The men whom he has already invited are:

Ellis Ward is the veteran of the lot, having passed the 71th milestone.

DROPS DEAD FROM GRIEF

RAYMOND CAREY EXPIRES SOON AFTER LEARNING OF DEATH OF HIS SON

FITCHBURG, March 26.—Soon after being informed yesterday of the death of his son, Patrick Carey, who was found dead in Gardner Monday, Raymond Carey dropped dead from grief.

Mr. Carey was 69 years old and was one of the first employes of the highway department to benefit under the pension act. He is survived by a son, John Carey, of Gardner, and a daughter who resides in the west.

AT PEOPLE'S CLUB

"Rome" was the subject of the lecture, the last in a series under the auspices of the People's club, which was given last night at the quarters of this popular organization in Runels' building, the speaker being Arthur K. Peck. The attendance was very large and the speaker's remarks were listened to with great interest. The lecture was accompanied by interesting views of the different buildings and other places of interest of the Eternal City, which greatly pleased the audience.

Mr. Peck centred his talk about the ruins of the Forum, the Arches of Titus and Constantine, the Pantheon, the Castle of San Angelo, the baths of Caracalla, the imposing arch of Septimius, and in closing, the Vatican, including a large and beautiful picture of the Holy Father surrounded by the cardinals.

SHE TWICE TRIED SUICIDE

ATTRACTIVE YOUNG NURSE WILL BE EXAMINED AS TO HER SANITY AT PSYCOPATHIC HOSPITAL

BOSTON, March 26.—Miss Alice Kellerman, the attractive young nurse who swallowed a dose of antiseptice fluid in her room at 171 Hemenway street last Tuesday night, is under observation at the Psycopathic hospital and may be committed as mentally unsound. The attempt at suicide has failed, according to the hospital doctors.

A Harvard student is said to have been very attentive to Miss Kellerman and it was thought that a quarrel between the two led to her act. It developed yesterday that the young woman had not eaten anything for more than a week.

She had acted very irrationally and made considerable noise in her suite, where she was living alone. Her student sweetheart is said to be in New York and all efforts to communicate with him have failed. About a week ago the woman attempted suicide and at that time took an overdose, which probably saved her life.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way, when the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio. All druggists.

KINDNESS IS REWARDED

JOE CHOYNSKI, FORMER PUGILIST LEFT $10,000 BY CHINAMAN WHOM HE BEFRIENDED

CHICAGO, March 26.—Joe Choynski, former prize fighter and now director at the Pittsburg Athletic club, yesterday discovered that $10,000 had been left him in the will of Jim Pon, a Chinese, whom the boxer befriended years ago.

Jim Pon died a few days ago and his sons, Ned Ying and Bert Ying, unable to open the safe in their father's restaurant, sent for Choynski. The boxer brought a man, who in a few minutes, opened the steel doors, disclosing Pon's will. It named Choynski as executor and guardian of Jim Pon's sons.

Choynski's kindness to Pon was in sending his boys to school and otherwise helping them at various times.

DOORKEEPER OF CHAMBER

WM. H. PURINGTON WHO KNEW EVERY MEMBER BY NAME, DIED AT HIS HOME IN LYNN

BOSTON, March 26.—William H. Purington for many years doorkeeper of the trade room at the chamber of commerce, died at his home in Lynn yesterday.

Mr. Purington knew every member of the chamber, and is said to have been the only man who could call every member by name. He had been connected with the chamber for about 19 years, entering as a floor boy.

Mr. Purington was well known in fraternal and social society circles in Lynn. He was a prominent Odd Fellow and for several years played on the championship bowling team in the Odd Fellows' league.

AGREEMENT IS RATIFIED

NEW HAVEN DIRECTORS PASS ON PACT AGREED ON BY CHAIRMAN ELLIOTT AND ATTY. GENERAL

NEW YORK, March 26.—Directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company, in special meeting yesterday, unanimously approved of the agreement recently reached between Chairman Howard Elliott and Attorney-General McReynolds, which prescribed the terms and conditions under which the New Haven system is to disintegrate.

Chairman Elliott was authorized to call a special meeting of the stockholders in New Haven on April 21, when formal action on the agreement will be taken.

New Haven officials believe that the compact with the government will be ratified by a large majority vote.

Within the next few days a pamphlet report dealing with every phase of New Haven's prolonged negotiations with the department of justice will be mailed to every holder of New Haven securities.

The report will also deal exhaustively with the road's financial condition, and some suggestion may be advanced respecting the $45,000,000 of notes which mature May 18, and for which no provision has yet been made.

Gross earnings of the New Haven for the first three weeks of March are 2 12 per cent. behind the corresponding period last year, a very good showing, in the opinion of Chairman Elliott, who referred to the recent severe weather as a serious draw-back. Earnings of the various trolley subsidiaries are running behind about five per cent.

CURLEY ASKS POWER

URGED LEGISLATURE TO ADMIT BILL PERMITTING HIM TO REDUCE POLICE DEPT. SALARIES

BOSTON, March 26.—Mayor Curley yesterday urged the committee on rules of the legislature to admit his bill permitting him to reduce the police salaries raised by Mayor Fitzgerald, and made an address in which he attacked the increases as creating a situation without regard for the city's financial interest or for the moral obligation resting upon a mayor not to embarrass his successor.

The mayor said that the increases were made at an improper time, procured in an improper way, that they placed an excessive burden upon taxpayers and that they impaired the efficiency of other departments.

The mayor also appeared for his petition for two years within which lamp lighters may be transferred to a different classification without further examination. He explained that the new lighting system made this bill advisable.

More Cuts Coming

Two more city departments are to feel Mayor Curley's "axe" this week, according to a statement which the mayor made last night. These are the park and recreation and health departments.

The mayor said that he had directed Chairman Dillon of the park and recreation commission to make the necessary cuts in his department to enable it to be run for $350,000 less than last year.

The Parkman fund income which will be used for maintenance this year will amount to between $175,000 and $200,000. It will be thus up to Chairman Dillon, the mayor said, to save the difference.

Chairman Dillon will report to the mayor next Saturday how he proposes to save this amount of money. It is believed that there will be another wholesale reduction in salaries in this department, just as there was in the public works department. While some employes may be dropped from the department, the feeling at city hall is that but a few will be officially beheaded.

On Friday Chairman Mahoney of the health department will be required to tell the mayor how $50,000 can be cut from the expenses of his department. This is in addition to the quarantine expenses amounting to about $40,000, which the mayor expects to shift over to the federal government. The school physicians will have their number lopped pretty nearly 50 per cent, it is understood. The dairy inspection service is also apt to be wiped out, it is rumored.

'OPEN HOUSE' AT Y.M.C.A.

REPRESENTATIVES OF THE LOCAL CHURCHES SHOWN THROUGH BUILDING LAST EVENING

Over 100 representatives of the various Protestant churches of this city were shown through the Y. M. C. A. building last evening and after their tour of inspection witnessed the gymnastic exercises which were conducted under the direction of Physical Director A. J. Wicke.

The churchmen began to arrive at the association building shortly after 8 o'clock and they were taken to the different parts of the building by members of the reception committee. After the class exercises two lively basketball games were played and some excellent swimming exhibitions were given.

The evening's program closed with talks by F. A. Bowen, president of the association; H. A. Smith and others in front of the fireplace in the main lobby. Refreshments were served.

START TO SWAT THE FLY

CAMPAIGN IS ON IN BOSTON—HEALTH BOARD ON WARPATH—SPRING CLEANING ON

BOSTON, March 26—Boston's board of health has started its spring cleaning. It is again on the warpath for flies and is pursuing its campaign to exterminate flies in the Hub just where it left off last fall.

The health board has directed its inspectors to make a careful inspection of the city for possible breeding places for flies. It has instructed the inspectors to serve notice upon all owners of stables to have the refuse from these stables kept in covered receptacles and removed frequently. The inspectors have been ordered to see to it that the city's alleys, dirty backyards and other disease breeding places are cleaned up before the warmer spring weather comes.

ACCUSED WOMAN DYING

MRS. AMANDA U. LAWSON MAY NEVER EXPLAIN HER HUSBAND'S MYSTERIOUS DEATH

SOUTH WOODSTOCK, Conn., March 26.—Death, descending unexpectedly on the only person who was supposed to know the facts, is likely to leave the strange fate of Jonas P. Lawson, the rich former of this place, an eternal mystery.

His widow, Mrs. Amanda U. Lawson, arrested Tuesday on a charge of manslaughter, but really held on the supposition that she can clear up the mystery of the fate her husband met on the night of Aug. 14 last, when his corpse, with the head crushed, was found at the end of a bloody trail from the Lawson cellar to the barn, is said to be dying of heart disease at their home.

It is the theory of State Policeman Robert Hurley and State Attorney Charles E. Searles, that while Mr. Lawson may not have actually killed her husband, she knows what, or who, caused his fate.

After Judge Shumway at Putnam had held Mrs. Lawson in $2000 bonds she was carried home, supposedly dying, charge of Miss Avery, a trained nurse. Last night she was in agony and was likely to die at any minute. It was said by physicians she had small chance of living till she faces a charge of killing her husband at the May term of the superior court.

OVER 2500 MEN

At Mission by Dominican Fathers at Immaculate Conception Church

Once again the appeal of the Catholic mission was made manifest in the large crowd that overtaxed the capacity of the Immaculate Conception Church last evening. All the seats were taken and the immense congregation overflowed into the sanctuary.

The introductory instruction was given by Rev. J. H. Healy, who took for his subject the "Our Father" which he called the most beautiful and the most perfect prayer of Christian worship. He took it phrase by phrase, showing their deep meaning and asked his hearers to ponder on these meanings whenever they repeated the prayer. He also said that if the "Our Father" were perfectly understood, no one could remain in sin who recited it fervently, because it would demonstrate to him the inconsistency of his life and aspirations.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Fr. Mackin, who took for his subject the "Holy Sacrifice of the Mass." He first of all drew a word picture of an imaginary spring rising in the mountains and flowing to the sea. "Suppose," he said, "that the people of the world, realizing the wonderful qualities of this spring, built a channel with several small openings along its course. Millions could thus partake of its virtues and yet the spring would pour on to the sea in undiminished grandeur. This is an image of the mass, the most marvelous spring of God's grace, rising on the hill of Calvary and pouring on to the ocean of eternity.

"In all nations and at all times sacrifice was regarded as the most natural expression of worship. In the most primitive tribes of the uncivilized world we see it in more or less perfect forms. In the Old Testament, sacrifice formed the principal exercise of devotion to God. The sacrifices of Abraham, Isaac, Melchisedech, and the other patriarchs were merely types of the perfect sacrifice to come. In those times the earth was red with the blood of victims and the sky was black with smoke, but still there was no offering worthy of God. Millions prayed that some day this victim should appear. And He did—in the person of Jesus Christ, God's own son, perfect sacrament and perfect sacrifice.

"The mass is a perfect sacrifice because it is a sacrifice of prayer, of adoration and of atonement. It embodies all other types of worship. When we stand on a mountain peak; aloof and see the other peaks among the clouds and the endless valleys below, we are thrilled with worship, and raising hands and eyes to God we cry out 'Marvelous are thy works, O God!' When we are in a boat tossed on the deep with little between us and the tumultuous waves, we naturally fall on our knees and pray for protection from heaven. All of these things are natural expressions of feelings deeply inherent in us. In the mass is the culmination of all praise, all prayer. When the priest says the mystic words of consecration and the Redeemer is offered symbolically under the veiled appearance of bread and wine, the angels in heaven look down, and God, the Father, says again: 'Here is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye Him!'"

He then urged upon the congregation the necessity of hearing mass on Sundays, and called upon them to stand, raise their right hands and promise that until death they would be faithful in their attendance at this exercise of devotion. Fervently the pledge was repeated by the 2500 or more present.

ROUND THE WORLD RACE

BEACHEY AND FOWLER, AMERICAN AVIATORS, ARE AMONG THE ENTRANTS

NEW YORK, March 26.—Two American aviators, Lincoln Beachey and "Bob" Fowler, have announced their intention of entering the round-the-world race to start from the Panama-Pacific exposition grounds in San Francisco next year. It was stated last night by Arnold Kruckman, manager of the contest.

Besides the two Americans, the manufacturers of three leading types of aeroplanes in Europe have informed Mr. Kruckman they will enter aviators and machines.

Beachey sailed on the Carmania yesterday for Europe. He has gone abroad in search of two 80 and one 220-horse power motors to use in the biplane with which he met accident recently while aloft in California.

JUNK TRUST ALLEGED

INVESTIGATION OF CHARGES THAT TRUST CONTROLS COUNTRY WEST OF MISSISSIPPI

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 26.—An investigation of allegations that a junk trust controlling the country west of the Mississippi existed will be begun here within a month by the federal grand jury, according to statements made yesterday by government officials. It was stated that the alleged trust sprang into existence in San Francisco immediately after the fire there in 1906 and since that time has spread into every city of importance in the west. Attorney General McReynolds, it was said, would send to Los Angeles a special prosecutor to conduct the investigation.

FOR INDUSTRIAL PEACE

U. S. MINE WORKERS AGREE UPON PLAN IN BITUMINOUS COAL DISTRICT

CHICAGO, March 26.—The policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America yesterday agreed upon a plan which is expected to maintain industrial peace in the bituminous coal districts of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. It was settled that the men are to remain at work under the present agreement and adjust the new scale in local district conferences with the employers, abandoning, at least for this year, any attempt to do so in a joint conference of the four states. Both miners and operators assert that there is no danger of a strike.

KING MEETS EMPEROR

VENICE, Italy, March 26—King Victor Emmanuel arrived yesterday and had a cordial meeting with Emperor William of Germany. The Marquis Di San Giuliano, the Italian minister of foreign affairs, accompanied the king. The meeting, it is believed, is designed to emphasize the solidity of the Triple Alliance. Emperor William is also to meet Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, prior to proceeding to Corfu.

DASH FOR LIBERTY

Lone Bandit Driven Out of Town After Pistol Duel

ATLANTA, Ga., March 26.—Pursued through the main street of the city after he had been driven empty-handed from the Atlanta State Savings bank, a negro institution, late yesterday a lone robber escaped by forcing the driver of a buggy to gallop with him into the suburbs where he disappeared. The bandit's dash for liberty followed a pistol duel with the conductor of a street car which he attempted to board to escape the pursuing crowd.

Shortly before the bank closed for the day the robber, who was white and unmasked, entered the building and forced the negro bookkeeper, the sole occupant, to accompany him into the vault. When the bookkeeper refused to open the safe, the robber attempted to beat him insensible with a length of gas pipe. The bookkeeper grappled with his assailant and the latter fled.

The police last night arrested a white man who gave his name as Edward R. Rynata and his home as Denver, Colo. The bookkeeper identified him as the man who attempted to rob the bank, according to the police.

LARGE ICEBERGS SCARCE

BUT SMALLER MASSES KNOWN AS "GROWLERS" AND "SLOB ICE" NUMEROUS

HALIFAX, N. S., March 26.—Large icebergs have been scarce in the North Atlantic steamer lanes this spring but the smaller masses known as "growlers" and "slob ice" have been numerous, Capt. Johnston of the United States revenue cutter Seneca reported yesterday when the cutter put in here after weeks of cruising on ice patrol duty.

Capt. Johnston regards the results of his observations this year as important from a scientific standpoint as indicating the drift of the ice. Only two icebergs were seen. It was observed that they moved almost due north, 60 miles in 20 days. The officers of the Seneca say they have established conclusively that the bergs are not entirely melted in the gulf stream but are caught in another current and return to the north after they have decreased about two-thirds in size.

The same has been found to be true of the growler and slob ice Capt. Johnston reported. Growlers were found stretched over all the water lying between the Grand Banks and that branch of the gulf stream which diverges toward Flemish Cap. The biggest growlers, he said, were 15 feet high, with a base of 20 feet.

Observation of the slob ice has determined, according to Capt. Johnston that ice passing down to the eastward of the Grand Banks strikes an eddy at lat. 42.30 and makes a sharp curve to the eastward, thence turning back to the northeast, forming an almost perfect "U." This year there is a string of slob ice 60 miles long that came down on the Labrador current. The apex of the "U" is in lat. 43.35, long. 48.40. When the Seneca left the ice fields, the two ends of the formation were of about equal length, with the eastern section moving north and east and the western section moving south.

The water in which the ice was situated showed a temperature of 32 degrees. Immediately to the eastward, 36 degrees was indicated, and farther east it rose to 37 degrees. Midway between the two warmer currents a sharp drop to 32 degrees was recorded. Capt. Johnston said this same condition obtained all along the edge of the gulf stream. The reason for the extreme drop, he said, was unaccountable.

DENY SHIP WAS BLOWN UP

STEAMER MAUI WAS REPORTED DESTROYED WITH LOSS OF MANY LIVES

HONOLULU, March 26.—Reports of the destruction of the Inter-island steamer Maui with the loss of many lives was said today to be untrue. A search of several hours failed to discover any wreckage of the steamer, which was said to have blown up off Pearl harbor last night. It is now believed that the vessel will report safely later.

MUST CUT THE BOOZE

JIMMY CLABBY ALSO MUST BE IN EARLY NIGHTS AND KEEP AWAY FROM TEMPTATION

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 26.—Jimmy Clabby, the fighter, will live a model life for the next three years if he fulfills the terms of an agreement into which he entered today. If he fails to live an exemplary life he will be sent to jail for three years.

Clabby and his trainer, Arthur McQueen, were sentenced by Police Judge White for having beaten Charles Laurence, a policeman. Sentence was suspended in consideration of the fact that Clabby agreed to pay Laurence $1000 damages and lead an exemplary life.

According to the probation agreement outlined by Judge White neither man shall drink, engage in controversy or visit any place where he may be exposed to temptation for three years. It also is stipulated that they shall not stay out all night.

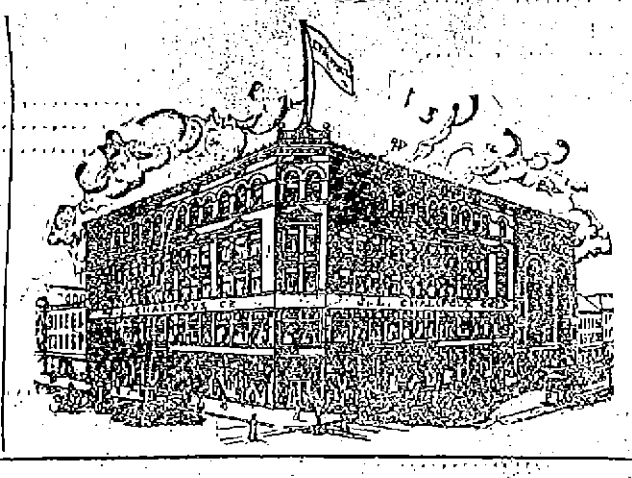

POSTMASTER REMOVED

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Postmaster General Burleson last night signed an order removing Postmaster James F. Singer at New Freedom, Pa., from office. A statement issued by the department said the postmasters at Hanover and Wrightsville, Pa., whose names had been mentioned with that of Singer in connection with charges involving the manner in which certain nominations of postmasters had been secured, had been completely exonerated after an investigation by the department. It also was announced that Representative Broadbeck and his secretary, C. M. Greesey had been proven free of any connection with alleged "selling" of nominations for Pennsylvania postmasterships.

RECEPTION TO PUPILS

LARGE NUMBER OF YOUNG PEOPLE GATHERED AT ASSOCIATE HALL LAST EVENING

Miss Ockington's annual reception was held last evening in Associate hall and the large attendance filled the hall to its capacity. The program included three fancy numbers, which were very well received, and then general dancing was enjoyed till midnight. The opening march was led by Master Richard Fletcher and Miss Marion Fletcher, followed by Master Charles McCabe and Miss Gladys Fox.

The first of the fancy numbers was an Irish step dance in costume, by Master Robert Friend and Miss Edith Farrington, two of the small members of the class, and the young people were loudly applauded.

The Swedish dance, in which the following took part, was a pleasing number: Master Howard Whipple, Miss Frances Taylor; Master William McCabe, Miss Blanch Crafts; Master Theodore Fletcher, Miss Nettie Crafts; Master John Dowd, Miss Anna Way; Master Russell Pinkham, Miss Louise Paradis; Master Alfred Bedell, Miss Louise Thompson; Master Max Fadden, Miss Mildred Leathers; Master Allan Adams, Miss Esther Stocks; Master Everett Whipple, Miss Marion Dowd; Master Carleton Gardner, Miss Doris Whittaker.

"The Four Seasons" was an exquisite dance given by Miss Mildred Benn as Spring; Miss Isabel Whitman as Summer; Miss Priscilla Paradis as Autumn, and Miss Cecilia Crowe as Winter. In costumes suggestive of the seasons they represented, they danced with surprising agility and grace.

After the first half of the program, which was designed with special reference to the younger members of the class, there was an intermission for refreshments, followed by general dancing. Mr. Karl Merritt Perham was manager, and the aids were Messrs. James Andrews Irvine, Flowers Chase Riggs, Frederic Whitney Jordan, Donald Edwin Fletcher, Guy Franklin McLeod, Arthur Greenhalge Ecclestone, Wilfred Thomas Bourgeois, Donald Slatterman Pratt.

The hall was tastefully decorated by Whittet & Co., and the catering was by the D. L. Page Co.

N. Y. YACHT CLUB

NEW YORK, March 26.—Official announcement of the selection of the name Resolute as the title of the New York Yacht club flag officers' syndicate America's cup defence candidate was made last night by G. A. Cormack, secretary of the syndicate. The yacht now building at the Herreshoff yards, Bristol, R. I., for the syndicate, consisting of Henry Walters, Arthur Curtiss James, J. P. Morgan, George F. Baker, Jr., Cornelius Vanderbilt and F. G. Bourne, is the second of the three defending candidates to be named. The Tri-City yacht has already been named Defiance, leaving the Cochran boat the only one of the trio as yet undesignated. Neither A. S. Cochran, the owner; William Gardner, the designer, or F. D. Lawley has intimated that a title has been selected.

TRIAL OF I. W. W. LEADER

PROSECUTION RESTED ITS CASH AGAINST FRANK TANNENBAUM YESTERDAY

NEW YORK, March 26.—The prosecution rested its case late yesterday in the trial of Frank Tannenbaum, who, under the banner of the Industrial Workers of the World, led an army of the unemployed into several New York churches early this month. Policemen who arrested Tannenbaum and members of his army after they refused to leave St. Alphonsus' church testified that some of the men stood upon the church seats, cursed and refused to take off their hats.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN DEAD

P. P. HURLBURT SAID TO HAVE SENT LAST SIGNED MESSAGE OF WAR

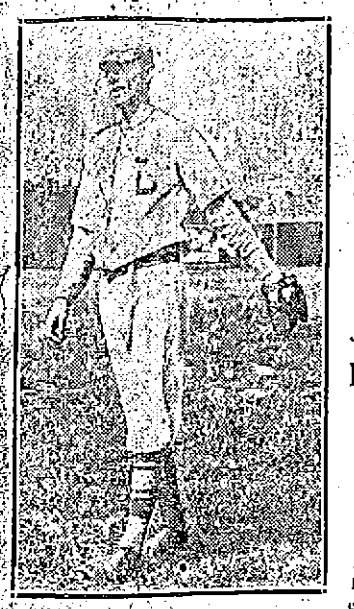

ATLANTA, Ga., March 26.—Pierre P. Hurlburt, aged 67 years, a Union veteran of the Civil war, said to have sent the last signal message of the war, died here yesterday. He was a member of the 14th Connecticut regiment and served in the signal corps in the army of the Potomac. His body will be sent to Orange, N. J., for burial.

WEAVER COMING BACK TO LOWELL

Pitcher Who Jumped Last Season Reinstated by Manager Gray

Lowell Team Will Play Harvard on Stadium, April 28th

Dee Will Play at Short This Season — Other Interesting Dope

"BUCK" WEAVER

Lowell fans will be glad to hear that "Buck" Weaver, one of Manager Gray's reliables in the box during the season of 1913, will be back again this season with the local club. His unexplained exit from the New England league circuit at the beginning of last season has now been straightened out and Buck is once more a member in good standing of the Lowell club.

Weaver was not well when he came here last season. He had been sick a good part of the preceding winter and when he came to Lowell he left his mother critically ill, in their home at Terre Hill, Pa.

It will be remembered that Weaver jumped town directly after being beaten in a hard 4-3 game by Portland on a cold day. He had complained of a sore arm before the game but as Gray had no one else to work he had to do the hurling. It was thought at the time that perhaps Buck felt as though he had not been used quite right by being sent on to the firing line with a lame whip. But this was decidedly not the case.

Buck received word from his home that his mother was dying and, without waiting to bid good-bye to anyone, he boarded the first train for the Pennsylvania mountains. Weaver was motherless, however, before he reached home.

There were many things that had to be straightened out and Buck took the affairs of the family upon his shoulders and got busy. In fact he was so busy that the Lowell ball club was forgotten in the rush until several weeks after his hasty departure.

The New England league season was well started by the time affairs in the Weaver family were settled and by that time, Buck, always too quick to jump at conclusions, decided that he must be on the black list and made arrangements to play independent ball instead of communicating with Manager Gray to find out for a certainty.

The Lowell manager got hold of the story this spring while in New York at one of the major league baseball conferences and immediately got in touch with Weaver. Sure, Buck would play with Lowell—he was only glad to accept the chance. And thus has Buck Weaver, baseball prodigal, returned to the fold of the local club.

Will Play Harvard

The Lowell baseball club, for the first time in many years, will play Harvard this season on the Stadium diamond. The date has been set for April 25. It was thought at first that the Cambridge collegians would cross bats with the local team at Spalding park but the early season crowd would hardly pay the expenses let alone the guarantee demanded by the Harvard team. As the game will be played on the day preceding the opener of the New England season the Lowell team should be in pretty fair shape.

Another Star Infielder

And while we're mentioning players we can't forget that the Lowell team has under contract a mighty fast infielder in the person of Freyer who played shortstop for the New York club of the U. S. league last season. Freyer played great ball for the outlaws throughout the season.

Bruggy, last year's Lawrence star outfielder, was a teammate of Freyer's until grabbed by Louis Pieper. If Freyer is as classy an infielder as Bruggy is outer gardener, there is not much question but what he is speedy enough for this circuit.

Temple Well Thought Of

In Temple, the pitcher received in exchange for Harry Aubrey, Jimmy Gray thinks that he has a valuable asset. This slabster comes from Pittsfield and on paper does not look to have an enviable reputation. However, the fact must be taken into consideration that Temple played on a club which finished in the Eastern association race.

Temple did not want to play with the Pittsfield club and for that reason more than any other he was made the exchange medium for Aubrey. Temple has also played with Hartford and Meredith of the same league. He won but ten games last season out of 27, but the majority of his defeats were by one and two runs. In many of the contests which were decided against him he outpitched his opponent, but errors behind him resulted disastrously.

Dee Better at Short

Although "Shorty" Dee played a swell game at third last season it is the consensus of opinion among baseball men who have watched the Lynn boy work during the past two years that he is a better shortstop than he is guardian of the hot corner.

Of course "Shorty" had his off days and there was a period during the 1913 season when he took a bad slump. But when you come to average everything up you'll find that Mr. Dee was a big factor in the stonewall defence which Lowell presented during the New England league season and in the Hartford series.

With Dee at shortstop the Lynn boy always takes the short throw. Last year Miller came in for it, but although Miller was a grand infielder, he could not snap back the ball to the plate in the manner that made Dee famous in 1912. With a man on first and third and a double steal in progress, "Shorty" was always there with the quick return and the runner usually died at the plate. The Lowell infield will be stronger with Dee playing at short.

"SHORTY" DEE

Roy Smith Back

Another pitcher who has been seen here before and who is liable to make a regular berth is Roy Smith. Roy is the right hander who was generally considered to have more "steam" than any pitcher in the league.

Smith pitched but four games for Lowell last year, when his stomach went back on him and he was forced to quit the game. He is not very strong constitutionally and the change in climate had a bad effect upon him. Manager Gray had him treated by several physicians, but he failed to improve and finally left town bound for home on May 22.

Roy Smith pitched four games for Lowell last season and a glance over his record is sufficient to convince one that he has the goods when in condition. On May 2 he pitched a shutout, his opponents getting but three hits. On May 7 he let down Fall River with 7 runs and eight hits. Lowell won this game 8—7. On the 14th and 19th of the same month he let down New Bedford and Brockton with 7 and 5 hits respectively. Lowell won all four games that Smith worked in. He allowed but 12 runs and 23 hits in the four contests.

Smith has written Manager Gray from his home in Redlion, Pa., that he is in tip-top form this year and thinks that he can go through the season without a repetition of last season's illness.

WINDMILL BURNED DOWN

Amesbury Fire Department Unable to Cope With Structure Belonging to Col. E. W. M. Bailey

AMESBURY, March 26.—A spectacular fire from unknown cause yesterday destroyed the windmill of Col. E. W. M. Bailey at Walnut Hill at the Highlands, originally costing $1800. The Bailey house, on an eminence at the west side of the town, obtained its water by means of the windmill.

The auto combination chemical responded to a still alarm, but the structure was too far gone and the department could only protect the many buildings in close proximity.

OPEN BASEBALL SEASON

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 26.—In the opening baseball game of the season, the Naval academy defeated Swarthmore yesterday by a score of 13 to 8.

BASEBALL WAR

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 26.—Attorneys representing S. H. Camnitz, the Federal league agent enjoined temporarily last Monday from interfering with members of the Pittsburgh National league team, under the state labor contract law, yesterday filed a motion in chancery court here, asking that President Dreyfuss be required to produce in court all his players' contracts.

The Federal league representatives contend that the complaint filed by the Pittsburgh management is indefinite. George P. Whittington, of counsel for Camnitz, last night declared that the validity of baseball contracts containing the reserve clause would be subject to a rigid legal test if the motion filed yesterday is granted.

NASHUA BEATEN

White Way Bowlers Defend Their Laurels from Up-River Five—McQuesten and Devlin Featured

The Nashua bowling five did not have much success in their attempted invasion of the White Way alleys last night for they were stopped by the defenders of the alleys in a three-string match. The contest was close at all times and the locals were returned a winner by the narrow margin of 15 pins.

To McQuestion of the visitors went the high individual honors. This bowler piled up a total of 320 and rapped the pins for a single of 125. In singles he was tied by Devlin of the White Ways who also led his teammates with a total of 313. The score:

WHITE WAYS

Devlin, 313; Cole, 301; Flanders, 291; Perrin, 301; Myrick, 283. Total, 1489.

NASHUA

Pero, 295; Dersier, 249; Whipple, 314; McQuesten, 320; Mellen, 297 Total, 1474.

DIAMOND NOTES

Formal announcement that the Colonial league has been granted protection under the national agreement was received by Vice President S. D. Flanagan from Secretary Farrell of the National association. The new league has been granted a class C rating, with six clubs. There are good prospects for taking in Attleboro and Newport and making the league an eight-club circuit, in which case it would be rated in class B. As at present constituted, the league includes Pawtucket, Woonsocket, Fall River, New Bedford, Brockton and Taunton.

Jim Thorpe, the big Indian all-around athlete, who made his debut as a big league ball player last season, developed wonderfully on the tour around the world, according to Manager McGraw of the New York Giants. The former Carlisle hero has entered into the work of perfecting himself at the game with more determination and vigor than he ever displayed in any other branch of sport. McGraw predicts that it will be hard to keep Thorpe out of a regular job the coming summer and intimates that he will be one of the real big stars of the baseball world by the summer of 1915.

Albin Carlstrom, the former Lawrence player, has left his home in Elizabeth, N. J. He has reported to the Montreal team. Montreal has suffered because of heavy raids by the Feds and "Carl" should have no trouble getting a regular berth from the start.

Freddy Parent, who is at his home in Sanford, Me., denies, in a statement to a reporter for the Portland Express-Advertiser, that he has jumped from the Baltimore International league club and gone over to the Federals. "My present plans are to return to Baltimore," said the former Boston American star, "but I shall not go south to join the team. I don't want to play in a long series of exhibition games. I may, and I may not sign up with Baltimore for the coming season. I shall not decide this until I have had a personal conference with Manager Jack Dunn."

This is the first time Parent has broken silence since it was reported a week ago that he had deserted the Internationals for the Feds.

Regardless of whether or not he concludes to sign up with Dunn's Orioles, all prospect of his being manager of the Lewiston club of the New England league has vanished. Dunn sets too high a purchase price.

The current issue of the Amoskeag Bulletin, a publication fathered by the Amoskeag corporation of Manchester, attacks the New England league because it has caused to be cancelled dates of organized baseball that the Amoskeag promoters had listed for the coming season. Says the paragrapher in this issue:

"We had every reason to expect a different attitude from the New England league. Doubtless it was a disappointment to them to be unable to place a team in Textile field this year, but we are accustomed to seeing sportsmen take their losses philosophically. We had no alternative but to refuse them, in justice to the Manufacturers' league. Could we have foreseen the consequences of our action we could have done different. We have nothing to regret."

One corporation takes the position that another corporation shall not encroach and the offended corporation retaliates by withdrawing its assistance in the matter of furnishing attractions. And the people of Manchester are the real victims.

Fred. Tyler, brother of "Lefty" Tyler, and once a tryout candidate on the Lowell New England league club, caught a fine game for the Boston National rookies against Mercer college at Macon, Ga., this week, handling the deliveries of Hersch and Luque. The "kids" won, 13 to 2, in a walk. Tyler got three hits, one a two-bagger and had 10 put-outs, one assist and no errors.

The Boston Globe publishes a list of players who have signed with New England league teams. The Globe says that Henry Moran signs with Portland. This is believed to be incorrect, as Moran has lined up with the Federals. The Globe further says that Lowell has released Ed Henderson, Lowell released Henderson to a Virginia league team, but he refused to go, and he signed with the outlaws. He wants to be given his release so that in the event of the Feds "blowing up," he won't be a blacklisted player in the eyes of organized baseball and would have no trouble getting back in the fold. It is not believed that Lowell has given Henderson his unconditional release. The chances are that the Virginia league team has rights to Henderson unless the trade was void if he failed to report.—Lawrence Eagle.

You can wager that Jimmy Gray did not take any chances with a man as slippery as Henderson. It will be interesting to watch and see how he fares with the outlaws. Henderson was sold outright and not released.

The list of New England league players desired by the Federal league is completed according to the belief of baseball fans. The Feds got seven from the league, some of whom are rated good and some looked on as lemons.

Baltimore has Joe Finneran, Lowell pitcher last year and Herbert Yount, New Bedford twirler, on its list. Finneran belonged to the Philadelphia Nationals. He looked good in the New England.

Buffalo has Arthur Lavigne, the Worcester lad who caught for Lynn and Lowell. Fred Anderson, a pitcher from Brockton, and Harry Moran, one of Hugh Duffy's twirlers.

Indianapolis has Bert Weeden, catcher of Fall River last season.

Pittsburgh has Edward Henderson, who pitched for Lowell last season.

Fred Merkle will play first base for the New York Giants again this coming season. He receives an increase in salary. Bob Bescher, the former Cincinnati star, will not be started by McGraw as a regular. Milton Stock may land the third base job. It does not look as if Tilly Shafer will report.

BASKETBALL GAME

Everything is now in readiness for the third game of the big series between the Lowell Fire and the Y. M. C. I. Teams which will be played in Associate hall tonight. Indications point to a red hot contest tonight even more interesting than the two games which have been played. Greater interest in the series is being taken as the games go along and it is expected that Associate hall will be taxed to the limit tonight when the referee's whistle is blown for the start of the game. Jack Tierney will be the official in charge tonight and with his experience in basketball should be able to handle the game without any trouble. The reserved seats which are limited will go on sale at 7 o'clock and will be sold to the first applicants.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

CHINESE ROLLER

George Chin Looks Good to Bowling Critics in Worcester

Out in Worcester they have unearthed a Chinese pin artist, who the Worcester Gazette thinks will develop into a first division roller. The sporting writer of that paper has the following to say about George Chin:

Worcester boasts of a most enthusiastic Chinese follower of candlepins in George Chin, official scorer of the Church Street City league five, and a great admirer of "Zip" Lachapelle, who bowls anchor on the team.

But George is not content with watching the thin pin game from the bench, and under the coaching of Lachapelle has come along so fast that he more than holds his own with the majority of the bowlers around the Church street alleys. He recently rolled his first match game, bowling anchor for Gilmore's Federal five and made good with a total of over 280. When the Gazette camera man visited the Church street alleys to snap George, he was so confident of his ability to split the maples that he said the cigars were on him if he could not put up a total of better than 275.

The scores of 99, 103 and 102, for a total of 304, were the result. The cigars weren't on George.

Chin's form on the alleys, except that he lacks the terrific speed which had given "Zip" his nickname, is a dead ringer for that of Lachapelle.

He advances the ball forward to a level with his eyes, and after sighting carefully at the pins, brings the sphere back for a full length swing before shooting down the alley.

George's greatest fault is on his second ball, he being a bit weak on picking up spare breaks. His first ball works havoc when it gets in among the pins, and he hits the head and quarter fully as often as the average bowler. He picks up well on his third ball, as the scores of his three strings will show. A total of 304, made on a strike and four spares, shows good, consistent work.

Church alley supporters claim George is the champion Chinese candlepin crack of the world.

REPORT ON IMMIGRATION

Very timely is the report of the commission appointed by Governor Foss to make a study of the general condition of immigrants in this commonwealth including their way of living, their problems of housing, sanitation, civic interests, education, and occupation, and their relation to the life of the commonwealth in what related to the welfare of all its people. In such an investigation this city is peculiarly interested, because the industrial life of Lowell has been closely interwoven with the life of the immigrant, and the future promises a still closer relationship between the workers in our leading industries and those of foreign birth and their descendants. The discussion of immigration problems attendant on agitation surrounding the Burnett bill in congress also makes an authentic and unbiased report doubly valuable as a guide to future state legislation and civic activity.

Almost at the outset the commission disagrees with those who hint more or less openly that the United States is regarded by most foreign countries as a convenient dumping ground for undesirables. The first immigrants to this country fled from tyranny in some form and from a desire for real life and liberty, and the commission report says: "The causes that sent immigrants fifty or two hundred years ago are also responsible for their coming today." These causes are called "the economic injustices of a dominant race." As to the causes that influence the settlement of any race in a particular locality, the report attributes it mostly to accident. Massachusetts settlement has, it is said, been influenced by "the demand on the part of the textile mills, the shoe factories, the construction companies and other industries of the state for unskilled labor." And yet notwithstanding this, we find many taking the paradoxical position of passing laws to keep them out. Industry invites them; sectional opposition strives to bar them—often by unjust methods, as in the case of the literacy test.

How vital the immigrant question in some of its phases is to Massachusetts may be learned from some statistics quoted by the immigration commission. In 1870, the United States census showed that approximately 42 per cent. of the people of Massachusetts were foreign born or native born of foreign or mixed parentage; in 1880 this had increased to 50 per cent.; in 1890, to 56 per cent.; and in 1910, to 65 per cent. Commenting on this fact the commission gives food for thought in the following sentence: "At present the one-third of the population that is native-born of native parentage is seeking to bring under dominant American influence the other two-thirds of the population."

The recommendations made by the commission for bringing the immigrant under "dominant American influence" are in most cases prompted by commonsense and simplicity of application. There is not one of them that would not be adopted naturally were the city, state and nation to take sufficient interest in the problem of the immigrant, both for his own sake and for the sake of the country. Of the "housing conditions" for instance, which are described as anything but desirable, the commission says: "Various excuses for intolerable housing conditions were offered the commission: in many cases low wages; in others, speculative building, excessive rents and neglect on the part of the landlords. In still others the immigrant was described as preferring the darkness, filth and squalor in which he was sometimes found." The commission does not place the blame on the immigrant and it states that no matter how well the local or state laws are enforced, there is need for a "state housing commissioner, with broad powers and an adequate number of inspectors."

The commission has many valuable suggestions concerning the better distribution of immigrants, their adoption of farming, and discovering the proper channel for their energies. Probably the most extensive recommendations are those that concern education. "Only by education," says the report, "can immigrant children representing every nationality and every grade of social development be prepared for equal participation in the responsibilities of citizenship." It also touches on the question of naturalization and suggests what has been advocated in the columns of The Sun, viz:

"That the superior courts of the commonwealth and the United States district courts try the experiment of holding night sessions of the courts of naturalization.

"That the public evening schools of the state give special training for naturalization.

"That certificates of naturalization be formally presented with a ceremony calculated to impress both the immigrant and the American with the dignity and importance of citizenship."

THE BRITISH IMBROGLIO

The one official statement that has come out of the astonishing English situation in which the king and the army—or some of its officers—appear in a new light before the world, is that of Hon. John E. Redmond, in which he said: "The issue now raised is a wider one even than home rule for Ireland. It is whether a democratic government is to be browbeaten and dictated to by the drawing-rooms of London and by that section of officers of the British army who are aristocrats and violent Tory partisans. The cause of Irish freedom has in this fight become the cause of popular freedom and ordered liberty throughout the world."

Premier Asquith's firm stand against army mutiny, against aristocratic influence to demoralize the government forces, has taken the country by storm and strengthened the ministry where it appeared to be weak. The liberal leader and his lieutenants seem to have the ability to turn every assault of the unionists to their advantage.

Sentiment in England has turned strongly against the Ulster men and their aristocratic followers who would demoralize the army by causing its officers to resign. The issue henceforth is between the people and the aristocracy and any interference by the latter will be promptly met by popular sentiment, if not by parliament.

There is a radical element in parliament that on the slightest provocation would start a revolution. The Tories and the king himself have gone just far enough to discover that a single step farther would arouse the sleeping monster of revolution, and as a result their opposition to the parliamentary measures before the commons will henceforth be necessarily guarded and less aggressive. They have been led to see that the slightest interference with the freedom of parliament by the king or the army would precipitate a revolution that would probably sweep away the monarchy, wipe out the aristocracy and establish a republic. King George has certainly been taught that he cannot afford to mix in political controversies without endangering the monarchy itself.

BUSINESS BOOM BEGINNING

There are many indications in the press of the west and middle west which show that business is beginning to show increased activity. Better weather conditions have increased the volume and value of the trade of the country, and many of the leading cities already report business far in excess of that of last year for the same period. The Cincinnati Enquirer, one of the most conservative papers of the middle west, after commenting on the signs of prosperity in Ohio makes the following prophecy:

"Merchants all over the country will find their sales much heavier than usual before another month has elapsed, and in their turn will call upon the manufacturers for replenishment of their stocks and merchandise. The continued growth in our exports of manufactured products is another most encouraging factor in general trade and as it grows it gives a more ample guaranty of permanent industrial prosperity, of plenty of work for our artisans and of the disappearance of the unemployed through their absorption in the ranks of the working forces of the country."

While this is true of our domestic trade, the substantial increase in our foreign commerce indicates a period of coming prosperity. The department of commerce under Secretary Redfield is bending all its efforts towards placing more of our manufactured products on the markets of the world, and it is succeeding wonderfully. Speaking before the chamber of commerce of the United States a few days ago, Mr. Redfield declared that five million dollars worth of finished products goes out of this country daily, and that this is increasing "steadily, constantly, readily." In spite of individual efforts to discredit the government by arousing hysteria about alleged "unemployment" and business depression, the barometers of industry register general prosperity, and the mercury is rising.

THE TOLLS REVISION

There seems to be some foundation for the rumor that part of the opposition to the suggested canal tolls revision bill is due rather to a desire to defeat the president's will than to a belief in the intrinsic merits of the question. So much the greater reason for wishing the repeal clause to pass. President Wilson, like any man who rises to political power, aroused rivalry and opposition, even in high places, and though these feelings have been kept out of sight in his own party to an unprecedented degree, his success must have aroused jealousy in other quarters. As all of his activity up to the present was along strictly party lines, there was no chance for consistent opposition, but the canal tolls provision offers the opportunity desired. In the strenuous opposition which is expected to crop out in the house and senate, there will be an opportunity to separate the sincere from the insincere, and the people, while giving credit to any man who opposes the president from honest motives, will not be inclined to favor petty animosity or personal jealousy. The introduction of these elements will make the congressional struggle all the more interesting.

Seen and Heard

Luke McLuke says:

The world is growing better. But we put burglars in jail and let men who eat garlic run around loose.

The accident companies are not in business to lose money. That's one reason why they don't try to insure happy marriages.

The man who is good only on Sundays is going to shovel as much coal as the rest of us when the embalmer gets through with him.

Every married woman knows that her husband would certainly appreciate her if he had to live with some other woman for a little while.

Lemons are getting dearer. But husbands are as cheap as ever.

Any woman can make a man marry her. But not all of them can make him stay put.

Every now and then when Father sits down to the breakfast table he has his own reasons for accusing mother of buying eggs at bargain sales.

After the income tax receipts are counted up and there is a nice wad of coin in the treasury, the government might appropriate about $500,000 and erect a national home for indigent petticoat manufacturers.

A bad memory is a cheerful liar's nightmare.

When a fool has nothing to say he's never satisfied until he says it.

THE BABIES

Even the babies look bored in New York
Brought by a harried and unwelcome stork.
(Poor little tykes)
Wheeled by a stately and uniformed nurse.
Starched cap and apron as glum as a hearse.
What baby likes
Being dressed up with that tickle-edged lace
Sticking its bothersome ends in your face?
Seeing the sunshine and sky through a veil,
All bundled up till you're listless and pale.
Playing with toys you don't want in the least,
Barred from the ground and its life-giving feast—
Handsful of mud with some sand on the side—
Nice little babies, they tell you, have died
On diet like that. It is crowded with germs;
Ought to give well brought-up babies the squirms.
Nice little babies don't play in the mud.
Mud doesn't mix with a baby's blue blood.
Whimpery baby, with puckery scowl,
Ready to burst to a near-splitting howl
Bows of pink ribbon a-tickling your ears,
All hedged about with germ-theory fears,
Say little baby of wealthy New York,
Poor little tyke,
Brought by a harried and unwelcome stork,
Why don't you strike?

—New York Globe.

To land in jail for taking things easy, that is the irony of fate.

Fortunately for the average man, few of his prayers are answered.

Only a fool will neglect his family in order to pose as a public benefactor.

More than a blanket mortgage is needed to keep a house warm in cold weather.

Naturally a man who leads a crooked life is unable to keep both feet in the straight and narrow path.

The Cincinnati Enquirer finds there isn't a particle of difference in the love letters of the wise man and the fool.

There is this difference between rents and tears: If a man goes on a tear he may not be able to pay his rent.

Every man expects to wake up some day and find himself famous—and he often does get as far as the waking up part.

The Lawrence American remarks that there are many people who are willing to give up anything during Lent except money.

The Brockton Times thinks another evidence of the sound sense and consistency of the men folks is that fishing tackle never goes out of style.

Every time a woman attempts to work off a ten word compliment on a man she is sure to spoil the effect by transforming it into a serial story.

Dr. James L. Wellington, Harvard's "grand old man," is 86 years of age and he advances four simple rules of health, the observance of which, he says, will do much to prolong existence. The rules are:

"Sit up until 11 o'clock at night, if you desire it.

"If you smoke, smoke a little when you feel so inclined.

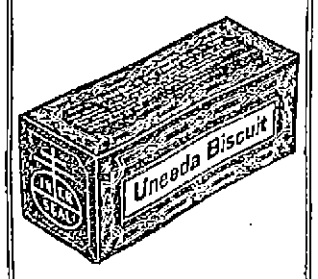

"Be reasonably careful in what you eat.

"Use common sense in all your ways of living."

The fourth rule, we imagine, is a condensation of the quartet. As a matter of fact it is a condensation of all rules of health. "Use common sense" is a rule which if followed would mean not only better health, but better everything.

HOW YOU MAY THROW AWAY YOUR GLASSES

The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not need them. If you are one of these unfortunates, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optona; fill a two-ounce bottle with water and drop in one Optona tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times daily and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eye-strain, cataract, sore eyelids, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this free prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may so strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind or nearly so, or who wear glasses, would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late! Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong, magnetic eyes through the prescription here given.—Advertisement.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

CHEAP LABOR

Portland Express: With the immigration laws as liberal as they are in both this country and Canada there is no good reason why anybody should import foreign labor in bulk, and when it is realized that there are millions of men obtainable for the asking the offense is all the more serious. Labor on this side is entitled to protection just as much as the interests whose greed impels to scour the earth for cheap labor.

THE UNEMPLOYED

Fall River Globe: There always was and always will be a considerable army of the unemployed in the country for the reason that there is so large a number of people who are on the alert to dodge a job rather than to make an honest effort to find one. Every community has its quota of chronic loafers and non-producers of this kind, who in the aggregate make up a mighty host. About the only work they are disposed to do is with their jaw, and that they are prone to overwork.

ULSTER

Newport News: The reluctance of Ulster to be a hopeless minority in the Irish government may be intelligible enough, but is it a thing for which to shed blood, and can the result be changed? Besides, the rest of Ireland has been a hopeless minority in the British government for more than a century, and is it possible that the Ulsterites really think their property or their religion will be menaced by a Dublin parliament? From this side of the ocean it looks as though the nation had decided on home rule, and as if it were the extreme of foolhardiness for Ulster to undertake a bloody insurrection to prevent it.

THE FLY NESTS

Lynn Item: Spring is here. According to the calendar, spring arrived last Saturday. With spring comes the time for cleaning up, and the cleaner the premises the fewer the flies, when the season opens for those pests. Just now few thoughts are turned to the fly problem, but it should not be neglected. When flies come they arrive in swarms, and where do they come from? Ask the dirt heap in the back yard, the rubbish pile and the refuse box.

TOLLS REVISION

Lewiston Sun: It will add to President Wilson's glory to carry through his Panama repeal bill against the opposition of his party leaders. He is placed—has taken his position—where he is bound to fight it out.

This is the time when the president of the United States ought to hear from a clear and determined public opinion irresistible in supporting his vindication of the country's written promise. A promise as binding in honor as a promissory note, or a bond or a bill at the doctor's or the grocer's.

BOOKS AND CRITICISM

Brockton Enterprise: The New York Times says that "The most favorable review cannot make a bad book good." But a slashing attack on a bad book or play generally puts money in the coffers of the publishers or the managers.

LIGHTS ON VEHICLES

NEW LAW WILL GO INTO EFFECT APRIL 16—ALL VEHICLES MUST HAVE LIGHTS

On April 16 a new law will go into effect relative to lights on vehicles. Heretofore it has not been required by law that every vehicle have a light on a road where lights are maintained at a distance of 500 feet apart. The law now reads:

Sec. 1, Chap. 182:—Every vehicle on wheels whether stationary or in motion, on any public highway or bridge, shall have attached to it a light or lights which shall be so displayed as to be visible from the front and the rear during the period from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise; provided, however, that this act shall not apply to any vehicle which is designed to be propelled by hand, or to any vehicle designed for the transportation as its principal freight, of hay or straw while loaded with such freight.

There has also been an amendment to Sec. 2, Chap. 635, Acts of 1913, an act relative to the employment of prisoners in reclaiming and cultivating land.

This will go into effect April 16.

Sec. 2.—The county commissioners of any county may purchase or lease land with funds specifically appropriated therefor by the general court for the purpose of cultivating it by the labor of prisoners from a jail or house of correction and the said commissioners may also make arrangements with the officials of a county town to work said prisoners on any highway or unimproved land, or with a private owner, to improve waste or unused land by means of such prison labor.

When prisoners are so employed this shall be in the custody of the sheriff of the county. When land that is not the property of the county or a highway is so improved, the owners thereof, or those having in charge of the highway, shall pay the county such sums as may be agreed upon between the county commissioners, sheriff, and other parties interested, for labor of any prisoners employed thereon."

AT HIGHLAND CHURCH

Over 300 Enjoyed Entertainment and a Chicken Pie Supper—Large Crowd in Attendance

A chicken pie supper and entertainment constituted the attraction at the Highland Congregational church last evening, and a goodly crowd was there, more than 300 sat down to supper.

"The Packing of the Home Missionary Barrel," a very pleasing sketch, was given by members of Mrs. B. F. Wiggin's Sunday school class. It was prescribed by the following named: Mrs. Alex Yagerhorn, Mrs. John Killpatrick, Mrs. F. E. Lane, Mrs. A. E. Grant, Miss Lillian Allister, Miss Ethel Kimball, Miss Mary Livingston, Mrs. Alfred M. Caswell, Mrs. Erwin Pearson and Mrs. C. B. Savage. It was brought to a close by the singing of an original song, the words of which were provided by Mrs. John Killpatrick.

The other contributors to the entertainment were Mrs. Percy Wilson in songs, accompanied by Mrs. J. B. Field, and piano selections by Miss Helen Choate.

The general committee in charge of the affair consisted of: Mrs. Fred Ingham, chairman; Miss Grace Balch, Mrs. Gordon Bixby, Mrs. James Bradley, Mrs. Fred Butler, Mrs. Chase, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Clifford, Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Frank Hodges, Mrs. Carrie Ingham, Mrs. Kimball, Mrs. Knapp, Mrs. Lamberton, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Secord, Mrs. Woodworth, Miss Cora Buckland, Miss Florence Evans and Miss Bertha Halstead.

SAYS PRES. WILSON SHOULD BE RECALLED

WASHINGTON, March 25—The Panama tolls fight; cropped out in the senate today when Senator Jones, one of those opposing the repeal of the exemption, had read a letter from William B. Larkin of Boston, assailing President Wilson's contention and saying "the president should be recalled to the classic shades of Princeton instead of being permitted to continue to bulldose accredited representatives of the people in congress."

Senator Hoke Smith, Senator Lewis and other democratic leaders failed by various parliamentary tactics to prevent the reading of the letter.

Senator Thomas, democrat, interrupted the reading of similar letters to ask Mr. Jones' opinion of the president's motives in urging repeal.

"I believe the president to be acting honestly and in accordance with his best judgment," said Senator Jones.

"I am simply reading these letters to show the feeling and indignation among the ordinary people of the country."

IN ANY OTHER COUNTRY CARNEGIE WOULD BE CHARGED WITH TREASON, SAYS SENATOR

WASHINGTON, March 25.—"If Andrew Carnegie, who continually asserts the cause of Great Britain, were the citizen of any other nation he would be charged with treason," declared Senator Chamberlain today. In the course of the Panama tolls debate. "He has never hesitated to spend his millions in endeavoring to inculcate a reciprocal feeling for Great Britain in the minds of the people of the United States."

Senator Chamberlain's attack on Mr. Carnegie came as the climax to an hour of hot argument, during which Senator Jones had read several letters attacking the contention of President Wilson.

DEMAND REPEAL OF LAW

Assessors, Mayors and Other Officials Say That Present Tax Laws Are Unjust

BOSTON, March 25.—Local assessors, town council, city solicitors, mayors, selectmen and other officials in large numbers appeared before the legislative committee on taxation today to demand the repeal of the amendment to the tax laws passed three years ago, whereby the state tax commissioner is given the power of doomage for the purpose of establishing the valuations of municipalities in estimating the basis of the state tax.

They claimed that the result of the law was injustice to the communities and the individual taxpayers and that the system was inaccurate, as the tax commissioner had often no basis upon which to estimate the amount of the doomage.

When a standing vote was taken the majority rose. Among those against the repeal were the corporation counsel of Boston.

VIOLENT DECLINE

In Corn Product Stocks Continued Today—Market Closed Heavy

NEW YORK, March 25—Corn products stocks continued today the violent decline occasioned yesterday by President Bedford's estimate of the disastrous effect on the stocks of a government victory in the dissolution suit against the company. The preferred stock broke four points to 60, the lowest since 1903 and a loss of nearly ten points from last week's close. The common sagged two points to 73 when a block of 1000 shares was thrown over. Bethlehem Steel and Cotton Oil lost 1 and American Tobacco 1 1-2. The speculative leaders held up to or slightly above yesterday's close on the first transactions but later shaded slightly in sympathy with the weakness of special stocks.

Stocks sagged slowly today after making slight gains at the outset. The turn in the market was influenced by the spread of liquidation in the industrial shares. Professional traders were bearish and sold stocks confidently when opportunity offered. Pressure was applied steadily to the steel stocks because of unfavorable reports of conditions in the steel trade. Poor railroad reports for February and the reduction in dividends on Pittsburgh, C. C. & St. Louis had an adverse influence on railroad stocks. The latter lost three and Pennsylvania, which controls that road fell more than a point. Corn products issues met with support after their early slump and the preferred recovered 3½. Bonds were heavy.

Liquidation increased the available supply of stocks in the afternoon and in some instances there were further sharp declines although the general movement was not rapid. The loss in Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis was a result of the cut in the dividends. Pennsylvania and New York Central fell about two points.

The market closed heavy. Prices wavered and fell back again following the dismal comments by trade papers of conditions in the steel industry.

DETECTIVE BURNS

Implies Frank, Condemned to Death, is Not Girl's Slayer

WASHINGTON, March 25—On his way to New York to interview persons connected with the case of Leo M. Frank, condemned to death for the murder of Mary Phagan, the Atlanta factory girl, William J. Burns stopped over in Washington yesterday. Whether this new evidence he is seeking will acquit Frank, Burns refused to state.

"The case of Frank has been absolutely cleared up," said Burns today. "There is sufficient new evidence to remove any doubt as to how and by whom this young girl was murdered."

Mr. Burns, refused to discuss the evidence and facts uncovered in Atlanta, but declared every doubt would be removed from the public mind when the facts were brought out at a new trial. He said that when he was asked to take the case by friends of Frank he had declined, with the statement that an atrocious crime had been committed and the guilty man should be hanged.

"I told them that I would not lift a finger to defeat justice," he said, "and it was on this promise that I was employed, though I gave warning that if I found facts and evidence that Frank was guilty I would make no move to lead others to a different finding.

"This, I told them, would leave them and myself in an awkward position. They replied they wanted only to see justice done, no matter who was guilty. So I accepted, with the understanding that I would withdraw from the case if I felt justice had been done."

Mr. Burns insisted that he could not discuss the new evidence at this time. "I will be glad to give it to the public when I return to Washington again from the south, which will be in a few days."

SCHOOL BOARD

The members of hose 6 were called to Wannalancit street this afternoon where a grass fire was in progress in the field next to the Bartlett school. No damage was done.

NEW HAVEN ROAD

Statement of Elliott on Dissolution Plan Expected Today

NEW YORK, March 25—Unusual interest is attached to the special meeting today of the directors of the New Haven road because of the dissolution agreement recently entered into by Chairman Howard Elliott and the department of justice. It was expected that Mr. Elliott would submit a detailed statement concerning the outcome of his Washington conferences. This includes the period of time fixed for the disposal by the New Haven of the Boston & Maine railroad as well as New Haven's trolley lines.

It was thought possible that after the meeting a call would be issued for a special meeting of the shareholders in the near future. The consent of the shareholders to the agreement between the company and the department of justice is necessary before any action looking to the dissolution of the system can be taken.

CONFEDERATE VETERAN EXPIRES IN CONWAY, TENN., AT BURIAL OF FORMER COMRADE

POLASKI, Tenn, March 25.—As the body of D. C. Biles, an aged confederate veteran, was being lowered into its grave near Conway, Tenn., yesterday, Biles' friend and neighbor, B. F. Chambers, also a veteran, dropped dead near the coffin.

The shock proved too much for another neighbor, Henry H. Reece, a third veteran, who was carried from the spot suffering from a paralytic stroke.

SUES CITY OF FALL RIVER

ACTION BROUGHT IN INTEREST OF TEACHERS RELATIVE TO UNPAID SALARIES

FALL RIVER, March 25.—Papers were filed today in superior court by Attorney John T. Coughlin in an action of contract by Harry Smalley, assignee against the city of Fall River, the ad damnum being $3000 and 20 teachers are named with Principal Smalley. The action is brought in the interest of all teachers relative to two weeks unpaid salaries of teachers and a decision will settle the controversy between Mayor Kay and the school committee.

Harry Smalley is the principal of the John J. McDonough grammar school. The teachers in suing for 2 weeks' pay claim compensation for serving the city for such a period at a time when the school committee and the mayor were at loggerheads over school funds. The mayor claimed that so long as there were no funds available for paying the teachers' salaries that the school should close. The committee contended that the mayor and not the school board should close the school. As a result the teachers worked two weeks and have not been paid as the mayor and school board cannot arrive at an adjustment of the situation and the courts are now resorted to.

CHINA NOT IMPROVED

Dr. Wilder Says Foreign Supervision is Needed to Prevent Financial Disaster

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Foreign supervision and auditing of China's finances alone can save the new republic from financial disaster, according to Amos P. Wilder, who arrived here from the Orient after having served eight years as United States consul at Shanghai and other posts. Dr. Wilder has resigned from the consular service.

Owing to the vastness of the country, said Dr. Wilder, convulsions and uprisings are not as far-reaching as might be supposed. Even the revolution of 1911 was not as important as it seemed, he averred, because it was essentially political and not social or economic beyond opening the doors to better things.

"There is perhaps no more freedom, no better business, no more industry, not as much justice, as before the revolution," continued Dr. Wilder. "The betterment in government departments and administration and the innovations and reforms dreamed of by Dr. Sun Yatsen and his friends did not come to pass, and for that reason they are restless in their exile in Japan and wish to start another revolution."

Dr. Wilder said a return of the old condition in China was impossible.

IMMIGRATION PROBLEMS

Of Massachusetts Discussed in Report of Legislative Commission—Recommendations

The commission on immigration appointed by ex-Governor Foss on the resolve of the legislature of 1913, has just made its report which embodies the result of investigation into conditions surrounding the immigrants of Massachusetts, "their way of living, distribution, occupation, educational opportunities and business opportunities and facilities, and also their relation to the industrial, social and economic condition of all the people of the commonwealth."

The members of the commission, which, by the way, visited Lowell and held a public hearing here, were:

Bernard J. Rothwell, chairman, Boston; Emily G. Balch, Boston; Frederic C. McDuffie, Lawrence; William H. O'Brien, Boston. Frank E. Spaulding, Newton.

Grace Abbott, executive secretary.

Grace Pelouhet Norton, statistician.

Following are some of the principal recommendations:

Education

I. Education of immigrant children under 14 years of age.

The commission recommends that a more careful adaptation of the methods of teaching and of the course of study be made by the public schools, in order that through his Americanization the immigrant child shall not lose respect for his parents and for the traditions which they revere.

II. Education of immigrants over 14 years of age at the time of their arrival:

The commission recommends:—

The establishment of compulsory half-day schools for illiterates, between 14 and 17 years of age, in all cities and towns in which there are as many as 20 such persons.

The maintenance of evening schools, which illiterate minors between 17 and 21 years of age shall be compelled to attend, in all cities and towns in which there are as many as 15 such persons.

That the evening schools shall be maintained at least 40 weeks each year.

For the better enforcement of the laws requiring the attendance of illiterate minors at evening school, the annual school census shall include all persons between the ages of five and 21; that the state board of education shall secure from the United States bureau of immigration the names and addresses of all immigrants between five and 21 years of age destined to Massachusetts, and that these be distributed to the local attendance officers concerned; that the same board of education shall exercise such supervision over the enforcement of the compulsory attendance law as will best secure its efficient operation.

5. For the education of the adult immigrant through the public schools, special classes in English, adapted to their needs, age and previous education, shall be provided for both men and women; that lectures in the various foreign languages shall be given so as to inform the immigrant about labor laws, sanitary regulations and other things he needs to know immediately upon his arrival; that normal schools shall maintain, when practicable, model evening schools for immigrants, so that experiments may be conducted, by educational experts, in the neglected field of adult education; that the state shall pay to cities and towns a portion of the total amount expended for teaching in such evening and part-time schools upon their approval by the state board of education. The basis on which such reimbursement shall be made shall be as follows:

When the amount expended for the support of the public schools is:—

Less than $1 for every $1000 of its valuation the reimbursement shall be four-tenths of the cost of teaching; $1 to $1.49, the reimbursement shall be five-tenths of the cost of teaching; $1.50 to $1.99, the reimbursement shall be six tenths of the cost of teaching; $5 and over, the reimbursement shall be seven-tenths of the cost of teaching.

III. Neighborhood Centers—The commission recommends that the public schools in foreign districts shall maintain neighborhood centers, and that such centers shall offer immigrant and other children a wholesome substitute for dangerous commercialized recreation, and shall offer the older immigrants recreation, and fellowship, as well as assistance in considering, in the light of their own experience, our international, national and municipal problems.

IV. Private Schools—Inasmuch as local school committees have failed to carry out the provisions of the present law regarding the approval of private schools, the commission recommends that the responsibility for such approval be vested in the state board of education.

Naturalization—The commission recommends: That literacy as defined in the Massachusetts statutes shall be the minimum educational qualification for the exercise of suffrage in this state; that an investigation be made by the proposed bureau of immigration or otherwise, as to whether the reduction in the number of courts of naturalization in Massachusetts is resulting in unnecessary hardship to the immigrant; that the experiment of holding Saturday afternoon and night sessions of the courts of naturalization shall be extended; that public evening schools throughout the state shall give special training for naturalization; that certificates of naturalization shall be presented formally and with a ceremony calculated to impress both the immigrant and the American with the dignity and importance of citizenship.

Distribution—To reduce the evils of unemployment due to the unintelligent distribution of all laborers, but especially of the peculiarly helpless non-English speaking immigrant, and to protect them from fraud and misrepresentation, the commission recommends: That a bureau of employment shall be organized under the board of labor and industries, and that the supervision of the present state free employment offices be transferred to this bureau; the commission further expresses its approval of the recommendations of the United States secretary of labor in his annual report (1914) to congress to the effect that the present division of information in the United States bureau of immigration shall be developed into a national labor exchange; that private employment agencies engaged in an interstate business shall be licensed and supervised by the United States.

Agricultural Opportunities

In order that those immigrants, many of them farmers or farm laborers in Europe, who desire to become farmers in America may be helped to accomplish this purpose, the commission makes the following recommendations:

That a scientific "exploration" of its farm lands shall be made by the commonwealth in order that reliable information may be available for prospective purchasers, whether native or foreign-born.

That a specially qualified person be employed in the proposed state bureau of immigration to advise and assist the immigrant who desires to purchase farm land.

Improvement of Housing Conditions

The commission recommends that the standard housing laws recommended to cities and towns by the state legislatures of 1911 and 1912 shall be made compulsory, and that a permanent state housing commissioner shall supervise the enforcement of these laws.

Inasmuch as the lodging of young immigrant girls and single immigrant men within the same household constitutes a serious moral menace, and as the present conditions under which "non-family groups" of men are now living are even more dangerous, the commission regrets that no constructive program has ever been presented for the housing of such young people. While municipally provided lodging houses seem to be the ultimate solution of these difficulties, practical philanthropists might meanwhile render a great service by assisting in the determination of the best type of lodging houses and the arrangements that can most successfully be made for different national groups.

The commission recommends that the sanitary arrangements in temporary camps where construction workers and other seasonal laborers are housed shall be approved by the state board of health before such camps can be occupied, and that frequent inspections thereafter shall be made so long as they are in use.

Practice of Medicine

Inasmuch as the immigrant has no sources of information which enable him to distinguish the trained from the untrained and often unscrupulous practitioners, and therefore suffers even more than the native American at their hands, the commission recommends that the requirements for medical registration in Massachusetts shall be raised.

It further recommends that the state board of medical registration shall work out some plan by which the large and rapidly increasing number of women who use midwives may be protected against those absolutely untrained and irresponsible ones whose practice, although contrary to law, is generally tolerated in the cities and towns of the state.

Prevention of Crime

The commission recommends to police authorities and private agencies interested in the prevention of crime that adequate consideration be given the various social and psychological characteristics of the different national groups.

For the prevention of crimes of violence which are more frequent among the foreign than among the native-born, the commission urgently recommends that the sale of firearms and other dangerous weapons shall be regulated stringently.

Official Court Interpreters

Inasmuch as in all cases in which a non-English speaking immigrant is concerned the honesty, competency and disinterestedness of the interpreter is absolutely essential to the administration of justice, this commission recommends that those courts in which such interpreters are needed shall be authorized to appoint official interpreters on yearly salaries, and that the civil service commission shall be directed to prepare eligible lists from which such appointments may be made.

Public Defenders

In order that the immigrant, whose ignorance of English places him so peculiarly at the mercy of shyster lawyers, may be insured the fair trial which our law intends, it is recommended that the state shall provide attorneys for the defence or "public defenders."

Protection of Immigrant Savings

To provide greater security for the savings which are deposited with so-called "immigrant bankers" for safe-keeping or for transmission abroad, the commission recommends the following modifications of the present law which regulates persons or corporations who combine with a banking business in the selling of steamship tickets or the supplying of laborers:

That all those who do a foreign exchange business or who receive money for safe-keeping shall, with certain exceptions such as legally incorporated banks, trust companies, etc., be included in the law; that the investment of deposits shall be regulated; that the minimum penalty of the bond required shall be $10,000; that the commissioner of banking, as well as the local police authorities, shall be charged with the enforcement of the law, and the commissioner or his deputy shall also be given authority to examine the books of all unlicensed steamship agents or others suspected of its violation; that the commissioner of banking shall be given the right to ask for an injunction and for the appointment of a receiver for any unlicensed agency found to be doing a banking business.

Notaries Public

The commission recommends that the civil service commission be authorized to prepare, upon request by the governor, an eligible list from which the governor may appoint Notaries public.

State Board

That board of five unpaid members constitutes a state board of immigration to protect the interests of immigrants.

The duties of said board will be:

The maintenance of a central office and such branch offices as the population of the state may necessitate to which immigrants shall be encouraged to go for disinterested advice and information.

Special oversight over the conditions surrounding the arrival, the release and the journey of immigrants at and from the port of arrival to the destination.

The establishment of a clearing ho of information useful to the immigr so that the civic, social and philan thropic resources of the commun may be made available to him.

The investigation of complaints exploitation with a view to their justment, and the recommendation measures by which those frauds, which the immigrant is peculiarly victim, may be prevented.

The accumulation of information regard to the immigrant population Massachusetts so that expert adv may be at the disposal of interes public and private agencies.

The provision of a special ag competent to give trustworthy advic to those desiring to settle on farms

The reference, with suggestions, the proper state agencies, of all ma ters coming within the scope of particular agency to which assignme is made, and co-operation with su agency in the solution of the proble involved.

NO TAX FOR ROCKEFELLER

That Little $12,000,000 Was Only C missioner's Joke, but It Has Sca Oil King Away

CLEVELAND, O., March 25.—A all, John D. Rockefeller won't hav pay that mere matter of $12,00 taxes, which Cuyahoga county commissioners so unkindly brought his attention a few weeks ago. won't even have to pay his usual $ into the county coffers.

Tax Commissioners Fackler and Hew announced yesterday that plan collect taxes from Rockefeller on estimated valuation of $900,000,000 been postponed indefinitely, and Cleveland citizens, in which villag situated Forest Hill, the Rockefe estate, were delicately informed they had better prepare to pay t at the old rate. They had expe that the addition of the Rockefe valuation to the duplicate would down their tax rate to a mere tance.

The only effect of the Rockefeller discussion has been to force the ling to make a hasty exit from city and to decrease the East Cl land tax valuation. Rockefeller with him two or three paintings w were valued at $100,000 or so each that his valuation will be cut down he won't even have to pay his u $51.60.

GREEKS LEAVE LOWELL

About 60 Go West to Work on Railroad—Greek Independence Day to be Observed

The Northern station presented a very lively scene last night, when some 60 members of the local Greek community assembled to give some of their fellow countrymen a send-off on the occasion of their departure for the west, where they will work for a railroad company. The Lowell men who went away numbered about 60 and they were mostly cotton mill employes. They boarded the 8.40 o'clock train and to Manchester, N. H., they were to be joined by seventy-five other fellow-countrymen, who have also secured employment with the same company.

According to the story of one of those who went away, the Lowell Greeks yesterday received a telegram from Thomas Galanes, a former resident of this city, who has been in the employ of the Chicago railroad company for the past several months, to the effect that there was work out west for as many Greeks as could go there and the wages paid would be $2.10 a day. The message was quickly circulated in the community and in a short time 60 people were ready to depart.

It seems that Galanes came to Lowell a short time ago and informed his fellow-countrymen that the advantages out west were far superior to those in New England and he spoke to many in reference to the railroad company for which he is employed, stating that the company was in need of several hundred help for bridge construction and other railroad work and that the wages paid were $2.10 a day. He also told them the climate was far better out west and assured them he would wire them if he could see an opportunity to secure employment for them.

FIXED THE PRICE OF MILK

Demurrers of Milk Contractors to Federal Indictment Alleging a Combination Overruled

BOSTON, March 25.—The demurrers of D. Whiting & Sons, H. P. Hood & Sons, and William Graustein, milk contractors, to a federal indictment alleging a combination to fix the price paid to farmers for milk was overruled by Judge Morton today. Demurrers to two other indictments charging monopoly and conspiracy in restraint of trade were sustained. The indictments were returned on May 26, 1911, and the demurrers have been before the court since October of that year.

Judge Morton finds that the defendants bought milk in all the New England states except Rhode Island and controlled 86 per cent. of the product which was shipped to Boston and Worcester and that if it had not been for the unlawful combination each of the defendants would have been affected by the competition of the other two in the purchase of milk and the producers who sold to the defendants would have been benefited by such competition. No acts are alleged on the part of the defendants calculated to suppress competition, for other purposes and no unfair or dishonest practices were used toward producers or consumers.

The court further says:

"It may be that the trade in milk for Boston and Worcester markets was so closely interwoven with the general business of producing and selling milk that the agreement alleged may upon a trial of the indictment be found not substantially nor unfairly to have limited the rights of the producer because they still have other markets for their product which were not affected by the combination between these defendants.

"But there are limits to the right of collective bargaining and upon the facts stated in the indictments it seems to me that the alleged combination might be found to have been unreasonably extensive and unreasonable in restraint of trade."

Judge Morton adds that there may be unreasonable restraint of trade which does not constitute a monopoly.

The individual defendants are Isaac Whiting, George Whiting and John D. Whiting of D. Whiting & Sons, Chas. H. Wood and Edward J. Hood of H. P. Hood & Sons, and William Graustein.

PAGE'S LONDON SPEECH

Celebrated Address Forwarded to Senate in Full Today by Secretary Bryan

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Ambassador Walter H. Page's celebrated London speech in which he was credited with having interpreted the Monroe doctrine as meaning the United States preferred that no European governments should gain more land in the new world and as having made certain references to the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption, was forwarded to the senate today by Secretary Bryan in response to Senator Chamberlain's resolution calling for an explanation.

Mr. Page's speech, some 2500 words in length, was furnished to the senate in full. The portion relating to the Panama canal was as follows:

"I will not say that we constructed the Panama canal even for you. For I am speaking with great frankness and not with diplomatic indirection. We built it for reasons of our own, but I will say that it adds to the pleasure of building that great work that you will profit by it. You will profit most by it, for you have the greatest carrying trade. I can say a similar thing about the recent lowering of our tariff. We did not lower it in order to please you; it was for purposes that we considered economically sound for ourselves.

"Nevertheless it added to the pleasure of doing that to reflect that thereby we should have more trade with you. Concerning the recent message of the president, I take it upon myself, on my own responsibility, to say this: He delivered that message not to please you, but to express the true sentiment and self-respect of the American nation. As I interpret it, his was the voice of the people. Nevertheless, it adds to the pleasure of hearing that voice to know that it does please you."

That portion referring to the Monroe doctrine follows:

"May I put in another parenthesis, also on my account, and correct an impression that a part of your press seems to have about the attitude of the United States government, concerning the investment of your colossal earnings in the states of Central America that have volcanic tendencies. I sometimes read that the United States is entering upon a policy to discourage foreign investments there. That is untrue. I think that some events are happening there that have discouraged them somewhat, but I hope that they cannot be charged to the United States.

"There is a policy forming in the minds of our government and our people which is not new that would discourage such investments or such concessions as would carry with them the control of the government of any of those states and only such, for so far as the United States is concerned you know how heartily we have welcomed your investments in our land and still welcome them and always will. You may be assured that it is none of the business of the United States to put any let or hindrance upon any legitimate investments of yours anywhere in the world and they most heartily welcome your investments in any part of the Americas, provided only you do not make them so that you may possibly take the country with them.

"The Monroe doctrine meant this: when it was first formulated, that the United States would object to any European governments taking more land in the new world. In those days the only way that a foreign government could gain land was literally to go and take it. Now we have more refined methods of exploitation and there are other ways to take it. That is the only protest that the United States has ever uttered. You will, I am sure, understand why the United States prefers that no landing in the new world should be acquired in these new subtle ways. Would you do us the kindness clearly to understand that, and possibly to correct the misimpression that has gone abroad?"

GRADE CROSSING

Will be Discussed by Planning Board on Monday Night

The planning board will meet on Monday for the purpose of discussing the grade crossing matter. The commissioner appointed to investigate the petition for the abolition of the Middlesex and Fletcher street crossings will come to Lowell early in April and the planning board wants to take some definite action in the matter before the commissioner gives the hearing. In other words the board will have gone on record as in favor of the proposition to abolish the crossings.

DIED SUDDENLY

Man Stricken While Eating His Dinner in Boarding House

While eating his dinner in a boarding-house at 615 Merrimack street, conducted by Mrs. St. Onge, shortly after 12 o'clock this noon, a middle-aged man named Peter Chretien, was stricken ill and died suddenly.

The man had been working in one of the local factories up till noon and was apparently in good health. He went to the boarding-house for his dinner as usual and while partaking of his meal said that he did not feel well. He died a few minutes later. Medical Examiner Meigs was summoned and said the death was caused by heart disease. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of J. Albert. He leaves a wife in Manchester, N. H.

THROWN FROM BICYCLE

While turning the corner of Gorham and Middlesex streets about 11 o'clock this forenoon, a young man employed as a special delivery letter carrier at the postoffice and mounted on a bicycle, ran into a small brown Boston terrier dog and was thrown from his wheel to the street. The dog lay on the street for a few seconds but then jumped up and ran off apparently none the worse of the accident. The cyclist was not injured.

GIANTS BREAK TRAINING

MARLIN, Texas, March 25.—The New York National league baseball squad broke spring training camp here today. The team will return home in two squads, one led by Donlin and the other, the regulars, by Captain Larry Doyle. Both will go to south Texas cities first for a series of games.

Mr. John J. Brine of the J. C. Ayer company is at home for a few days shaking off an attack of the grip.

...NG CONVENTION

...ocal Men Will Attend Annual Meeting of Postoffice Clerks

Local postoffice clerks are planning to attend the 14th annual convention of the Massachusetts State Association of Post Office Clerks to be held in Liberty and Gratton halls, Hibernian building, Haverhill, on Memorial day. The annual conventions are looked forward to with considerable interest by postoffice employes in every city in the state and it is expected that the meeting this year will be the greatest in the history of the organization. The Lowell delegation will probably go to Haverhill in a special car or automobiles.

Among the speakers who have tentatively accepted invitations to be present are Secretary of State Frank J. Donahue, Dr. John W. Coughlin, Fall River Congressman A. P. Gardner, Edward Gilmore, S. E. Winslow, E. W. Roberts, M. F. Phelan, C. D. Paige, J. J. Rogers, J. J. Mitchell and W. F. Murray. The committee in charge will make an effort to secure ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald of Boston.

No word has yet been received from the postoffice authorities at Washington, D. C., but some department official will undoubtedly be sent to Haverhill at the time of the convention. Others who have accepted invitations are James T. Donahue of Boston, first vice president of the state association and Jeremiah Holland, also of Boston, a national official of the civil service protection association.

TO SUCCEED BREMNER

NOMINATION OF FOUR CANDIDATES FOR SEAT LEFT VACANT BY HIS DEATH

PATERSON, N. J., March 25—The nomination of four candidates for the seat in congress left vacant by the death of Representative Robert G. Bremner, democrat, of the seventh New Jersey district, opens here the first political campaign involving national issues that has been waged since the enactment of new and important federal legislation under the Wilson administration. The election will be held April 7.

20 LODGES REPRESENTED

ANNUAL SESSION OF N. E. ORDER OF PROTECTION OF N. H. OPENS AT MANCHESTER

MANCHESTER, March. 25.—The annual session of the grand lodge of the New England Order of Protection of N. H. opened in this city today with 20 lodges represented and visitors from Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island. Lewis Flores of Lakeport was elected grand warden; Fred Forster of Manchester, vice-grand warden; Joe Daniels of Manchester, grand secretary and Florence Speer of Manchester secretary. Supreme Secretary Daniel M. Frye of Boston gave a lengthy address.

DEATHS

CHANDLER—Margaret Chandler died this morning at her home, 3 rear 592 Gorham street. She survived by her husband, George E. Chandler, of this city, and one brother, John H. Clough of Amsterdam, N. Y. She was a well known and respected resident of this city for many years.

KENNEDY—Mrs. Ellen Kennedy, wife of Michael D. Kennedy, and an esteemed member of St. Columba's church, died this morning at her home, 129 Riverside street, after a long illness, aged 56 years. Besides her husband she leaves three sons, Denis A. of Melrose, William L. of Dorchester and Daniel J. of Winthrop, two brothers, William, and John Sullivan of this city, one sister, Mrs. P. J. Daly of Boston.

FUNERALS

FARRELL—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Farrell took place this morning at 8.30 o'clock from the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ellen Farrell, 430 Broadway and was largely attended. A funeral high mass was celebrated in St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Kerrigan. The church choir rang the Gregorian chant. The burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery where Rev Fr. Kerrigan read the burial service. The bearers were Messrs. William Reiley, John Delmore, John Gardner, and James Gallagher. The funeral was in charge of Undertaker Charles H. Molloy.

FUNERAL NOTICES

RILEY—The funeral of James A. Riley will take place from his late home, 66 Manchester street, Friday morning at 8 o'clock. A funeral high mass will be celebrated at the Sacred Heart church at 9 o'clock. Burial will take place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery. Funeral arrangements in charge of Undertaker John J. O'Connell.

F. C. Church held the insurance on the building owned by William Speke of Tewksbury damaged by fire this morning.

ASSESSORS RETURN AFTER WEEK'S TOUR

Commissioner Brown and Principal Assessors Albert J. Blazon, Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan and Daniel E. Hogan returned from their tour of tax investigation last evening, and were at their respective offices at city hall today. They left Lowell one week ago today for the purpose of investigating the methods employed in the cities of New Bedford, Fall River, Holyoke and Springfield relative to taxation, paying particular attention to the mills.

The commissioner and the assessors were right cordially received by the mayors, assessors and other officials in the different cities. In each and every instance, they said, it would have been impossible for greater courtesy to have been extended a visiting delegation.

Of all the cities visited, Holyoke was the only one to resemble Lowell so far as the taxing of mill property is concerned. In Fall River and New Bedford each spindle is assessed, and neither of these two cities has the water power problem to deal with. Holyoke, like Lowell, has the water power problem and their method of taxation there is almost identical with that of this city. The commissioner and assessors arrived at the conclusion that no one system of taxation could be made to apply to the different cities, because conditions are such as to render individual systems necessary.

A Very Profitable Trip

"I want to say," quoth Commissioner Brown, "that my trip was a very profitable one, not only for myself but for the city. I have corralled a whole lot of valuable information having to do with municipal affairs and I will have some important recommendations to present to the municipal council at a later date."

And, by the way, the commissioner and the assessors got along nicely. No word or thought was given the hearing that took place at city hall a few months ago and so happy were they in each other's company that the Springfield Union refers to them as the "happy family."

The Lowell men were very much impressed with the mills in New Bedford and Fall River. It did not take them long to realize, they said, that the conditions in those cities and at home are very different. The finest of goods are manufactured in those cities and only the most modern machinery is used. While in Lowell one may find machinery that has been in operation for years. In Fall River or New Bedford practically all of the machinery is new and, necessarily, of high grade because they make high grade goods. The system of spindle assessment obtains in both of those cities and the system fits the cities because the spindles produce fine goods and represent a good earning capacity. Where there is older machinery and coarser goods, and where the water power problem has to be reckoned with the Lowell men believe that the system in vogue here is best suited to local conditions.

There are 3,000,000 spindles in New Bedford as against 1,200,000 in Lowell. New Bedford has 28 mills and about all of them are built along the salt water front. New Bedford has a valuation of $105,500,000 as against $57,000,000 for Lowell. The tax rate in New Bedford is $20.20. Mill property in New Bedford has increased in value to the tune of $17,000,000 in three years, and the great percentage of the increase is due to new mills built by new companies. The Lowell men were forced to admit that the atmospheric conditions both in New Bedford and Fall River are superior to Lowell especially because of the salt water and the buildings, too, are all up to date; lots of light and air and the sanitary conditions are the very best.

New Bedford assessors are elected by the people and there are only three cities in the state where assessors are elected by popular vote. The other two are Cambridge and Northampton.

The Fall River Mills

The Lowell men left New Bedford on Tuesday, for Fall River and upon their arrival there were taken in tow by the board of assessors. After looking over the assessors' headquarters, they visited the mills and were cordially received wherever they went. They found that about all of the Fall River mills are built of stone, a fact due perhaps to the number of quarries there. The New Bedford mills are built of brick.

In Fall River, and New Bedford too, they have what they call weave sheds. These are single story buildings with saw-tooth roofs. The saw-tooth roof is something new and was devised for the purpose of allowing the greatest possible amount of light and air. These weave sheds are equipped with humidifiers and all the latest inventions that make for cleanliness and comfort. Because of the fine quality of the goods manufactured there is less dirt and dust and according to the tale of the visitors the life of the weaver in those cities is a very pleasant one. It is possible for the mills to operate in this way in New Bedford and Fall River because they are located where land is cheap. They do not occupy such valuable land as do the Lowell mills.

There are 33 mills in Fall River and, by the way, the visitors found business good in all of the places visited by them. There wasn't any indication of the tariff having worked great hardship. Fall River has 3,200,000 spindles and the tax rate there is $20.30.

The Lowell men were pleased and somewhat flattered to find that Fall River had adopted Lowell's plan of mapping out city lots in connection with the assessors' work. Members of the Fall River board of assessors made a tour of investigation a few years ago for the purpose of ascertaining the different methods employed in certain cities and Lowell was one of the cities visited by the Fall River men. They took kindly to the map system and adopted it at a cost of $25,000. Chairman Doherty of the Fall River board is considered one of the best authorities in the state on the tax question and while the Lowell men were in his office he took occasion to compliment Clerk William Reardon of the Lowell board. "I met Mr. Reardon while in Lowell," said Mr. Doherty, "and Lowell is to be congratulated in having so good a man for the job. I talked with Mr. Reardon for only a few minutes, but long enough to realize that he knew the business from top to bottom."

Interested in Tax Book

The assessors in all of the cities visited by the Lowell men were very much interested in Lowell's tax book. It was the first time they had seen anything of the kind and they allowed it was the real goods. The Springfield assessors were especially interested in the book and made Commissioner Brown promise to send them a few copies of it, as they want to pattern after it.

While investigating in Holyoke the Lowell men lived in Springfield. They arrived in Holyoke Monday morning and here they found conditions in the mills to be almost identical with the conditions in this city. Holyoke, like Lowell, does not assess spindles but demands that the mills file a sworn statement to the amount of machinery and its valuation. Holyoke, too, has the water power problem to deal with and the system of taxation there, so far as the mills are concerned, is about the same as in this city. Holyoke, however, has a very low tax rate, the rate there being $16.60, and Springfield has a still lower rate, $15.80.

The Mayor's Opinion

Mayor Murphy believes that liquor is being sold to intoxicated persons in Lowell saloons and he has addressed a communication to Redmond Welch, superintendent of police, calling his attention to the fact.

The mayor says he has gone over the record of arrests since Jan. 1, and is convinced from the reports concerning the condition of men when arrested that liquor was served them when they were intoxicated and that they were sent out into the street in a drunken and stupefied condition.

The mayor urges the superintendent to instruct his men to look out for evidence along this line.

Edward Lanen of So. Groveland has accepted a position with the Lowell Thread company. Mr. Lanen was formerly employed at Haverhill.

ROBBERS BRAVE 100 MEN

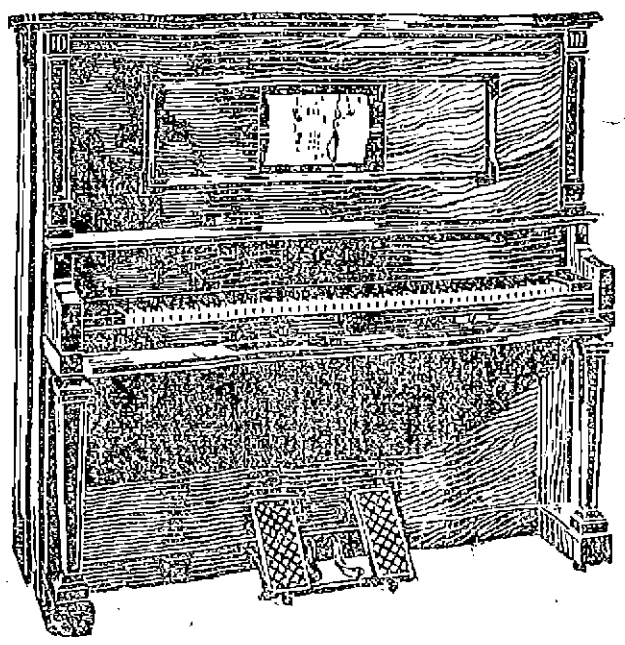

NIGHT WATCHMAN SHOT WHEN FIVE THIEVES FAIL TO GET AWAY WITH $10,000 AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, March 25.—Five robbers last night attempted to rob the offices of the National Biscuit company while more than 100 men were at work in the building. Walter Durack, a watchman was shot and seriously injured when he sought to prevent the robbers entering the cashier's office.

The bandits escaped in an automobile, when a score of men employed rushed in to prevent their getting away with the day's receipts of the collectors, about $10,000.

CELEBRATED POET DEAD

HEBREW DANCING PARTY

At Lincoln Hall for Benefit of the New Synagogue on Railroad Street

A very successful dancing party was conducted at Lincoln hall last evening for the benefit of the Montefiore synagogue, the affair having been organized by three popular young people of the Hebrew colony, Misses Celia Levin and Marion Smith and Mr. Max Shapiro, the trio being known as the Randines.

The Montefiore synagogue is located at the corner of Railroad and Howard streets. Its construction was started some years ago, but the edifice was never completed because of a lack of sufficient funds. The three young people above mentioned took it upon themselves to raise sufficient funds to complete the structure and accordingly they organized a party.

The social took place at Lincoln hall and was very largely attended and the receipts proved very substantial. The hall was decorated for the occasion and the happy gathering spent a most enjoyable evening. The program consisted of 20 numbers and several encores were called for. The music was furnished by Miner's orchestra.

The officers of the evening were Miss Celia Levin, general manager; Miss Marion Smith, assistant general manager; Mr. Max Shapiro, floor director; aids, everybody. The arrangements committee was as follows: Mr. Shapiro, chairman; Miss Smith, secretary, and Miss Levin, treasurer.

The organizers were warmly congratulated for the success of the evening and they well deserved the compliments they received, for it meant considerable work for a trio of young people to arrange such a successful reunion. It was stated last night that work on the synagogue will be resumed shortly and pushed along until the edifice is entirely finished. During intermission last night refreshments were served and a handsome souvenir was given each attendant.

CHILDREN HATE OIL, CALOMEL AND PILLS

"California Syrup of Figs" Best For Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

If any one has any doubts about the effectiveness and dramatic power that lies in moving pictures, let him hurry to the Opera House today and witness that movie "punch," "The Last Days of Pompeii." A finer film production could be hardly asked than this big stroke in motion picture drama that the Pasqualli company showed here for the first time last month and are playing here for a return date today and Saturday. They bill it as "the supreme masterpiece of photo-drama" and one does not feel at all justified in contradicting this statement. The staging of "The Eruption of Mount Vesuvius" for this photo-drama and, even more so, that of the great series of spectacles given in the Roman amphitheatre, is a triumph of realism. Exciting chariot races across the screen with so much "go" that they make those of the circus seem like child's play in comparison. Certainly no scene the equal of that showing the lions let loose on the Christians in the arena has ever been shown on any stage. It is a marvel in photography, let alone motion pictures. But to go on and enumerate the "big" scenes in this tremendous photo drama would require too much space. The production is one of those things that must be seen to be appreciated, and to see this striking film production is to appreciate the important part the photo-drama must play in the future, and to be alive to its tremendous appeal at the present time.

"FINE FEATHERS"

Naming the great cast which appears in "Fine Feathers" is like calling the role of the drama's elect. For in this play appear such prominent stars as Robert Edeson, Wilton Lackaye, Max Figman, Rose Coghlan, Florence Rockwell, Lydia Dickson and the others who shared in this play's wonderful success during the season's run at the Astor theatre, New York, and the Cort theatre, Chicago. This is the identical company that will present "Fine Feathers" at the Opera House tomorrow night. Aside from its distinguished cast, "Fine Feathers" is the biggest drama of the day. It received the highest praise from the reviewers of New York and Chicago, and its engagement in the six New England cities after its stay at the Colonial theatre, Boston, will undoubtedly prove the biggest dramatic event in years. It is a play of modern American life, dealing with familiar phases of present-day existence, from the pen of Eugene Walter.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Pat Rooney II, son of the original Pat Rooney, and the best dancer on the vaudeville stage today, with Marion Bent, who is also rated as a dance specialist, give their engrossing act at the B. F. Keith's theatre, this week, and they are proving solid favorites. For full twenty minutes they purvey comedy and all kinds of dancing, and the act never lags. It is very well done, every bit of it, and the famous pair will be accorded a warm welcome. Charles and Fannie Van, in "From Stage Carpenter to Actor" have an amusing vehicle in which they impersonate a song and dance team who fail to measure up to requirements. They are finally released from further duty, and tell their audience that they will finish the act out in front of the drug store. Kathryn Purnell & Co. have a well woven comedy, and Black Brothers are banjoists and dancers of ability. Other acts on the bill are: Belle Oura, trapezist; Aubrey & Wilson, burlesque wrestlers; Pelot & Schofield, juggling and comedy, and the Pathe Weekly pictures. Good seats remain for the rest of the week. Phone 25.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Today at the Merrimack Square theatre there will be an entire change of bill from that given the first of the week with the exception of Walter S. Weeks & Co. who will be held over. On the bill will be Gertrude Van Dyke & Brother, in what is said to be one of vaudeville's classiest pianologues; Joe Parsons, the famous whistler, and Jerome & Lewis, an excellent colored singing and talking team. The photoplays will be changed also and these will as usual be up to the minute. As usual there will be the two-reel dramatic feature which is always run, while the comedy will also be taken care of in the form of a screamingly funny 1000 foot subject. There will also be an educational film. Seats for all remaining performances now on sale at the box office. Box office phone 2053. Subscription list open.

THE OWL THEATRE

"The Blacksmith's Crime" is the special three-act drama offered at the Owl theatre. Miss Florence Turner in "The Younger Sister," a two-act Pathe production called "A Spoiled Life," and five other picked films complete the program. "The Perils of Pauline," the production which is creating a nation-wide interest will soon be one of the features at this house. The management spares no expense to get the best and most expensive features that the approval of its patrons. Always a good show at the Owl, there's a reason.

THE KASINO

Soon, very soon, the balmy breezes will blow through Kasino hall, conducting comfort and health to those within. The Kasino, you know, has portable partitions so that the temperature is always under absolute control. This can be said of no other hall in Massachusetts. You and your friends are invited to hear Miner's band this afternoon and evening, also Friday and Saturday. Roller skating continues popular at the Kasino.

ATTEMPT TO DEFRAUD

TRIAL OF MANCOVITZ ON CHARGE OF TRYING TO DEFRAUD WATCHMAKER CREDITORS

BOSTON, March 26.—John B. Murphy, chairman of the finance commission, testified in United States district court yesterday that David Mancovitz told him on or about Sept. 18 last of the $17,000 which Mancovitz said he had found in Jacob Watchmaker's house in Revere, but that witness did not discuss the matter of discovery of the money with any one except in a telephone talk with Charles H. Jopp, the receiver, on the morning of Sept. 28, and nothing was said over until the receiver asked him about the money found.

Ex-Representative Mancovitz is on trial on a charge of receiving money from the bankrupt Watchmaker with intent to defraud the latter's creditors.

The case is the outcome of an involuntary petition in bankruptcy filed against Watchmaker Aug. 7, 1913, by seven creditors, whose claims amounted to $2482. Watchmaker's schedule, filed later, showed liabilities of $117,000. He was arrested Aug. 8. Attempts were made for settlement with the creditors and investigation by the grand jury followed. Mr. Murphy was engaged in August by Mancovitz as senior counsel for Watchmaker.

SEVERAL MASSACHUSETTS MEN NAMED—JOHN H. McDONALD NAMED FOR OFFICE IN ANDOVER

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Several Massachusetts postmasters were nominated yesterday by President Wilson, but cases of great controversy, with the exception of Andover, where John H. McDonald, chairman of the democratic town committee, was named, were not included.

The Andover case has been seething for some time and ex-Speaker of the Legislature John N. Cole, although a republican, has been fighting McDonald hard. He is understood to have written the senators asking that the nomination be not confirmed, but as he alleged nothing against McDonald's efficiency, Mr. Cole's wishes apparently did not prevail.

McDonald had the endorsement of National Committeeman John W. Coughlin, Humphrey O'Sullivan of Lowell, Gov. Walsh and three of four democratic congressmen.

Other nominations made by the president yesterday were: M. E. Comiskey, Plymouth; F. B. Estabrook, East Northfield; Otis C. Thayer, Lancaster; John M. Johnson, Lenox; Frank E. Gray, Reading; Luther W. Clark, South Deerfield, and John Dobson, Townsend.

Maine postmasters nominated yesterday were Vivian E. Howe, Presque Isle, and James B. Clark, Wiscasset.

CONG. ROGERS ASKS FURTHER INQUIRY IF HUDSON MAN IS DETAINED IN KORCHA, ALBANIA

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Cong. Rogers of Lowell yesterday was informed by the state department that James Miller of Hudson, Mass., reported to be under unlawful detention at Korcha, Albania, "was safe in that city." This information was received from the American consul at Salonica, Greece. Mr. Rogers is anxious to ascertain whether Mr. Miller is under detention, and has urged the department to endeavor to obtain full details.

BOY DYING OF BURNS

WAKEFIELD LAD'S CLOTHING SET AFIRE WHILE PLAYING ABOUT KITCHEN STOVE

BOSTON, March 26.—Harold Whittle, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Whittle of 732 Main street, Wakefield, Greenwood section, was seriously and perhaps fatally burned yesterday afternoon while playing about the kitchen stove with a stick during the temporary absence of his parents from the room. He was taken to the Massachusetts General hospital, where it is said that he will not live.

The little boy was left in the kitchen late in the afternoon while his parents were upstairs. He took a piece of kindling wood from behind the stove and poked the stove fire with its end. The stick caught fire and quickly communicated the blaze to the clothing of the boy.

His screams brought the father and mother to his side. With their bare hands they sought to subdue the flames and were severely burned about the hands and arms.

The clothes of the baby were literally burned from his body. Dr. Richard Dutton was summoned and ordered the child's removal to the hospital. The child had inhaled some of the flames and was badly burned about the body and legs.

BIG TENNIS TOURNAMENT

FOURTEEN OF THE LEADING PLAYERS IN BOSTON TO COMPETE FOR TROPHY

BOSTON, March 26.—Fourteen of the leading lawn tennis players of the east came here today to participate in the first annual invitation tournament in the new covered courts of the Longwood Cricket club at Chestnut hill. A trophy has been provided which will become the permanent property of the player winning the event three times not necessarily in successive years.

G. F. Touchard, national indoor champion, was pitted against R. C. Seaver in the first round. Among the other contestants were W. A. Larned, former national lawn tennis champion, R. N. Williams, the internationalist; T. R. Pell, N. W. Niles and G. P. Gardner.

Mrs. E. W. Thomas is home after spending several weeks in the south.

BAR JAIL MADE GOODS

AFTER A VIGOROUS PARTISAN CONTEST, THE HOUSE PASSED EXCLUSION MEASURE

WASHINGTON, March 26.—After a vigorous partisan contest, the house yesterday passed a bill to bar foreign convict-made or pauper-made goods from competition with the products of American free labor.

The measure, which now goes to the senate, follows a bill recently passed by the house forbidding the shipment of convict-made goods in interstate commerce into states which prohibit the sale of such products in the open market.

Senator Crawford Admits Defeat—Majority Faction Wins in Renomination of Gov. Byrne

PIERRE, S. D., March 26.—Belated returns last night from the primary election indicated that Congressman Burke was nominated for United States senator by a majority of more than 10,000 votes over his opponent, Senator Crawford. Later yesterday Crawford conceded the nomination of Burke by 2000.

R. J. Woods last night conceded the renomination of Congressman Dillon in the 1st district.

Minority republicans conceded the renomination of Gov. Byrne, the majority leader, but claim that several candidates on their ticket have been nominated.

Ropes; captain ball; clubs; window ladder; balance beams.

Second year dancing—Polka, Boheme; Frolic; Echo.

Game of "Jolly Fishermen."

First and second year fencing.

The young ladies went through all the exercises with remarkable agility and precision showing that result of careful training.

CROWNED WITH SUCCESS

We take this occasion to thank our many patrons for the splendid success that crowned the initial opening of the Gilday Gown Shop.

Just one month old today and still growing. Day after day we receive enthusiastic compliments over the attractiveness of our exclusive showing. "We can't begin to find such becoming models anywhere else, and your values are simply wonderful," is the general comment of many who have visited here. The daily sales have exceeded my fondest expectations. Gertrude A. Gilday.

JUST TO PROVE

That this shop is always on the alert to anticipate the demands of its patrons and to demonstrate our ability to show the most exclusive styles of the hour at modest prices, We Will Offer Today

A LIMITED NUMBER OF IMPORTED MODELS, SILK SUITS AND WRAPS, RECENTLY ON EXHIBITION IN BOSTON

All were purchased personally this week by Madame Gilday, who will arrange everything for their display and sale with the perfect taste for which she is so well known.

Garments as lovely as these with such wealth of fine workmanship, hand made to the very last stitch, you can imagine how difficult it would be to describe them here with due justice. Sufficient to say that no two are alike and each and every garment bears the label of many well known Paris designers. They are well worth telling about, seeing, and fine enough for the most discriminating to wear.

Will Hold a Special Sale of

Dancing Frocks of Silk from $15 Upwards. Smart Styles.

TWO GENERALS RESIGN FROM BRITISH ARMY

New Complication Growing Out of the Mutiny of Officers—Action of Premier on Army Crisis Generally Approved by the People

LONDON, March 26.—Field Marshal Sir John French, chief of the imperial general staff of the British army, resigned his commission today.

Premier Asquith, according to a statement by Chancellor George, was to make an announcement on the adjournment of the house of commons tonight on the subject of the reported resignations of Field Marshal French and Adjutant General Ewart. At the opening of the session a member inquired whether the two generals had resigned.

Mr. Lloyd George replied in the absence of the premier, who had gone to Buckingham palace to see King George.

The reply of Mr. Lloyd George was confirmation of the report that both generals had tendered their resignations.

PREMIER'S STAND GENERALLY APPROVED EXCEPT BY RADICAL ELEMENT

LONDON, March 26.—Premier Asquith was generally conceded today to have regained the support not only of the liberals but of the Irish and labor members of parliament by the stand he took in the house of commons yesterday in repudiating the guarantee given to the mutinous army officers in Ireland that they might decide whether or not they would serve against the Ulster unionists.

The government, however, is not considered as being altogether out of trouble yet. It has still to deal with the army officers under the new conditions established by the premier's speech. It is believed that as soon as the government formally withdraws the guarantees given by Colonel Seely, secretary for war and Field Marshal Sir John French, the officers will again resign their commissions and as one of them said:

"This time in earnest."

There is also to be settled the question of what the army council will do. Brig. General Gough, commander of the third cavalry brigade, in the course of an interview said:

"If Premier Asquith withdraws the guarantees he will have to throw over the army council and the government will be faced practically with the disruption of the army."

The liberal press in the provinces while endorsing what Premier Asquith has already done insists that he must go farther and actually withdraw the guarantee given to the officers. These newspapers say the premier must make it quite plain to all officers of the army and navy that they must under all circumstances obey the orders given them.

Many liberals, too, think Premier Asquith should have accepted the resignation of Colonel Seely who has always been suspected of being more unionist than liberal in his sympathies.

COL. SEELY WHO TOOK ALL BLAME FOR ULSTER TANGLE, IS STILL IN OFFICE

LONDON, March 26.—Col. John E. B. Seely's statement in the house of commons yesterday, taking upon himself all the blame as secretary of state for war, for the mistakes of the Ulster entanglement, made one of the most dramatic situations in the history of parliament.

To make the drama complete, he at once resigned his office, and in the most public and formal manner Premier Asquith refused to accept the resignation and testified in addition to the affection and confidence in which Col. Seely was held by his colleagues in the cabinet.

Col. Seely's explanation followed a sharp debate, before a crowded house, started by Admiral Beresford's demand for particulars of a threatened naval demonstration off the coast of Ireland. There was a fond of questions on all phases of the crisis and finally A. Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, asked for details of the contemplated resignations of cavalry officers, which Col. Seely proceeded to give.

He declared he had nothing to conceal, but that he thought in view of the information received by the government, it was necessary to take certain steps to protect the government depots. He had issued instructions for this purpose with the full authority of the cabinet. Gen. Paget came to London to discuss the best methods of carrying out the movements of troops.

LONDON PAPERS SAY THAT LORD MORLEY OUGHT TO RESIGN HIS POST

LONDON, March 26.—Lord Morley of Blackburn, during the course of his speech in the house of lords made the important admission that the two unauthorized paragraphs added to the Gough letter were drafted by Col. Seely in consultation with Lord Morley. The conservative morning papers commenting on this admission contend that Lord Morley, who holds the office of lord president of the council, ought to resign.

GENERAL STRIKE

May be Called in Lawrence—Grievances Against All Mills

LAWRENCE, March 26.—A proposal for a general strike for an eight-hour day was discussed at a meeting of the central committee of the Industrial Workers of the World last night. The matter was put over to Friday night for further consideration.

Members of the committee said after the meeting that grievances of various kinds had been received against most of the mills in the city and that some sentiment had been expressed in favor of making these grievances the basis of a general strike.

MUNICIPAL BOARD VOTED OFFICE VACANT AND THEN FILLED IT

Martin F. Conley was elected superintendent of charities to succeed Michael J. Dowd, and Dr. Pierre N. Brunelle was re-elected to the board of health, at the meeting of the municipal council this forenoon.

An order appropriating $50,000 for street lighting and a loan order of $75,000 for sewers was put over until the next meeting.

An order calling for a special election in connection with the purchase of the Pillsbury estate as a site for an isolation hospital was read by the mayor. At the meeting of the municipal council today Alderman Brown moved its adoption but the motion was not seconded.

The council took one ballot for registrar of voters, but there was no choice, and at 1.50 adjournment was taken to Saturday at 11 a. m.

MARTIN F. CONLEY

Mayor Murphy called to order at 12 o'clock and in view of the fact that elections were expected, every seat on the floor and in the gallery was taken.

Petitions for pole locations, wire attachments, etc., were properly referred.

There was a hearing on a petition for pole locations in Ellsworth street and there was considerable opposition to it, both by voice and letter. Thomas M. Keegan and James C. Cormick spoke in opposition and said that everybody in the street was opposed to any more poles in that street, and on motion of Ald. Donnelly the petitioner, the N. E. T. & T. Co., was given leave to withdraw.

Notice of claims because of injuries to person and property were referred to the commissioner of public safety and the city solicitor.

Petition for a sewer in Tolman avenue, Chase avenue and West Meadow road was referred to the commissioner of streets and highways.

A petition by George F. White to lease or buy a strip of land on the Franklin school premises was referred to the commissioner of public safety and city solicitor.

Withdraws His Name

In the synopsis of business to come before the municipal council today appeared a notice to the effect that Edmund J. Cheney had withdrawn as candidate for registrar of voters. This came as somewhat of a surprise as nobody seemed to have known that he was a candidate. The notice of withdrawal read as follows:

Lowell, Mass.

Dear Mr. Flynn, City Clerk, Lowell:

Will you please notify the honorable city council that I hereby withdraw my name as a candidate for registrar of voters.

Very respectfully,

Edmund J. Cheney.

$75,000 For Sewers

A loan order of $75,000 for sewers was productive of some discussion. This is a blanket loan covering sewer work for the year and on motion of Com. Brown, who said the order was not properly drawn, the matter was referred to him.

For Special Election

An order calling a meeting of the voters of the city of Lowell for a special election on the purchase of the Pillsbury estate for a contagious hospital site was read by the mayor. The time set for the election was Tuesday, April 7. Com. Brown moved adoption of the order. His motion was not seconded.

Sue O'Sullivan Rubber Co.

A request by the city solicitor for authority to enter suit against the O'Sullivan Rubber company for 1911 taxes was granted.

Traverse Jurors Drawn

The following jurors to serve in this city the first Monday in April were drawn by Commissioner Donnelly:

James H. Rogers, 563 Bridge street, optician.

Alexander Mirault, 5 Varney street, music teacher.

Charles A. Parker, 13 Second street, painter.

Thomas S. Cottrell, 44 Crowley street, weaver.

Charles W. Eaton, 105 Myrtle street, banker and broker.

Percy S. Smith, 104 Gershom avenue, barber.

$50,000 for Lighting

An order appropriating $50,000 for lighting the streets of Lowell for the months of January, February, March and April, 1914, and for such further time as may be necessary to exhaust the appropriation was read.

Commissioner Brown moved that the matter be laid on the table for one week.

Mayor Murphy said that some action would have to be taken within a week, as the contract called for it. Action in the matter was postponed till Saturday. Mr. Brown said the city should take over the Lowell Electric Light Co.

Alderman Brown's Report

The following report of his trip with the assessors to the cities of New Bedford, Fall River, Holyoke and Springfield, was read and accepted.

Mr. Mayor and Gentlemen of the Council:

At the request and by direction of the municipal council the board of assessors and myself have visited New Bedford, Fall River, Springfield and Holyoke.

In each city an inspection of methods of assessing was made and I personally made comparisons with the work in the various cities visited and our own.

The feeling is strongly impressed upon one who loves his city after visiting other municipalities that if Lowell is to remain an important city of the commonwealth heroic efforts must be put forward by all citizens of the city who desire a future for our people.

We are lagging behind in many respects We are not growing—industry is not being invited here nor are conditions being made pleasant for the coming of new industries.

The four cities visited gave evidence of greater activity and more driving business conditions than prevail here and I have been deeply moved at the realization that something must be done or the city of Lowell will cease to contend for important place among the cities of the commonwealth.

In no city were general conditions more impressive than in Holyoke. While its leading industry is the manufacture of paper, small industries are crowding in and are being welcomed and conditions made to help and accommodate them. No empty tenements disturb the visitor's belief in the city's prosperity and no idle men fill the streets lamenting that "no man hath hired us."

Some dozen years ago this brave little municipality, then of less than 40,000 people, engaged in a fight to a finish with the corporations that refused to pay the tax levied upon them by the assessors. After the expenditure of large sums of money the corporations were defeated and thoroughly humbled and have since paid their just dues to the municipal treasury.

About the same time, with the treasury of the city almost depleted, the intelligent and aggressive people of the city, aroused to a full sense of their power and ability, wiped out the lighting monopoly that had for years held the city by the throat, and the city of Holyoke took over the gas and electric light plant owned by the Holyoke Water Power Co.

The results are marvelous. Lighting has been put at a cost of about 50 per cent of the amount asked from us here in Lowell. An arc street lamp for which we pay $80 per year, costs the city of Holyoke $45. The light furnished to home, store and office that costs the residents of Lowell 11 cents per kilowatt costs in Holyoke 6 cents.

But above all power is furnished to the small industry at rates that make Holyoke a mecca for that class of business and a great city is being built up on the Connecticut river; not because of superior location or any great natural advantages but because of the intelligence and aggressiveness of its citizens that will not be held in subjection by corporations unwilling to pay their honest taxes or by any foreign owned lighting monopoly.

I have at hand a vast mass of information on the subject which I shall put in form for the benefit of my associates in the council and I shall ask the council to visit Holyoke and see for themselves the conditions there, and I shall at an early date offer the order which is a necessary preliminary for the referendum to the people, that under the power conferred by statute the city of Lowell take over the plant and property of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation.

Steam Roller Man

Mr. Morse introduced a Mr. Bryant, representative of the Buffalo Steam Roller Co. to tell of the repairs necessary to the steam rollers of the street department. Mr. Bryant said there was one of the rollers that should be sent to the shop for general repairs, but he thought the other rollers might go along for another year for comparatively slight expense.

DR. PIERRE BRUNELLE
Member Board of Health

In reply to Com. Brown, Mr. Bryant said that the different parts of the rollers, the different castings, are numbered or lettered and can be obtained at any time.

Mr. Bryant talked "steam roller" for about 30 minutes, and Mr. Morse then presented an order calling for $3750 for repairs to steam rollers and that the work be done by the Buffalo Steam Roller Co. of Buffalo, N. Y. The city clerk was authorized to advertise the order.

Elect Charity Superintendent

At 1.35 the mayor moved that the position of superintendent of charities be declared vacant for the good of the service.

Alderman Donnelly asked the city solicitor's opinion verbally, as to the council's authority in the matter and the city solicitor said that in order to elect to the position there should first be an order of removal, stating cause for same. The position in question was then declared vacant and the council, on motion of the mayor then proceeded to the election of a superintendent of charities.

Mayor Murphy and Alderman Brown voted for Martin F. Conley; Aldermen Carmichael and Morse for Henry J. O'Dowd, Alderman Donnelly not voting. No choice. Alderman Donnelly said he refused to vote because of the ruling of the city solicitor.

A second ballot was taken and the result was the same as on the first ballot.

Alderman Donnelly moved adjournment to Saturday, but the motion was not seconded. A third ballot was taken with the same result.

On the fourth ballot Martin F. Conley was elected. Alderman Morse swinging from O'Dowd to Conley. Alderman Donnelly broke his reserve on this ballot and voted for Michael J. Dowd.

Dr. Brunelle Elected

On motion of Ald. Brown the council proceeded to ballot for a board of health member and Dr. Pierre N. Brunelle was re-elected. He received four of the five votes, Mayor Murphy voting for Dr. Joseph Lamoureux.

Registrar of Voters

The next up was the registrar of voters and the first ballot resulted in no choice. The present incumbent, J. Omer Allard received the votes of Brown and Donnelly; Carmichael for Charles E. Anderson and Mayor Murphy and Ald. Morse for Fred Harrison.

The Prouty pension was discussed and to solve the difficulty Mr. Morse said he would give Mr. Prouty a steam roller job.

Adjourned to Saturday at 11 a. m.

THREE KILLED IN AUTO

DALLAS, Texas, March 26.—Three persons were killed and three seriously injured when an auto swerved, left the road and plunged 40 feet into a ravine here early today. Dr. Samuel P. Tipton, driver of the car, and Mrs. Katie M. Loving were crushed to death. Mrs. Loving's son William was so badly injured he died soon afterward. Two women and a man were the occupants of the car. All were residents of Dallas.

WM. B. SWEENEY

Called to Police Court for an Examination by Physicians

William B. Sweeney, the man charged with the murder of his wife at their Dracut home a week ago today, was brought down to the police court from the jail this afternoon to be examined by alienists. Sweeney was in charge of Officers Corey and Petrie.

Dr. Parker, the jail physician, Dr. Bonner, the police court's alienist, and Dr. Meigs were the experts who made the examination. District Attorney Corcoran and Judge Enright were both present during the examination.

If the examination of Sweeney, by the physicians shows that the accused murderer is suffering from a brain disorder or even a severe nervous affection, it is probable that he will be ordered to an insane asylum.

If this should prove the case his stay there will not necessarily be permanent. He will be kept there for observation until the alienists are satisfied as to his sanity or insanity. On the other hand if the doctors are of the opinion today that Sweeney is sane the trial will proceed without further interruption.

BIG FIGHT ON THE PANAMA CANAL TOLLS

The Most Important Legislation Struggle of Present Administration is on

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Confronted by the most important legislative struggle that the present administration has experienced, the president's supporters in the house today prepared to draw upon their resources to the limit to carry the contest over the bill to repeal the provision of the Panama canal act granting free passage to American vessels. A sharp debate extending over the rest of the week, and possibly into next week was expected by those in charge of both sides of the controversy.

The division in the democratic ranks, the first serious defection that has confronted the president on a question of administration policy and the general elimination of party lines in the contest promised a bitter fight although the leaders of the president's followers expressed confidence that they would pass the repeal bill by a substantial majority.

When the house met today there remained a few pages of the river and harbor appropriation bill to be disposed of. It was understood that Chairman Henry of the rules committee was then to present the special rule limiting debate on the Sims' bill repealing the free tolls section to 15 hours. An effort was to be made to secure an agreement extending the time for debating the rule beyond the allotted 10 minutes. Both sides were preparing for a vote on the rule as a test ballot on the repeal measure itself. A score of members were ready to speak for or against the bill.

Democratic house leaders abandoned the idea of only 15 hours debate on the Panama tolls exemption repeal today and agreed to 20. This would bring a vote probably Saturday.

The opening of the convention was delayed nearly an hour and the time was utilized by the delegates in giving demonstrations for former Governor Frederick W. Plaisted, former United States Senator Obadiah Gardner, the four aspirants for the nomination for governor at the June primaries, and others. The delegates listened to selections on the municipal organ in the city hall auditorium, in which the convention was held. One was entitled "The Storm."

William R. Pattangall of Waterville was present as the presiding officer and delivered an address sounding the keynote for the state election campaign.

President Wilson conferred with several congressmen before the house convened. Representatives Covington of Maryland and Bell of Georgia, who are helping to line up the administration forces, told him there would be a majority of at least 50 on the passage of a special rule and of 75 or 100 on the adoption of the repeal.

GIN KILLED TWINS

Four-Year-Old Youngsters Were Playing "Doctor"

FRANKLIN, March 26—Playing "doctor" while their mother was ill, the four year old twins of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McCahill died from drinking the contents of a bottle of gin. One, Joseph, died yesterday. The death of the other, Margaret, occurred today.

Mrs. McCahill was confined to her bed with a baby born three weeks ago and the children obtained the bottle in the absence of an attendant. McCahill is a railroad section foreman.

HOPE FOR SIEGEL FUNDS

DIST. ATTY. PELLETIER MAY CONTRIVE TO REGAIN SOME OF $3000 DEPOSITED DEC. 29 AND 30

BOSTON, March 26.—Dist. Atty. Pelletier has sent letters to those who deposited money in the Siegel bank here Dec. 29 and 30, the last two days the bank did business, that he would protect them as far as he could, and that they may get back their money. The amount is about $3000.

The district attorney will make an effort to get back some of the $100,000 bond filed in New York, but entertains doubt as to the success of such a move, as that bond may be held to have been for the benefit of New York depositors only.

LOVE LETTERS WERE READ

AT TRIAL OF JOHN B. KOETTER, ACCUSED OF MURDER OF MRS. KRAFT

CHICAGO, March 26.—The state continued to introduce evidence yesterday in its case against John B. Koetters, accused of the murder of Mrs. Emma Kraft of Cincinnati, a 50 year old widow. Witnesses testified that Koetters stated in Cincinnati in October, 1912, that he did not have enough money to come to Chicago for a course in telegraphy and that in January, 1913, he was in Boston renting a safety deposit box.

Love letters alleged to have been written by Koetters to Mrs. Kraft were read to the jury today.

H. J. Schwener, manager of a Boston safety deposit vault, said that Koetters rented a box under the name of John Nirman. Schwener said that detectives with a search warrant opened the box later and found it empty.

The state charges that Koetters lured Mrs. Kraft, an elderly woman, to Chicago with promises of marriage and struck her down with a hammer and robbed her. Mrs. Kraft had sold real estate in Cincinnati for $3000.

CHARGES AGAINST LICENSE BOARD

HOLYOKE, March 26.—Charges were preferred today against License Commissioners T. J. O'Connor and George J. White, alleging that they were holding their offices illegally, owing to all members of the board being of one political party. Commissioner O'Connor was also charged with holding the office of public administrator, this being claimed to conflict with his place on the license board.

MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE WON

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., March 26.—Middlebury college was victorious in a triangular debate last night, winning from the University of Vermont here and from Norwich university at Northfield. The University of Vermont defeated Norwich in the debate in Burlington.

TROUBLE FOR JOHN D.

REFUSED PERMISSION TO USE STREETS FOR REMOVAL OF HUGE STONE

NEW YORK, March 26.—John D. Rockefeller has encountered further trouble in the removal of the huge stone, said to weigh 250 tons, which he is to take to Tarrytown from Long Island. The village boards refused permission to use the streets unless he furnished a bond.

The board of water supply learned that the rock will have to be taken across the old Croton aqueduct and demanded that Mr. Rockefeller build a steel structure over the highway at that point. Instead of horses, it is said, a giant tractor, possibly two or three, will be used to draw the stone up the hills.

DROP IN ICE PRICES

LARGEST LEOMINSTER DEALER MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT OF SCHEDULE

LEOMINSTER, March 26.—The largest dealer in ice here announced summer prices yesterday. The schedule announced, to go into effect April 1, is as follows: Family trade, 30 cents per 100 pounds, formerly 60; drug stores and restaurants, 20 cents, formerly 40; markets and stores, 15 cents, formerly 35; chipped ice in baskets, 10 cents, formerly 20.

It is expected that the action by this dealer will govern the prices to be fixed by the smaller icemen.

Money deposited on or before Saturday, April 4th, in The Lowell Five-Cent Savings Bank goes on interest that date.

PROPOSED BY J. F. JACKSON

Amendment to Bill to Prohibit Interlocking Directors Exempting Lighting and Trolley Companies

WASHINGTON, March 26.—James F. Jackson of Boston sent to the house judiciary committee yesterday a proposed amendment to the bill to prohibit interlocking directorates. By this the law would not apply "to any corporation conducting a gas, electric light or street railway business which is wholly or chiefly interstate in character and subject to state control over management or issues of securities." As an alternative amendment, he proposed that the interstate commerce commission may exempt such corporations.

WILSON VISITS SENATOR

PRESIDENT BREAKS PRECEDENT AND CALLS ON CHAIRMAN OF FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, March 26.—President Wilson kept pace yesterday with his precedent-shattering reputation and exemplified the human side of himself, which he described in a talk to newspaper men a few days ago, by motoring to the home of Senator William J. Stone of Missouri, who has been ill for several weeks and having a chat about official business.

Senator Stone, who is the new chairman of the foreign relations committee, had sought a conference with the president. Mr. Wilson suggested that he visit the senator rather than put the latter to the trouble of visiting the White House.

The president, it is understood, told the senator that the Mexican situation had undergone no change.

The toll exemption repeal matter was discussed at length and a point particularly emphasized was that South American nations were just as much opposed to the exemption from tolls to coastwise shipping of the United States passing through the Panama canal as was Canada.

Argentina and Brazil, it developed, hold that their own coastwise shipping should be free from tolls if American coastwise ships are to enjoy that advantage. The South American governments argue that they are in the same position as Canada and that so long as their ships are not engaged in oversea traffic, coastwise ships of the United States would have a discriminatory advantage through canal toll exemption.

WAS TOLD TO SHUT UP

AUGUSTA, Me., March 26.—The pardon petition of Grace E. Royce of this city, now serving 20 years in the state prison for poisoning her baby, was heard by the governor and council yesterday and tabled for the next executive session.

In her petition Mrs. Royce says that the poison was given by mistake by her little daughter Grace, she thinking it was cologne. But the little daughter, who is now eight years of age, was brought before the governor and council and denied emphatically that she gave the baby poison.

"Stephen Norris put the red stuff in the baby's mouth," said the child. "I told him to stop, but he told me to shut up and he slapped me hard in the face."

Mrs. Royce at the time was keeping house for Mr. Norris, her husband, Henry C. Royce, being at work at the time at a private hatchery. The crime was committed July 18, 1911, and soon after that Mr. Royce obtained a divorce, although he stated at the hearing yesterday that he believed Mrs. Royce was convicted unjustly. In answer to a question by the county attorney, he said he obtained a divorce because she had been sent to state prison. He said he had courted his wife two weeks before he was married.

At the trial Mrs. Royce claimed that Norris took a hand in the poisoning, and he was tried as an accessory after the fact and acquitted.

Mrs. Royce was formerly Grace E. Norton, and her first husband was Frank Farris of Chino, by whom she had eight children, four of whom are now living and were in the council chamber yesterday, the two daughters going on the stand to testify to her kindly nature and tender-heartedness. Mrs. Royce has now served a year and a half of her sentence.

DAMAGES FOR MAN'S LIFE

Providence Administrator Seeks $30,000 for Fatal Accident to Motorist Because of Gully in Road

PROVIDENCE, March 26.—A suit for $30,00 damages for the death of Joseph M. Reddington of Pawtucket, formerly of Massachusetts, was filed in the superior court yesterday by Anthony H. Reddington, administrator, against Waldo I. Getchell of Cambridge, Mass.

Reddington alleges that Getchell, through land of his, on the northerly side of Chalkstone avenue, opened a highway for public use in the direction of Pleasant Valley parkway, known as Banfor street, and no notice was posted to warn the public that it was not accepted by the city as a highway.

The allegation continues that Sept. 29, 1913, Joseph M. Reddington, driving a motor vehicle by night in the locality mentioned, failed to see a deep gully, until his machine ran into it and capsized, falling upon him and inflicting fatal injuries.

TO BAR PRISON GOODS

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The bill barring foreign convict or pauper-made goods from competition with the products of American free labor went to the senate today from the house where it was passed yesterday following a vigorous partisan contest. In the senate the measure was referred for committee consideration.

PASTORS BESEECH MAYOR

LAWRENCE ASSOCIATION ASKS FOR RIGID ENFORCEMENT OF LIQUOR LAW

LAWRENCE, March 26.—The Lawrence Ministers' association, through a committee composed of Revs. Robert W. Beers, E. S. Tasker, Charles E. McColley, H. G. Mank, Samuel Russell, T. C. Atchison and George H. Wallace, yesterday appealed to Mayor Scanlon for a more rigid enforcement of the liquor laws in local hotels Sundays.

Their letter to the mayor follows the remarks of Judge Mahoney in police court a few days ago. The ministers want the police to be especially instructed as to the careful enforcement of the Sunday laws. They also make a second appeal for the mayor to cease granting licenses for Sunday performances in theatres.

KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

BODY OF MISS EDITH MAGOUN WILL PROBABLY BE BROUGHT TO MARSHFIELD

TACOMA, March 26.—Miss Edith Magoun, aged 29, an expert stenographer, was struck by an automobile Tuesday evening in front of the Y. M. C. A. building and instantly killed. The driver of the machine took her to the hospital and surrendered. She was identified yesterday afternoon. She was going to the Eastern Star social in Masonic Temple and her umbrella shut off sight of the approaching machine. The driver will be released.

Miss Magoun was for five years a stenographer for a Boston tea company. Two years ago she went to Spokane and came to Tacoma in January for a position with the Consumers' Manufacturing and Supply company. Her parents and brother reside in Marshfield, Mass. She was a member of Rexhame Chapter, Eastern Star, and past grand noble of Rebekah lodge, Marshfield. At Spokane she lived with David Magoun, her brother. Her body will probably be sent home.

RHEUMATISM

Remarkable Home Cure Given by One Who Had It—He Wants Every Sufferer to Benefit

Send No Money—Just Your Address

Years of awful suffering and misery have taught this man, Mark H. Jackson of Syracuse, New York, how terrible an enemy to human happiness rheumatism is, and have given him sympathy with all unfortunates who are within its grasp. He wants every rheumatic victim to know how he was cured. Read what he says:

"I Had Sharp Pains Like Lightning Flashes Shooting Through My Joints"

"In the spring of 1898 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

"I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today. MARK H. JACKSON, No. 956 Gurney Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y.

Mr. Jackson is responsible. Above statement true.—Pub.

By Betty Dean

Sue L.: I always recommend quinzoin to put vitality and luxuriance into anyone's hair. It will promptly remedy the dandruff and itching scalp; it costs little and you can prepare it at home. From your druggist get one ounce quinzoin and one half pint alcohol. Mix and add one half pint cold water. This makes enough tonic to last a long time. Apply to your scalp twice a week. This is fine to prevent falling of the hair and premature loss of color.

Daly: Don't worry about being too "plump" when there is such a simple, easy way to reduce flesh without dieting or any strenuous exercise. Get four ounces of parnotis from your druggist and mix it in one and one-half pints hot water. Take a tablespoonful before meals. This is harmless and inexpensive and I think you will find a beneficial change within a week.

Luonora: There is no virtue in an egg shampoo. The slimy and animal matter clings to the strands and clogs the pores of the scalp. Try this simple shampoo: Get some canthrox from your druggist and dissolve a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. It leaves the scalp stimulated and cleaned, and the hair beautifully soft and fluffy.

Polly: You do not need to send abroad for the new, perfect substitute for face powder. Make it yourself at home, by dissolving four ounces spurmax in one half pint hot water. This is the simplest, purest lotion for making the skin soft and naturally fair. It stays on closely, and gives a youthful freshness. When on it seems part of the skin and cannot be detected as can the ordinary face powder.

Caroline: Yes, if the tissues of your face are inclined to sag beware, or you will soon have wrinkles. Here is a good massage cream which tones and braces the tissues while also beautifying the complexion. Mix an ounce of almozoin (from your druggist) in one half pint of cold water. Add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Apply freely. At the first application you will feel the skin contract and presently will soon get back the firm contour of youthful skin. For a good blood purifier send answer to Maurice.

Maurice: The skin eruptions of which you speak are caused by impure blood and you must eliminate the poisons from the system before you can hope to enjoy complete health. Into one half pint alcohol (whisky must not be used) pour one ounce kardene, then add one-half cupful sugar and hot water to make a full quart. Take one tablespoonful of this old-fashioned blood cleanser and tonic before each meal. This is splendid for that weak, worn feeling and restores the vital organs to a healthy condition, and regularly use will save much serious sickness.

Fanchon: Certainly eyes are harmed by belladonna, but this home-made tonic will clear and make them brilliant while it is strengthening and resting. Anyone can prepare it by dissolving an ounce of crystos (obtainable at any druggist's) in one half pint of clear water. Use one cup or put a few drops in each eye at least once a day. Its brightening effect is immediate.

MEN OVER 60 TO RACE

PLANS FOR VETERAN OARSMEN TO HAVE AT IT AT SARATOGA—A 75-YEAR-OLD TO PARTICIPATE

NEW YORK, March 26.—James H. Riley, the one-time sculling champion, is planning for a veterans' race on Saratoga lake next August. Riley came into prominence again two years ago by rowing Jim Teneyck, coach of the Syracuse crews, a match race at Saratoga. According to the plan announced today by Riley no oarsman under 60 will be allowed to compete in the proposed contest. The distance probably will be a mile.

The men whom he has already invited are:

Patrick Luther, Fred Plaisted, the old Yale rigger; Jim. Teneyck, Syracuse coach; George Falkner of Boston; Charles E. Courtney, coach of the Cornell crews; John Kennedy, the retired Yale coach; Mike Davis of Boston; Ellie Ward, the retired coach of the University of Pennsylvania crew; John F. Sholes of Toronto, father of the winner of the Diamond sculls.

Ellis Ward is the veteran of the lot, having passed the 77th milestone.

DROPS DEAD FROM GRIEF

RAYMOND CAREY EXPIRES SOON AFTER LEARNING OF DEATH OF HIS SON

FITCHBURG, March 26.—Soon after being informed yesterday of the death of his son, Patrick Carey, who was found dead in Gardner Monday, Raymond Carey dropped dead from grief.

Mr. Carey was 69 years old and was one of the first employes of the highway department to benefit under the pension act. He is survived by a son, John Carey, of Gardner, and a daughter who resides in the west.

AT PEOPLE'S CLUB

"Rome" was the subject of the lecture, the last in a series under the auspices of the People's club, which was given last night at the quarters of this popular organization in Runels' building, the speaker being Arthur K. Peck. The attendance was very large and the speaker's remarks were listened to with great interest. The lecture was accompanied by interesting views of the different buildings and other places of interest of the Eternal City, which greatly pleased the audience.

Mr. Peck centred his talk about the ruins of the Forum, the Arches of Titus and Constantine, the Pantheon, the Castle of San Angelo, the baths of Caracalla, the imposing arch of Septimus, and in closing, the Vatican, including a large and beautiful picture of the Holy Father surrounded by the cardinals.

SHE TWICE TRIED SUICIDE

ATTRACTIVE YOUNG NURSE WILL BE EXAMINED AS TO HER SANITY AT PSYCOPATHIC HOSPITAL

BOSTON, March 26.—Miss Alice Kellerman, the attractive young nurse who swallowed a dose of antiseptice fluid in her room at 171 Hemenway street last Tuesday night, is under observation at the Psycopathic hospital and may be committed as mentally unsound. The attempt at suicide has failed, according to the hospital doctors.

A Harvard student is said to have been very attentive to Miss Kellerman and it was thought that a quarrel between the two led to her act. It developed yesterday that the young woman had not eaten anything for more than a week.

She had acted very irrationally and made considerable noise in her suite, where she was living alone. Her student sweetheart is said to be in New York and all efforts to communicate with him have failed. About a week ago the woman attempted suicide and at that time took an overdose, which probably saved her life.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way, when the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio. All druggists.

KINDNESS IS REWARDED

JOE CHOYNSKI, FORMER PUGILIST LEFT $10,000 BY CHINAMAN WHOM HE BEFRIENDED

CHICAGO, March 26.—Joe Choynski, former prize fighter and now director at the Pittsburg Athletic club, yesterday discovered that $10,000 had been left him in the will of Jim Pon, a Chinese, whom the boxer befriended years ago.

Jim Pon died a few days ago and his sons, Ned Ying and Bert Ying, unable to open the safe in their father's restaurant, sent for Choynski. The boxer brought a man, who in a few minutes, opened the steel doors, disclosing Pon's will. It named Choynski as executor and guardian of Jim Pon's sons.

Choynski's kindness to Pon was in sending his boys to school and otherwise helping them at various times.

DOORKEEPER OF CHAMBER

WM. H. PURINGTON WHO KNEW EVERY MEMBER BY NAME, DIED AT HIS HOME IN LYNN

BOSTON, March 26.—William H. Purington for many years doorkeeper of the trade room at the chamber of commerce, died at his home in Lynn yesterday.

Mr. Purington knew every member of the chamber, and is said to have been the only man who could call every member by name. He had been connected with the chamber for about 19 years, entering as a floor boy.

Mr. Purington was well known in fraternal and social society circles in Lynn. He was a prominent Odd Fellow and for several years played on the championship bowling team in the Odd Fellows' league.

AGREEMENT IS RATIFIED

NEW HAVEN DIRECTORS PASS ON PACT AGREED ON BY CHAIRMAN ELLIOTT AND ATTY. GENERAL

NEW YORK, March 26.—Directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company, in special meeting yesterday, unanimously approved of the agreement recently reached between Chairman Howard Elliott and Attorney-General McReynolds, which prescribed the terms and conditions under which the New Haven system is to disintegrate.

Chairman Elliott was authorized to call a special meeting of the stockholders in New Haven on April 21, when formal action on the agreement will be taken.

New Haven officials believe that the compact with the government will be ratified by a large majority vote.

Within the next few days a pamphlet report dealing with every phase of New Haven's prolonged negotiations with the department of justice will be mailed to every holder of New Haven securities.

The report will also deal exhaustively with the road's financial condition, and some suggestion may be advanced respecting the $45,000,000 of notes which mature May 18, and for which no provision has yet been made.

Gross earnings of the New Haven for the first three weeks of March are 2 12 per cent. behind the corresponding period last year, a very good showing, in the opinion of Chairman Elliott, who referred to the recent severe weather as a serious draw-back. Earnings of the various trolley subsidiaries are running behind about five per cent.

CURLEY ASKS POWER

URGED LEGISLATURE TO ADMIT BILL PERMITTING HIM TO REDUCE POLICE DEPT. SALARIES

BOSTON, March 26.—Mayor Curley yesterday urged the committee on rules of the legislature to admit his bill permitting him to reduce the police salaries raised by Mayor Fitzgerald, and made an address in which he attacked the increases as creating a situation without regard for the city's financial interest or for the moral obligation resting upon a mayor not to embarrass his successor.

The mayor said that the increases were made at an improper time, procured in an improper way, that they placed an excessive burden upon taxpayers and that they impaired the efficiency of other departments.

The mayor also appeared for his petition for two years within which lamp lighters may be transferred to a different classification without further examination. He explained that the new lighting system made this bill advisable.

More Cuts Coming

Two more city departments are to feel Mayor Curley's "axe" this week, according to a statement which the mayor made last night. These are the park and recreation and health departments.

The mayor said that he had directed Chairman Dillon of the park and recreation commission to make the necessary cuts in his department to enable it to be run for $350,000 less than last year.

The Parkman fund income which will be used for maintenance this year will amount to between $175,000 and $200,000. It will be thus up to Chairman Dillon, the mayor said, to save the difference.

Chairman Dillon will report to the mayor next Saturday how he proposes to save this amount of money. It is believed that there will be another wholesale reduction in salaries in this department, just as there was in the public works department. While some employes may be dropped from the department, the feeling at city hall is that but a few will be officially beheaded.

On Friday Chairman Mahoney of the health department will be required to tell the mayor how $50,000 can be cut from the expenses of his department. This is in addition to the quarantine expenses amounting to about $40,000, which the mayor expects to shift over to the federal government. The school physicians will have their number lopped pretty nearly 60 per cent, it is understood. The dairy inspection service is also apt to be wiped out, it is rumored.

'OPEN HOUSE' AT Y.M.C.A.

REPRESENTATIVES OF THE LOCAL CHURCHES SHOWN THROUGH BUILDING LAST EVENING

Over 100 representatives of the various Protestant churches of this city were shown through the Y. M. C. A. building last evening and after their tour of inspection witnessed the gymnastic exercises which were conducted under the direction of Physical Director A. J. Wicke.

The churchmen began to arrive at the association building shortly after 8 o'clock and they were taken to the different parts of the building by members of the reception committee. After the class exercises two lively basketball games were played and some excellent swimming exhibitions were given.

The evening's program closed with talks by F. A. Bowen, president of the association; H. A. Smith and others in front of the fireplace in the main lobby. Refreshments were served.

START TO SWAT THE FLY

CAMPAIGN IS ON IN BOSTON—HEALTH BOARD ON WARPATH—SPRING CLEANING ON

BOSTON, March 26—Boston's board of health has started its spring cleaning. It is again on the warpath for flies and is pursuing its campaign to exterminate flies in the Hub just where it left off last fall.

The health board has directed its inspectors to make a careful inspection of the city for possible breeding places for flies. It has instructed the inspectors to serve notice upon all owners of stables to have the refuse from these stables kept in covered receptacles and removed frequently. The inspectors have been ordered to see to it that the city's alleys, dirty backyards and other disease breeding places are cleaned up before the warmer spring weather comes.

ACCUSED WOMAN DYING

MRS. AMANDA U. LAWSON MAY NEVER EXPLAIN HER HUSBAND'S MYSTERIOUS DEATH

SOUTH WOODSTOCK, Conn., March 26.—Death, descending unexpectedly on the only person who was supposed to know the facts is likely to leave the strange fate of Jonas P. Lawson, the rich farmer of this place, an eternal mystery.

His widow, Mrs. Amanda U. Lawson, arrested Tuesday on a charge of manslaughter, but really held on the supposition that she can clear up the mystery of the fate her husband met on the night of Aug. 11 last, when his corpse, with head crushed, was found at the end of a bloody trail from the Lawson cellar to the barn, is said to be dying of heart disease at their home.

It is the theory of State Policeman Robert Hurley and State Attorney Charles E. Searles, that while Mrs. Lawson may not have actually killed her husband, she knows what, or who, caused his fate.

After Judge Shumway at Putnam had held Mrs. Lawson in $2000 bonds she was carried home, supposedly dying, in charge of Miss Avery, a trained nurse. Last night she was in agony and was likely to die at any minute. It was said by physicians she had small chance of living till she faces a charge of killing her husband at the May term of the superior court.

OVER 2500 MEN

At Mission by Dominican Fathers at Immaculate Conception Church

Once again the appeal of the Catholic mission was made manifest in the large crowd that overtaxed the capacity of the Immaculate Conception church last evening. All the seats were taken and the immense congregation overflowed into the sanctuary.

The introductory instruction was given by Rev. J. H. Healy, who took for his subject the "Our Father", which he called the most beautiful and the most perfect prayer of Christian worship. He took it phrase by phrase, showing their deep meaning and asked his hearers to ponder on these meanings whenever they repeated the prayer. He also said that if the "Our Father" were perfectly understood, no one could remain in sin who recited it fervently, because it would demonstrate to him the inconsistency of his life and aspirations.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Fr. Mackin, who took for his subject the "Holy Sacrifice of the Mass." He first of all drew a word picture of an imaginary spring rising in the mountains and flowing to the sea. "Suppose," he said, "that the people of the world, realizing the wonderful qualities of this spring, built a channel with several small openings along its course. Millions could thus partake of its virtues and yet the spring would pour on to the sea in undiminished grandeur. This is an image of the mass, the most marvelous spring of God's grace, rising on the hill of Calvary and pouring on to the ocean of eternity.

"In all nations and at all times sacrifice was regarded as the most natural expression of worship. In the most primitive tribes of the uncivilized world we see it in more or less perfect forms. In the Old Testament, sacrifice formed the principal exercise of devotion to God. The sacrifices of Abraham, Isaac, Melchisedech, and the other patriarchs were merely types of the perfect sacrifice to come. In those times the earth was red with the blood of victims and the sky was black with smoke, but still there was no offering worthy of God. Millions prayed that some day this victim should appear. And He did—in the person of Jesus Christ, God's own son, perfect sacrament and perfect sacrifice.

"The mass is a perfect sacrifice because it is a sacrifice of prayer, of adoration and of atonement. It embodies all other types of worship. When we stand on a mountain peak aloof and see the other peaks among the clouds and the endless valleys below, we are thrilled with worship, and raising hands and eyes to God we cry out 'Marvelous are thy works, O God!' When we are in a boat tossed on the deep with little between us and the tumultuous waves, we naturally fall on our knees and pray for protection from heaven. All of these things are natural expressions of feelings deeply inherent in us. In the mass is the culmination of all praise, all prayer. When the priest says the mystic words of consecration and the Redeemer is offered sacrifice mystically under the veiled appearance of bread and wine, the angels in heaven look down, and God, the Father, says again: 'Here is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye Him.'"

He then urged upon the congregation the necessity of hearing mass on Sundays, and called upon them to stand, raise their right hands and promise that until death they would be faithful in their attendance at this exercise of devotion. Fervently the pledge was repeated by the 2500 or more present.

ROUND THE WORLD RACE

BEACHEY AND FOWLER, AMERICAN AVIATORS, ARE AMONG THE ENTRANTS

NEW YORK, March 26.—Two American aviators, Lincoln Beachey and "Bob" Fowler, have announced their intention of entering the round-the-world race to start from the Panama-Pacific exposition grounds in San Francisco next year. It was stated last night by Arnold Kruckman, manager of the contest.

Besides the two Americans, the manufacturers of three leading types of aeroplanes in Europe have informed Mr. Kruckman they will enter aviators and machines.

Beachey sailed on the Carmania yesterday for Europe. He has gone abroad in search of two 50 and one 220-horse power motors to use in the biplane with which he met accident recently while aloft in California.

JUNK TRUST ALLEGED

INVESTIGATION OF CHARGES THAT TRUST CONTROLS COUNTRY WEST OF MISSISSIPPI

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 26.—An investigation of allegations that a junk trust controlling the country west of the Mississippi existed will be begun here within a month by the federal grand jury, according to statements made yesterday by government officials. It was stated that the alleged trust sprang into existence in San Francisco immediately after the fire there in 1906 and since that time has spread into every city of importance in the west. Attorney General McReynolds, it was said, would send to Los Angeles a special prosecutor to conduct the investigation.

FOR INDUSTRIAL PEACE

U. S. MINE WORKERS AGREE UPON PLAN IN BITUMINOUS COAL DISTRICT

CHICAGO, March 26.—The policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America yesterday agreed upon a plan which is expected to maintain industrial peace in the bituminous coal districts of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. It was settled that the men are to remain at work under the present agreement and adjust the new scale in local district conferences with the employers, abandoning, at least for this year, any attempt to do so in a joint conference of the four states. Both miners and operators assert that there is no danger of a strike.

KING MEETS EMPEROR

VENICE, Italy, March 26—King Victor Emmanuel arrived yesterday and had a cordial meeting with Emperor William of Germany. The Marquis Di San Giuliano, the Italian minister of foreign affairs, accompanied the king. The meeting, it is believed, is designed to emphasize the solidity of the Triple Alliance. Emperor William is also to meet Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, prior to proceeding to Corfu.

DASH FOR LIBERTY

Lone Bandit Driven Out of Town After Pistol Duel

ATLANTA, Ga., March 26.—Pursued through the main street of the city after he had been driven empty-handed from the Atlanta State Savings bank, a negro institution, late yesterday a lone robber escaped by forcing the driver of a buggy to gallop with him into the suburbs where he disappeared. The bandit's dash for liberty followed a pistol duel with the conductor of a street car which he attempted to board to escape the pursuing crowd.

Shortly before the bank closed for the day the robber, who was white and unmasked, entered the building and forced the negro bookkeeper, the sole occupant, to accompany him into the vault. When the bookkeeper refused to open the safe, the robber attempted to beat him insensible with a length of gas pipe. The bookkeeper grappled with his assailant and the latter fled.

The police last night arrested a white man who gave his name as Edward R. Rynala and his home as Denver, Colo. The bookkeeper identified him as the man who attempted to rob the bank, according to the police.

LARGE ICEBERGS SCARCE

BUT SMALLER MASSES KNOWN AS "GROWLERS" AND "SLOB ICE," NUMEROUS

HALIFAX, N. S., March 26.—Large icebergs have been scarce in the North Atlantic steamer lanes this spring but the smaller masses known as "growlers" and "slob ice" have been numerous, Capt. Johnston of the United States revenue cutter Seneca reported yesterday when the cutter put in here after weeks of cruising on ice patrol duty.

Capt. Johnston regards the results of his observations this year as important from a scientific standpoint as indicating the drift of the ice. Only two icebergs were seen. It was observed that they moved almost due north, 80 miles in 20 days. The officers of the Seneca say they have established conclusively that the bergs are not entirely melted in the gulf stream but are caught in another current and return to the north after they have decreased about two-thirds in size.

The same has been found to be true of the growler and slob ice Capt. Johnston reported. Growlers were found stretched over all the water lying between the Grand Banks and that branch of the gulf stream which diverges toward Flemish Cap. The biggest growlers, he said, were 15 feet high, with a base of 20 feet.

Observation of the slob ice has determined, according to Capt. Johnston that ice passing down to the eastward of the Grand Banks strikes an eddy at lat. 43.30 and makes a sharp curve to the eastward, thence turning back to the northeast, forming an almost perfect "U." This year there is a string of slob ice 60 miles long that came down on the Labrador current. The apex of the "U" is in lat. 43.35, long. 48.40. When the Seneca left the ice fields, the two ends of the formation were of about equal length, with the eastern section moving north and east and the western section moving south.

The water in which the ice was situated showed a temperature of 32 degrees. Immediately to the eastward, 36 degrees was indicated, and farther east it rose to 57 degrees. Midway between the two warmer currents a sharp drop to 32 degrees was recorded. Capt. Johnston said this same condition obtained all along the edge of the gulf stream. The reason for the extreme drop, he said, was unaccountable.

DENY SHIP WAS BLOWN UP

STEAMER MAUI WAS REPORTED DESTROYED WITH LOSS OF MANY LIVES

HONOLULU, March 26.—Reports of the destruction of the inter-island steamer Maui with the loss of many lives was said today to be untrue. A search of several hours failed to discover any wreckage of the steamer, which was said to have blown up off Pearl harbor last night. It is now believed that the vessel will report safely later.

MUST CUT THE BOOZE

JIMMY CLABBY ALSO MUST BE IN EARLY NIGHTS AND KEEP AWAY FROM TEMPTATION

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 26.—Jimmy Clabby, the fighter, will live a model life for the next three years if he fulfills the terms of an agreement into which he entered today. If he fails to live an exemplary life he will be sent to jail for three years.

Clabby and his trainer, Arthur McQueen, were sentenced by Police Judge White for having beaten Charles Laurence, a policeman. Sentence was suspended in consideration of the fact that Clabby agreed to pay Laurence $1000 damages and lead an exemplary life.

According to the probation agreement outlined by Judge White neither man shall drink, engage in controversy or visit any place where he may be exposed to temptation for three years. It also is stipulated that they shall not stay out all night.

POSTMASTER REMOVED

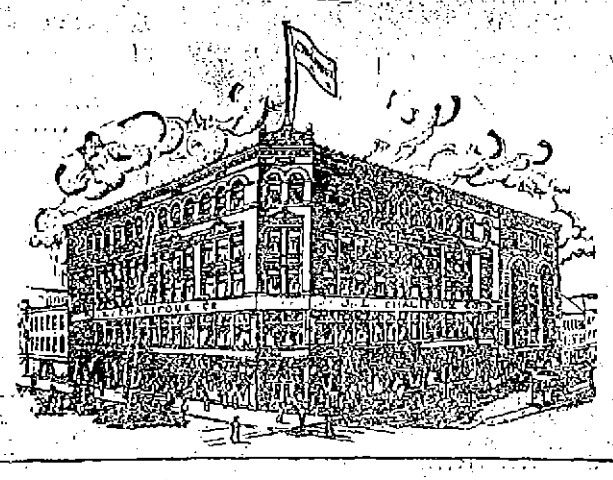

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Postmaster General Burleson last night signed an order removing Postmaster James F. Sliger, at New Freedom, Pa., from office. A statement issued by the department said the postmasters at Hanover and Wrightsville, Pa., whose names had been mentioned with that of Sliger in connection with charges involving the manner in which certain nominations of postmasters had been secured, had been completely exonerated after an investigation by the department. It also was announced that Representative Broadbeck and his secretary, C. M. Gretzgy had been proven free of any connection with alleged "selling" of nominations for Pennsylvania postmasterships.

RECEPTION TO PUPILS

LARGE NUMBER OF YOUNG PEOPLE GATHERED AT ASSOCIATE HALL LAST EVENING

Miss Ockington's annual reception was held last evening in Associate hall and the large attendance filled the hall to its capacity. The program included three fancy numbers, which were very well received, and then general dancing was enjoyed till midnight. The opening march was led by Master Richard Fletcher and Miss Marion Fletcher, followed by Master Charles McCabe and Miss Gladys Fox.

The first of the fancy numbers was an Irish step dance in costume, by Master Robert Friend and Miss Edith Farrington, two of the small members of the class, and the young people were loudly applauded.

The Swedish dance, in which the following took part, was a pleasing number: Master Howard Whipple, Miss Frances Taylor; Master William McCabe, Miss Blanch Crafts; Master Theodore Fletcher, Miss Nettie Crafts; Master John Dowd, Miss Anna Way; Master Russell Pinkham, Miss Louise Paradis; Master Alfred Budell, Miss Louise Thompson; Master Max Padden, Miss Mildred Leathers; Master Allan Adams, Miss Esther Stocks; Master Everett Whipple, Miss Marion Dowd; Master Carleton Gardner, Miss Doris Whittaker.

"The Four Seasons" was an exquisite dance given by Miss Mildred Bean as Spring; Miss Isabel Whitman as Summer; Miss Priscilla Paradis as Autumn, and Miss Cecilia Crowe as Winter. In costumes suggestive of the seasons they represented, they danced with surprising agility and grace.

After the first half of the program, which was designed with special reference to the younger members of the class, there was an intermission for refreshments, followed by general dancing. Mr. Karl Merritt Perham was manager, and the aids were Messrs. James Andrew Irvine, Homer Chase Riggs, Frederic Whitney Jordan, Donald Edwin Fletcher, Guy Franklin McLeod, Arthur Greenhalge Ecclestone, Wilfred Thomas Boulger, Donald Harriman Pratt.

The hall was tastefully decorated by Whitlet & Co., and the catering was by the D. L. Page Co.

NEW YORK YACHT CLUB

NEW YORK, March 26.—Official announcement of the selection of the name Resolute as the title of the New York Yacht club flag officers' syndicate America's cup defence candidate was made last night by G. A. Cormack, secretary of the syndicate. The yacht now building at the Herreshoff yards, Bristol, R. I., for the syndicate, consisting of Henry Walters, Arthur Curtiss James, J. P. Morgan, George F. Baker, Jr., Cornelius Vanderbilt and F. G. Bourne, is the second of the three defending candidates to be named. The Tri-City yacht has already been named Defiance, leaving the Cochran boat the only one of the trio as yet undesignated. Neither A. S. Cochran, the owner; William Gardiner, the designer, or F. D. Lawley has intimated that a title has been selected.

TRIAL OF I. W. W. LEADER

PROSECUTION RESTED ITS CASE AGAINST FRANK TANNENBAUM YESTERDAY

NEW YORK, March 26.—The prosecution rested its case late yesterday in the trial of Frank Tannenbaum, who, under the banner of the Industrial Workers of the World, led an army of the unemployed into several New York churches early this month. Policemen who arrested Tannenbaum and members of his army after they refused to leave St. Alphonsus' church testified that some of the men stood upon the church seats, cursed and refused to take off their hats.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN DEAD

P. D. HURLBURT SAID TO HAVE SENT LAST SIGNED MESSAGE OF WAR

ATLANTA, Ga., March 26.—Pierre D. Hurlburt, aged 67 years, a Union veteran of the Civil war, said to have sent the last signal message of the war, died here yesterday. He was a member of the 11th Connecticut regiment and served in the signal corps in the army of the Potomac. His body will be sent to Orange, N. J., for burial.

BURIED THE HATCHET

Wm. R. Pattangall and Ex-Mayor Hanson Spoke at Convention of Maine Democrats

PORTLAND, Me., March 26.—Clasping hands in the presence of 1100 delegates, Chairman William R. Pattangall of Waterville and ex-Mayor Edgar F. Hanson of Belfast settled their difficulties in the third congressional district at the democratic state convention today amid great applause.

Mr. Hanson, whose right to a seat in the convention was protested because he opposed Mr. Pattangall at the special election last September at which John A. Peters, the republican candidate for congress, was successful, announced that he would support the party in the future and would not oppose Mr. Pattangall's candidacy for any office. The debate on the question of seating Mr. Hanson took up two hours of the convention's time.

Mr. Pattangall later at the request of the third district delegation including Mr. Hanson announced that he would be a candidate in the June primaries for the democratic congressional nomination.

This controversy having been disposed of, the convention resumed its order of business.

OPENING WAS DELAYED

PORTLAND, Me., March 26.—The formulation of a platform upon which the candidate for governor to be nominated at the primaries in June will stand was the principal task of the democratic state convention today. State, district and county committees also were to be selected.

William R. Pattangall of Waterville, former attorney general of the state, was chosen to preside. United States Senator Charles F. Johnson of Waterville was present to deliver an address on national issues.

The opening of the convention was set for 10.30 a. m.

The credentials committee reported that the seating of the Belfast delegation had been protested. The committee voted to seat the delegates, except former Mayor Edgar F. Hapson of Belfast, who should be excluded from the convention because he had left the party organization according to the committee.

Mr. Hanson, who has served nine terms as mayor of his city as a democrat, was given unanimous consent to present his side of the controversy to the delegates. He stated that for 40 years he had voted the democratic ticket, with one exception, and is now a democrat. Last fall he came out openly in favor of John A. Peters at the special election in which Mr. Peters was elected congressman over Mr. Pattangall, the chairman of today's convention.

The vote on acceptance of the report was doubted and the county delegations were polled.

SERIOUS ASSAULT CASE

In Which Sons Beat Father—Aged Veteran Lost Money and Accused Relatives

Battered and beaten about the head and body by the fists and feet of his two sons, Mike and Costos, as well as with a dalton in the hands of the latter, because he simply asked them to pay over their board bill is the story told to Judge Enright by Elias Michaelides in police court this morning. The two sons were charged with assault and battery upon their white haired parent.

The defendants appeared in anything but a repentent mood and Costos readily acknowledged that he took a few swings at his father. Mike, however, insisted that he was not in the wrong.

The old man, mounted the witness stand with his head done up in a bandage. He told about the assault of which he was the victim last Sunday in his home on Suffolk street. The aged man has been unable to work for some time on account of infirmities and he asked his two sons to contribute a few dollars each week for their board.

It seems that the two defendants, however, had other ways devised for spending their earnings and when the father mentioned their board bill both dutiful sons proceeded to beat him up. That they performed a thorough operation was evidenced today by the manner in which the old man walked and talked. In spite of the four days which have intervened since the time of the assault he, with difficulty, managed to testify.

For the past five years his sons have been abusing him from time to time, he told Judge Enright. He brought both of them over from the old country and they have repaid him since by making life miserable for him. He did not want them sent to jail, he said, but simply wanted the court to make them understand that they must respect their parents.

Judge Enright told the father that he could not compel his sons to tender him proper respect but that he could see to it that they made no more assaults upon him. A suspended sentence of four months in the house of correction was imposed upon each defendant and the court informed them that he would send them there at the first symptom of a repetition of their recent inhuman act.

Old Man Lost Money

Another old man came to grief in the family of his child and his story was a very pitiful one.

John Gillogly is an inmate of the Soldiers' home and has a daughter living here in Lowell. The old man, bent over with age, and tottering from the effect of the years spent in his country's service, was the most pathetic witness that the local court has produced for a long time.

The old man stated that he came to Lowell to visit his daughter. He did not know that she was married, he said, until he arrived at her home. He had sent her money from time to time, thinking that she was still a single woman.

When he arrived at the home of his daughter he carried in an inside coat pocket five crisp $20 bills which had just been paid him from the pension department. A pin closed the top of the pocket so that there was no possible way of its slipping out, he said. He left the coat upstairs in a bedroom.

His daughter's husband, a man by the name of Cornelius Sullivan, went out and got some whiskey and then treated. Less than twenty minutes after arriving at the house the old man went to look for his money and found instead an empty pocket.

Then the complainant began to make accusations. He charged his daughter and Sullivan with taking the money and grew eloquent in his appeal for its return. Sullivan, in the meantime, slipped out of the house and went in search of a cop.

Sullivan informed the officer that there was an old man drunk in his house and he wanted him arrested. The officer allowed that Sullivan was drunk, and promptly rang for the wagon. Sullivan denied all knowledge of the money when questioned this morning. "He looks like a rogue," concluded the aged complainant as he stepped down from the witness stand.

It was Sullivan's first offence, but Judge Enright sent him to jail for 15 days. "I am convinced," said the court, "that the old man told the truth."

John Michelin presented a fine pair of black eyes, a jaw, swelled on either side and a generally battered aspect as he pleaded not guilty to the charge of drunkenness. John allowed to the court that he had been in an argument with Officer Lemay.

The wife of the defendant said that her husband was no good to her and that he wouldn't work or stay sober. His case was continued for a week when he will probably be given leave to withdraw from the vicinity of Lowell.

William A. Kidston went forth under a suspended sentence to the house of correction. William Arnault was not so fortunate and will spend the next four months close to the South common.

A son of Woburn by the name of John H. McCarthy addressed the court from the dock this morning in dulcet tones when his case of drunkenness was called. He admitted that he had been drunk last night when arrested by Officer Crowe.

Officer Crowe, it seems, was the fish. McCarthy came to the officer late last night, saying that he was loaded down with currency and would like to find a good lodging house. The officer then led him to a nearby apartment house where he could buy a room for the night.

Everything was all right except the buying part of the argument. And he could not for he did not have the wherewithal. When the proprietor of the establishment gently reminded the man from Woburn that it was the usual custom to procure money for the rental of the rooms, McCarthy arose in a rage and began to bump the furniture all around the room. He was promptly arrested.

Judge Enright said that he would give McCarthy another chance. He released him upon condition that he would make tracks for Woburn immediately.

FROM NEW YORK TO CHILE

SENATOR WEEKS URGES LINE TO CARRY PASSENGERS, FREIGHT AND MAIL TO SO. AMERICA

WASHINGTON, March 26.—With a view to developing communication between the United States and South America, Senator Weeks, republican, today introduced a resolution requesting the secretary of the navy to prepare a plan for establishing a line of naval cruisers to carry passengers, freight and mail between New York, New Orleans and Valparaiso, Chile and intermediate ports.

"At present South American mails are sent at long and sometimes irregular intervals and all American mails south of the equator are carried in vessels sailing under a foreign flag," said Senator Weeks, explaining his resolution.

"The service is very slow and this, it may be easily assured militates against the development of our trade with South America. If, later on, private capital undertakes a line over this route, I should be inclined to withdraw the government line.

"We are in the position of having spent $400,000,000 in the building of a canal, one of the reasons for doing so being that it would aid in the extension of our foriegn trade, but as far as I know there are no American steamers prepared to undertake this service."

Senator Weeks' proposal interested many southern and Pacific coast senators and there was an animated discussion in which no opposition appeared.

COXEY'S ARMY

Second Brigade of Unemployed to March to Washington

CLEVELAND, March 26.—President Wilson last night was warned of the departure for Washington of a second "Coxey's Army," which, it is said, will start April 16 from Massillon, O., the starting point for the first "Army" 20 years ago yesterday.

Gen. J. S Coxey of Massillon, the leader, last night mailed the president a letter telling of his plans.

The "army" expects to arrive in Washington, May 21, to petition the president and congress for measures which will give work to the unemployed.

"This will give you 15 days to inform yourself of the object of this second march," Coxey's letter says, "and to consider the practicability and justice of our demands.

"On our previous march, two other leaders and myself were jailed 20 days for their efforts."

REPORT ON IMMIGRATION

Very timely is the report of the commission appointed by Governor Foss to make a study of the general condition of immigrants in this commonwealth including their way of living, their problems of housing, sanitation, civic interests, education, and occupation, and their relation to the life of the commonwealth in what related to the welfare of all its people. In such an investigation this city is peculiarly interested, because the industrial life of Lowell has been closely interwoven with the life of the immigrant, and the future promises a still closer relationship between the workers in our leading industries and those of foreign birth and their descendants. The discussion of immigration problems attendant on agitation surrounding the Burnett bill in congress also makes an authentic and unbiased report doubly valuable as a guide to future state legislation and civic activity.

Almost at the outset the commission disagrees with those who hint more or less openly that the United States is regarded by most foreign countries as a convenient dumping ground for undesirables. The first immigrants to this country fled from tyranny in some form and from a desire for real life and liberty, and the commission report says: "The causes that sent immigrants fifty or two hundred years ago are also responsible for their coming today." These causes are called "the economic injustices of a dominant race." As to the causes that influence the settlement of any race in a particular locality, the report attributes it mostly to accident. Massachusetts settlement has, it is said, been influenced by "the demand on the part of the textile mills, the shoe factories, the construction companies and other industries of the state for unskilled labor." And yet notwithstanding this, we find many taking the paradoxical position of passing laws to keep them out. Industry invites them; sectional opposition strives to bar them—often by unjust methods, as in the case of the literacy test.

How vital the immigrant question in some of its phases is to Massachusetts may be learned from some statistics quoted by the immigration commission. In 1870, the United States census showed that approximately 43 per cent. of the people of Massachusetts were foreign-born or native born of foreign or mixed parentage; in 1880 this had increased to 50 per cent.; in 1890, to 56 per cent.; and in 1910, to 66 per cent. Commenting on this fact the commission gives food for thought in the following sentence: "At present the one-third of the population that is native-born of native parentage is seeking to bring under dominant American influence the other two-thirds of the population."

The recommendations made by the commission for bringing the immigrant under "dominant American influence" are in most cases prompted by commonsense and simple in application. There is not one of them that would not be adopted naturally were the city, state and nation to take sufficient interest in the problem of the immigrant; both for his own sake and for the sake of the country. Of the "housing conditions" for instance, which are described as anything but desirable, the commission says: "Various excuses for intolerable housing conditions were offered the commission; in many cases low wages; in others, speculative building, excessive rents and neglect on the part of the landlords; in still others the immigrant was described as preferring the darkness, filth and squalor in which he was sometimes found." The commission does not place the blame on the immigrant and it states that no matter how well the local or state laws are enforced, there is need for a "state housing commissioner, with broad powers and an adequate number of inspectors."

The commission has many valuable suggestions concerning the better distribution of immigrants, their adoption of farming, and discovering the proper channel for their energies. Probably the most extensive recommendations are those that concern education. "Only by education," says the report, "can immigrant children representing every nationality and every grade of social development be prepared for equal participation in the responsibilities of citizenship." It also touches on the question of naturalization and suggests what has been advocated in the columns of The Sun, viz:

"That the superior courts of the commonwealth and the United States district courts try the experiment of holding night sessions of the courts of naturalization.

"That the public evening schools of the state give special training for naturalization.

"That certificates of naturalization be formally presented with a ceremony calculated to impress both the immigrant and the American with the dignity and importance of citizenship."

THE BRITISH IMBROGLIO

The one official statement that has come out of the astonishing English situation in which the king and the army—or some of its officers—appear in a new light before the world, is that of Hon. John E. Redmond, in which he said: "The issue now raised is a wider one even than home rule for Ireland. It is whether a democratic government is to be browbeaten and dictated to by the drawing-rooms of London and by that section of officers of the British army who are aristocrats and violent Tory partisans. The cause of Irish freedom has in this fight become the cause of popular freedom and ordered liberty throughout the world."

Premier Asquith's firm stand against army mutiny, against aristocratic influence to demoralize the government forces, has taken the country by storm and strengthened the ministry where it appeared to be weak. The liberal leader and his lieutenants seem to have the ability to turn every assault of the unionists to their advantage.

Sentiment in England has turned strongly against the Ulster men and their aristocratic followers who would demoralize the army by causing its officers to resign. The issue henceforth is between the people and the aristocracy and any interference by the latter will be promptly met by popular sentiment, if not by parliament.

There is a radical element in parliament that on the slightest provocation would start a revolution. The Tories and the king himself have gone just far enough to discover that a single step farther would arouse the sleeping monster of revolution, and as a result their opposition to the parliamentary measures before the commons will henceforth be necessarily guarded and less aggressive. They have been led to see that the slightest interference with the freedom of parliament by the king or the army would precipitate a revolution that would probably sweep away the monarchy, wipe out the aristocracy and establish a republic. King George has certainly been taught that he cannot afford to mix in political controversies without endangering the monarchy itself.

BUSINESS BOOM BEGINNING

There are many indications in the press of the west and middle west which show that business is beginning to show increased activity. Better weather conditions have increased the volume and value of the trade of the country, and many of the leading cities already report business for in excess of that of last year for the same period. The Cincinnati Enquirer, one of the most conservative papers of the middle west, after commenting on the signs of prosperity in Ohio makes the following prophecy:

"Merchants all over the country will find their sales much heavier than usual before another month has elapsed, and in their turn will call upon the manufacturers for replenishment of their stocks and merchandise. The continued growth in our exports of manufactured products is another most encouraging factor. In general trade and as it grows it gives a more ample guaranty of permanent industrial prosperity, of plenty of work for our artisans and of the disappearance of the unemployed through their absorption in the ranks of the working forces of the country."

While this is true of our domestic trade, the substantial increase in our foreign commerce indicates a period of coming prosperity. The department of commerce under Secretary Redfield is bending all its efforts towards placing more of our manufactured products on the markets of the world, and it is succeeding wonderfully. Speaking before the chamber of commerce of the United States a few days ago, Mr. Redfield declared that five million dollars' worth of finished products goes out of this country daily, and that this is increasing "steadily, constantly, readily." In spite of individual efforts to discredit the government by arousing hysteria about alleged "unemployment" and business depression, the barometers of industry register general prosperity, and the mercury is rising.

THE TOLLS REVISION

There seems to be some foundation for the rumor that part of the opposition to the suggested canal tolls revision bill is due rather to a desire to defeat the president's will than to a belief in the intrinsic merits of the question. So much the greater reason for wishing the repeal clause to pass. President Wilson, like any man who rises to political power, aroused rivalry and opposition, even in high places, and though these feelings have been kept out of sight in his own party to an unprecedented degree, his success must have aroused jealousy in other quarters. As all of his activity up to the present was along strictly party lines, there was no chance for consistent opposition, but the canal tolls provision offers the opportunity desired. In the strenuous opposition which is expected to crop out in the house and senate, there will be an opportunity to separate the sincere from the insincere, and the people, while giving credit to any man who opposes the president from honest motives, will not be inclined to favor petty animosity or personal jealousy. The introduction of these elements will make the congressional struggle all the more interesting.

Seen and Heard

Luke McLuke says:

The world is growing better. But we put burglars in jail and let men who eat garlic run around loose.

The accident companies are not in business to lose money. That's one reason why they don't try to insure happy marriages.

The man who is good only on Sundays is going to shovel as much coal as the rest of us when the embalmer gets through with him.

Every married woman knows that her husband would certainly appreciate her if he had to live with some other woman for a little while.

Lemons are getting dearer. But husbands are as cheap as ever.

Any woman can make a man marry her. But not all of them can make him stay put.

Every now and then when Father sits down to the breakfast table he has his own reasons for accusing mother of buying eggs at bargain sales.

After the income tax receipts are counted up and there is a nice wad of coin in the treasury, the government might appropriate about $500,000 and erect a national home for indigent petticoat manufacturers.

A bad memory is a cheerful liar's nightmare.

When a fool has nothing to say he's never satisfied until he says it.

THE BABIES

Even the babies look bored in New York
Brought by a harried and unwelcome stork.
(Poor little tykes)
Wheeled by a stately and uniformed nurse,
Starched cap and apron as glum as a hearse.
What baby likes
Being dressed up with that tickle-edged lace
Sticking its bothersome ends in your face?
Seeing the sunshine and sky through a veil,
All bundled up till you're listless and pale.
Playing with toys you don't want in the least,
Barred from the ground and its life-giving feast—
Handsful of mud with some sand on the side—
Nice little babies, they tell you, have died.
On diet like that. It is crowded with germs;
Ought to give well brought-up babies the squirms.
Nice little babies don't play in the mud,
Mud doesn't mix with a baby's blue blood.
Whimpery baby, with puckery scowl,
Ready to burst to a near-splitting howl
Bows of pink ribbon a-tickling your ears,
All hedged about with germ-theory fears,
Say little baby of wealthy New York,
Poor little tyke,
Brought by a harried and unwelcome stork,
Why don't you strike?

—New York Globe.

To land in jail for taking things easy, that is the irony of fate.

Fortunately for the average man, few of his prayers are answered.

Only a fool will neglect his family in order to pose as a public benefactor.

More than a blanket mortgage is needed to keep a house warm in cold weather.

Naturally a man who leads a crooked life is unable to keep both feet in the straight and narrow path.

The Cincinnati Enquirer finds there isn't a parllele of difference in the love letters of the wise man and the fool.

There is this difference between rents and tears: If a man goes on a tear he may not be able to pay his rent.

Every man expects to wake up some day and find himself famous—and he often does get as far as the waking up part.

The Lawrence American remarks that there are many people who are willing to give up anything during Lent except money.

The Brockton Times thinks another evidence of the sound sense and consistency of the men folks is that fishing tackle never goes out of style.

Every time a woman attempts to work off a ten word compliment on a man she is sure to spoil the effect by transforming it into a serial story.

Dr. James L. Wellington, Harvard's "grand old man," is 96 years of age and he advances four simple rules of health, the observance of which, he says, will do much to prolong existence. The rules are:

"Sit up until 11 o'clock at night, if you desire it.

"If you smoke, smoke a little when you feel so inclined.

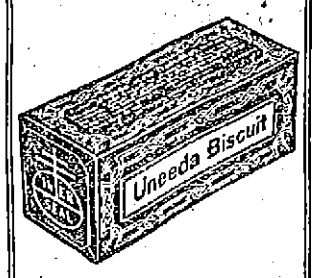

"Be reasonably careful in what you eat.

"Use common sense in all your ways of living."

The fourth rule, we imagine, is a condensation of the quartet. As a matter of fact it is a condensation of all rules of health. "Use common sense" is a rule which if followed would mean not only better health, but better everything.

HOW YOU MAY THROW AWAY YOUR GLASSES

The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not need them. If you are one of these unfortunates, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optona; fill a two-ounce bottle with water and drop in one Optona tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times daily and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eye-strain, cataract, sore eyelids, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this free prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may so strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind or nearly so, or who wear glasses, would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late. Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong, magnetic eyes through the prescription here given.—Advertisement.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

CHEAP LABOR

Portland Express: With the immigration laws as liberal as they are in both this country and Canada there is no good reason why anybody should import foreign labor in bulk, and when it is realized that there are millions of men obtainable for the asking the offense is all the more serious. Labor on this side is entitled to protection just as much as the interests whose greed impels to scour the earth for cheap labor.

THE UNEMPLOYED

Fall River Globe: There always was and always will be a considerable army of the unemployed in the country for the reason that there is so large a number of people who are on the alert to dodge a job rather than to make an honest effort to find one. Every community has its quota of chronic loafers and non-producers, of this kind, who in the aggregate make up a mighty host. About the only work they are disposed to do is with their jaw, and that they are prone to overwork.

ULSTER

Newport News: The reluctance of Ulster to be a hopeless minority in the Irish government may be intelligible enough, but is it a thing for which to shed blood, and can the result be changed? Besides, the rest of Ireland has been a hopeless minority in the British government for more than a century, and is it possible that the Ulsterites really think their property or their religion will be menaced by a Dublin parliament? From this side of the ocean it looks as though the nation had decided on home rule, and as if it were the extreme of foolhardiness for Ulster to undertake a bloody insurrection to prevent it.

THE FLY NESTS

Lynn Item: Spring is here. According to the calendar, spring arrived last Saturday. With spring comes the time for cleaning up, and the cleaner the premises the fewer the flies, when the season opens for those pests. Just now few thoughts are turned to the fly problem, but it should not be neglected. When flies come they arrive in swarms, and where do they come from? Ask the dirt heap in the back yard, the rubbish pile and the refuse box.

TOLLS REVISION

Lewiston Sun: It will add to President Wilson's glory to carry through his Panama repeal bill against the opposition of his party leaders. He is placed—has taken his position—where he is bound to fight it out.

This is the time when the president of the United States ought to hear from a clear and determined public opinion irresistible in supporting his vindication of the country's written promise. A promise as binding in honor as a promissory note, or a bond or a bill at the doctor's or the grocer's.

BOOKS AND CRITICISM

Brockton Enterprise: The New York Times says that "The most favorable review cannot make a bad book good." But a slashing attack on a bad book or play generally puts money in the coffers of the publishers or the managers.

LIGHTS ON VEHICLES

NEW LAW WILL GO INTO EFFECT APRIL 16—ALL VEHICLES MUST HAVE LIGHTS

On April 16 a new law will go into effect relative to lights on vehicles. Heretofore it has not been required by law that every vehicle have a light on a road where lights are maintained at a distance of 500 feet apart. The law now reads:

Sec. 1, Chap. 182—Every vehicle on wheels whether stationary or in motion, on any public highway or bridge, shall have attached to it a light or lights which shall be so displayed as to be visible from the front and the rear during the period from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise; provided, however, that this act shall not apply to any vehicle which is designed to be propelled by hand, or to any vehicle designed for the transportation as its principal freight, of hay or straw while loaded with such freight.

There has also been an amendment to Sec. 2, Chap. 635, Acts of 1913, and new relative to the employment of prisoners in reclaiming land or cultivating land.

This will go into effect April 16.

Sec. 2—The county commissioners of any county may purchase or lease land with funds specifically appropriated therefor by the general court for the purpose of cultivating it by the labor of prisoners from a jail or house of correction and the said commissioners may also make arrangements with the officials of a county town to work said prisoners on any highway or unimproved land, or with a private owner, to improve waste or unused land by means of such prison labor.

When prisoners are so employed they shall be in the custody of the sheriff of the county. When land that is not the property of the county or a highway is so improved, the owners thereof, or those having in charge of the highway, shall pay the county such sums as may be agreed upon between the county commissioners, sheriff, and other parties interested, for labor of any prisoners employed thereon."

AT HIGHLAND CHURCH

Over 300 Enjoyed Entertainment and a Chicken Pie Supper—Large Crowd in Attendance

A chicken pie supper and entertainment constituted the attraction at the Highland Congregational church last evening, and a goodly crowd was there. More than 300 sat down to supper.

"The Packing of the Home Missionary Barrel," a very pleasing sketch, was given by members of Mrs. B. F. Wiggin's Sunday school class. It was presented by the following named: Mrs. Alex. Yagerhorn, Mrs. John Killpatrick, Mrs. F. E. Lane, Mrs. A. E. Grant, Miss Lillian Allister, Miss Ethel Kimball, Miss Mary Livingston, Mrs. Alfred M. Caswell, Mrs. Erwin Pearson and Mrs. C. B. Savage. It was brought to a close by the singing of an original song, the words of which were provided by Mrs. John Killpatrick.

The other contributors to the entertainment were Mrs. Percy Wilson in songs, accompanied by Mrs. J. B. Field, and piano selections by Miss Helen Choate.

The general committee in charge of the affair consisted of: Mrs. Fred Ingham, chairman; Miss Grace Balch, Mrs. Gordon Bixby, Mrs. James Bradley, Mrs. Fred Butler, Mrs. Chase, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Clifford, Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Frank Hodges, Mrs. Carrie Jaquith, Mrs. Kimball, Mrs. Knapp, Mrs. Lamberton, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Secord, Mrs. Woodworth, Miss Cora Duckland, Miss Florence Evans and Miss Bertha Halstead.

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Gov. Walsh Studies Employment Problems—Butler Statue Again—Other Matters

BOSTON, March 26.—Gov. Walsh gave considerable time yesterday to the question of providing for the unemployed, which was called to his attention Monday by Morrison st. Swift and a band of followers, received by the governor in the council chamber. The governor conferred with several representatives of organizations caring for unfortunates and dependents, including William H. Pear of the Boston Provident associations, Fred Johnson of the Associated Charities, and William P. Fowler of the Industrial Aid society. Sec. Wilfrid Wheeler of the State Board of Agriculture attended to tell about farm work for the unemployed.

Gov. Walsh said after the conference that the men he conferred with did not represent the situation to be as serious as that described by Swift and his followers. He said they advised him that the present situation is similar to what occurs every winter.

"This statement, however, will not tend to diminish my interest in the problem," added the governor.

Nominations By Governor

The governor nominated Joseph F. Carmody, clerk special justice of the police court of Chicopee in place of John P. Kirby, who last week was nominated to be justice of the court. Judge Carmody was at one time auditor of Chicopee. He is an Amherst graduate.

A pardon was granted to Charles E. Thomas of Boston, who is serving a two-year term at Deer Island for forgery.

The council refused to approve plans for the Concord armory for the reason that the selectmen of Concord and the armory commissioners, who submitted the plans, are still in disagreement over them.

Butler Statue Question

The Butler statue came up yesterday before house ways and means. Ex-Senator Henry C. Joyner of Great Barrington and Martin M. Lomasney appeared for the measure. Colonel N. P. Hallowell and Prof. Henry G. Pearson of M. I. T. opposed it.

Ex-Senator Joyner said that General Butler was the only Union soldier for whom the Confederates offered a reward, dead or alive. He said that he failed of victory in certain battles because West Pointers refused to support him.

He said that when Harvard refused to confer a bachelor of laws upon him, he had been advised to go to commencement and make the kind of a speech that he only was equal to making. And he went.

Colonel Hallowell said that General Butler was not a capable army officer. Professor Pearson said he was "not an honorable political character."

Anti-Cigaret Bill

The bill to provide that any child between 10 and 17 years of age found smoking cigarets may be classed as a delinquent, and so treated by the courts, was passed to be engrossed, 15 to 10, with five pairs, after having been amended to make it permissive instead of mandatory on the police officer to take such action.

Senator Gifford declared the bill was outrageous and that unfortunately even the permissive feature would not save the small boy when the constable was out for a fee.

Senator O'Rourke supported the measure manfully and exhibited the cigaret germ on a glass slide to the astonishment of his fellow-members, as well as candy cigarets which were being sold.

Bar and Bottle Bill Repeal

Legal Affairs, leave to withdraw on petition that officers shall not be obliged to make returns on writs of attachment unless attachments are made; on petition that administrators, executors, etc., shall be obliged to report every six months. The same committee also reported a bill for the repeal of the bar and bottle bill and providing a referendum to the people in each section of the state. Senators Hilton and Fisher and Representatives Haines, T. E. P. Wilson and Edward Carr dissented.

Police Promotion

The so-called Boston police promotion bill, which Mr. Lomasney and others fought through the house, was killed in the senate yesterday, without debate or division. This bill compelled the police commissioner to make all promotions by means of competitive examinations after the manner of the civil service commission.

The Boston Safe and Deposit Trust company bill, allowing it to increase its capital stock to not exceeding $3,000,000, was passed to be engrossed, 17 to 11, with two pairs. Senator Horgan lifted his voice against the measure and declared it was simply another attempt toward financial monopoly.

SUPPLY SHIP CONTRACT

RESOLUTIONS ASKING CONGRESS TO INVESTIGATE SEC. DANIELS' AWARD

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., March 26.—Resolutions asking congress to investigate Secretary Daniels award of a contract for building a supply ship and transport to the Boston and Philadelphia navy yards respectively were adopted at a mass meeting here last night. The resolutions recite that the award was "unjust and unfair to the Newport News Shipbuilding Co. and that it is currently reported that such action was taken for political purposes."

Congress also was urged to refuse Secretary Daniels' request for a $400,000 appropriation with which to put the two navy yards in condition to build the vessels.

MRS. DELISLE'S FUNERAL

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH—MANY FROM OUT-OF-TOWN

The remains of Mrs. Elie Delisle were tenderly consigned to their last resting place in the Catholic cemetery this morning after impressive service at St. Joseph's church. The funeral cortege left the home of deceased, 64 Tucker street at 8.30 o'clock and wended its way, preceded by two carriages filled with beautiful floral offerings, to St. Joseph's church, where at 9 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. E. J. A. Chaput, O. M. I., assisted by Rev. Antoine Amyot, O. M. I., as deacon and Rev. Charles Denizot, O. M. I., as sub-deacon. There was a large congregation present, for deceased counted a host of friends in this city where she had lived for over 50 years.

The choir, which was under the direction of Telesphore Miale, was augmented for the occasion. At the offertory Miss Stella Latour sang Gounod's "Pie Jesu," and at the communion Dr. George E. Caisse rendered "O Meritum Passionis." Mrs. F. A. Bernard presided at the organ. The bearers were Joseph Coutu, J. A. W. Vincent, Alfred, Alphonse and Melville Delisle, Hector Fiche, Pierre Lepite and Edmond Germain. There was a delegation from Club Lafayette of which the husband of deceased is a prominent member, and also of St. Anne's sodality.

Among the beautiful floral offerings were pieces from the following: Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Dragon, Archie Perron, Dr. G. E. Caisse, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marin, Joseph Caouette, Club Lafayette, Bancroft Piano Store Co., Cleophas L. L'Heureux, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Martin, McGauvran Bros., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nolin, Romulus Tessier and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hercule Gagnon, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Doherty, Damase Delisle, Adolphe Delisle, Mrs. E. N. Cossette, Mrs. J. A. Perron, Mrs. L. Belanger, Edmond Gill, Victor Gelinas, Paul Bourque and Arthur Leblanc.

Among the out-of-town relatives attending the funeral were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Delisle and their son, Aime, Fitchburg; Hector Piche, St. Basile, Que., Mrs. Louis Vezina, Quebec.; Pierre Lepine, Charlebourg West, Que., Alphonse Delisle, Cap Sante, Que., Lionel Marcotte, Montreal, Que., and Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Germain, Worcester. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Augustin Graton, O. M. I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

WARE MAN PUZZLED

Loses Strip of Hair From Head—Thinks He Shaved It Off While Asleep

WARE, March 26.—Thomas Parker of Main street is puzzled over the loss of hair three inches wide from the top of his head.

When he retired last night he had all of his hair, but when he got up this morning he found that the top of his head was shaved.

He says he does not believe he was shaved by a practical joker and thinks he must have performed the shaving "stunt" while asleep.

COACH OF MUHLENBERG

ALLENTOWN, Pa., March 25.—Geo. McCue, former coach at Lafayette was elected last night as coach of the Muhlenberg college football eleven to succeed Thomas Kelley, who leaves as the result of a disagreement with Dr. J. A. W. Haas, president of Muhlenberg. Kelley will go to the University of Maine as coach.

FRACTURED HIS SKULL

Workman Was Badly Injured at the Saco-Lowell Machine Shop This Morning

While running a machine known as a planer in the plant of the Saco-Lowell Machine company about 7.30 o'clock this morning a man named Patrick Lee, of 15 Lincoln street, was hit on the head with a belt and so seriously injured that he now lies in a critical condition at the Lowell Corporation hospital. Whether or not he will recover is not known, according to the hospital authorities.

Mr. Lee was working at his bench this morning when a counter shaft which runs along the ceiling broke and the belt struck him on the head knocking him to the floor. In falling, the back of his head hit a piece of machinery, it is believed, and fractured his skull. Several of his fellow employes rushed to his side and upon learning the seriousness of his injuries telephoned for the ambulance and he was removed to the hospital.

VERDICT IN "DE LUXE" CASE

BOSTON, March 26.—The jury in the so-called de luxe book case today returned a verdict of guilty against all three defendants, Glen F. Farmer and James Powers of New York and Samuel Rosenfield of Chicago.

Rosenfield was sentenced to from six to eight years in state prison. Farmer also was sent to state prison for a term of from three to five years and Powers was given two and a half years in the house of correction.

The men were accused of conspiracy to defraud Mrs. Mary L. Rogers of this city, and of the larceny from her of $37,087 by inducing her to advance money for the purchase of what were represented to be rare volumes and on which she had been made to believe she would be able to make a large profit soon, when the editions would be out of print.

SEALED VERDICT

BOSTON, March 25.—A few minutes before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the "de luxe" book case went to the jury and the court adjourned until 9.30 o'clock this morning.

A sealed verdict was handed in by the jury at 9.45 last night.

The final arguments occupied all the morning yesterday. The charge to the jury by Judge Chase lasted for an hour and a half during the afternoon session.

Judge Chase refused to allow the counts charging conspiracy between all three defendants: Samuel Rosenfield, Glen F. Farmer and Michael J. Powers, to defraud Mrs. Mary L. Rogers to go to the jury, but allowed Asst. Dist. Atty. Nelsaac to charge conspiracy between two of the defendants.

The assistant district attorney in his argument, therefore, charged a conspiracy had existed between Powers and Rosenfield. Farmer was excluded from the conspiracy charge, but all three defendants were accused of larceny.

BOY WAS BADLY INJURED

JOHN BRADY FELL FROM TREE ON APPLETON STREET LAST EVENING

John Brady, aged 6 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brady of South street, who fell from a tree near the New England Telephone Co.'s office on Appleton street, early last evening lay in an unconscious condition at St. John's hospital all night but it was stated this forenoon that he was slowly regaining consciousness and would probably recover. He is suffering from a very severe scalp wound and it is believed that his skull is fractured.

The youngster was playing with several companions near the corner of Appleton and South streets when the accident occurred. According to one of his playmates, little John had climbed the tree and was standing on a branch when he lost his balance and fell to the ground, striking on his head and shoulder. He was hurried to his home by neighbors and Dr. M. A. Tighe summoned. The latter recommended that he be sent to the hospital and the ambulance was called to convey him to St. John's hospital.

It was reported last night that the boy's injuries would probably prove fatal, but it was stated at the hospital this morning that his condition was improving and his recovery is hoped for.

TAILOR SHOP FIRE

DROVE OCCUPANTS FROM BLOCK ON ELLIOT STREET AT MIDNIGHT

The occupants of a lodging house on Elliot street were driven to the street shortly after midnight by a fire which started in a tailor shop on the street floor of the building. A telephone operator discovered smoke coming from the building and notified the fire department, while Patrolmen Connolly and Considine also saw the smoke and awakened the tenants.

Hardly had the officers aroused the occupants when the firemen arrived and the blaze was extinguished before it had spread to the second story. However, the tailor shop was wrecked by the fire and the contents were a total loss. The building was owned by John H. Donnelly and the tailorship by John Marmik. The origin of the fire seemed to be a mystery.

TREATMENT FOR PNEUMONIA

NEW YORK, March 26.—Discovery of a specific serum for the treatment of acute lobar pneumonia was announced yesterday by the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research. In a statement sent to physicians the institute announces that it is prepared to treat patients.

The work of evolving the serum out of many experimental cultures was under the direction of Dr. Rufus S. Cole and has been in progress for the past three years. For the preparation of the serum a culture of the germs is prepared for injection into the blood of a healthy animal, the horse being used in this case.

Coincidentally it was announced from Bellevue hospital yesterday that a pneumonia serum developed in its laboratories was recently used successfully upon a staff physician of that institution.

MANY ARRESTED

Political Situation in Caracas Reported Extremely Unsettled

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, March 26.—The political situation in Caracas is reported to be unsettled. Many prominent persons have been placed under arrest, including Col. Samuel McGill, instructor general of the Venezuelan army, who however, was afterward released. General Manuel Matos, former minister of foreign affairs and two of his nephews are said to have become fugitives.

WOMEN TALK TOO MUCH

CHICAGO BOARD OF ASSESSORS TELL WOMEN ASSISTANTS TO KEEP SECRETS OF WORK

CHICAGO, March 26.—Because women assessors have been talking too much, the board of assessors yesterday issued an order that deputies will be discharged from the service if they make public information regarding their work.

Chicago newspapers yesterday printed stories regarding the work of women assessors in several fashionable homes in Lakeshore drive. The stories told of onyx bathtubs, expensive tapestries, hydro-aeroplanes and rare paintings. Numerous complaints were made to the board by families, a detailed description of whose household effects had been made public by the women.

"In the future all deputies in the field will make their reports to the board daily and will be held responsible for any information regarding their work that becomes public," read the order.

Stevens and Lester B. Stevens. Burial was in the family lot in the Riverside cemetery at North Chelmsford, where Rev. F. H. Reeves read the committal service. Undertaker John A. Welnbeck had charge of the services.

WIBBERLY—The funeral services of John Wibberly were held at his home, 22 Fifth street, yesterday afternoon, and were largely attended. A delegation from Kilwinning lodge, A. F. and A. M., was present. Rev. Dr. Caleb E. Fisher, pastor of the First Universalist church, officiated. The floral offerings included a pillow inscribed "Husband" from the wife, and other offerings from Kilwinning lodge of Masons, Fannie Needham, Edward Wirt, A. T. Munn, H. C. Needham and W. T. Sutcliffe, William Rigby and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Fish of Nashua, N. H., "Friends," J. A. Brien and W. E. Brien. The bearers were Harry Needham, Edward Wirt, Arthur T. Munn and W. T. Sutcliffe. Burial took place in the family lot in the Edson cemetery, where the committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Fisher. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker William H. Saunders.

MERRILL—The funeral of Mrs. Almira B. Merrill, widow of the late Joseph Merrill of 17 Cabot street, took place from the chapel of Undertakers J. B. Currier Co. yesterday afternoon and was well attended. The services were conducted by Rev. C. E. Davis, pastor of the Worthen Street Methodist church, and appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. F. L. Roberts. The floral offerings included a large pillow inscribed "Mother" from the family, and other pieces from the following: Mrs. and Miss Merrill, Mrs. Talaferro, the Misses McCarthy and Mrs. F. H. Ryan, Mrs. Grace E. Harris. The body was today forwarded to Natick where burial was in the family lot. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers J. B. Currier Co.

COLE—The funeral of Leroy H. Cole, the infant child of Edith and Elmer D. the Tewksbury Centre hospital, Rev. A. Cole, was held yesterday afternoon at Hesford officiating. Among the many flowers were the following: Spray inscribed "Our Baby," from the parents; sprays, friends of the Lawrence Street F. M. church, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henley, M. A. ON LOWELL DAY

Lieut. Doyle Will be Chief Marshal of the Parade

Lieut. Thomas W. Doyle of Company G, Sixth regiment, was chosen to be marshal of the Lowell day parade, which is to take place one week from today, at a conference held in the mayor's office this forenoon at which Mayor Murphy and Secretary Murphy of the Lowell board of trade were present. Lieut. Doyle is military instructor of the Lowell high school regiment besides holding the office of first lieutenant of Company G.

Music for the parade will be furnished by the Sixth regiment band, which was secured by Secretary Murphy through Harry Roberts, a member of the board of trade.

LIEUT. DOYLE

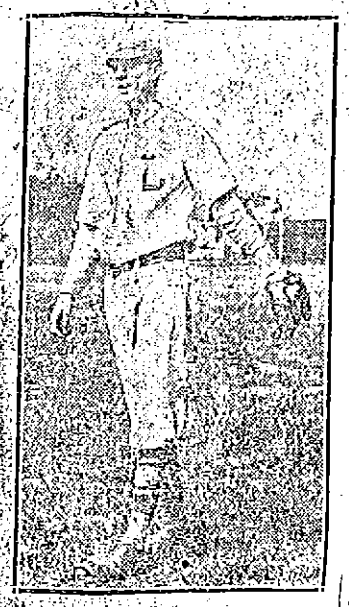

The high school regiment will turn out in full force and the police and fire departments will be well represented by men in uniform while there will be many other features that will make this year's parade eclipse even that of last year.

WEAVER COMING BACK TO LOWELL

Pitcher Who Jumped Last Season Reinstated by Manager Gray

Lowell Team Will Play Harvard on Stadium, April 28th

Dee Will Play at Short This Season — Other Interesting Dope

"BUCK" WEAVER

Lowell fans will be glad to hear that "Buck" Weaver, one of Manager Gray's reliables in the box during the season of 1912, will be back again this season with the local club. His unexplained exit from the New England league circuit at the beginning of last season has now been straightened out and Buck is once more a member in good standing of the Lowell club.

Weaver was not well when he came here last season. He had been sick a good part of the preceding winter and when he came to Lowell he left his mother critically ill, in their home at Terre Hill, Pa.

It will be remembered that Weaver jumped town directly after being beaten in a hard 4-3 game by Portland on a cold day. He had complained of a sore arm before the game but as Gray had no one else to work he had to do the hurling. It was thought at the time that perhaps Buck felt as though he had not been used quite right by being sent on to the firing line with a lame whip. But this was decidedly not the case.

Buck received word from his home that his mother was dying and, without waiting to bid good-bye to anyone, he boarded the first train for the Pennsylvania mountains. Weaver was motherless, however, before he reached home.

There were many things that had to be straightened out and Buck took the affairs of the family upon his shoulders and got busy. In fact he was so busy that the Lowell ball club was forgotten in the rush until several weeks after his hasty departure.

The New England league season was well started by the time affairs in the Weaver family were settled and by that time, Buck, always too quick to jump at conclusions, decided that he must be on the black list and made arrangements to play independent ball instead of communicating with Manager Gray to find out for a certainty.

The Lowell manager got hold of the story this spring while in New York at one of the major league baseball conferences and immediately got in touch with Weaver. Sure, Buck would play with Lowell—he was only glad to accept the chance. And thus has Buck Weaver, baseball prodigal, returned to the fold of the local club.

Will Play Harvard

The Lowell baseball club, for the first time in many years, will play Harvard this season on the Stadium diamond. The date has been set for April 28. It was thought at first that the Cambridge collegians would cross bats with the local team at Spalding park but the early season crowd would hardly pay the expenses let alone the guarantee demanded by the Harvard team. As the game will be played on the day preceding the opener of the New England season the Lowell team should be in pretty fair shape.

Another Star Infielder

And while we're mentioning players we can't forget that the Lowell team has under contract a mighty fast infielder in the person of Freyer, who played shortstop for the New York club of the U. S. league last season. Freyer played great ball for the outlaws throughout the season.

Bruggy, last year's Lawrence star outfielder, was a teammate of Freyer's until grabbed by Louis Pieper. If Freyer is as classy an infielder as Bruggy is outer gardener, there is not much question but what he is speedy enough for this circuit.

Temple Well Thought Of

In Temple, the pitcher received in exchange for Harry Aubrey, Jimmy Gray thinks that he has a valuable asset. This slabster comes from Pittsfield and on paper does not look to have an enviable reputation. However, the fact must be taken into consideration that Temple played on a club which finished in the Eastern association race.

Temple did not want to play with the Pittsfield club and for that reason more than any other he was made the exchange medium for Aubrey. Temple has also played with Hartford and Meredith of the same league. He won but ten games last season out of 27 but the majority of his defeats were by one and two runs. In many of the contests which were decided against him he outpitched his opponent, but errors behind him resulted disastrously.

"SHORTY" DEE

Dee Better at Short

Although "Shorty" Dee played a swell game at third last season it is the consensus of opinion among base ball men who have watched the Lynn boy work during the past two years that he is a better shortstop than he is guardian of the hot corner.

Of course "Shorty" had his off days and there was a period during the 1913 season when he took a bad slump. But when you come to average everything up you'll find that Mr. Dee was a big factor in the stonewall defence which Lowell presented during the New England league season and in the Hartford series.

With Dee at shortstop the Lynn boy always takes the short throw. Last year Miller came in for it, but although Miller was a grand infielder, he could not snap back the ball to the plate in the manner that made Dee famous in 1912. With a man on first and third and a double steal in progress, "Shorty" was always there with the quick return and the runner usually died at the plate. The Lowell infield will be stronger with Dee playing at short.

Roy Smith Back

Another pitcher who has been seen here before and who is liable to make a regular berth is Roy Smith. Roy is the right hander who was generally considered to have more "steam" than any pitcher in the league.

Smith pitched but four games for Lowell last year when his stomach went back on him and he was forced to quit the game. He is not very strong constitutionally and the change in climate had a bad effect upon him. Manager Gray had him treated by several physicians, but he failed to improve and finally left town bound for home on May 22.

Roy Smith pitched four games for Lowell last season and a glance over his record is sufficient to convince one that he has the goods when in condition. On May 2 he pitched a shutout, his opponents getting but three hits. On May 7 he let down Fall River with 7 runs and eight hits. Lowell won this game 8—7. On the 14th and 19th of the same month he let down New Bedford and Brockton with 7 and 6 hits respectively. Lowell won all four games that Smith worked in. He allowed but 12 runs and 23 hits in the four contests.

Smith has written Manager Gray from his home in Redlon, Pa., that he is in tip-top form this year and thinks that he can go through the season without a repetition of last season's illness.

WINDMILL BURNED DOWN

Amesbury Fire Department Unable to Cope With Structure Belonging to Col. E. W. M. Bailey

AMESBURY, March 26.—A spectacular fire from unknown cause yesterday destroyed the windmill of Col. E. W. M. Bailey at Walnut Hill at the Highlands, originally costing $1800. The Bailey house, on an eminence at the west side of the town, obtained its water by means of the windmill.

The auto combination chemical responded to a still alarm, but the structure was too far gone and the department could only protect the many buildings in close proximity.

OPEN BASEBALL SEASON

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 26.—In the opening baseball game of the season, the Naval academy defeated Swarthmore yesterday by a score of 13 to 8.

BASEBALL WAR

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 26.—Attorneys representing S. H. Camnitz, the Federal league agent enjoined temporarily last Monday from interfering with members of the Pittsburgh National league team, under the state labor contract law, yesterday filed a motion in chancery court here, asking that President Dreyfuss be required to produce in court all his players' contracts.

The Federal league representatives contend that the complaint filed by the Pittsburgh management is indefinite. George P. Whittington, of counsel for Camnitz, last night declared that the validity of baseball contracts containing the reserve clause would be subject to a rigid legal test if the motion filed yesterday is granted.

NASHUA BEATEN

White Way Bowlers Defend Their Laurels from Up-River Five—McQuesten and Devlin Featured

The Nashua bowling five did not have much success in their attempted invasion of the White Way alleys last night for they were stopped by the defenders of the alleys in a three-string match. The contest was close at all times and the locals were returned a winner by the narrow margin of 15 pins.

McQuesten of the visitors went the high individual honors. This bowler piled up a total of 320 and rapped the pins for a single of 125. In singles he was tied by Devlin of the White Ways who also led his teammates with a total of 313. The score:

WHITE WAYS

Devlin, 313; Cole, 301; Flanders, 291; Perrin, 301; Myrick, 253. Total, 1489.

NASHUA

Pero, 295; Dersler, 249; Whipple, 314; McQuesten, 320; Mellen, 297 Total, 1474.

DIAMOND NOTES

Formal announcement that the Colonial league has been granted protection under the national agreement was received by Vice President S. D. Flanagan from Secretary Farrell of the National association. The new league has been granted a class C rating, with six clubs. There are good prospects for taking in Attleboro and Newport and making the league an eight-club circuit, in which case it would be rated in class B. As at present constituted, the league includes Pawtucket, Woonsocket, Fall River, New Bedford, Brockton and Taunton.

Jim Thorpe, the big Indian all-around athlete, who made his debut as a big league ball player last season, developed wonderfully on the tour around the world, according to Manager McGraw of the New York Giants. The former Carlisle hero has entered into the work of perfecting himself at the game with more determination and vigor than he ever displayed in any other branch of sport. McGraw predicts that it will be hard to keep Thorpe out of a regular job the coming summer and intimates that he will be one of the real big stars of the baseball world by the summer of 1915.

Albin Carlstrom, the former Lawrence player, has left his home in Elizabeth, N. J. He has reported to the Montreal team. Montreal has suffered because of heavy raids by the Feds and "Carl" should have no trouble getting a regular berth from the start.

Freddy Parent, who is at his home in Sanford, Me., denies, in a statement to a reporter for the Portland Express-Advertiser, that he has jumped from the Baltimore International league club and gone over to the Federals. "My present plans are to return to Baltimore," said the former Boston American star, "but I shall not go south to join the team. I don't want to play in a long series of exhibition games. I may, and I may not sign up with Baltimore for the coming season. I shall not decide this until I have had a personal conference with Manager Jack Dunn."

This is the first time Parent has broken silence since it was reported a week ago that he had deserted the Internationals for the Feds.

Regardless of whether or not he concludes to sign up with Dunn's Orioles, all prospect of his being manager of the Lewiston club of the New England league has vanished. Dunn sets too high a purchase price.

The current issue of the Amoskeag Bulletin, a publication fathered by the Amoskeag corporation of Manchester, attacks the New England league because it has caused to be cancelled dates of organized baseball that the Amoskeag promoters had listed for the coming season. Says the paragrapher in this issue:

"We had every reason to expect a different attitude from the New England league. Doubtless it was a disappointment to them to be unable to place a team in Textile field this year, but we are accustomed to seeing sportsmen take their losses philosophically. We had no alternative but to refuse them, in justice to the Manufacturers' league. Could we have foreseen the consequences of our action we could have done different. We have nothing to regret."

One corporation takes the position that another corporation shall not encroach and the offended corporation retaliates by withdrawing its assistance in the matter of furnishing attractions. And the people of Manchester are the real victims.

Fred Tyler, brother of "Lefty" Tyler, and once a tryout candidate on the Lowell New England league club, caught a fine game for the Boston National rookies against Mercer college at Macon, Ga., this week, handling the deliveries of Hersch and Luque. The "kids" won, 13 to 2, in a walk. Tyler got three hits, one a two-bagger and had 10 put-outs, one assist and no errors.

The Boston Globe publishes a list of players who have signed with New England league teams. The Globe says that Henry Moran signs with Portland. This is believed to be incorrect, as Moran has lined up with the Federals. The Globe further says that Lowell has released Ed Henderson, Lowell released Henderson to a Virginia league team, but he refused to go, and he signed with the outlaws. He wants to be given his release so that in the event of the Feds "blowing up," he won't be a blacklisted player in the eyes of organized baseball and would have no trouble getting back in the fold. It is not believed that Lowell has given Henderson his unconditional release. The chances are that the Virginia league team has rights to Henderson unless the trade was void if he failed to report.—Lawrence Eagle.

You can wager that Jimmy Gray did not take any chances with a man as slippery as Henderson. It will be interesting to watch and see how he fares with the outlaws. Henderson was sold outright and not released.

The list of New England league players desired by the Federal league is completed according to the belief of baseball fans. The Feds got seven from the league, some of whom are rated good and some looked on as lemons.

Baltimore has Joe Finneran, Lowell pitcher last year and Herbert Yount, New Bedford twirler, on its list. Finneran belonged to the Philadelphia Nationals. He looked good in the New England.

Buffalo has Arthur Lavlene, the Worcester lad who caught for Lynn and Lowell. Fred Anderson, a pitcher from Brockton, and Harry Moran, one of Hugh Duffy's twirlers.

Indianapolis has Berl Weeden, catcher of Fall River last season.

Pittsburgh has Edward Henderson, who pitched for Lowell last season.

Fred Merkle will play first base for the New York Giants again this coming season. He receives an increase in salary. Bob Bescher, the fast Cincinnati star, will not be started by McGraw as a regular. Milton Stock may land the third base job. It does not look as if Tilly Shafer will report.

BASKETBALL GAME

Everything is now in readiness for the third game of the big series between the Lowell Five and the Y. M. C. I. Teams which will be played in Associate hall tonight. Indications point to a red hot contest tonight even more interesting than the two games which have been played. Greater interest in the series is being taken as the games go along and it is expected that Associate hall will be taxed to the limit tonight when the referee's whistle is blown for the start of the game. Jack Tierney will be the official in charge tonight and with his experience in basketball should be able to handle the game without any trouble. The reserved seats which are limited will go on sale at 7 o'clock and will be sold to the first applicants.

CHINESE ROLLER

George Chin Looks Good to Bowling Critics in Worcester

Out in Worcester they have unearthed a Chinese pin artist, who the Worcester Gazette thinks will develop into a first division roller. The sporting writer of that paper has the following to say about George Chin:

Worcester boasts of a most enthusiastic Chinese follower of candlepins in George Chin, official scorer of the Church Street City league five, and a great admirer of "Zip" Lachapelle, who bowls anchor on the team.

But George is not content with watching the thin pin game from the bench, and under the coaching of Lachapelle has come along so fast that he more than holds his own with the majority of the bowlers around the Church street alleys. He recently rolled his first match game, bowling anchor for Gilmore's Federal five and made good with a total of over 250. When the Gazette camera man visited the Church street alleys to snap George, he was so confident of his ability to split the maples that he said the cigars were on him if he could not put up a total of better than 275.

The scores of 99, 103 and 102, for a total of 304, were the result. The cigars weren't on George.

Chin's form on the alleys, except that he lacks the terrific speed which had given "Zip" his nickname, is a dead ringer for that of Lachapelle.

He advances the ball forward to a level with his eyes, and after sighting carefully at the pins, brings the sphere back for a full length swing before shooting down the alley.

George's greatest fault is on his second ball, he being a bit weak on picking up spare breaks. His first ball works havoc when it gets in among the pins, and he hits the head and quarter fully as often as the average bowler. He picks up well on his third ball, as the scores of his three strings will show. A total of 304, made on a strike and four spares, shows good, consistent work.

Church alley supporters claim George is the champ in Chinese candlepin crack of the world.

MURDER OF SWEETHEART

IS CHARGE AGAINST ARTHUR ARGEROS, SALEM BAKER, ARRESTED TODAY

SALEM, March 26.—Arthur Argeros, a baker, was arrested today charged with the murder of his sweetheart, Miss Elenie D. Erinis, whose body was found in the harbor near Salem Willows last night. He was held without bail for a hearing next Thursday.

Medical Examiner Foster of Peabody will hold an autopsy this afternoon. Dr. F. E. Atwood, the local medical examiner who first viewed the body decided that the case was clearly one of suicide.

Argeros, the police say, told him that he and the girl, who was 20 years old, four years younger than himself, were engaged to be married and that she became despondent recently when he was ordered to return to Greece to complete his service of two years in the army.

Athletes and Athletics

Gardner Brooks and Kid Thomas will again engage in a fistic contest, probably a week from tonight, at the Lawrence club. Brooks is confident that he can repeat over Thomas while the latter feels that the Lowell boy got away very lucky in their last encounter. Perhaps after their next go Thomas will be ready to concede the local youngster the palm. The Lawrence boxer will do well to stand up through ten rounds.

Lowell high's track team passed through a fairly good season this winter. Five wins and two defeats is a good average. Captain Varnum Bowers certainly did his share toward boosting the team. The doughty leader of the high school track athletes set up two new records at the annex track and romped away with his favorite event.

Courtney (Cokey) Woodman, the Danvers pitcher for whom Manager Gray offered 13 recruits, has jumped Dan Clohecy's Haverhill club and signed with the Buffalo Federal league team. Cokey affixed his signature to the outlaw contract last night but the terms were not made public at the time. It was a cinch from the start that Woodman wouldn't stick with Clohecy's warriors. If Daniel had had his usual bump of acumen with him when he received Gray's offer he would have snapped it up. The air must be blue down at the Haverhill baseball quarters.

Joe Winston, the man who "discovered" Jim Barry and brought him into the front rank of the heavyweight division, was in town yesterday and dropped into the office for a little chat. He and Joe Woodman are inseparables in spite of the fact that Sam Langford and Barry fought several bitter battles while Woodman and Winston were their respective managers.

"On the level," I asked Winston, "could Barry ever hand it to Sambo?" "Hand it to him? Why, you can just go bet he could hand it to him. If Jim Barry hadn't been a fool he could still hand it to him or any of the white hopes littering up the roped arenas today."

Joe was very certain that the boxing bill of Johnny Sheehan would be passed by this year's legislature. The bill provides for six-round, no decision bouts and gives the state ten per cent. rake-off on every performance. No wonder the bill looks good to the legislators. The promoters who make a success of a club after paying over ten per cent. of the gross receipts will be doing wonders. Winston has now quit the managerial game and is traveling for the Milo people.

"The town has gone basketball mad," said one of the local sports who is always ready to pick up any branch of athletics which looks good as a money maker. "I have never seen anything like it in my experience with local sports." It is certain that the Y. M. C. I.—Lowell Five series has aroused more enthusiasm than any form of athletics staged here in years. It has proved a surprise to even the experts.

If the remaining games between the Y. M. C. I. and Lowell Five are played after the style of the last few minutes of play in the last contest it would develop a better brand of sport. Although interesting and fraught with excitement, there was a trifle too much holding in spots.

We were discussing Maybohm at the baseball headquarters yesterday afternoon and wondering whether he would report this spring. "Maybohm has been a good old standby," said Manager Gray, "and I'll give him anything he wants. If he wants to play somewhere else this season he can get his unconditional release from me on demand." It is this kind of sentiment toward a ball club which is remembered and returned. Players who have been used square are always on the lookout for young players with a future for their former manager. We have several instances of this in the contracts already received for the coming season.

THE MELLEN CASE

Trial of Former New Haven President May Come Up in April

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 26.—Action in the case of Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company, charged with manslaughter as the outcome of the express wreck at Westport in October, 1912, may come in the April term of the superior court for Fairfield county, as the criminal side of the March sitting was adjourned yesterday.

Week before last Homer N. Cummings, for Mr. Mellen, asked the court to vacate the warrant on which Mr. Mellen was arrested last May. The motion to vacate followed a decision by Judge Tuttle sustaining the demurrer offered to the complaint on the ground that it charged "voluntary" manslaughter when "involuntary" manslaughter was intended. State Attorney Judson asked for permission to amend the complaint and opposed the motion to vacate.

Before adjourning court yesterday afternoon, Judge Tuttle filed memoranda with the court clerk. At first this was thought to be a decision on the motion to vacate, but it proved to be the formal record of motions to dismiss the complaint on the ground that the bench warrant was issued in a manner contrary to the constitution and on the demurrer to the complaint. The April term will be presided over by Judge Gager.

It is expected Judge Tuttle's decision on the pending motions will be filed prior to the next term of court.

HEINZE ELECTRIC CO.

HAS FILLED PLACES OF THE ALLEGED STRIKERS—UNION ORGANIZED

It was reported last night that between 20 and 25 assemblers employed at the Heinze Electric Co. went out on strike yesterday, because of alleged grievances over their work.

Joseph A. Legare, treasurer of the company, when seen by a Sun reporter this morning said the company does not recognize any strike. He said the men did not go out on strike, but were discharged by the foreman of the department because they refused to do the work brought to them.

Mr. Legare said for some years past the company has been using what are known as spot coils upon which a silk wire secondary was being used. "In order to keep up with our competitors," continued Mr. Legare, "we thought it advisable to use what is known as enamel wire, but the assemblers refused to do their work and accordingly 21 of them were discharged. Their places have been filled and the department is running as before. Mr. Legare also said the men who were discharged were the highest paid unskilled laborers in the country, for their average pay was between $12 and $16 a week.

One of the assemblers called at The Sun office this morning and informed the writer that all the assemblers at the Heinze Electric Co. were out on strike because of alleged reduction in wages. He said the strikers held a meeting yesterday afternoon and organized into a union and the following officers were elected: Fred Welch, president; William Kendall, vice president; Harry Rogers, recording secretary; Oscar McFarland, treasurer; Messrs. Welch, McFarland and Favreau, executive board.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, Middlesex, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Charlotte D. Fisher, late of Lowell, in said County, deceased, and to Edward D. McVey of said Lowell.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for probate, by Frank Barnard, who prays that letters of administration with the will annexed may be issued to him without requiring sureties on his bond, or to some other suitable person, said McVey, the executor named in said will being alleged to be incompetent to perform the trust.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Lowell, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-first day of April, A. D. 1914, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing, post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days, at least, before said Court, and by delivering to said McVey a copy thereof seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twenty-fifth day of March, in the year one thousand nine hundred and fourteen.

FEARING INSANITY MAN ENDS HIS LIFE

J. D. Humphrey of Boston Committed Suicide by Jumping From the Saloon Deck of the Steamer Governor

PORTLAND, Me., March 26.—Fearing he would become insane, according to a letter which he left to the purser and a written statement accompanying it, J. D. Humphrey of 171 School street, Boston, committed suicide by jumping from the saloon deck of the steamer Governor Dingley this morning when the vessel was about ten miles east of Boone Island. The steamer was stopped and every effort was made to locate Humphrey, but this was impossible because of the high seas.

ON VITAL STATISTICS

DR. WILBUR DEPLORES LACK OF PROPER LAWS ON SUBJECT—GREATER PRECISION NEEDED

BOSTON, March 26.—The importance of accurate vital and mortality statistics in the treatment of disease, in preventive methods, and in health and sanitary work generally, was emphasized yesterday afternoon by Dr. Cressy L. Wilbur, chief statistician of the bureau of the census, department of commerce at Washington, in his lecture at Harvard Medical school.

The speaker recalled with regret that in his own medical education he had been obliged to realize the value of such statistics, not by the teaching of it, but by a sort of haphazard. Nor was the importance of the subject at all realized in medical colleges even today. On the other hand, men not especially qualified, and frequently not trained for the work, were still entrusted with the care of the life and health of the community.

"Public hygiene," said Dr. Wilbur, "is dependent in large measure upon vital statistics, and when other countries have done so much in recognizing this in their laws, why are we in the United States compelled to appeal continually to our government for such a law? Why should the registration of births, for example, be so neglected that for very few of our towns and cities should the birth rates be reliable? We need such a reorganization as will give us a dependable system of vital statistics."

The lecturer traced the history of such statistics in the United States, and pointed out that Massachusetts was the first state in the world to make the collection of them a government function and impose on the citizen the duty of giving notice of births, deaths and marriages.

Alluding to the paramount necessity of accurately giving the cause of death, he cited as one of the alarming statements throwing doubt on our mortality system Dr. Richard C. Cabot's report, submitted last year, of discrepancies between diagnosis and autopsy in the Massachusetts General hospital, showing a large percentage of cases in which a mistaken diagnosis was made.

"Many parts of this country," said the speaker, "have no effective registration. We need much greater precision in stating the cause of death, so as to render mortality statistics of value for scientific deduction, though for the more definite forms of disease our statistics are valuable."

STAMFORD, Conn., March 26.—Mrs. Cornelia Dawhorn Peck, divorced wife of Harry Thurston Peck, denied last night following his funeral that her husband ever entrusted a large sum of money to any friend to keep for him. She said if Prof. Peck had told his secretary, Miss Margaret McDougall that he had given $100,000 to any one, he was joking with her.

"I don't think Prof. Peck's combined earnings amounted to that," she said. "His estate, which is bequeathed to his daughter, consists entirely of the income from royalties on his books."

Miss McDougall said Prof. Peck told her some time ago that four years ago he had given $100,000 to a former schoolmate, who had something to do with a banking business, with the understanding that the money was to be turned over to him when he asked for it. He tried to get it recently, he told her, and failed. He did not tell her the man's name.

CONANT & CO.'S SALES

OF CRESCENT WORSTED PROPERTY AT LAWRENCE AND AT CONCORD, N. H.

Yesterday afternoon the J. E. Conant Co. completed the sale of the properties of the Crescent Worsted company, commencing Tuesday afternoon at South Lawrence and finishing yesterday at Concord, N. H. The real estate at South Lawrence was sold in three lots to C. O. Andrews of Lawrence and Wm. E. Walsh of Lowell; the machinery, mechanical equipment, and other personal property was sold in lots to suit purchasers to Pradd & Wood of Manchester, N. H., Hudson Worsted Co. of Worcester, Cranston Woolen mill of Bristol, R. I., Root Worsted mill, Millbury, Mass., Walworth Bros. of Lawrence, A. J. Robinson, Somersworth, N. H., American Woolen company, John A. Simpson of Lowell, Edward Jefferson & Bro., J. K. Lamb, Textile Machine Co., and John J. McCloskey—the three last of Philadelphia. The total realized from the South Lawrence sale was $21,700; the purchaser of lot five, of the worsted spinning plant at Concord, N. H., was W. M. Barr of Boston for $10,500; lot six, or the house, was purchased by Charles P. Nash of Concord for $2500; the total sale amounted to $34,700. There can be no criticism from any standpoint of the character of the attendance at either of the sales. While the bidders hesitated somewhat to begin their bids at each sale of real estate, there was, more or less, rapid work once they got to going. Both days provided perfect weather conditions. Each sale was a success and the completeness of the transaction, as a whole, was quickly reached.

MOOSE HERD MISSING

KEPT ON OCTOBER MOUNTAIN FROM WHICH THEY ESCAPED—ANIMALS HIGHLY PRIZED

LENOX, March 26.—Lost—One herd of moose.

Harry Payne Whitney's highly prized animals that for several winters have roamed through his October mountain estate are missing.

To find them, Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, accompanied by two sons of James A. Burden of New York, reached Lenox yesterday. They intend to set out into the still wintry fastnesses of the Berkshires today.

Together with deer and other game, the moose have had the run of the Whitney estate, but have been restrained from escape by a high wire fencing encircling the mountain.

The 40 animals were missed, but the weather was so severe that the caretakers assume they had sought shelter in some remote part of the estate.

The storms of February made it increasingly difficult to search for them successfully. It has been found that part of the fencing was destroyed, and it is feared they have escaped through this. Mr. Whitney and his searching party are prepared to go the whole length and breadth of the Housatonic valley after the animals, though they will cover October mountain first.

TORREON TREMBLES AS MEXICANS SLAY EACH OTHER IN BATTLE

1- MAIN STREET IN TORREON—2- REBEL BATTERIES IN ACTION DURING ADVANCE ON TORREON—3- HOW REBELS ATTACKED TORREON—

The main street in Torreon was the scene of frantic panic as the rebels began bombarding the city after a successful advance. Federals were prepared to make the last desperate stand of the battle there. The map shows how Villa's forces were drawn up around the city. Fierce fighting had preceded the clash at the city's gates.

VILLA'S VICTORY AT TORREON IS TURNED TO DEFEAT IN FIERCE ATTACK BY FEDERALS

JUAREZ, Mex., March 26.—A shattering surprise befell Gen. Villa in the midst of what he thought a certain triumph, according to scattering despatches reaching here following rigid censorship began early yesterday.

The last despatch, direct from the firing line at Torreon Tuesday night, announced the crossing of the Nazas river by Gen. Benevides and his Naraguza brigade, his capture of the barracks on the outskirts of the city and the advance of his troops to the city plaza.

This accomplished, Villa was certain of his victory. His soldiers were exhausted by five days of nearly continuous marching and fighting, and Villa ordered that they rest, expecting to swing his main force over bridges into Torreon and take up the pursuit of what he regarded as a thoroughly beaten federal army.

Villa's Centre Attacked

But the strategy of Gen. Velasco, the federal leader, has turned the table, for the time being, with reinforcements, of whose arrival from Mexico City in Torreon in the last few days Villa seems to have been wholly ignorant.

Velasco, while engaging Benevides and his forces at Torreon, where they still are said to be holding their ground in the suburbs, sent his largest forces of fresh troops that had been massed to the southwest of the city in a driving charge upon the centre of Villa's army as it lay north of Torreon.

It was striking Villa at the weakest point of his line, because in the battle of the day before he had drawn away Gen. Urbina's brigades from Lerdo, southwest of the city, and despatched them to guard the railroad lines to the northwest. There were fewer than expected to challenge the federals in their advance to Villa's centre.

Driven to El Verjel

The result of the sudden aggressive tactics of the reinforced federals sent Villa and his men reeling back to Gomez Palacio, and after furious battling there the federals drove them out of the Torreon suburb and six miles further north to El Verjel.

But the latest despatches to the constitutionalist leaders, though very incomplete, accredit Villa with holding the eastern counties and of having in the handling of his men averted the danger of the federals splitting his army, cutting him off from Benevides, who is still fighting at the southeast gateway of Torreon.

TODAY'S REPORT STATES THAT REBELS WERE ROUTED AND REPULSED

WASHINGTON, March 26.—This message sent from Mexico City last night was received at the embassy here today.

"Rebels once more routed and repulsed at Gomez Palacio with heavy losses while trying to approach Torreon."

GREAT ANXIETY OVER POSSIBLE FATE OF GENERAL VILLA AND 12,000 TROOPS

JUAREZ, Mexico, March 26.—An atmosphere of anxiety enveloped constitutionalist sympathizers today over the possible fate of General Francisco Villa and his 12,000 rebel soldiers, who at last reports were engaged in desperate fighting at Gomez Palacio, a suburb of Torreon. For two days no definite word came from the front. Not even a courier has penetrated the desert between Torreon and Chihuahua.

News despatches from Mexico City received last night declaring that the war department had issued a bulletin to the effect that Villa was in full retreat are not generally believed in Juarez.

Manuel Chao, military governor of Chihuahua, haunts the military telegraph office day and night in the hope of a message from Villa telling of the fortunes of war.

No explanation was offered by rebel officers of the fact that communication ceased after the attack on Gomez Palacio began while news had come freely during Villa's triumphant southward march.

EXCESS OF BACHELORS

IN SAN FRANCISCO AND THE MARRIAGE TENDENCY NOT VERY MARKED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26.—Next to Newport, R. I., San Francisco has a higher percentage of bachelors than any other city in the country.

A report to be made soon by an association of collegiate alumni school survey class which has been investigating San Francisco's schools, estimates the percentage of unmarried men here between 25 and 45 years of age at 45.5. Newport's percentage is a trifle higher. The marriage tendency is not marked.

REALTY INTERESTS SAFE

IN ASSESSMENT OF PROPERTY IN BOSTON SAYS ALL WILL GET SQUARE DEAL

BOSTON, March 26.—Relative to a conference between Mayor Curley and a committee representing the Massachusetts real estate exchange as to which certain reports appeared in the daily press yesterday morning, the committee from the exchange, which consists of Frederick O. Woodruff, A. H. Taber and H. O. Cutter, gave out yesterday afternoon the following statement:

"A report that the mayor was about to order a general advance in assessments upon downtown business property in Boston was recently brought to the attention of the exchange and this committee was appointed by the directors to confer with the mayor regarding this matter.

"It was the judgment of the exchange that while individual pieces of down-town property might reasonably stand a larger assessment, the city as a whole was fairly assessed at present. It was felt that some portions of the business district are now assessed for all that they are worth, and that a further advance in assessment would result in hardship to the owner and also to the tenants, who in numerous cases pay the taxes.

"Great efforts are now being made by the mayor and various civic organizations to boom Boston. One important method is to treat our present industries so that we may hold what we have and a too radical advance in assessments would in our judgment not only hold in check any advance, but would tend to destroy the good work already accomplished.

"At the conference yesterday the committee did not attempt to dictate in any way to the mayor as to his policy in this matter, nor was any reference made to the work of any of the present assessors or to the work of any prospective appointees to the assessing department.

"The committee did not suggest that the assessors should confer with the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange or with any of its individual members as to valuations.

"The delegation was courteously received by the mayor and the conference accomplished all that the committee expected, namely, an assurance from the mayor that all parties interested would receive a square deal."

A Single Application Banishes Hair From Face

(Beauty Topics)

Here is a way to remove obnoxious hairy growths while you are preparing your toilette for the evening: Mix into a stiff paste enough powdered delatone and water to cover the hairs not wanted. Apply, and in about two minutes rub off and every trace of hair comes with it. Washing the skin to remove the surplus delatone leaves it soft, clear and free from blemish. To insure success, be certain that you get real delatone.

WILL IS VOID

For Lack of Proper Signatures—Not Enough Witnesses

BOSTON, March 26.—Mrs. Nellie A. Eastman wrote her own will without the aid of an attorney, but she had only two witnesses sign it, though the law requires three, so the instrument is inoperative.

"If any one concerned or mentioned in this will makes any trouble they shall be cut off without one dollar," is the closing sentence.

Under her signature appear the signatures of Elmer G. Raymond and Leona C. Raymond, though there is no attestation clause or any wording to indicate that even they are witnesses. Mrs. Myra Eastman Guillet, a daughter, is named as executrix.

The testatrix leaves all her property except $50 for a burial lot, to her daughter, Mrs. Guillet, for life, and on the death of the latter the estate is to go to her children, if any, and if not then she may dispose of it as she wishes by will. If the daughter marries a second time "this will shall become null and void."

Notwithstanding the bequest to the daughter of all the estate, the testatrix later in the will leaves $1000 to the Haverhill, N. H. Congregational church and $100 to the chapel of that church, $500 each to nephews and nieces, except to "Jess Corliss, who is not to have any on account of the way he used my father."

In the usual course the instrument will be offered for probate, disallowal because of the lack of sufficient signatures of witnesses and administration will be taken out. The property will be treated as intestate and be distributed according to law to the heirs.

INTO COBURN'S WINDOW

TOURING CAR SMASHED LARGE PLATE GLASS WINDOW IN MARKET STREET

Late yesterday afternoon, the rear end of a powerful touring car crashed with terrific force through one of the large plate glass display windows in the store of C. B. Coburn Co., in Market street. It seems that the machine had just been replenished with gasoline and lubricating oil, and the operator cranked his car with the reverse gear on. In the window at that time was a card bearing this invitation: "Come inside and see the Monolac demonstration," and after the crash the demonstrator remarked that it was his intention that the demonstration should be given for public inspection only. The window had been tastily trimmed with cans of Monolac arranged in pyramid fashion, but the might of the contact upset the cans, leaving a beautiful rainbow effect upon the floor of the window. A section of the sash was also reduced to splinters. It was not long before Coburn's corps of expert glaziers were on the scene clearing away the broken fragments of glass and preparing the sash for a new light of plate, 81⅛x96 inches. "That's the best part of it," said a looker-on, "they have the glass and the hands to set it." Just a year ago yesterday, a large team horse walked into Coburn's store, but no damage was done then, except to the feelings of the youthful rider, who was perched on its back.

The door was open and the horse, it appears, mistook Coburn's for Cahill's blacksmith shop.

LEGAL NOTICES

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Frank L. Woldman to the City Institution for Savings, dated February 13, 1912, and recorded with Middlesex North District Deeds, Book 482, Page 1, for breach of the condition of said mortgage deed and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Tuesday, the seventh day of April, 1914, at four p. m., all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described as follows:

"A certain lot of land situated on the southerly side of Pawtucket street and the westerly side of Wannalancit street in said Lowell, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning on the westerly side of Wannalancit street at the corner of Pawtucket street, aforesaid; thence running southerly on said Wannalancit street one hundred feet; thence turning and running westerly on a line parallel with the southerly side of said Pawtucket street one hundred and one feet, more or less, to land supposed to belong to the Proprietors of the Locks and Canals on Merrimack River; thence Northerly on said last named land one hundred feet to said Pawtucket street; thence easterly on said Pawtucket street one hundred and one feet to said Wannalancit street at the point of beginning. Together with the right of way over a strip of land twelve feet wide adjoining the parcel above described on the southerly side thereof to be used for all purposes for which passageways are commonly used.

Being a portion of the premises to me conveyed by Joseph Green by deed dated November 8, 1911 and recorded with Middlesex North District Deeds in Book 476, Page 277."

Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, assessments and tax sales, if any there are.

Terms: $500 cash to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of sale; other terms at sale.

City Institution for Savings, mortgagee and present owner of said mortgage.

By FRANK W. HURD, Treasurer.
Lowell, Mass., March 11, 1914.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Middlesex, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Hugh Rogers, late of Lowell, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for Probate, by Henry Rogers, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the eighth day of April, A. D. 1914, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twenty-fourth day of March, in the year one thousand nine hundred and fourteen.

HEBREW DANCING PARTY

At Lincoln Hall for Benefit of the New Synagogue on Railroad Street

A very successful dancing party was conducted at Lincoln hall last evening for the benefit of the Montefiore synagogue, the affair having been organized by three popular young people of the Hebrew colony, Misses Celia Levin and Marion Smith and Mr. Max Shapiro, the trio being known as the Rondings.

The Montefiore synagogue is located at the corner of Railroad and Howard streets. Its construction was started some years ago, but the edifice was never completed because of a lack of sufficient funds. The three young people above mentioned took it upon themselves to raise sufficient funds to complete the structure and accordingly they organized a party.

The social took place at Lincoln hall and was very largely attended and the receipts proved very substantial. The hall was decorated for the occasion and the happy gathering spent a most enjoyable evening. The program consisted of 22 numbers and several encores were called for. The music was furnished by Miner's orchestra.

The officers of the evening were Miss Celia Levin, general manager; Miss Marion Smith, assistant general manager; Mr. Max Shapiro, floor director; aids, everybody. The arrangements committee was as follows: Mr. Shapiro, chairman; Miss Smith, secretary and Miss Levin, treasurer.

The organizers were warmly congratulated for the success of the evening and they well deserved the compliments they received, for it meant considerable work for a trio of young people to arrange such a successful reunion. It was stated last night that work on the synagogue will be resumed shortly and pushed along until the edifice is entirely finished. During intermission last night refreshments were served and a handsome souvenir was given each attendant.

CHILDREN HATE OIL, CALOMEL AND PILLS

"California Syrup of Figs" Best For Tender Stomach, Liver Bowels.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

ATTEMPT TO DEFRAUD

TRIAL OF MANCOVITZ ON CHARGE OF TRYING TO DEFRAUD WATCHMAKER CREDITORS

BOSTON, March 26.—John B. Murphy, chairman of the finance commission, testified in United States district court yesterday that David Mancovitz told him on or about Sept. 18 last of the $17,000 which Mancovitz said he had found in Jacob Watchmaker's house in Revere, but that witness did not discuss the matter of discovery of the money with any one except in a telephone talk with Charles B. Jopp, the receiver, on the morning of Sept. 28, and nothing was paid over until the receiver asked him about the money found.

Ex-Representative Mancovitz is on trial on a charge of receiving money from the bankrupt Watchmaker with intent to defraud the latter's creditors.

The case is the outcome of an involuntary petition in bankruptcy filed against Watchmaker Aug. 7, 1913, by seven creditors, whose claims amounted to $2452. Watchmaker's schedule, filed later, showed liabilities of $117,000. He was arrested Aug. 8. Attempts were made for settlement with the creditors and investigation by the grand jury followed. Mr. Murphy was engaged in August by Mancovitz as senior counsel for Watchmaker.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

If any one has any doubts about the effectiveness and dramatic power that lies in moving pictures, let him hurry to the Opera House today and witness that movie "punch." "The Last Days of Pompeii." A fiver film production could be hardly asked than this big stroke in motion picture drama that the Pasquali company showed here for the first time last month and are playing here for a return date today and Saturday. They bill it as "the supreme masterpiece of photo-drama" and one does not feel at all justified in contradicting this statement. The staging of "The Eruption of Mount Vesuvius" for this photo-drama and, even more so, that of the great series of spectacles given in the Roman amphitheatre, is a triumph of realism. Exciting chariot races across the screen with so much "go" that they make those of the circus seem like child's play in comparison. Certainly no scene the equal of that showing the lions let loose on the Christians in the arena has ever been shown on any stage. It is a marvel in photography, let alone motion pictures. But to go on and enumerate the "big" scenes in this tremendous photo drama would require too much space. The production is one of those things that must be seen to be appreciated, and to see this striking film production is to appreciate the important part the photo-drama must play in the future, and to be alive to its tremendous appeal at the present time.

"FINE FEATHERS"

Naming the great cast which appears in "Fine Feathers" is like calling the role of the drama's elect. For in this play appear such prominent stars as Robert Edeson, Wilton Lackaye, Max Figman, Rose Cornhan, Florence Rockwell, Lydia Dickson and the others who shared in this play's wonderful success during the season's run at the Astor theatre, New York, and the Cort theatre, Chicago. This is the identical company that will present "Fine Feathers" at the Opera House tomorrow night. Aside from its distinguished cast, "Fine Feathers" is the biggest drama of the day. It received the highest praise from the reviewers of New York and Chicago, and its engagement in the six New England cities after its stay at the Colonial theatre, Boston, will undoubtedly prove the biggest dramatic event in years. It is a play of modern American life, dealing with familiar phases of present-day existence, from the pen of Eugene Walter.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Pat Rooney II., son of the original Pat Rooney, and the best dancer on the vaudeville stage today, with Marion Bent, who is also rated as a dance specialist, give their engrossing act at the B. F. Keith theatre this week, and they are proving solid favorites. For full twenty minutes they purvey comedy and all kinds of dancing, and the act never lags. It is very well done, every bit of it, and the famous pair will be accorded a warm welcome. Charles and Fannie Van, in "From Stage Carpenter to Actor" have an amusing vehicle in which they impersonate a song and dance team who fail to measure up to requirements. They are finally released from further duty, and tell their audience that they will finish the act out in front of the drug store. Kathryn Purnell & Co., have a well woven comedy, and Black Brothers are banjoists and dancers of ability. Other acts on the bill are: Bello Quet, trumpetist; Aubrey & Wilson, burlesque wrestlers; Pelot & Schofield, juggling and comedy, and the Pathe Weekly pictures. Good seats remain for the rest of the week. Phone 28.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Today at the Merrimack Square theatre there will be an entire change of bill from that given the first of the week with the exception of Walter S. Weeks & Co. who will be held over. On the bill will be Gertrude Van Dyke & Brother, in what is said to be one of vaudeville's classiest mimologues; Joe Parsons, the famous whistler, and Jerome & Lewis, an excellent colored singing and talking team. The photoplays will be changed also and those will as usual be up to the minute. As usual there will be the two-reel dramatic feature which is always run, while the comedy will also be taken care of in the form of a screamingly funny 1000 foot subject. There will also be an educational film. Seats for all remaining performances now on sale at the box office. Box office phone 2053. Subscription list open.

THE OWL THEATRE

"The Blacksmith's Crime" is the special three-act drama offered at the Owl theatre. Miss Florence Turner in "The Younger Sister," a two-act Pathe production called "A Spoiled Life" and five other picked films complete the program. "The Perils of Pauline," the production which is creating a nation-wide interest will soon be one of the features at this house. The management spares no expense to get the best and most expensive features for the approval of its patrons. Always a good show at the Owl, there's a reason.

THE KASINO

Soon, very soon, the balmy breezes will blow through Kasino hall, contributing comfort and health to those within. The Kasino, you know, has portable partitions, so that the temperature is always under absolute control. This can be said of no other hall in Massachusetts. You and your friends are invited to hear Miner's band this afternoon and evening, also Friday and Saturday. Roller skating continues popular at the Kasino.

BAY STATE POSTMASTERS

SEVERAL MASSACHUSETTS MEN NAMED—JOHN H. McDONALD NAMED FOR OFFICE IN ANDOVER

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Several Massachusetts postmasters were nominated yesterday by President Wilson, but cases of great controversy, with the exception of Andover, where John H. McDonald, chairman of the democratic town committee, was named, were not included.

The Andover case has been seething for some time and ex-Speaker of the Legislature John N. Cole, although a republican, has been fighting McDonald hard. He is understood to have written the senators asking that the nomination be not confirmed, but as he alleged nothing against McDonald's efficiency, Mr. Cole's wishes apparently did not prevail.

McDonald had the endorsement of National Committeeman John W. Coughlin, Humphrey O'Sullivan of Lowell, Gov. Walsh and three or four democratic congressmen.

Other nominations made by the president yesterday were: M. E. Comiskey, Plymouth, F. B. Estabrook, East Northfield; Otis C. Thayer, Lancaster; John M. Johnson, Lenox; Frank E. Gray, Reading; Luther W. Clark, South Deerfield, and John Dobson, Townsend.

Maine postmasters nominated yesterday were Vivian E. Howe, Presque Isle, and James B. Clark, Wiscasset.

CONG. ROGERS ASKS FURTHER INQUIRY IF HUDSON MAN IS DETAINED IN KORCHA, ALBANIA

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Cong. Rogers of Lowell yesterday was informed by the state department that James Miller of Hudson, Mass., reported to be under unlawful detention at Korcha, Albania, "was safe in that city." This information was received from the American consul at Salonica, Greece, Mr. Rogers is anxious to ascertain whether Mr. Miller is under detention, and has urged the department to endeavor to obtain full details.

BOY DYING OF BURNS

WAKEFIELD LAD'S CLOTHING SET AFIRE WHILE PLAYING ABOUT KITCHEN STOVE

BOSTON, March 26.—Harold Whittle, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Whittle of 752 Main street, Wakefield, Greenwood section, was seriously and perhaps fatally burned yesterday afternoon while playing about the kitchen stove with a stick during the temporary absence of his parents from the room. He was taken to the Massachusetts General hospital, where it is said that he will not live.

The little boy was left in the kitchen late in the afternoon while his parents were upstairs. He took a piece of kindling wood from behind the stove and poked the stove fire with its end. The stick caught fire and quickly communicated the blaze to the clothing of the boy.

His screams brought the father and mother to his side. With their bare hands they sought to subdue the flames and were severely burned about the hands and arms.

The clothes of the baby were literally burned from his body. Dr. Richard Dutton was summoned and ordered the child's removal to the hospital. The child had inhaled some of the flames and was badly burned about the body and legs.

BIG TENNIS TOURNAMENT

FOURTEEN OF THE LEADING PLAYERS IN BOSTON TO COMPETE FOR TROPHY

BOSTON, March 26.—Fourteen of the leading lawn tennis players of the east came here today to participate in the first annual invitation tournament in the new covered courts of the Longwood Cricket club at Chestnut hill. A trophy has been provided which will become the permanent property of the player winning the event three times not necessarily in successive years.

G. F. Touchard, national indoor champion, was pitted against R. C. Seaver in the first round. Among the other contestants were W. A. Larned, former national lawn tennis champion, R. N. Williams, the internationalist; T. R. Pell, N. W. Niles and G. P. Gardner.

Mrs. E. W. Thomas is home after spending several weeks in the south.

BAR JAIL MADE GOODS

AFTER A VIGOROUS PARTISAN CONTEST, THE HOUSE PASSED EXCLUSION MEASURE

WASHINGTON, March 26.—After a vigorous partisan contest, the house yesterday passed a bill to bar foreign convict-made or pauper-made goods from competition with the products of American free labor.

The measure, which now goes to the senate, follows a bill recently passed by the house forbidding the shipment of convict-made goods in interstate commerce into states which prohibit the sale of such products in the open market.

Senator Crawford Admits Defeat—Majority Faction Wins in Renomination of Gov. Byrne

PIERRE, S. D., March 26.—Belated returns last night from the primary election indicated that Congressman Burke was nominated for United States senator by a majority of more than 10,000 votes over his opponent, Senator Crawford. Later yesterday Crawford conceded the nomination of Burke by 2000.

R. J. Woods last night conceded the renomination of Congressman Dillon in the 1st district.

Minority republicans conceded the renomination of Gov. Byrne, the majority leader, but claim that several candidates on their ticket have been nominated.

First and second year fencing.

The young ladies went through all the exercises with remarkable agility and precision showing the result of careful training.

CROWNED WITH SUCCESS

We take this occasion to thank our many patrons for the splendid success that crowned the initial opening of the Gilday Gown Shop.

Just one month old today and still growing. Day after day we receive enthusiastic compliments over the attractiveness of our exclusive showing. "We can't begin to find such becoming models anywhere else, and your values are simply wonderful," is the general comment of many who have visited here. The daily sales have exceeded my fondest expectations. Gertrude A. Gilday.

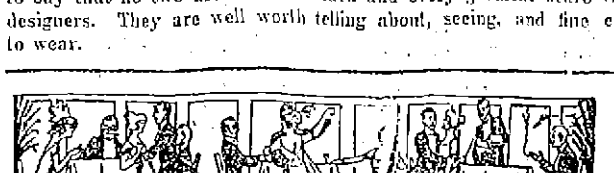

JUST TO PROVE

That this shop is always on the alert to anticipate the demands of its patrons and to demonstrate our ability to show the most exclusive styles of the hour at modest prices, We Will Offer Today

A LIMITED NUMBER OF IMPORTED MODELS, SILK SUITS AND WRAPS, RECENTLY ON EXHIBITION IN BOSTON

All were purchased personally this week by Madame Gilday, who will arrange everything for their display and sale with the perfect taste for which she is so well known.

Garments as lovely as these with such wealth of fine workmanship, hand made to the very last stitch, you can imagine how difficult it would be to describe them here with due justice. Sufficient to say that no two are alike and each and every garment bears the label of many well known Paris designers. They are well worth telling about, seeing, and fine enough for the most discriminating to wear.

Will Hold a Special Sale of

Dancing Frocks of Silk from $15 Upwards. Smart Styles.

Afternoon and Evening Dresses $20 Upwards Exclusive Models.

Our previous dress sales have made for us many good friends and we hope to form many new acquaintances during this week's sale, to their advantage and our own. We believe this shop can render the real service for which those discriminating women have long been seeking here in Lowell.

TWO GENERALS QUIT THE BRITISH ARMY

Their Resignation Considered by Premier and the King—Action of Premier on Army Crisis Generally Approved by the People

LONDON, March 26.—Premier Asquith was brought face to face today with a new crisis by the resignation of Field Marshal Sir John French, chief of the imperial general staff and virtual head of the British army. Other leading officers of the army were also expected to hand in their papers as a direct outcome of the repudiation of the guarantees given to army officers in Ireland by Sir John French, Adjutant General Ewart and Colonel Seely, secretary for war. The premier had yesterday declared that these guarantees were not sanctioned by the cabinet. Colonel Seely subsequently resigned from the cabinet but the premier refused to accept his action.

The result of the meeting at the war office of the principal commanding generals of the British army was awaited with anxiety by the general public and in political circles today as it was thought they might take some step which would virtually disrupt the army administration.

In the north of Ireland itself where the controversy between nationalists and unionists had been the cause of so much difficulty to the British government there was no disturbances. The two parties were seemingly content to await events in London.

A news agency issued an announcement that not only Field Marshal French but Adjutant Sir John Spencer Ewart had tendered his resignation, and added that the government had refused to accept either of them.

The war office declined to give any information on the subject, and it was declared that no official statement would be available before Premier Asquith himself made the announcement in the house of commons tonight.

It was reported today that a number of senior officers of the cavalry brigade at the Curagh camp in Ireland had resigned, and it was stated as a fact that the majority of the regimental officers of the mounted units there were determined to maintain their refusal to serve against the Orangemen.

Strong pressure was evidently brought to bear on Sir John French to retain his post at the head of the army. He was summoned to an interview with Premier Asquith after the prime minister had seen King George and subsequently the field marshal proceeded to Buckingham palace to confer with the king.

MORE RESIGNATIONS OF BRITISH ARMY OFFICERS TODAY

LONDON, March 26.—Field Marshal Sir John French, chief of the imperial general staff of the British army, resigned his commission today.

Premier Asquith, according to a statement by Chancellor George, was to make an announcement on the ad-

Sewer Loan of $75,000 Discussed — Special Election Order Read

DR. PIERRE BRUNELLE
Member Board of Health

Martin F. Conley was elected superintendent of charities to succeed Michael J. Dowd, and Dr. Pierre N. Brunelle was re-elected to the board of health, at the meeting of the municipal council this forenoon.

An order appropriating $50,000 for street lighting and a loan order of $75,000 for sewers was put over until the next meeting.

An order calling for a special election in connection with the purchase of the Pillsbury estate as a site for an isolation hospital was read by the mayor. Alderman Brown moved its adoption but the motion was not seconded.

The council took one ballot for registrar of voters, but there was no choice, and at 1.50 adjournment was taken to Saturday at 11 a. m.

Mayor Murphy called to order at 12 o'clock and in view of the fact that elections were expected, every seat on the floor and in the gallery was taken.

Petitions for pole locations, wire attachments, etc., were properly referred.

There was a hearing on a petition for pole locations in Ellsworth street and there was considerable opposition to it, both by voice and letter. Thomas M. Keegan and James C. Cormick spoke in opposition and said that everybody in the street was opposed to any more poles in that street, and on motion of Ald. Donnelly the petitioner, the N. E. T. & T. Co., was given leave to withdraw.

Notice of claims because of injuries to person and property were referred to the commissioner of public safety and the city solicitor.

SENATOR JOHNSON PRAISES WILSON

Calls Income Tax "Most Equitable Ever Laid Upon a People" and Currency Act "A Most Beneficent Law"

PORTLAND, March 26—C. E. Johnson, U. S. senator from Maine, praised Pres. Wilson and defended the administration's Mexican policy in addressing the democratic state convention today. With reference to Mexico, Senator Johnson said:

"We have waited patiently, because we are big enough to exercise toleration for Mexico to settle its turbulent affairs, hoping that a deliverer may appear among its people as one has appeared in the history of all nations. Realizing the impossibility of recognizing any government, particularly one which bears the name of a republic, which owes its existence to assassination and cruelty we have also fully realized that armed intervention means war with all its attendant suffering and misery."

He said that the refusal to recognize the Huerta government was justified by the belief that out of the present disturbed condition will arise "a better Mexico, guided by the spirit of constitutional liberty which we have encouraged and aided by our spirit of toleration and forbearance."

Senator Johnson declared that the new tariff law had not had an injurious effect upon any legitimate business and that its benefits were not sectional. He characterized the income tax as "the most equitable tax ever laid upon a people" and the banking and currency act as "a most beneficent law."

BATTLE AT GOMEZ PALACIO

INSPECTOR OF MEXICAN CONSULATE SAYS THE REBELS HAVE BEEN REPULSED

EL PASO, Tex., March 26.—That the rebels have been repulsed every time they have taken the offensive at Gomez Palacio was the assertion made today by Miguel Diebold, inspector of Mexican consulates.

Senor Diebold exhibited messages from Mexico City as his authority for the statement. One message declared the rebels had not approached Torreon proper, but had had their hands full at Gomez Palacio three miles distant. He asserted that the federals were about to take the offensive and that for this purpose a flanking movement was being started.

SACO-LOWELL CO.

Will Lay Off 250 Men at Biddeford, Maine, Plant

BIDDEFORD, Me., March 26—Announcement was made today at the offices of the Saco-Lowell Machine Co. of this city that at the close of business at the end of this week there would be a reduction of 25 per cent. in the working force of the company. In all between 200 and 250 men will be allowed to go. Poor business conditions are given as the cause. The company which operates large shops in this city, Lowell and at Newton Upper Falls, Mass., manufactures mill machinery.

FREIGHT RATES

The Paper and Lumber Shippers Opposed to Proposed Increase

BOSTON, March 26.—Paper, woodpulp and lumber shippers were heard today by Examiner George N. Bown of the Interstate commerce committee in opposition to the proposed increase in freight rates on the Boston & Maine and Maine Central railroads. Before the hearing was over the wood pulp manufacturers withdrew because of a statement by representatives of the roads that an effort was being made to reach an agreement on that class of merchandise.

The shippers were represented by Charles S. Wentworth of Boston for the lumber dealers, and C. H. Tiffany, traffic manager for the New England Paper and Pulp association.

Vice President G. S. Hobbs and W. K. Sanderson, general freight agent, appeared for the Maine Central and Charles H. Blatchford for the Boston & Maine.

TOUR OF INSPECTION

Francis Connor of the public property department, and State Inspector Carey have completed their investigation of hotels and will begin at once their investigation of tenement and lodging houses. The law requires an annual investigation of hotels for the purpose of ascertaining if the laws relative to hotel equipment are being lived up to, and the work of visiting the hotels is "dead easy" compared with the inspection of tenement and lodging houses. Mr. Connor stated today that it would take him and the state inspector all summer to complete the job and Mr. Connor will then submit a report to the commissioner of public property and licenses.

MAN HELD FOR MURDER

Wm. Sweeney Will be Sent to Worcester for Observation—Thinks Wife is Still Alive

William B. Sweeney, the man charged with the murder of his wife in their Dracut home a week ago tonight, was examined by Medical Examiner Meigs and the jail physician, Dr. Ralph Parker, this afternoon at the local police court and, as a result of this investigation, a petition was filed to allow the prisoner to enter the observation ward of the state hospital for the insane at Worcester. This action had the sanction of District Attorney Corcoran who was present at this afternoon's proceedings.

Sweeney will be taken to the Worcester insane asylum early tomorrow morning. In order to allow the prisoner to be committed at the Worcester hospital it was necessary for Judge Enright to give him another hearing today as the order of the court now reads that Sweeney shall appear for examination a week from Saturday.

Officer Corey and Deputy Sheriff Courtney took their prisoner into the court room and, with Judge Enright on the bench, the case was ordered continued until June 24. The usual length of commitment in such cases as Sweeney's is 30 days, and the continuance ordered today will bring him up for further examination a few days after he is released from Worcester.

The man now awaiting the result of his case of murder in the first degree appeared much more cheerful today than on any previous occasion since the awful tragedy in which his wife was killed and Michael Crummey received a severe razor slashing.

Sweeney has been told that his wife is dead, has pleaded to the charge of killing her and has heard the warrant read which sets forth both the fact that his wife is dead and that he is the one accused of committing the murder, but he fails to comprehend the terrible meaning of it all.

He has asked several times within the past few days why his wife hasn't been up to the jail to see him. "I wouldn't use her in this way," he said on one occasion. He talked to District Attorney Corcoran for some time this afternoon and gave him a brief summary of his life.

Sweeney asserted that he had never been a drinking man because the habit was too expensive. "I wouldn't think of spending more than 30 cents a week," he said to the county's prosecutor, "for I have worked too hard to get money to let go of it." When asked what had become of his money, he said that his wife was saving it for him.

In the opinion of those who were present during the examination today, Sweeney is not in his right mind. The manner in which he seems to completely ignore the horrible charge which is hanging over his head is almost enough proof of the man's insanity.

If the result of the observation in the psychopathic department at the Worcester hospital proves that Sweeney is insane, the man will probably be committed to a hospital for the criminally insane.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE WORK

BOSTON, March 26.—The committee on publication of the Christian Science church today issued the following statement regarding the retirement from the committee of Alfred Farlow and the report that he had been seriously ill.

"Alfred Farlow, after 26 years of active service in connection with Christian Science organizations, half of which time he was manager of the committee on publication, has retired from that position of his own accord and for the future will be active in other lines of Christian Science work.

"He is now in good health and has not been in the serious condition of ill health reported."

STRUCK BY AUTO

Street Sweeper Had a Narrow Escape From Serious Injury

August Johnson of 25 Maple street was knocked down by an automobile and slightly injured at the corner of Merrimack and Central streets, shortly after 2.30 o'clock this afternoon. The ambulance was called and he was removed to St. John's hospital, but was immediately released as he was not seriously hurt.

The machine was owned by Israel Greenberg and driven by his son, Max. As the latter attempted to turn from Merrimack into Central street, Mr. Johnson started to cross the street, going toward Merrimack square and stepped almost directly in front of the machine. The driver stopped and the crowd that gathered blocked the traffic for several minutes. However, Officer Jack Leighton arrived on the spot shortly and the crowd was quickly ordered back and the ambulance sent for.

The man hit by the machine is employed as street sweeper by the street department.

GIN KILLED TWINS

Four-Year-Old Youngsters Were Playing "Doctor"

FRANKLIN, March 26—Playing "doctor" while their mother was ill, the four year old twins of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McCahill died from drinking the contents of a bottle of gin. One, Joseph, died yesterday. The death of the other, Margaret, occurred today.

Mrs. McCahill was confined to her bed with a baby born three weeks ago and the children obtained the bottle in the absence of an attendant. McCahill is a railroad section foreman.

HOPE FOR SIEGEL FUNDS

DIST. ATTY. PELLETIER MAY CONTRIVE TO REGAIN SOME OF $3000 DEPOSITED DEC. 20 AND 30

BOSTON, March 26.—Dist. Atty. Pelletier has sent letters to those who deposited money in the Siegel bank here Dec. 29 and 30, the last two days the bank did business, that he would protect them as far as he could, and that they may get back their money. The amount is about $3000.

The district attorney will make an effort to get back some of the $100,000 bond filed in New York, but entertains doubt as to the success of such a move, as that bond may be held to have been for the benefit of New York depositors only.

LOVE LETTERS WERE READ

AT TRIAL OF JOHN B. KOETTER, ACCUSED OF MURDER OF MRS. KRAFT

CHICAGO, March 26.—The state continued to introduce evidence yesterday in its case against John B. Koetters, accused of the murder of Mrs. Emma Kraft of Cincinnati, a 56 year old widow. Witnesses testified that Koetters stated in Cincinnati in October, 1912, that he did not have enough money to come to Chicago for a course in telegraphy and that in January, 1913, he was in Boston renting a safety deposit box.

Love letters alleged to have been written by Koetters to Mrs. Kraft were read to the jury today.

C. J. Schwener, manager of a Boston safety deposit vault said that Koetters rented a box under the name of John Newman. Schwener said that detectives with a search warrant opened the box later and found it empty.

The state charges that Koetters lured Mrs. Kraft, an elderly woman, to Chicago with promises of marriage and struck her down with a hammer and robbed her. Mrs. Kraft had sold real estate in Cincinnati for $3000.

CHARGES AGAINST LICENSE BOARD

HOLYOKE, March 26.—Charges were preferred today against License Commissioners T. J. O'Connor and George J. White, alleging that they were holding their offices illegally, owing to all members of the board being of one political party. Commissioner O'Connor was also charged with holding the office of public administrator, this being claimed to conflict with his place on the license board.

MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE WON

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., March 26.—Middlebury college was victorious in a triangular debate last night, winning from the University of Vermont here and from Norwich university at Northfield. The University of Vermont defeated Norwich in the debate in Burlington.

TROUBLE FOR JOHN D.

REFUSED PERMISSION TO USE STREETS FOR REMOVAL OF HUGE STONE

NEW YORK, March 26.—John D. Rockefeller has encountered further trouble in the removal of the huge stone, said to weigh 250 tons, which he is to take to Tarrytown from Long Island. The village boards refused permission to use the streets unless he furnished a bond.

The board of water supply learned that the rock will have to be taken across the old Croton aqueduct and demanded that Mr. Rockefeller build a steel structure over the highway at that point. Instead of horses, it is said, a giant tractor, possibly two or three, will be used to draw the stone up the hills.

DROP IN ICE PRICES

LARGEST LEOMINSTER DEALER MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT OF SCHEDULE

LEOMINSTER, March 26.—The largest dealer in ice here announced summer prices yesterday. The schedule announced, to go into effect April 1, is as follows: Family trade, 30 cents per 100 pounds, formerly 60; drug stores and restaurants, 20 cents, formerly 40; markets and stores, 15 cents, formerly 35; chipped ice in baskets, 10 cents, formerly 20.

It is expected that the action by this dealer will govern the prices to be fixed by the smaller icemen.

Money deposited on or before Saturday, April 4th, in The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank goes on interest that date.

PROPOSED BY J. F. JACKSON

Amendment to Bill to Prohibit Interlocking Directors Exempting Lighting and Trolley Companies

WASHINGTON, March 26.—James F. Jackson of Boston sent to the house judiciary committee yesterday a proposed amendment to the bill to prohibit interlocking directorates. By this the law would not apply "to any corporation conducting a gas, electric light or street railway business which is wholly or chiefly interstate in character and subject to state control over management or issues of securities." As an alternative amendment, he proposed that the interstate commerce commission may exempt such corporations.

WILSON VISITS SENATOR

PRESIDENT BREAKS PRECEDENT AND CALLS ON CHAIRMAN OF FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, March 26.—President Wilson kept pace yesterday with his precedent-shattering regulation and exemplified the human side of himself, which he described in a talk to newspaper men a few days ago, by motoring to the home of Senator William J. Stone of Missouri, who has been ill for several weeks and having a chat about official business.

Senator Stone, who is the new chairman of the foreign relations committee, had sought a conference with the president. Mr. Wilson suggested that he visit the senator rather than put the latter to the trouble of visiting the White House.

The president, it is understood, told the senator that the Mexican situation had undergone no change.

The toll exemption repeal matter was discussed at length and a point particularly emphasized was that South American nations were just as much opposed to the exemption from tolls to coastwise shipping of the United States passing through the Panama canal as was Canada.

Argentina and Brazil, it developed, hold that their own coastwise shipping should be free from tolls if American coastwise ships are to enjoy that advantage. The South American governments argue that they are in the same position as Canada and that so long as their ships are not engaged in overseas traffic, coastwise ships of the United States would have a discriminatory advantage through canal toll exemption.

WAS TOLD TO SHUT UP

AUGUSTA, Me., March 26.—The pardon petition of Grace E. Royce of this city, now serving 20 years in the state prison for poisoning her baby, was heard by the governor and council yesterday and tabled for the next executive session.

In her petition Mrs. Royce says that the poison was given by mistake by her little daughter Grace, she thinking it was cologne. But the little daughter, who is now eight years of age, was brought before the governor and council and denied emphatically that she gave the baby poison.

"Stephen Norris put the red stuff in the baby's mouth," said the child. "I told him to stop, but he told me to shut up and he slapped me hard in the face."

Mrs. Royce at the time was keeping house for Mr. Norris, her husband, Henry C. Royce, being at work at the time at a private hatchery. The crime was committed July 18, 1911, and soon after that Mr. Royce obtained a divorce, although he stated at the hearing yesterday that he believed Mrs. Royce was convicted unjustly. In answer to a question by the county attorney, he said he obtained a divorce because she had been sent to state prison. He said he had courted his wife two weeks before he was married.

At the trial Mrs. Royce claimed that Norris took a hand in the poisoning, and he was tried as an accessory after the fact and acquitted.

Mrs. Royce was formerly Grace E. Norton, and her first husband was Frank Farris of China, by whom she had eight children, four of whom are now living and were in the council chamber yesterday, the two daughters going on the stand to testify to her kindly nature and tender-heartedness. Mrs. Royce has now served a year and a half of her sentence.

DAMAGES FOR MAN'S LIFE

Providence Administrator Seeks $30,000 for Fatal Accident to Motorist Because of Gully in Road

PROVIDENCE, March 26.—A suit for $30,00 damages for the death of Joseph M. Reddington of Pawtucket, formerly of Massachusetts, was filed in the superior court yesterday by Anthony H. Reddington, administrator, against Waldo I. Getchell of Cambridge, Mass.

Reddington alleges that Getchell, through land of his, on the northerly side of Chalkstone avenue, opened a highway for public use to the direction of Pleasant Valley parkway, known as Banfor street, and no notice was posted to warn the public that it was not accepted by the city as a highway.

The allegation continues that, Sept. 29, 1913, Joseph M. Reddington, driving a motor vehicle by night in the locality mentioned, failed to see a deep gully, until his machine ran into it and capsized, falling upon him and inflicting fatal injuries.

TO BAR PRISON GOODS

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The bill barring foreign convict or pauper-made goods from competition with the products of American free labor went to the senate today from the house where it was passed yesterday following a vigorous partisan contest. In the senate the measure was referred for committee consideration.

PASTORS BESEECH MAYOR

LAWRENCE ASSOCIATION ASKS FOR RIGID ENFORCEMENT OF LIQUOR LAW

LAWRENCE, March 26.—The Lawrence Ministers' association, through a committee composed of Revs. Robert W. Beers, E. S. Tasker, Charles E. McCollor, H. G. Mank, Samuel Russell, T. C. Atchison and George H. Wallace, yesterday appealed to Mayor Scanlon for a more rigid enforcement of the liquor laws in local hotels Sundays.

Their letter to the mayor follows the remarks of Judge Mahoney in police court a few days ago. The ministers want the police to be especially instructed as to the careful enforcement of the Sunday laws. They also make a second appeal for the mayor to cease granting licenses for Sunday performances in theatres.

KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

BODY OF MISS EDITH MAGOUN WILL PROBABLY BE BROUGHT TO MARSHFIELD

TACOMA, March 26.—Miss Edith Magoun, aged 29, an expert stenographer, was struck by an automobile Tuesday evening in front of the Y. M. C. A. building and instantly killed. The driver of the machine took her to the hospital and surrendered. She was identified yesterday afternoon. She was going to the Eastern Star social in Masonic Temple and her umbrella shut off sight of the approaching machine. The driver will be released.

Miss Magoun was for five years a stenographer for a Boston tea company. Two years ago she went to Spokane and came to Tacoma in January for a position with the Consumers' Manufacturing and Supply company. Her parents and brother reside in Marshfield, Mass. She was a member of Rexhame Chapter, Eastern Star, and past grand noble of Rebekah lodge, Marshfield. At Spokane she lived with David Magoun, her brother. Her body will probably be sent home.

RHEUMATISM

Remarkable Home Cure Given by One Who Had It—He Wants Every Sufferer to Benefit

Send No Money—Just Your Address

Years of awful suffering and misery have taught this man, Mark H. Jackson of Syracuse, New York, how terrible an enemy to human happiness rheumatism is, and have given him sympathy with all unfortunates who are within its grasp. He wants every rheumatic victim to know how he was cured. Read what he says:

"I Had Sharp Pains Like Lightning Flashes Shooting Through My Joints"

"In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

"I want every sufferer from any form of Rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today. JAMES H. JACKSON, No. 936 Gurney Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y.

Mr. Jackson is responsible. Above statement true.—Pub.

The Home Beauty Parlor

by Betty Dean

Ida B: I always recommend quinzoin to put vitality and luxuriance into anyone's hair. It will promptly remedy the dandruff and itching scalp; it costs little and you can prepare it at home. From your druggist get one ounce quinzoin and one half pint alcohol. Mix and add one half pint cold water. This makes enough for your scalp twice a week. This is fine to prevent falling of the hair and premature loss of color.

Daisy: Don't worry about being too plump when there is such a simple, easy way to reduce flesh without dieting or any strenuous exercise. Get four ounces of parmotis from your druggist and mix it in one and one-half pints hot water. Take a tablespoonful before meals. This is harmless and inexpensive and I think you will find a beneficial change within a week.

Leonora: There is no virtue in an egg shampoo. The slimy and animal matter clings to the strands and clogs the pores of the scalp. Try this simple shampoo: Get some canthrox from your druggist and dissolve a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. It leaves the scalp stimulated and cleaned, and the hair beautifully soft and fluffy.

Polly: You do not need to send abroad for the new, perfect substitute for face powder. Make it yourself at home, by dissolving four ounces spurmax in one half pint hot water. This is the simplest, purest lotion for making the skin soft and naturally fair. It stays on closely, and gives a youthful freshness. When on it seems part of the skin and cannot be detected as cau-[illegible] style face powder.

Caroline: Yes, if the tissues of your face are inclined to sag, beware, or you will soon have wrinkles. Here is a good massage cream which tones and braces the tissues while also beautifying the complexion. Mix an ounce of almozoin (from your druggist) in one half pint of cold water. Add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Apply freely. At the first application you feel the skin contract and you will soon get back the firm contour of a velvety skin. For a good [illegible] see pastryor to Maurice.

Maurice: The skin of [illegible] which you speak are caused by impure blood and you must eliminate the poisons from the system before you can hope to enjoy complete health. Into one half pint alcohol (which must not be used) pour one ounce sarsone. Then add one-half cupful sugar and hot water to make a full pint. Take one tablespoonful of this old-fashioned blood cleanser and tonic before each meal. This is splendid for that weak, worn feeling and restores the vital organs to a healthy condition, and its timely use will save much serious sickness.

Fanchon: Certainly eyes are harmed by belladonna, but this home-made tonic will clear and make them brilliant while it is strengthening and resting. Anyone can prepare it by dissolving an ounce of crystos (obtainable at any druggist's), in one half pint of clear water. Use eye cup or put a few drops in each eye at least once a day. Its brightening effect is immediate.

MEN OVER 60 TO RACE

PLANS FOR VETERAN OARSMEN TO HAVE AT IT AT SARATOGA—A 74-YEAR-OLD TO PARTICIPATE

NEW YORK, March 26.—James H. Riley, the one-time sculling champion, is planning for a veterans' race on Saratoga lake next August. Riley came into prominence again two years ago by rowing Jim Teneyck, coach of the Syracuse crews a match race at Saratoga. According to the plan announced today by Riley no oarsman under 60 will be allowed to compete in the proposed contest. The distance probably will be a mile.

The men whom he has already invited are:

Patrick Luther, Fred Plaisted, the old Yale stagger; Jim Teneyck, Syracuse coach; George Falkner of Boston; Charles F. Courtney, coach of the Cornell crews; John Kennedy, the retired Yale coach; Mike Davis of Boston; Ellie Ward, the retired coach of the University of Pennsylvania crew; John F. Sholes of Toronto, father of the winner of the Diamond sculls.

Ellis Wardell, the veteran of the lot, having passed the 74th milestone.

DROPS DEAD FROM GRIEF

RAYMOND CAREY EXPIRES SOON AFTER LEARNING OF DEATH OF HIS SON

FITCHBURG, March 26.—Soon after being informed yesterday of the death of his son, Patrick Carey, who was found dead in Gardner Monday, Raymond Carey dropped dead from grief.

Mr. Carey was 69 years old and was one of the first employes of the highway department, to benefit under the pension act. He is survived by a son, John Carey, of Gardner, and a daughter who resides in the West.

AT PEOPLE'S CLUB

Rome was the subject of the lecture, the last in a series under the auspices of the People's club, which was given last night at the quarters of this popular organization in Runels' building, the speaker being Arthur K. Peck. The attendance was very large and the speaker's remarks were listened to with great interest. The lecture was accompanied by interesting views of the different buildings and other places of interest of the Eternal City, which greatly pleased the audience.

Mr. Peck centred his talk about the ruins of the Forum, the Arches of Titus and Constantine, the Pantheon, the Castle of San Angelo, the baths of Caracalla, the imposing arch of Septimus, and in closing, the Vatican, including a large and beautiful picture of the Holy Father surrounded by the cardinals.

SHE TWICE TRIED SUICIDE

ATTRACTIVE YOUNG NURSE WILL BE EXAMINED AS TO HER SANITY AT PSYCOPATHIC HOSPITAL

BOSTON, March 26.—Miss Alice Kellerman, the attractive young nurse who swallowed a dose of antiseptice fluid in her room at 111 Hemenway street last Tuesday night, is under observation at the Psychiatric hospital and may be committed as mentally unsound. The attempt at suicide has failed, according to the hospital doctors.

A medical student is said to have been very attentive to Miss Kellerman and it was thought that a quarrel between the two led to her act. It developed yesterday that the young woman had not eaten anything for more than a week.

She has acted very irrationally and made considerable noise in her suite, where she was living alone. Her student sweetheart is said to be in New York and all efforts to communicate with him have failed. About a week ago the woman attempted suicide and at that time took an overdose, which probably saved her life.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way, when the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, have don't care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio. All druggists.

KINDNESS IS REWARDED

JOE CHOYNSKI, FORMER PUGILIST LEFT $10,000 BY CHINAMAN WHOM HE BEFRIENDED

CHICAGO, March 26.—Joe Choynski, former prize fighter and now director at the Pittsburg Athletic club, yesterday discovered that $10,000 had been left him in the will of Jim Pon, a Chinese, whom the boxer befriended years ago.

Jim Pon died a few days ago and his sons, Ked Ying and Bert Ying, unable to open the safe in their father's restaurant, sent for Choynski. The boxer brought a man, who in a few minutes, opened the steel doors, disclosing Pon's will. It named Choynski as executor and guardian of Jim Pon's sons.

Choynski's kindness to Pon was in sending his boys to school and otherwise helping them at various times.

DOORKEEPER OF CHAMBER

WM. H. PURINGTON WHO KNEW EVERY MEMBER BY NAME, DIED AT HIS HOME IN LYNN

BOSTON, March 26.—William H. Purington for many years doorkeeper of the trade room at the chamber of commerce, died at his home in Lynn yesterday.

Mr. Purington know every member of the chamber, and is said to have been the only man who could call every member by name. He had been connected with the chamber for about 19 years, entering as a floor boy.

Mr. Purington was well known in fraternal and social society circles in Lynn. He was a prominent Odd Fellow and for several years played on the championship bowling team in the Odd Fellows' league.

AGREEMENT IS RATIFIED

NEW HAVEN DIRECTORS PASS ON PACT AGREED ON BY CHAIRMAN ELLIOTT AND ATTY. GENERAL

NEW YORK, March 26.—Directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company, in special meeting yesterday, unanimously approved of the agreement recently reached between Chairman Howard Elliott and Attorney-General McReynolds, which prescribed the terms and conditions under which the New Haven system is to disintegrate.

Chairman Elliott was authorized to call a special meeting of the stockholders in New Haven on April 21, when formal action on the agreement will be taken.

New Haven officials believe that the compact with the government will be ratified by a large majority vote.

Within the next few days a pamphlet report dealing with every phase of New Haven's prolonged negotiations with the department of justice will be mailed to every holder of New Haven securities.

The report will also deal exhaustively with the road's financial condition, and some suggestion may be advanced respecting the $56,000,000 of notes which mature May 15 and for which no provision has yet been made.

Gross earnings of the New Haven for the first three weeks of March are 2 12 per cent. behind the corresponding period last year, a very good showing. In the opinion of Chairman Elliott, who referred to the recent severe weather as a serious draw-back. Earnings of the various trolley subsidiaries are running behind about five per cent.

CURLEY ASKS POWER

URGED LEGISLATURE TO ADMIT BILL PERMITTING HIM TO REDUCE POLICE DEPT. SALARIES

BOSTON, March 26.—Mayor Curley yesterday urged the committee on rules of the legislature to admit his bill permitting him to reduce the police salaries raised by Mayor Fitzgerald, and made an address in which he attacked the increases as creating a situation without regard for the city's financial interest or for the moral obligation resting upon a mayor not to embarrass his successor.

The mayor said that the increases were made at an improper time, procured in an improper way, that they placed an excessive burden upon taxpayers and that they impaired the efficiency of other departments.

The mayor also appeared for his petition for two years within which lamp lighters may be transferred to a different classification without further examination. He explained that the new lighting system made this bill advisable.

More Cuts Coming

Two more city departments are to feel Mayor Curley's "axe" this week, according to a statement which the mayor made last night. These are the park and recreation and health departments.

The mayor said that he had directed Chairman Dillon of the park and recreation commission to make the necessary cuts in his department to enable it to be run for $350,000 less than last year.

The Parkman fund income which will be used for maintenance this year will amount to between $175,000 and $200,000. It will be thus up to Chairman Dillon, the mayor said, to save the difference.

Chairman Dillon will report to the mayor next Saturday how he proposes to save this amount of money. It is believed that there will be another wholesale reduction in salaries in this department, just as there was in the public works department. While some employes may be dropped from the department, the feeling at city hall is that but a few will be officially beheaded.

On Friday Chairman Mahoney of the health department will be required to tell the mayor how $50,000 can be cut from the expenses of his department. This is in addition to the quarantine expenses amounting to about $10,000, which the mayor expects to shift over to the federal government. The school physicians will have their number lopped pretty nearly 50 per cent, it is understood. The dairy inspection service is also apt to be wiped out, it is rumored.

'OPEN HOUSE' AT Y.M.C.A.

REPRESENTATIVES OF THE LOCAL CHURCHES SHOWN THROUGH BUILDING LAST EVENING

Over 100 representatives of the various Protestant churches of this city were shown through the Y. M. C. A. building last evening and after their tour of inspection witnessed the gymnastic exercises which were conducted under the direction of Physical Director A. J. Wigg.

The churchmen began to arrive at the association building shortly after 8 o'clock and they were taken to the different parts of the building by members of the reception committee. After the class exercises two lively basketball games were played and some excellent swimming exhibitions were given.

The evening's program closed with talks by F. A. Allen, president of the association; H. A. Smith and others in front of the fireplace in the main lobby. Refreshments were served.

START TO SWAT THE FLY

CAMPAIGN IS ON IN BOSTON—HEALTH BOARD ON WARPATH—SPRING CLEANING ON

BOSTON, March 26—Boston's board of health has started its spring cleaning. It is again on the warpath for flies and is pursuing its campaign to exterminate flies in the Hub just where it left off last fall.

The health board has directed its inspectors to make a careful inspection of the city for possible breeding places for flies. It has instructed the inspectors to serve notice upon all owners of stables to have the refuse from these stables kept in covered receptacles and removed frequently. The inspectors have been ordered to see to it that the city's alleys, dirty backyards and other disease breeding places are cleaned up before the warmer spring weather comes.

ACCUSED WOMAN DYING

MRS. AMANDA U. LAWSON MAY NEVER EXPLAIN HER HUSBAND'S MYSTERIOUS DEATH

SOUTH WOODSTOCK, Conn., March 26.—Death, descending unexpectedly on the only person who was supposed to know the facts, is likely to leave the strange fate of Jonas P. Lawson, the rich farmer of this place, an eternal mystery.

His widow, Mrs. Amanda U. Lawson, arrested Tuesday on a charge of manslaughter, but really held on the supposition that she can clear up the mystery of the fate her husband met on the night of Aug. 11 last, when his corpse, with the head crushed, was found at the end of a bloody trail from the Lawson cellar to the barn, is said to be dying of heart disease at their home.

It is the theory of State Policeman Robert Hurley and State Attorney Charles E. Searles, that while Mrs Lawson may not have actually killed her husband, she knows what, or who caused his fate.

After Judge Shumway at Putnam had held Mrs. Lawson in $1000 bonds she was carried home, supposedly dying, in charge of Miss Avery, a trained nurse. Last night she was in agony and was likely to die at any minute. It was said by physicians she had small chance of living till she faces a charge of killing her husband at the May term of the superior court.

OVER 2500 MEN

At Mission by Dominican Fathers at Immaculate Conception Church

Once again the appeal of the Catholic mission was made manifest in the large crowd that overtaxed the capacity of the Immaculate Conception church last evening. All the seats were taken and the immense congregation overflowed into the sanctuary.

The introductory instruction was given by Rev. J. H. Healy, who took for his subject the "Our Father" which he called the most beautiful and the most perfect prayer of Christian worship. He took it phrase by phrase, showing their deep meaning and asked his hearers to ponder on these meanings whenever they repeated the prayer. He also said that if the "Our Father" were perfectly understood, no one could remain in sin who recited it fervently, because it would demonstrate to him the inconsistency of his life and aspirations.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Fr. Mackin, who took for his subject the "Holy Sacrifice of the Mass." He first of all drew a word picture of an imaginary spring rising in the mountains and flowing to the sea. "Suppose," he said, "that the people of the world, realizing the wonderful qualities of this spring, built a channel with several small openings along its course. Millions could thus partake of its virtues and yet the spring would pour on to the sea in undiminished grandeur. This is an image of the mass, the most marvelous spring of God's grace, rising on the hill of Calvary and pouring on to the ocean of eternity.

"In all nations and at all times sacrifice was regarded as the most natural expression of worship. In the most primitive tribes of the uncivilized world we see it in more or less perfect forms. In the Old Testament, sacrifice formed the principal exercise of devotion to God. The sacrifices of Abraham, Isaac, Melchisedech, and the other patriarchs were merely types of the perfect sacrifice to come. In those times the earth was red with the blood of victims and the sky was black with smoke, but still there was no offering worthy of God. Millions prayed that some day this victim should appear. And He did—in the person of Jesus Christ, God's own son, perfect sacrament and perfect sacrifice.

"The mass is a perfect sacrifice because it is a sacrifice of prayer, of adoration and of atonement. It embodies all other types of worship. When we stand on a mountain peak aloof and see the other peaks among the clouds and the endless valleys below, we are thrilled with worship, and raising hands and eyes to God we cry out, 'Marvelous are thy works, O God!' When we are in a boat tossed on the deep with little between us and the tumultuous waves, we naturally fall on our knees and pray for protection from heaven. All of these things are natural expressions of feelings deeply inherent in us. In the mass is the culmination of all praise, all prayer. When the priest says the mystic words of consecration and the Redeemer is offered symbolically under the veiled appearance of bread and wine, the angels in heaven look down, and God, the Father, says again: 'Here is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye Him.'"

He then urged upon the congregation the necessity of hearing mass on Sundays, and called upon them to stand, raise their right hands and promise that until death they would be faithful in their attendance at this exercise of devotion. Fervently the pledge was repeated by the 2500 or more present.

ROUND THE WORLD RACE

BEACHEY AND FOWLER, AMERICAN AVIATORS, ARE AMONG THE ENTRANTS

NEW YORK, March 26.—Two American aviators, Lincoln Beachey and "Bob" Fowler," have announced their intention of entering the round-the-world race to start from the Panama-Pacific exposition grounds in San Francisco next year. It was stated last night by Arnold Kruckman, manager of the contest.

Besides the two Americans, the manufacturers of three leading types of aeroplanes in Europe have informed Mr. Kruckman they will enter aviators and machines.

Beachey sailed on the Carmania yesterday for Europe. He has gone abroad in search of two 80 and one 220-horse power motors to use in the biplane with which he met accident recently while aloft in California.

JUNK TRUST ALLEGED

INVESTIGATION OF CHARGES THAT TRUST CONTROLS COUNTRY WEST OF MISSISSIPPI

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 26.—An investigation of allegations that a junk trust controlling the country west of the Mississippi existed will be begun here within a month by the federal grand jury, according to statements made yesterday by government officials. It was stated that the alleged trust sprang into existence in San Francisco immediately after the fire there in 1906 and since that time has spread into every city of importance in the west. Attorney General McReynolds, it was said, would send to Los Angeles a special prosecutor to conduct the investigation.

FOR INDUSTRIAL PEACE

U. S. MINE WORKERS AGREE UPON PLAN IN BITUMINOUS COAL DISTRICT.

CHICAGO, March 26.—The policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America yesterday agreed upon a plan which is expected to maintain industrial peace in the bituminous coal districts of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. It was settled that the men are to remain at work under the present agreement and adjust the new scale in local district conferences with the employers, abandoning, at least for this year, any attempt to do so in a joint conference of the four states. Both miners and operators assert that there is no danger of a strike.

KING MEETS EMPEROR

VENICE, Italy, March 26—King Victor Emmanuel arrived yesterday and had a cordial meeting with Emperor William of Germany. The Marquis Di San Giuliano, the Italian minister of foreign affairs, accompanied the king. The meeting, it is believed, is designed to emphasize the solidity of the Triple Alliance. Emperor William is also to meet Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, prior to proceeding to Corfu.

DASH FOR LIBERTY

Lone Bandit Driven Out of Town After Pistol Duel

ATLANTA, Ga., March 26.—Pursued through the main street of the city after he had been driven empty-handed from the Atlanta State Savings bank, a negro institution, late yesterday a lone robber escaped by forcing the driver of a buggy to gallop with him into the suburbs where he disappeared. The bandit's dash for liberty followed a pistol duel with the conductor of a street car which he attempted to board to escape the pursuing crowd.

Shortly before the bank closed for the day the robber, who was white and unmasked, entered the building and forced the negro bookkeeper, the sole occupant, to accompany him into the vault. When the bookkeeper refused to open the safe, the robber attempted to beat him insensible with a length of gas pipe. The bookkeeper grappled with his assailant and the latter fled.

The police last night arrested a white man who gave his name as Edward R. Rynata and his home as Denver, Colo. The bookkeeper identified him as the man who attempted to rob the bank, according to the police.

LARGE ICEBERGS SCARCE

BUT SMALLER MASSES KNOWN AS "GROWLERS" AND "SLOB ICE," NUMEROUS

HALIFAX, N. S., March 26.—Large icebergs have been scarce in the North Atlantic steamer lanes this spring but the smaller masses known as "growlers" and "slob ice" have been numerous, Capt. Johnston of the United States revenue cutter Seneca reported yesterday when the cutter put in here after weeks of cruising on ice patrol duty.

Capt. Johnston regards the results of his observations this year as important from a scientific standpoint as indicating the drift of the ice. Only two icebergs were seen. It was observed that they moved almost due north, 80 miles in 20 days. The officers of the Seneca say they have established conclusively that the bergs are not entirely melted in the gulf stream but are caught in another current and return to the north after they have decreased about two-thirds in size.

The same has been found to be true of the growler and slob ice Capt. Johnston reported. Growlers were found stretched over all the water lying between the Grand Banks and that branch of the gulf stream which diverges toward Flemish Cap. The biggest growlers, he said, were 15 feet high, with a base of 20 fet.

Observation of the slob ice has determined, according to Capt. Johnston that ice passing down to the eastward of the Grand Banks strikes an eddy at lat. 46.30 and makes a sharp curve to the eastward, thence turning back to the northeast, forming an almost perfect "U." This year there is a string of slob ice 60 miles long that came down on the Labrador current. The apex of the "U" is in lat. 43.35, long. 48.40. When the Seneca left the ice fields, the two ends of the formation were of about equal length, with the eastern section moving north and east and the western section moving south.

The water in which the ice was situated showed a temperature of 32 degrees. Immediately to the eastward, 36 degrees was indicated, and farther east it rose to 57 degrees. Midway between the two warmer currents a sharp drop to 32 degrees was recorded. Capt. Johnston said this same condition obtained all along the edge of the gulf stream. The reason for the extreme drop, he said, was unaccountable.

DENY SHIP WAS BLOWN UP

STEAMER MAUI WAS REPORTED DESTROYED WITH LOSS OF MANY LIVES

HONOLULU, March 25.—Reports of the destruction of the Inter-Island steamer Maui with the loss of many lives was said today to be untrue. A search of several hours failed to discover any wreckage of the steamer, which was said to have blown up off Pearl harbor last night. It is now believed that the vessel will report safely later.

MUST CUT THE BOOZE

JIMMY CLABBY ALSO MUST BE IN EARLY NIGHTS AND KEEP AWAY FROM TEMPTATION

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 26.—Jimmy Clabby, the fighter, will live a model life for the next three years if he fulfills the terms of an agreement into which he entered today. If he fails to live an exemplary life he will be sent to jail for three years.

Clabby and his trainer, Arthur McQueen, were sentenced by Police Judge White for having beaten Charles Laurence, a policeman. Sentence was suspended in consideration of the fact that Clabby agreed to pay Laurence $1000 damages and lead an exemplary life.

According to the probation agreement outlined by Judge White neither man shall drink, engage in controversy or visit any place where he may be exposed to temptation for three years. It also is stipulated that they shall not stay out all night.

POSTMASTER REMOVED

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Postmaster General Burleson last night signed an order removing Postmaster James F. Singer, at New Freedom, Pa., from office. A statement issued by the department said the postmasters at Hanover and Wrightsville, Pa., whose names had been mentioned with that of Singer in connection with charges involving the manner in which certain nominations of postmasters had been secured, had been completely exonerated after an investigation by the department. It also was announced that Representative Broadbeck and his secretary, C. M. Greesey had been proven free of any connection with alleged "selling" of nominations for Pennsylvania postmasterships.

RECEPTION TO PUPILS

LARGE NUMBER OF YOUNG PEOPLE GATHERED AT ASSOCIATE HALL LAST EVENING

Miss Ocklington's annual reception was held last evening in Associate hall and the large attendance filled the hall to its capacity. The program included three fancy numbers, which were very well received, and then general dancing was enjoyed till midnight. The opening march was led by Master Richard Fletcher and Miss Marion Fletcher, followed by Master Charles McCabe and Miss Gladys Fox.

The first of the fancy numbers was an Irish step dance in costume, by Master Robert Friend and Miss Edith Farrington, two of the small members of the class, and the young people were loudly applauded.

The Swedish dance, in which the following took part, was a pleasing number: Master Howard Whipple, Miss Frances Taylor; Master William McCabe, Miss Blanch Crafts; Master Theodore Fletcher, Miss Nettie Crafts; Master John Dowd, Miss Anna Way; Master Russell Pinkham, Miss Louise Paradis; Master Alfred Bedell, Miss Louise Thompson; Master Max Fradden, Miss Mildred Leathers; Master Allan Adams, Miss Esther Stocks; Master Everett Whipple, Miss Marion Dowd; Master Carleton Gardner, Miss Doris Whittaker.

"The Four Seasons" was an exquisite dance given by Miss Mildred Bean as Spring; Miss Isabel Whitman as Summer; Miss Priscilla Paradis as Autumn, and Miss Cecilia Crowe as Winter. In costumes suggestive of the seasons they represented, they danced with surprising agility and grace.

After the first half of the program, which was designed with special reference to the younger members of the class, there was an intermission for refreshments, followed by general dancing. Mr. Karl Merritt Perham was manager, and the aids were Messrs. James Andrew Irvine, Homer Chase Rikes, Frederic Whitney Jordan, Donald Edwin Fletcher, Guy Franklin McLeod, Arthur Greenhalge Ecclestone, Wilfred Thomas Bouiger, Donald Harriman Pratt.

The hall was tastefully decorated by Whittet & Co., and the catering was by the D. L. Page Co.

N. Y. YACHT CLUB

NEW YORK, March 26.—Official announcement of the selection of the name Resolute as the title of the New York Yacht club flag officers' syndicate America's cup defence candidate was made last night by G. A. Cormack, secretary of the syndicate. The yacht now building at the Herreshoff yards, Bristol, R. I., for the syndicate, consisting of Henry Walters, Arthur Curtiss James, J. P. Morgan, George F. Baker, Jr., Cornelius Vanderbilt and F. G. Bourne, is the second of the three defending candidates to be named. The Tri-City yacht has already been named Defiance, leaving the Cochran boat the only one of the trio as yet undesignated. Neither A. S. Cochran, the owner; William Gardner, the designer, or F. D. Lawley has intimated that a title has been selected.

TRIAL OF I. W. W. LEADER

PROSECUTION RESTED ITS CASE AGAINST FRANK TANNENBAUM YESTERDAY

NEW YORK, March 26.—The prosecution rested its case late yesterday in the trial of Frank Tannenbaum, who, under the banner of the Industrial Workers of the World, led an army of the unemployed into several New York churches early this month. Policemen who arrested Tannenbaum and members of his army after they refused to leave St. Alphonsus' church testified that some of the men stood upon the church seats, cursed and refused to take off their hats.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN DEAD

P. P. HURLBURT SAID TO HAVE SENT LAST SIGNED MESSAGE OF WAR

ATLANTA, Ga., March 26.—Pierre P. Hurlburt, aged 67 years, a Union veteran of the Civil war, said to have sent the last signal message of the war, died here yesterday. He was a member of the 14th Connecticut regiment and served in the signal corps in the army of the Potomac. His body will be sent to Orange, N. J., for burial.

BURIED THE HATCHET

Wm. R. Pattangall and Ex-Mayor Hanson Spoke at Convention of Maine Democrats

PORTLAND, Me., March 26.—Clasping hands in the presence of 1100 delegates, Chairman William R. Pattangall of Waterville and ex-Mayor Edgar F. Hanson of Belfast settled their difficulties in the third congressional district at the democratic state convention today amid great applause.

Mr. Hanson, whose right to a seat in the convention was protested because he opposed Mr. Pattangall at the special election last September at which John A. Peters, the republican candidate for congress, was successful, announced that he would support the party in the future and would not oppose Mr. Pattangall's candidacy for any office. The debate on the question of seating Mr. Hanson took up two hours of the convention's time.

Mr. Pattangall later at the request of the third district delegation including Mr. Hanson announced that he would be a candidate in the June primaries for the democratic congressional nomination.

This controversy having been disposed of, the convention resumed its order of businesses.

OPENING WAS DELAYED

PORTLAND, Me., March 26.—The formulation of a platform upon which the candidate for governor to be nominated at the primaries in June will stand was the principal task of the democratic state convention today. State, district and county committees also were to be selected.

William R. Pattangall of Waterville, former attorney general of the state, was chosen to preside. United States Senator Charles F. Johnson of Waterville was present to deliver an address on national issues.

The opening of the convention was set for 10.30 a. m.

The credentials committee reported that the seating of the Belfast delegation had been protested. The committee voted to seat the delegates, except former Mayor Edgar F. Hanson of Belfast, who should be excluded from the convention because he had left the party organization according to the committee.

Mr. Hanson, who has served nine terms as mayor of his city as a democrat, was given unanimous consent to present his side of the controversy to the delegates. He stated that for 40 years he had voted the democratic ticket, with one exception, and is now a democrat. Last fall he came out openly in favor of John A. Peters at the special election in which Mr. Peters was elected congressman over Mr. Pattangall, the chairman of today's convention.

The vote on acceptance of the report was doubted and the county delegations were polled.

SERIOUS ASSAULT CASE

In Which Sons Beat Father—Aged Veteran Lost Money and Accused Relatives

Battered and beaten about the head and body by the fists and feet of his two sons, Mike and Costos, as well as with a flatiron in the hands of the latter, because he simply asked them to pay over their board bill is the story told to Judge Enright by Elias Michaelides in police court this morning. The two sons were charged with assault and battery upon their white haired parent.

The defendants appeared in anything but a repentant mood and Costos readily acknowledged that he took a few swings at his father. Mike, however, insisted that he was not in the wrong.

The old man, mounted the witness stand with his head done up in a bandage. He told about the assault of which he was the victim last Sunday in his home on Suffolk street. The aged man has been unable to work for some time on account of infirmities and he asked his two sons to contribute a few dollars each week for their board.

It seems that the two defendants, however, had other ways devised for spending their earnings and when the father mentioned their board bill both dutiful sons proceeded to beat him up. That they performed a thorough operation was evidenced today by the manner in which the old man walked and talked. In spite of the four days which have intervened since the time of the assault he, with difficulty, managed to testify.

For the past five years his sons have been abusing him from time to time, he told Judge Enright. He brought both of them over from the old country and they have repaid him since by making life miserable for him. He did not want them sent to jail, he said, but simply wanted the court to make them understand that they must respect their parents.

Judge Enright told the father that he could not compel his sons to tender him proper respect but that he could see to it that they made no more assaults upon him. A suspended sentence of four months in the house of correction was imposed upon each defendant and the court informed them that he would send them there at the first symptom of a repetition of their recent inhuman act.

Old Man Lost Money

Another old man came to grief in the family of his child and his story was a very pitiful one.

John Gillogly is an inmate of the Soldiers' home and has a daughter living here in Lowell. The old man, bent over with age, and tottering from the effect of the years spent in his country's service, was the most pathetic witness that the local court has produced for a long time.

The old man stated that he came to Lowell to visit his daughter. He did not know that she was married, he said, until he arrived at her home. He had sent her money from time to time, thinking that she was still a single woman.

When he arrived at the home of his daughter he carried in an inside coat pocket five crisp $2v bills which had just been paid him from the pension department. A pin closed the top of the pocket so that there was no possible way of its slipping out, he said. He left the coat upstairs in a bedroom.

His daughter's husband, a man by the name of Cornelius Sullivan, went out and got some whiskey and then treated. Less than twenty minutes after arriving at the house the old man went to look for his money and found instead an empty pocket.

Then the complainant began to make accusations. He charged his daughter and Sullivan with taking the money and grew eloquent in his appeal for its return. Sullivan, in the meantime, slipped out of the house and went in search of a cop.

Sullivan informed the officer that there was an old man drunk in his house and he wanted him arrested. The officer allowed that Sullivan was drunk, and promptly rang for the wagon. Sullivan denied all knowledge of the money when questioned this morning. "He looks like a rogue," concluded the aged complainant as he stepped down from the witness stand.

It was Sullivan's first offence, but Judge Enright sent him to jail for 15 days. "I am convinced," said the court, "that the old man told the truth."

John Michelin presented a fine pair of black eyes, a jaw swelled on either side and a generally battered aspect as he pleaded not guilty to the charge of drunkenness. John allowed to the court that he had been in an argument with Officer Lemay.

The wife of the defendant said that her husband was no good to her and that he wouldn't work or stay sober. His case was continued for a week when he will probably be given leave to withdraw from the vicinity of Lowell.

William A. Kidston went forth under a suspended sentence to the house of correction. William Arnault was not so fortunate and will spend the next four months close to the South common.

A son of Woburn by the name of John H. McCarthy addressed the court from the dock this morning in dulcet tones when his case of drunkenness was called. He admitted that he had been drunk last night when arrested by Officer Crowe.

Officer Crowe, it seems, was the fish. McCarthy came to the officer late last night, saying that he was loaded down with currency and would like to find a good lodging house. The officer then led him to a nearby apartment house where he could buy a room for the night.

Everything was all right except the buying part of the argument. And he could not for he did not have the wherewithal. When the proprietor of the establishment gently reminded the man from Woburn that it was the usual custom to procure money for the rental of the rooms, McCarthy arose in a rage and began to bump the furniture all around the room. He was promptly arrested.

Judge Enright said that he would give McCarthy another chance. He released him upon condition that he would make tracks for Woburn immediately.

FROM NEW YORK TO CHILE

SENATOR WEEKS URGES LINE TO CARRY PASSENGERS, FREIGHT AND MAIL TO SO. AMERICA

WASHINGTON, March 26.—With a view to developing communication between the United States and South America, Senator Weeks, republican, today introduced a resolution requesting the secretary of the navy to prepare a plan for establishing a line of naval cruisers to carry passengers, freight and mail between New York, New Orleans and Valparaiso, Chile and intermediate ports.

"At present South American mails are sent at long and sometimes irregular intervals and all American mails south of the equator are carried in vessels sailing under a foreign flag," said Senator Weeks, explaining his resolution.

"The service is very slow and this, it may be easily assured militates against the development of our trade with South America. If, later on, private capital undertakes a line over this route, I should be inclined to withdraw the government line.

"We are in the position of having spent $400,000,000 in the building of a canal, one of the reasons for doing so being that it would aid in the extension of our foriegn trade, but as far as I know there are no American steamers prepared to undertake this service."

Senator Weeks' proposal interested many southern and Pacific coast senators and there was an animated discussion in which no opposition appeared.

COXEY'S ARMY

Second Brigade of Unemployed to March to Washington

CLEVELAND, March 26.—President Wilson last night was warned of the departure for Washington of a second "Coxey's Army," which, it is said, will start April 16 from Massillon, O., the starting point for the first "Army" 20 years ago yesterday.

Gen. J. S. Coxey of Massillon, the leader, last night mailed the president a letter telling of his plans.

The "army" expects to arrive in Washington May 21, to petition the president and congress for measures which will give work to the unemployed.

"This will give you 45 days to inform yourself of the object of this second march," Coxey's letter says, "and to consider the practicability and justice of our demands.

"On our previous march, two other leaders and myself were jailed 20 days for their efforts."

REPORT ON IMMIGRATION

Very timely is the report of the commission appointed by Governor Foss to make a study of the general condition of immigrants in this commonwealth including their way of living, their problems of housing, sanitation, civic interests, education, and occupation, and their relation to the life of the commonwealth in what related to the welfare of all its people. In such an investigation this city is peculiarly interested, because the industrial life of Lowell has been closely interwoven with the life of the immigrant, and the future promises a still closer relationship between the workers in our leading industries and those of foreign birth and their descendants. The discussion of immigration problems attendant on agitation surrounding the Burnett bill in congress also makes an authentic and unbiased report doubly valuable as a guide to future state legislation and civic activity.

Almost at the outset the commission disagrees with those who hint more or less openly that the United States is regarded by most foreign countries as a convenient dumping ground for undesirables. The first immigrants to this country fled from tyranny in some form and from a desire for real life and liberty, and the commission report says: "The causes that sent immigrants fifty or two hundred years ago are also responsible for their coming today." These causes are called "the economic injustices of a dominant race." As to the causes that influence the settlement of any race in a particular locality, the report attributes it mostly to accident. Massachusetts settlement has, it is said, been influenced by "the demand on the part of the textile mills, the shoe factories, the construction companies and other industries of the state for unskilled labor." And yet notwithstanding this, we find many taking the paradoxical position of passing laws to keep them out. Industry invites them; sectional opposition strives to bar them—often by unjust methods, as in the case of the literacy test.

How vital the immigrant question in some of its phases is to Massachusetts may be learned from some statistics quoted by the immigration commission. In 1870, the United States census showed that approximately 48 per cent. of the people of Massachusetts were foreign born or native born of foreign or mixed parentage; in 1880 this had increased to 50 per cent.; in 1890, to 56 per cent.; and in 1910, to 66 per cent. Commenting on this fact the commission gives food for thought in the following sentence: "At present the one-third of the population that is native-born of native parentage is seeking to bring under dominant American influence the other two-thirds of the population."

The recommendations made by the commission for bringing the immigrant under "dominant American influence" are in most cases prompted by commonsense and simple application. There is not one of them that would not be adopted naturally were the city, state and nation to take sufficient interest in the problem of the immigrant, both for his own sake and for the sake of the country. Of the "housing conditions" for instance, which are described as appalling but desirable, the commission says: "Various excuses for intolerable housing conditions were offered the commission; in many cases low wages, in others, speculative building, excessive rents and neglect on the part of the landlords; in still others the immigrant was described as preferring the darkness, filth and squalor in which he was sometimes found." The commission does not place the blame on the immigrant and it states that no matter how well the local or state laws are enforced, there is need for a "state housing commissioner, with broad powers and an adequate number of inspectors."

The commission has many valuable suggestions concerning the better distribution of immigrants, their adoption of farming, and discovering the proper channel for their energies. Probably the most extensive recommendations are those that concern education. "Only by education," says the report, "can immigrant children representing every nationality and every grade of social development be prepared for equal participation in the responsibilities of citizenship." It also touches on the question of naturalization and suggests what has been advocated in the columns of The Sun, viz:

"That the superior courts of the commonwealth and the United States district courts try the experiment of holding night sessions of the courts of naturalization.

"That the public evening schools of the state give special training for naturalization.

"That certificates of naturalization be formally presented with a ceremony calculated to impress both the immigrant and the American with the dignity and importance of citizenship."

THE BRITISH IMBROGLIO

The one official statement that has come out of the astonishing English situation in which the king and the army—or some of its officers—appear in a new light before the world, is that of Hon. John E. Redmond, in which he said: "The issue now raised is a wider one even than Home rule for Ireland. It is whether a democratic government is to be browbeaten and dictated to by the drawing-rooms of London and by that section of officers of the British army who are aristocrats and violent Tory partisans. The cause of Irish freedom has in this fight become the cause of popular freedom and ordered liberty throughout the world."

Premier Asquith's firm stand against army mutiny, against aristocratic influence to demoralize the government forces, has taken the country by storm and strengthened the ministry where it appeared to be weak. The liberal leader and his lieutenants seem to have the ability to turn every assault of the unionists to their advantage.

Sentiment in England has turned strongly against the Ulster men and their aristocratic followers who would demoralize the army by causing its officers to resign. The issue henceforth is between the people and the aristocracy and any interference by the latter will be promptly met by popular sentiment, if not by parliament.

There is a radical element in parliament that on the slightest provocation would start a revolution. The Tories and the king himself have gone just far enough to discover that a single step farther would arouse the sleeping monster of revolution, and as a result their opposition to the parliamentary measures before the commons will henceforth be necessarily guarded and less aggressive. They have been led to see that the slightest interference with the freedom of parliament by the king or the army would precipitate a revolution that would probably sweep away the monarchy, wipe out the aristocracy and establish a republic. King George has certainly been taught that he cannot afford to mix in political controversies without endangering the monarchy itself.

BUSINESS BOOM BEGINNING

There are many indications in the press of the west and middle west which show that business is beginning to show increased activity. Better weather conditions have increased the volume and value of the trade of the country, and many of the leading cities already report business far in excess of that of last year for the same period. The Cincinnati Enquirer, one of the most conservative papers of the middle west, after commenting on the signs of prosperity in Ohio makes the following prophecy:

"Merchants all over the country will find their sales much heavier than usual before another month has elapsed, and in their turn will call upon the manufacturers for replenishment of their stocks and merchandise. The continued growth in our exports of manufactured products is another most encouraging factor in general trade and as it grows it gives a more ample guaranty of permanent industrial prosperity, of plenty of work for our artisans and of the disappearance of the unemployed through their absorption in the ranks of the working forces of the country."

While this is true of our domestic trade, the substantial increase in our foreign commerce indicates a period of coming prosperity. The department of commerce under Secretary Redfield is bending all its efforts towards placing more of our manufactured products on the markets of the world, and it is succeeding wonderfully. Speaking before the chamber of commerce of the United States a few days ago, Mr. Redfield declared that five million dollars worth of finished products goes out of this country daily, and that this is increasing "steadily, constantly, readily." In spite of individual efforts to discredit the government by arousing hysteria about alleged "unemployment" and business depression, the barometers of industry register general prosperity, and the mercury is rising.

THE TOLLS REVISION

There seems to be some foundation for the rumor that part of the opposition to the suggested canal tolls revision bill is due rather to a desire to defeat the president's will than to a belief in the intrinsic merits of the question. So much the greater reason for wishing the repeal clause to pass. President Wilson, like any man who rises to political power, aroused rivalry and opposition, even in high places, and though these feelings have been kept out of sight in his own party to an unprecedented degree, his success must have aroused jealousy in other quarters. As all of his activity up to the present was along strictly party lines, there was no chance for consistent opposition, but the canal tolls provision offers the opportunity desired. In the strenuous opposition which is expected to crop out in the house and senate, there will be an opportunity to separate the sincere from the insincere and the people, while giving credit to any man who opposes the president from honest motives, will not be inclined to favor petty animosity or personal jealousy. The introduction of these elements will make the congressional struggle all the more interesting.

Seen and Heard

Luke McLuke says:

The world is growing better. But we put burglars in jail and let men who eat garlic run around loose.

The accident companies are not in business to lose money. That's one reason why they don't try to insure happy marriages.

The man who is good only on Sundays is going to shovel as much coal as the rest of us when the embalmer gets through with him.

Every married woman knows that her husband would certainly appreciate her if he had to live with some other woman for a little while.

Lemons are getting dearer. But husbands are as cheap as ever.

Any woman can make a man marry her. But not all of them can make him stay put.

Every now and then when Father sits down to the breakfast table he has his own reasons for accusing mother of buying eggs at bargain sales.

After the income tax receipts are counted up and there is a nice wad of coin in the treasury, the government might appropriate about $500,000 and erect a national home for indigent petticoat manufacturers.

A bad memory is a cheerful liar's nightmare.

When a fool has nothing to say he's never satisfied until he says it.

THE BABIES

Even the babies look bored in New York,
Brought by a harried and unwelcome stork,
(Poor little tykes)
Wheeled by a stately and uniformed nurse,
Starched cap and apron as glum as a hearse.
What baby likes
Being dressed up with that tickle-edged lace
Sticking its bothersome ends in your face?
Seeing the sunshine and sky through a veil,
All bundled up till you're listless and pale,
Playing with toys you don't want in the least,
Barred from the ground and its life-giving feast—
Handsful of mud with some sand on the side—
Nice little babies, they tell you, have died
On diet like that. It is crowded with germs;
Ought to give well brought-up babies the squirms.
Nice little babies don't play in the mud.
Mud doesn't mix with a baby's blue blood.
Whimpery baby, with puckery scowl,
Ready to burst to a near-splitting howl
Bows of pink ribbon a-tickling your ears,
All hedged about with germ-theory fears,
Say little baby of wealthy New York,
Poor little tyke,
Brought by a harried and unwelcome stork,
Why don't you strike?

—New York Globe.

To land in jail for taking things easy, that is the irony of fate.

Fortunately for the average man, few of his prayers are answered.

Only a fool will neglect his family in order to pose as a public benefactor.

More than a blanket mortgage is needed to keep a house warm in cold weather.

Naturally a man who leads a crooked life is unable to keep both feet in the straight and narrow path.

The Cincinnati Enquirer finds there isn't a particle of difference in the love letters of the wise man and the fool.

There is this difference between rents and tears: If a man goes on a tear he may not be able to pay his rent.

Every man expects to wake up some day and find himself famous, and he often does get as far as the waking up part.

The Lawrence American remarks that there are many people who are willing to give up anything during Lent except money.

The Brockton Times thinks another evidence of the sound sense and consistency of the men folks is that bathing tackle never goes out of style.

Every time a woman attempts to work off a ten word compliment on a man she is sure to spoil the effect by transforming it into a serial story.

Dr. James L. Wellington, Harvard's "grand old man," is 66 years of age and he advances four simple rules of health, the observance of which, he says, will do much to prolong existence. The rules are:

"Sit up until 11 o'clock at night, if you desire it.

"If you smoke, smoke a little when you feel so inclined.

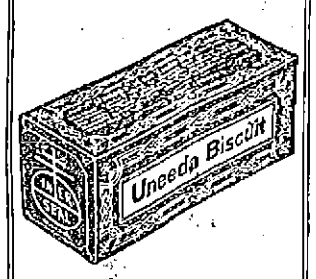

"Be reasonably careful in what you eat.

"Use common sense in all your ways of living."

The fourth rule, we imagine, is a condensation of the quartet. As a matter of fact it is a condensation of all rules of health. "Use common sense" is a rule which if followed would mean not only better health, but better everything.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

CHEAP LABOR

Portland Express: With the immigration laws as liberal as they are in both this country and Canada there is no good reason why anybody should import foreign labor in bulk, and when it is realized that there are millions of men obtainable for the asking the offense is all the more serious. Labor on this side is entitled to protection just as much as the interests whose greed impels to scour the earth for cheap labor.

THE UNEMPLOYED

Fall River Globe: There always was and always will be a considerable army of the unemployed in the country for the reason that there is so large a number of people who are on the alert to dodge a job rather than to make an honest effort to find one. Every community has its quota of chronic loafers and non-producers of this kind, who in the aggregate make up a mighty host. About the only work they are disposed to do is with their jaw, and that they are prone to overwork.

ULSTER

Newport News: The reluctance of Ulster to be a hopeless minority in the Irish government may be intelligible enough, but is it a thing for which to shed blood, and can the result be changed? Besides, the rest of Ireland has been a hopeless minority in the British government for more than a century, and is it possible that the Ulsterites really think their property or their religion will be menaced by a Dublin parliament? From this side of the ocean it looks as though the nation had decided on home rule, and as if it were the extreme of foolhardiness for Ulster to undertake a bloody insurrection to prevent it.

THE FLY NESTS

Lynn Item: Spring is here. According to the calendar, spring arrived last Saturday. With spring comes the time for cleaning up, and the cleaner the premises the fewer the flies, when the season opens for those pests. Just now few thoughts are turned to the fly problem, but it should not be neglected. When flies come they arrive in swarms, and where do they come from? Ask the dirt heap in the back yard, the rubbish pile and the refuse box.

TOLLS REVISION

Lewiston Sun: It will add to President Wilson's glory to carry through his Panama repeal bill against the opposition of his party leaders. He is placed—has taken his position—where he is bound to fight it out.

This is the time when the president of the United States ought to hear from a clear and determined public opinion irresistible in supporting his vindication of the country's written promise. A promise as binding in honor as a promissory note, or a bond or a bill at the doctor's or the grocer's.

BOOKS AND CRITICISM

Brockton Enterprise: The New York Times says that "The most favorable review cannot make a bad book good." But a slashing attack on a bad book or play generally puts money in the coffers of the publishers or the managers.

LIGHTS ON VEHICLES

NEW LAW WILL GO INTO EFFECT APRIL 16—ALL VEHICLES MUST HAVE LIGHTS

On April 16 a new law will go into effect relative to lights on vehicles. Heretofore it has not been required by law that every vehicle have a light on a road where lights are maintained at a distance of 500 feet apart. The law now reads:

Sec. 1, Chap. 154.—Every vehicle on wheels, whether stationary or in motion, on any public highway or bridge, shall have attached to it a light or lights which shall be so displayed as to be visible from the front and the rear during the period from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise; provided, however, that this act shall not apply to any vehicle which is designed to be propelled by hand, or to any vehicle designed for the transportation as its principal freight, of hay or straw while loaded with such freight.

There has also been an amendment to Sec. 2, Chap. 635, Acts of 1913, an act relative to the employment of prisoners in reclaiming and cultivating land.

This will go into effect April 18.

Sec. 2.—The county commissioners of any county may purchase or lease land with funds specifically appropriated therefor by the general court for the purpose of cultivating it by the labor of prisoners from a jail or house of correction and the said commissioners may also make arrangements with the officials of a county, town to work said prisoners on any highway or unimproved land, or with a private owner, to improve waste or unused land by means of such prisoner labor.

When prisoners are so employed they shall be in the custody of the sheriff of the county. When land that is not the property of the county or is not a highway is so improved, the owners thereof, or those having in charge of the highway, shall pay the county such sums as may be agreed upon between the county commissioners, sheriff, and other parties interested, for labor of any prisoners employed thereon.

AT HIGHLAND CHURCH

Over 300 Enjoyed Entertainment and a Chicken Pie Supper—Large Crowd in Attendance

A chicken pie supper and entertainment constituted the attraction at the Highland Congregational church last evening, and a goodly crowd was there. More than 300 sat down to supper.

"The Packing of the Home Missionary Barrel," a very pleasing sketch, was given by members of Mrs. B. F. Wiggin's Sunday school class. It was presented by the following named: Mrs. Alex. Yagerhorn, Mrs. John Killpatrick, Mrs. F. E. Lane, Mrs. A. E. Grant, Miss Lillian Allister, Miss Ethel Kimball, Miss Mary Livingston, Mrs. Alfred M. Caswell, Mrs. Erwin Pearson and Mrs. C. B. Savage. It was brought to a close by the singing of an original song, the words of which were provided by Mrs. John Killpatrick.

The other contributors to the entertainment were Mrs. Percy Wilson, in songs, accompanied by Mrs. J. B. Field, and piano selections by Miss Helen Choate.

The general committee in charge of the affair consisted of: Mrs. Fred Ingham, chairman; Miss Grace Baleh, Mrs. Gordon Bixby, Mrs. James Bradley, Mrs. Fred Butler, Mrs. Chase, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Clifford, Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Frank Hodges, Mrs. Carrie Ingham, Mrs. Kimball, Mrs. Knapp, Mrs. Lamberton, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Secord, Mrs. Woodworth, Miss Cora Buckland, Miss Florence Evans and Miss Bertha Halstead.

COAL CHEAPER NEXT MONTH

BOSTON, March 26.—A reduction of 50 cents a ton on coal is predicted by dealers to go into effect early next month.

This is the yearly reduction which generally takes place in April or May.

HOW YOU MAY THROW AWAY YOUR GLASSES

The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not need them. If you are one of these unfortunates, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optona; fill a two-ounce bottle with water and drop in one Optona tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times daily and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eye-strain, cataract, sore eyelids, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this free prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may so strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind or nearly so, or who wear glasses, would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late! Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong, magnetic eyes through the prescription here given.—Advertisement.

A Trip to California Has Been Placed Within Your Reach

Why not make a reservation on one of the Burlington Route "Personally Conducted Parties to California?" If you would like to make this trip under unusually attractive conditions, and at an especially low cost, I would like to hear from you right away.

You can travel with a select party and with all the comforts of a Pullman Touring Sleeping Car throughout—and at minimum cost.

A carefully trained man will accompany the party all the way. You will find him to be thoroughly competent, good-natured and kindly, as he has been especially selected because of his knack for making people comfortable, as well as because of his long experience.

You will be especially interested in learning that the total cost of this trip is well within your reach. Just call or write and I will gladly explain all the details.

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Gov. Walsh Studies Employment Problems—Butler Statue Again —Other Matters

BOSTON, March 26.—Gov. Walsh gave considerable time yesterday to the question of providing for the unemployed, which was called to his attention Monday by Morrison L. Swift and a band of followers received by the governor in the council chamber. The governor conferred with several representatives of organizations caring for unfortunates and dependents, including William H. Pear of the Boston Provident associations, Fred Johnson of the Associated Charities, and William P. Fowler of the Industrial Aid society. Sec. Wilfrid Wheeler of the State Board of Agriculture attended to tell about farm work for the unemployed.

Gov. Walsh said after the conference that the men he conferred with did not represent the situation to be as serious as that described by Swift and his followers. He said they advised him that the present situation is similar to what occurs every winter.

This statement, however, will not tend to diminish my interest in the problem, added the governor.

Nominations By Governor

The governor nominated Joseph F. Carmody to be special justice of the police court of Chicopee in place of John P. Kitty, who last week was nominated to be justice of the district. Judge Carmody was at one time auditor of Chicopee. He is an Amherst graduate.

A pardon was granted to Charles E. Thomas of Boston, who is serving a two-year term at Deer Island for forgery.

The council refused to approve plans for the Concord armory for the reason that the selectmen of Concord and the armory commissioners, who submitted the plans, are still in disagreement over them.

Butler Statue Question

The Butler statue came up yesterday before house ways and means. Ex-Senator Henry C. Joyner of Great Barrington and Martin M. Lomasney appeared for the measure. Colonel N. P. Hallowell and Prof. Henry G. Pearson of M. I. T. opposed it.

Ex-Senator Joyner said that General Butler was the only Union soldier for whom the Confederates offered a reward, dead or alive. He said that he failed of victory in certain battles because West Pointers refused to support him.

He said that when Harvard refused to confer a bachelor of laws upon him, he had been advised to go to commencement and make the kind of a speech that he only was equal to making, and he went.

Colonel Hallowell said that General Butler was not a capable army officer. Professor Pearson said he was not an honorable political character.

Anti-Cigaret Bill

The bill to provide that any child between 10 and 17 years of age found smoking cigarets may be classed as a delinquent, and so treated by the courts, was passed to be engrossed, 15 to 10, with five pairs, after having been amended to make it permissive instead of mandatory on the police officer to take such action.

Senator Gifford declared the bill was outrageous and that unfortunately even the permissive feature would not save the small boy when the constable was out for a fee.

Senator O'Rourke supported the measure manfully and exhibited the cigaret germ on a glass slide, to the astonishment of his fellow-members, as well as candy cigarets which were being sold.

Bar and Bottle Bill Repeal

Legal Affairs voted to withdraw on petition that bottlers shall not be obliged to make returns on writs of attachment unless attachments are made on petition that administrators, executors, etc., shall be obliged to report every six months. The same committee also reported a bill for the repeal of the bar and bottle bill and providing a referendum to the people in each section of the state. Senators Hilton and Fisher and Representatives Haines, T. E. P. Wilson and Edward Carr dissented.

Police Promotion

The so-called Boston police promotion bill, which Mr. Lomasney and others fought through the house, was killed in the senate yesterday, without debate or division. This bill compelled the police commissioner to make all promotions by means of competitive examinations after the manner of the civil service commission.

The Boston Safe and Deposit Trust company bill, allowing it to increase its capital stock to not exceeding $3,000,000, was passed to be engrossed, 17 to 11, with two pairs. Senator Horgan lifted his voice against the measure and declared it was simply another attempt toward financial monopoly.

SUPPLY SHIP CONTRACT

RESOLUTIONS ASKING CONGRESS TO INVESTIGATE SEC. DANIELS' AWARD

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., March 25.—Resolutions asking congress to investigate Secretary Daniels' award of a contract for building a supply ship and transport to the Boston and Philadelphia navy yards, respectively, were adopted at a mass meeting here last night. The resolutions recite that the award was "unjust and unfair to the Newport News Shipbuilding Co. and that it is currently reported that such action was taken for political purposes."

Congress also was urged to refuse Secretary Daniels' request for a $400,000 appropriation with which to put the two navy yards in condition to build the vessels.

MRS. DELISLE'S FUNERAL

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH—MANY FROM OUT-OF-TOWN

The remains of Mrs. Ellie Delisle were tenderly consigned to their last resting place in the Catholic cemetery this morning after impressive service at St. Joseph's church. The funeral cortege left the home of deceased, 64 Tucker street at 8.30 o'clock and wended its way, preceded by two carriages filled with beautiful floral offerings, to St. Joseph's church, where at 9 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. E. J. A. Chaput, O. M. I., assisted by Rev. Antoine Amyot, O. M. I., as deacon and Rev. Charles Denizot, O. M. I., as sub-deacon. There was a large congregation present, for deceased counted a host of friends in this city, where she had lived for over 50 years.

The choir, which was under the direction of Telesphore Malo, was augmented for the occasion. At the offertory Miss Stella Latour sang Gounod's "Pie Jesu," and at the communion Dr. George E. Caisse rendered "O Meritum Passionis." Mrs. J. A. Bernard presided at the organ. The bearers were Joseph Coutu, J. A. Vincent, Alfred, Alphonse and Melville Delisle, Hector Piche, Pierre Lepire and Edmond Germain. There was a delegation from Club Lafayette of which the husband of deceased is a prominent member, and also of St. Anne's sodality.

Among the beautiful floral offerings were pieces from the following: Mr. and Mrs. A. F Dragon, Archie Perron, Dr. G. E Caisse, Mr and Mrs. Joseph Martin, Joseph Coquette, Club Lafayette, Bancroft Piano Store Co., Cleophas L. Hebert, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Martin, McGauvran Bros., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nelin, Romulus Tessier and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hercule Rangeard, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Doherty, Damien Delisle, Adolphe Delisle, Mrs. Peter Cossette, Mrs. J. A. Perron, Miss Ida Bergeron, Edmond Gill, Victor Gagnas, Paul Bourque and Arthur Leblanc.

Among the out-of-town relatives attending the funeral were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Delisle and their son, Aime, Edmundston; Hector Piche, St. Basile, Que.; Mrs. Emily Vezina, Quebec; Pierre Lepire, Charlebourg West, Que.; Alphonse Delisle, Cap Sante, Que., Lionel Marcotte, Montreal, Que., and Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Germain, Worcester. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Augustin Gratton, O. M. I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

WARE MAN PUZZLED

Loses Strip of Hair From Head—Thinks He Shaved It Off While Asleep

WARE, March 26.—Thomas Parker of Main street is puzzled over the loss of hair three inches wide from the top of his head.

When he retired last night he had all of his hair, but when he got up this morning he found that the top of his head was shaved.

He says he does not believe he was shaved by a practical joker and thinks he must have performed the shaving "stunt" while asleep.

COACH OF MUHLENBERG

ALLENTOWN, Pa., March 25.—Geo. McCaa, former coach at Lafayette was elected last night as coach of the Muhlenberg college football eleven to succeed Thomas Kelley, who leaves as the result of a disagreement with Dr. Dr. J. A. W. Haas, president of Muhlenberg. Kelley will go to the University of Maine as coach.

FRACTURED HIS SKULL

Workman Was Badly Injured at the Saco-Lowell Machine Shop This Morning

While running a machine known as a planer in the plant of the Saco-Lowell Machine company about 7.50 o'clock this morning a man named Patrick Lee, of 43 Lincoln street, was hit on the head with a belt and so seriously injured that he now lies in a critical condition at the Lowell Corporation Hospital. Whether or not he will recover is not known, according to the hospital authorities.

Mr. Lee was working at his bench this morning when a counter shaft which runs along the ceiling broke and the belt struck him on the head knocking him to the floor. In falling, the back of his head hit a piece of machinery, it is believed, and fractured his skull. Several of his fellow employes rushed to his side and upon learning the seriousness of his injuries telephoned for the ambulance and he was removed to the hospital.

VERDICT IN "DE LUXE" CASE

BOSTON, March 26.—The jury in the so-called de luxe book case today returned a verdict of guilty against all three defendants, Glen F. Farmer and James Powers of New York and Samuel Rosenfield of Chicago.

Rosenfield was sentenced to from six to eight years in state prison. Farmer also was sent to state prison for a term of from three to five years and Powers was given two and a half years in the house of correction.

The men were accused of conspiracy to defraud Mrs. Mary L. Rogers of this city, and of the larceny from her of $87,087 by inducing her to advance money for the purchase of what were represented to be rare volumes and on which she had been made to believe she would be able to make a large profit soon, when the editions would be out of print.

SEALED VERDICT

BOSTON, March 26.—A few minutes before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the "de luxe" book case went to the jury and the court adjourned until 9.30 o'clock this morning.

A sealed verdict was handed in by the jury at 9.45 last night.

The final arguments occupied all the morning yesterday. The charge to the jury by Judge Chase lasted for an hour and a half during the afternoon session.

Judge Chase refused to allow the counts charging conspiracy between all three defendants, Samuel Rosenfeld, Glen F. Farmer and Michael J. Powers, to defraud Mrs. Mary L. Rogers to go to the jury, but allowed Asst. Dist. Atty. McIsaac to charge conspiracy between two of the defendants.

The assistant district attorney in his argument, therefore, charged a conspiracy had existed between Powers and Rosenfield. Farmer was excluded from the conspiracy charge, but all three defendants were accused of larceny.

BOY WAS BADLY INJURED

JOHN BRADY FELL FROM TREE ON APPLETON STREET LAST EVENING

John Brady, aged 6 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brady of South street, who fell from a tree near the New England Telephone Co.'s office on Appleton street, early last evening lay in an unconscious condition at St. John's hospital all night but it was stated this forenoon that he was slowly regaining consciousness and would probably recover. He is suffering from a very severe scalp wound and it is believed that his skull is fractured.

The youngster was playing with several companions near the corner of Appleton and South streets when the accident occurred. According to one of his playmates, little John had climbed the tree and was standing on a branch when he lost his balance and fell to the ground, striking on his head and shoulder. He was hurried to his home by neighbors and Dr. M. A. Tighe summoned. The latter recommended that he be sent to the hospital and the ambulance was called to convey him to St. John's hospital.

It was reported last night that the boy's injuries would probably prove fatal, but it was stated at the hospital this morning that his condition was improving and his recovery is hoped for.

TAILOR SHOP FIRE

DROVE OCCUPANTS FROM BLOCK ON ELLIOT STREET AT MIDNIGHT

The occupants of a lodging house on Elliot street were driven to the street shortly after midnight by a fire which started in a tailor shop on the street floor of the building. A telephone operator discovered smoke coming from the building and notified the fire department, while Patrolmen Connolly and Considine also saw the smoke and awakened the tenants.

Hardly had the officers aroused the occupants when the firemen arrived and the blaze was extinguished before it had spread to the second story. However, the tailor shop was wrecked by the fire and the contents were a total loss. The building was owned by John H. Donnelly and the tailor shop by John Marmik. The origin of the fire seemed to be a mystery.

TREATMENT FOR PNEUMONIA

NEW YORK, March 26—Discovery of a specific serum for the treatment of acute lobar pneumonia was announced yesterday by the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research in a statement sent to physicians the Institute announces that it is prepared to treat patients.

The work of evolving the serum out of many experimental cultures was under the direction of Dr. Rufus Cole and has been in progress for the past three years. For the preparation of the serum a culture of the germs is prepared for injection into the blood of a healthy animal, the horse being used in this case.

Confidentially it was announced from Bellevue hospital yesterday that a pneumonia serum developed in Hasbrouck Heights was recently used successfully upon a staff physician of that institution.

MANY ARRESTED

Political Situation in Caracas Reported Extremely Unsettled

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, March 26.—The political situation in Caracas is reported to be unsettled. Many prominent persons have been placed under arrest, including Col. Samuel McGill, instructor general of the Venezuelan army, who however, was afterward released. General Manuel Matos, former minister of foreign affairs and two of his nephews are said to have become fugitives.

STEAMER ARRIVES

WOMEN TALK TOO MUCH

CHICAGO BOARD OF ASSESSORS TELL WOMEN ASSISTANTS TO KEEP SECRETS OF WORK

CHICAGO, March 26.—Because women assessors have been talking too much, the board of assessors yesterday issued an order that deputies will be discharged from the service if they make public information regarding their work.

Chicago newspapers yesterday printed stories regarding the work of women assessors in several fashionable homes in Lakeshore drive. The stories told of onyx bathtubs, expensive tapestries, hydro-aeroplanes and rare paintings. Numerous complaints were made to the board by families, a detailed description of whose household effects had been made public by the women.

"In the future all deputies in the field will make their reports to the board daily and will be held responsible for any information regarding their work that becomes public," read the order.

WOODMAN JUMPS TO FEDS

BOSTON, March 26.—Courtney Woodman of Danvers, who pitched for the Fall River and Haverhill teams of the New England league during the past two years, signed a contract last night to play with the Buffalo team of the Federal league. The terms of the contract were not announced. Manager Gray of Lowell a few days ago, offered Haverhill 13 players for Woodman.

THE QUEEN OF BULGARIA

To Come to the United States in May—The First to Visit This Country

SOFIA, Bulgaria, March 26.—Queen Eleanore of Bulgaria, who some time ago declared her intention of visiting the United States today announced that she would depart on her journey from the Bulgarian capital during the third week of May. Her majesty will proceed, probably to Hamburg and embark there from New York on May 21. She may, however, go by way of Cherberg and take a steamer there. Queen Eleanore who will be the first reigning queen to visit the United States, intends to make a study of the institutions and people of America. It is stated semi-officially that King Ferdinand also will pay a visit to the United States, probably in 1915.

ARMY HAD COLD RIDE

PUEBLO, Colo., March 26.—A detachment of "General" Kelley's army of unemployed men who started from San Francisco to march to Washington arrived today in a refrigerator car from Grand Junction.

The 170 men were surrounded in the railroad yards by the police who fed the "army" on bread and beans. The men were not allowed to leave the yards. They purposed to proceed to Denver later.

Stevens and Lester D. Stevens. Burial was in the family lot in the Riverside cemetery at North Chelmsford, where Rev. F. H. Reeves read the committal service. Undertaker John A. Weinbeck had charge of the services.

WIBBERLY—The funeral services of John Wibberly were held at his home, 22 Fifth street, yesterday afternoon and were largely attended. A delegation from Kilwinning lodge, A. F. and A. M., was present. Rev. Dr. Caleb E. Fisher, pastor of the First Universalist church, officiated. The floral offerings included a pillow inscribed "Husband" from the wife, and other offerings from Kilwinning lodge of Masons, Fannie Needham, Edward Wirt, A. T. Munn, H. C. Needham and W. T. Sutcliffe, William Rigby and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Fish of Nashua, N. H., "Friends," J. A. Brien and W. E. Brien. The bearers were Harry Needham, Edward Wirt, Arthur T. Munn and W. T. Sutcliffe. Burial took place in the family lot in the Edson cemetery, where the committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Fisher. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker William H. Saunders.

MERRILL—The funeral of Mrs. Almira E. Merrill, widow of the late Joseph Merrill of 17 Cabot street, took place from the chapel of Undertakers J. B. Currier Co. yesterday afternoon and was well attended. The services were conducted by Rev. C. E. Davis, pastor of the Worthen Street Methodist church, and appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. F. L. Roberts. The floral offerings included a large pillow inscribed "Mother" from the family, and other pieces from the following: Mrs. and Miss Merrill, Mrs. Talaferro, the Misses McCarthy and Mrs. P. H. Ryan, Mrs. Grace E. Harris. The body was today forwarded to Natick where burial was in the family lot. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers J. B. Currier Co.

COLE—The funeral of Leroy H. Cole, the infant child of Edith and Elmer D. the Tewksbury Centre hospital, Rev. A. Cole, was held yesterday afternoon at Hesford officiating. Among the many flowers were the following: Spray inscribed "Our Baby," from the parents; sprays, friends of the Lawrence Street P. M. church, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henley, M. A. ON LOWELL DAY

Lieut. Doyle Will be Chief Marshal of the Parade

Lieut. Thomas W. Doyle of Company G, Sixth regiment, was chosen to be marshal of the Lowell day parade which is to take place one week today, at a conference held in the mayor's office this forenoon at which Mayor Murphy and Secretary Murphy of the Lowell board of trade were present. Lieut. Doyle is military instructor of the Lowell high school regiment besides holding the office of first lieutenant of Company G.

Music for the parade will be furnished by the Sixth regiment band, which was secured by Secretary Murphy through Harry Roberts, a member of the board of trade.

LIEUT. DOYLE

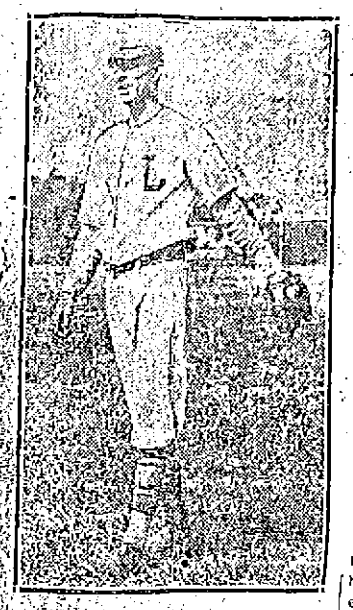

The high school regiment will turn out in full force and the police and fire departments will be well represented by men in uniform while there will be many other features that will make this year's parade eclipse even that of last year.

WEAVER COMING BACK TO LOWELL

Pitcher Who Jumped Last Season Reinstated by Manager Gray

Lowell Team Will Play Harvard on Stadium, April 28th

Dee Will Play at Short This Season — Other Interesting Dope

"BUCK" WEAVER

Lowell fans will be glad to hear that "Buck" Weaver, one of Manager Gray's reliables in the box during the season of 1912, will be back again this season with the local club. His unexplained exit from the New England league circuit at the beginning of last season has now been straightened out and Buck is once more a member in good standing of the Lowell club.

Weaver was not well when he came here last season. He had been sick a good part of the preceding winter and when he came to Lowell he left his mother critically ill, in their home at Terre Hill, Pa.

It will be remembered that Weaver jumped town directly after being beaten in a hard 4-3 game by Portland on a cold day. He had complained of a sore arm before the game but as Gray had no one else to work he had to do the hurling. It was thought at the time that perhaps Buck felt as though he had not been used quite right by being sent on to the firing line with a lame whip. But this was decidedly not the case.

Buck received word from his home that his mother was dying and, without waiting to bid good-bye to anyone, he boarded the first train for the Pennsylvania mountains. Weaver was motherless, however, before he reached home.

There were many things that had to be straightened out and Buck took the affairs of the family upon his shoulders and got busy. In fact he was so busy that the Lowell ball club was forgotten in the rush until several weeks after his hasty departure.

The New England league season was well started by the time affairs in the Weaver family were settled and by that time, Buck, always too quick to jump at conclusions, decided that he must be on the black list and made arrangements to play independent ball instead of communicating with Manager Gray to find out for a certainty.

The Lowell manager got hold of the story this spring while in New York at one of the major league baseball conferences and immediately got in touch with Weaver. Sure, Buck would play with Lowell—he was only glad to accept the chance. And thus has Buck Weaver, baseball prodigal, returned to the fold of the local club.

Will Play Harvard

The Lowell baseball club, for the first time in many years, will play Harvard this season on the Stadium diamond. The date has been set for April 28. It was thought at first that the Cambridge collegians would cross bats with the local team at Spalding park but the early season crowd would hardly pay the expenses, let alone the guarantee demanded by the Harvard team. As the game will be played on the day preceding the opener of the New England season the Lowell team should be in pretty fair shape.

Another Star Infielder

And while we're mentioning players we can't forget that the Lowell team has under contract a mighty fast infielder in the person of Freyer who played shortstop for the New York club of the U. S. league last season. Freyer played great ball for the outlaws throughout the season.

Bruggy, last year's Lawrence star outfielder, was a teammate of Freyer's until grabbed by Louis Pieper. If Freyer is as classy an infielder as Bruggy is outer gardener, there is not much question but what he is speedy enough for this circuit.

Temple Well Thought Of

In Temple, the pitcher received in exchange for Harry Aubrey, Jimmy Gray thinks that he has a valuable asset. This slabster comes from Pittsfield and on paper does not look to have an enviable reputation. However, the fact must be taken into consideration that Temple played on a club which finished in the Eastern association race.

Temple did not want to play with the Pittsfield club and for that reason more than any other he was made the exchange medium for Aubrey. Temple has also played with Hartford and Meredith of the same league. He won but ten games last season out of 27 but the majority of his defeats were by one and two runs. In many of the contests which were decided against him he outpitched his opponent, but errors behind him resulted disastrously.

"SHORTY" DEE

Dee Better at Short

Although "Shorty" Dee played a swell game at third last season it is the consensus of opinion among baseball men who have watched the Lynn boy work during the past two years that he is a better shortstop than he is guardian of the hot corner.

Of course "Shorty" had his off days and there was a period during the 1913 season when he took a bad slump. But when you come to average everything up you'll find that Mr. Dee was a big factor in the stonewall defence which Lowell presented during the New England league season and in the Hartford series.

With Dee at shortstop the Lynn boy always takes the short throw. Last year Miller came in for it, but although Miller was a grand infielder, he could not snap back the ball to the plate in the manner that made Dee famous in 1912. With a man on first and third and a double steal in progress, "Shorty" was always there with the quick return and the runner usually died at the plate. The Lowell infield will be stronger with Dee playing at short.

Roy Smith Back

Another pitcher who has been seen here before and who is liable to make a regular berth is Roy Smith. Roy is the right hander who was generally considered to have more "steam" than any pitcher in the league.

Smith pitched but four games for Lowell last year when his stomach went back on him and he was forced to quit the game. He is not very strong constitutionally and the change in climate had a bad effect upon him. Manager Gray had him treated by several physicians, but he failed to improve and finally left town bound for home on May 22.

Roy Smith pitched four games for Lowell last season and a glance over his record is sufficient to convince one that he has the goods when in condition. On May 2 he pitched a shutout, his opponents getting but three hits. On May 7 he let down Fall River with 7 runs and eight hits. Lowell won this game 8—7. On the 14th and 19th of the same month he let down New Bedford and Brockton with 7 and 5 hits respectively. Lowell won all four games that Smith worked in. He allowed but 12 runs and 23 hits in the four contests.

Smith has written Manager Gray from his home in Redlon, Pa., that he is in tip-top form this year and thinks that he can go through the season without a repetition of last season's illness.

WINDMILL BURNED DOWN

Amesbury Fire Department Unable to Cope With Structure Belonging to Col. E. W. M. Bailey

AMESBURY, March 26.—A spectacular fire from unknown cause yesterday destroyed the windmill of Col. E. W. M. Bailey at Walnut Hill at the Highlands, originally costing $1500. The Bailey house, on an eminence at the west side of the town, obtained its water by means of the windmill.

The auto combination chemical responded to a still alarm, but the structure was too far gone and the department could only protect the many buildings in close proximity.

OPEN BASEBALL SEASON

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 26.—In the opening baseball game of the season, the Naval academy defeated Swarthmore yesterday by a score of 13 to 8.

BASEBALL WAR

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 26.—Attorneys representing S. H. Camnitz, the Federal league agent enjoined temporarily last Monday from interfering with members of the Pittsburgh National league team, under the state labor contract law, yesterday filed a motion in chancery court here, asking that President Dreyfuss be required to produce in court all his players' contracts.

The Federal league representatives contend that the complaint filed by the Pittsburgh management is indefinite. George P. Whittington, of counsel for Camnitz, last night declared that the validity of baseball contracts containing the reserve clause would be subject to a rigid legal test if the motion filed yesterday is granted.

NASHUA BEATEN

White Way Bowlers Defend Their Laurels from Up-River Five—McQuesten and Devlin Featured

The Nashua bowling five did not have much success in their attempted invasion of the White Way alleys last night for they were stopped by the defenders of the alleys in a three-string match. The contest was close at all times and the locals were returned a winner by the narrow margin of 16 pins.

To McQuestion of the visitors went the high individual honors. This bowler piled up a total of 320 and rapped the pins for a single of 125. In singles he was tied by Devlin of the White Ways who also led his teammates with a total of 313. The score:

WHITE WAYS

Devlin, 313; Cole, 301; Flanders, 291; Perrin, 301; Myrick, 253. Total, 1459.

NASHUA

Pero, 295; Dersier, 249; Whipple, 314; McQuesten, 320; Mellen, 297 Total, 1474.

DIAMOND NOTES

Formal announcement that the Colonial league has been granted protection under the national agreement was received by Vice President S. D. Flanagan from Secretary Farrell of the National association. The new league has been granted a class C rating, with six clubs. There are good prospects for taking in Attleboro and Newport and making the league an eight-club circuit, in which case it would be rated in class B. As at present constituted, the league includes Pawtucket, Woonsocket, Fall River, New Bedford, Brockton and Taunton.

Jim Thorpe, the big Indian all-around athlete, who made his debut as a big league ball player last season, developed wonderfully on the tour around the world, according to Manager McGraw of the New York Giants. The former Carlisle hero has entered into the work of perfecting himself at the game with more determination and vigor than he ever displayed in any other branch of sport. McGraw predicts that it will be hard to keep Thorpe out of a regular job the coming summer and intimates that he will be one of the real big stars of the baseball world by the summer of 1915.

Albin Carlstrom, the former Lawrence player, has left his home in Elizabeth, N. J. He has reported to the Montreal team. Montreal has suffered because of heavy raids by the Feds and "Carl" should have no trouble getting a regular berth from the start.

Freddy Parent, who is at his home in Sanford, Me., denies, in a statement to a reporter for the Portland Express-Advertiser, that he has jumped from the Baltimore International league club and gone over to the Federals. "My present plans are to return to Baltimore," said the former Boston American star, "but I shall not go south to join the team. I don't want to play in a long series of exhibition games. I may, and I may not, sign up with Baltimore for the coming season. I shall not decide this until I have had a personal conference with Manager Jack Dunn."

This is the first time Parent has broken silence since it was reported a week ago that he had deserted the Internationals for the Feds.

Regardless of whether or not he concludes to sign up with Dunn's Orioles, all prospect of his being manager of the Lewiston club of the New England league has vanished. Dunn sets too high a purchase price.

The current issue of the Amoskeag Bulletin, a publication fathered by the Amoskeag corporation of Manchester, attacks the New England league because it has caused to be cancelled dates of organized baseball that the Amoskeag promoters had listed for the coming season. Says the paragrapher in this issue:

"We had every reason to expect a different attitude from the New England league. Doubtless it was a disappointment to them to be unable to place a team in Textile field this year, but we are accustomed to seeing sportsmen take their losses philosophically. We had no alternative but to refuse them, in justice to the Manufacturers' league. Could we have foreseen the consequences of our action we could have done different. We have nothing to regret."

One corporation takes the position that another corporation shall not encroach and the offended corporation retaliates by withdrawing its assistance in the matter of furnishing attractions. And the people of Manchester are the real victims.

Fred Tyler, brother of "Lefty" Tyler, and once a tryout candidate on the Lowell New England league club, caught a fine game for the Boston National rookies against Mercer college at Macon, Ga., this week, handling the deliveries of Hersch and Luque. The "kids" won, 13 to 2, in a walk. Tyler got three hits, one a two-bagger and had 10 put-outs, one assist and no errors.

The Boston Globe publishes a list of players who have signed with New England league teams. The Globe says that Henry Moran signs with Portland. This is believed to be incorrect, as Moran has lined up with the Federals. The Globe further says that Lowell has released Ed Henderson, Lowell released Henderson to a Virginia league team, but he refused to go, and he signed with the outlaws. He wants to be given his release so that in the event of the Feds "blowing up," he won't be a blacklisted player in the eyes of organized baseball and would have no trouble getting back in the fold. It is not believed that Lowell has given Henderson his unconditional release. The chances are that the Virginia league team has rights to Henderson unless the trade was void if he failed to report.—Lawrence Eagle.

You can wager that Jimmy Gray did not take any chances with a man as slippery as Henderson. It will be interesting to watch and see how he fares with the outlaws. Henderson was sold outright and not released.

The lists of New England league players desired by the Federal league is complete according to the belief of baseball fans. The Feds got seven from the league, some of whom are rated good and some looked on as lemons.

Baltimore has Joe Finneran, Lowell pitcher last year and Herbert Yount, New Bedford twirler, on its list. Finneran belonged to the Philadelphia Nationals. He looked good in the New England.

Buffalo has Arthur Lavigne, the Worcester lad who caught for Lynn and Lowell. Fred Anderson, a pitcher from Brockton, and Harry Moran, one of Hugh Duffy's twirlers.

Indianapolis has Bert Weeden, catcher of Fall River last season.

Pittsburgh has Edward Henderson, who pitched for Lowell last season.

Fred Merkle will play first base for the New York Giants again this coming season. He receives an increase in salary. Bob Bescher, the former Cincinnati star, will not be started by McGraw as a regular. Milton Stock may land the third base job. It does not look as if Tilly Shafer will report.

BASKETBALL GAME

Everything is now in readiness for the third game of the big series between the Lowell Five and the Y. M. C. I. Teams which will be played in Associate hall tonight. Indications point to a red hot contest tonight even more interesting than the two games which have been played. Greater interest in the series is being taken as the games go along and it is expected that Associate hall will be taxed to the limit tonight when the referee's whistle is blown for the start of the game. Jack Tierney will be the official in charge tonight and with his experience in basketball should be able to handle the game without any trouble. The reserved seats which are limited will go on sale at 7 o'clock and will be sold to the first applicants.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

CHINESE ROLLER

George Chin Looks Good to Bowling Critics in Worcester

One in Worcester they have unearthed a Chinese pin artist, who the Worcester Gazette thinks will develop into a first division roller. The sporting writer of that paper has the following to say about George Chin:

Worcester boasts of a most enthusiastic Chinese follower of candlepins in George Chin, official scorer of the Church street city league five, and a great admirer of "Zip" Lachapelle, who bowls anchor on the team.

But George is not content with watching the thin pin game from the bench, and under the coaching of Lachapelle has come along so fast that he more than holds his own with the majority of the bowlers around the Church street alleys. He recently rolled his first match game, bowling anchor for Gilmore's Federal five and made good with a total of over 280. When the Gazette camera man visited the Church street alleys to snap George, he was so confident of his ability to split the maples that he said the cigars were on him if he could not put up a total of better than 275.

The scores of 89, 103 and 102, for a total of 304, were the result. The cigars weren't on George.

Chin's form on the alleys, except that he lacks the terrific speed which had given "Zip" his nickname, is a dead ringer for that of Lachapelle.

He advances the ball forward to a level with his eyes, and after sighting carefully at the pins, brings the sphere back for a full length swing before shooting down the alley.

George's greatest fault is on his second ball, he being a bit weak on picking up spare breaks. His first ball works havoc when it gets in among the pins, and he hits the head and quarter fully as often as the average bowler. He picks up well on his third ball, as the scores of his three strings will show. A total of 304, made on a strike and four spares, shows good, consistent work.

Church alley supporters claim George is the champion Chinese candlepin crack of the world.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

ISSUED BY COMMISSIONER OF FINANCE FOR FEBRUARY AND MARCH—CITY DEBT

The financial statement of the commissioner of finance from Jan. 1 to March 1 is fresh from the press, and should have put in an appearance about two weeks ago. The statement as to the city debt March 1, 1914, is as follows:

MURDER OF SWEETHEART

IS CHARGE AGAINST ARTHUR ARGEROS, SALEM BAKER, ARRESTED TODAY

SALEM, March 26.—Arthur Argeros, a baker, was arrested today charged with the murder of his sweetheart, Miss Elenie D. Drints, whose body was found in the harbor near Salem Willows last night. He was held without bail for a hearing next Thursday.

Medical Examiner Foster of Peabody will hold an autopsy this afternoon. Dr. F. E. Atwood, the local medical examiner who first viewed the body decided that the case was clearly one of suicide.

Argeros, the police say, told him that he and the girl, who was 20 years old, four years younger than himself, were engaged to be married and that she became despondent recently when he was ordered to return to Greece to complete his service of two years in the army.

Athletes and Athletics

Gardner Brooks and Kid Thomas will again engage in a fistic contest, probably a week from tonight, at the Lawrence club. Brooks is confident that he can repeat over Thomas while the latter feels that the Lowell boy got away very lucky in their last encounter. Perhaps after their next go Thomas will be ready to concede the local youngster the palm. The Lawrence boxer will do well to stand up through ten rounds.

Lowell high's track team passed through a fairly good season this winter. Five wins and two defeats is a good average. Captain Varnum Bowers certainly did his share toward boosting the team. The doughty leader of the high school track athletes set up two new records at the annex track and romped away with his favorite event.

Courtney (Cokey) Woodman, the Danvers pitcher for whom Manager Gray offered 13 recruits, has jumped Dan Clohecy's Haverhill club and signed with the Buffalo Federal league team. Cokey affixed his signature to the outlaw contract last night but the terms were not made public at the time. It was a cinch from the start that Woodman wouldn't stick with Clohecy's warriors. If Daniel had had his usual bump of neumen with him when he received Gray's offer he would have snapped it up. The air must be blue down at the Haverhill baseball quarters.

Joe Winston, the man who "discovered" Jim Harry and brought him into the front rank of the heavyweight division, was in town yesterday and dropped into the office for a little chat. He and Joe Woodman are inseparables in spite of the fact that Sam Langford and Harry fought several bitter battles while Woodman and Winston were their respective managers.

"On the level," I asked Winston, "could Harry ever hand it to Sam-hot?" "Hand it to him? Why, you can just go bet he could hand it to him. If Jim Harry hadn't been a fool he could still hand it to him or any of the white hopes littering up the roped arenas today."

Joe was very certain that the boxing bill of Johnny Sheehan would be passed by this year's legislature. The bill provides for six-round, no decision bouts and gives the state ten per cent. rake-off on every performance. No wonder the bill looks good to the legislators. The promoters who make a success of a club after paying over ten per cent. of the gross receipts will be doing wonders. Winston has now quit the managerial game and is traveling for the Milo people.

"The town has gone basketball mad," said one of the local sports who is always ready to pick up any branch of athletics which looks good as a money maker. "I have never seen anything like it in my experience with local sports." It is certain that the Y. M. C. I.—Lowell Five series has aroused more enthusiasm than any form of athletics staged here in years. It has proved a surprise to even the experts.

If the remaining games between the Y. M. C. I. and Lowell Five are played after the style of the last few minutes of play in the last contest it would develop a better brand of sport. Although interesting and fraught with excitement, there was a trifle too much holding in sports.

We were discussing Maybohm at the baseball headquarters yesterday afternoon and wondering whether he would report this spring. "Maybohm has been a good old standby," said Manager Gray, "and I'll give him anything he wants. If he wants to play somewhere else this season he can get his unconditional release from me on demand." It is this kind of sentiment toward a ball club which is remembered and returned. Players who have been used square are always on the lookout for young players with a future for their former manager. We have several instances of this in the contracts already received for the coming season.

HEINZE ELECTRIC CO.

HAS FILLED PLACES OF THE ALLEGED STRIKERS—UNION ORGANIZED

It was reported last night that between 20 and 25 assemblers employed at the Heinze Electric Co. went out on strike yesterday, because of alleged grievances over their work.

Joseph A. Legare, treasurer of the company, when seen by a Sun reporter this morning said the company does not recognize any strike. He said the men did not go out on strike, but were discharged by the foreman of the department because they refused to do the work brought to them.

Mr. Legare said for some years past the company has been using what are known as spot coils upon which a silk wire secondary was being used. "In order to keep up with our competitors," continued Mr. Legare, "we thought it advisable to use what is known as enamel wire, but the assemblers refused to do their work and accordingly 21 of them were discharged. Their places have been filled and the department is running as before. Mr. Legare also said the men who were discharged were the highest paid unskilled laborers in the country, for their average pay was between $12 and $16 a week.

One of the assemblers called at The Sun office this morning and informed the writer that all the assemblers at the Heinze Electric Co. were out on strike because of alleged reduction in wages. He said the strikers held a meeting yesterday afternoon and organized into a union and the following officers were elected: Fred Welch, president; William Kendall, vice president; Harry Rogers, recording secretary; Oscar McFarland, treasurer; Messrs. Welch, McFarland and Favreau, executive board.

THE MELLEN CASE

Trial of Former New Haven President May Come Up in April

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 26.—Action in the case of Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company, charged with manslaughter as the outcome of the express wreck at Westport in October, 1912, may come in the April term of the superior court for Fairfield county, as the criminal side of the March sitting was adjourned yesterday.

Week before last Homer N. Cummings, for Mr. Mellen, asked the court to vacate the warrant on which Mr. Mellen was arrested last May. The motion to vacate followed a decision by Judge Tuttle sustaining the demurrer offered to the complaint on the ground that it charged "voluntary" manslaughter when "involuntary" manslaughter was intended. State Attorney Judson asked for permission to amend the complaint and opposed the motion to vacate.

Before adjourning court yesterday afternoon, Judge Tuttle filed memoranda with the court clerk. At first this was thought to be a decision on the motion to vacate, but it proved to be the formal record of motions to dismiss the complaint on the ground that the bench warrant was issued in a manner contrary to the constitution and on the demurrer to the complaint. The April term will be presided over by Judge Gager.

It is expected Judge Tuttle's decision on the pending motions will be filed prior to the next term of court.

FEARING INSANITY MAN ENDS HIS LIFE

J. D. Humphrey of Boston Committed Suicide by Jumping From the Saloon Deck of the Steamer Governor

PORTLAND, Me., March 26.—Fearing he would become insane, according to a letter which he left to the purser and a written statement accompanying it, J. D. Humphrey of 171 School street, Boston, committed suicide by jumping from the saloon deck of the steamer Governor Dingley this morning when the vessel was about ten miles east of Boone Island. The steamer was stopped and every effort was made to locate Humphrey, but this was impossible because of the high seas.

TORREON TREMBLES AS MEXICANS SLAY EACH OTHER IN BATTLE

1-MAIN STREET IN TORREON-2-REBEL BATTERIES IN ACTION DURING ADVANCE ON TORREON-3. HOW REBELS ATTACKED TORREON-

The main street in Torreon was the scene of frantic panic as the rebels began bombarding the city after a successful advance. Federals were prepared to make the last desperate stand of the battle there. The map shows how Villa's forces were drawn up around the city. Fierce fighting had preceded the clash at the city's gates.

VILLA'S VICTORY AT TORREON IS TURNED TO DEFEAT IN FIERCE ATTACK BY FEDERALS

JUAREZ, Mex., March 26.—A shattering surprise befell Gen. Villa in the midst of what he thought a certain triumph, according to scattering despatches reaching here following rigid censorship began early yesterday.

The last despatch, direct from the firing line at Torreon Tuesday night, announced the crossing of the Nazas river by Gen. Benevides and his Naraguza brigade, his capture of the barracks on the outskirts of the city and the advance of his troops to the city plaza.

This accomplished, Villa was certain of his victory. His soldiers were exhausted by five days of nearly continuous marching and fighting, and Villa ordered that they rest, expecting to swing his main force over bridges into Torreon and take up the pursuit of what he regarded as a thoroughly beaten federal army.

Villa's Centre Attacked

But the strategy of Gen. Velasco, the federal leader, has turned the table, for the time being, with reinforcements, of whose arrival from Mexico City in Torreon in the last few days, Villa seems to have been wholly ignorant.

Velasco, while engaging Benevides and his forces at Torreon, where they still are said to be holding their ground in the suburbs, sent his largest forces of fresh troops that had been massed to the southwest of the city in a driving charge upon the centre of Villa's army as it lay north of Torreon.

It was striking Villa at the weakest point of his line because in the battle of the day before he had drawn away Gen. Urbino's brigades from Lerdo, southwest of the city, and despatched them to guard the railroad lines to the northwest. There were fewer than expected to challenge the federals in their advance to Villa's centre.

Driven to El Verjel

The result of the sudden aggressive tactics of the reinforced federals sent Villa and his men reeling back to Gomez Palacio, and after furious battling there the federals drove them out of the Torreon suburb and six miles further north to El Verjel.

But the latest despatches to the constitutionalist leaders, though very incomplete, accredit Villa with holding the eastern country and of having in the handling of his men averted the danger of the federals splitting his army, cutting him off from Benevides, who is still fighting at the southeast gateway of Torreon.

TODAY'S REPORT STATES THAT REBELS WERE ROUTED AND REPULSED

WASHINGTON, March 26.—This message sent from Mexico City last night was received at the embassy here today:

"Rebels once more routed and repulsed at Gomez Palacio with heavy losses while trying to approach Torreon."

GREAT ANXIETY OVER POSSIBLE FATE OF GENERAL VILLA AND 12,000 TROOPS

JUAREZ, Mexico, March 26.—An atmosphere of anxiety enveloped constitutionalist sympathizers today over the possible fate of General Francisco Villa and his 12,000 rebel soldiers, who at last reports were engaged in desperate fighting at Gomez Palacio, a suburb of Torreon. For two days no definite word came from the front. Not even a courier has penetrated the desert between Torreon and Chihuahua.

News despatches from Mexico City received last night declaring that the war department had issued a bulletin to the effect that Villa was in full retreat are not generally believed in Juarez.

Manuel Chao, military governor of Chihuahua, haunts the military telegraph office day and night in the hope of a message from Villa telling of the fortunes of war.

No explanation was offered by rebel officers of the fact that communication ceased after the attack on Gomez Palacio began while news had come freely during Villa's triumphant southward march.

ON VITAL STATISTICS

DR. WILBUR DEPLORES LACK OF PROPER LAWS ON SUBJECT—GREATER PRECISION NEEDED

BOSTON, March 26.—The importance of accurate vital and mortality statistics in the treatment of disease, in preventive methods, and in health and sanitary work generally, was emphasized yesterday afternoon by Dr. Cressy L. Wilbur, chief statistician of the bureau of the census, department of commerce at Washington, in his lecture at Harvard Medical school.

The speaker recalled with regret that in his own medical education he had been obliged to realize the value of such statistics, not by the teaching of it, but by a sort of haphazard. Nor was the importance of the subject at all realized in medical colleges even today. On the other hand, men not especially qualified, and frequently not trained for the work, were still entrusted with the care of the life and health of the community.

"Public hygiene," said Dr. Wilbur, "is dependent in large measure upon vital statistics, and when other countries have done so much in recognizing this in their laws, why are we in the United States compelled to appeal continually to our government for such a law? Why should the registration of births, for example, be so neglected that for very few of our towns and cities should the birth rates be reliable? We need such a reorganization as will give us a dependable system of vital statistics."

The lecturer traced the history of such statistics in the United States, and pointed out that Massachusetts was the first state in the world to make the collection of them a government function and impose on the citizen the duty of giving notice of births, deaths and marriages.

Alluding to the paramount necessity of accurately giving the cause of death, he cited as one of the alarming statements throwing doubt on our mortality system Dr. Richard C. Cabot's report, submitted last year, of discrepancies between diagnosis and autopsy in the Massachusetts General hospital, showing a large percentage of cases in which a mistaken diagnosis was made.

"Many parts of this country," said the speaker, "have no effective registration. We need much greater precision in stating the cause of death, so as to render mortality statistics of value for scientific deduction, though for the more definite forms of disease our statistics are valuable."

STAMFORD, Conn., March 26.—Mrs. Cornelia Danforth Peck, divorced wife of Harry Thurston Peck, denied last night following his funeral that her husband ever entrusted a large sum of money to any friend to keep for him. She said if Prof. Peck had told his secretary, Miss Margaret McDougall that he had given $100,000 to any one, he was joking with her.

"I don't think Prof. Peck's combined earnings amounted to that," she said. "His estate, which is bequeathed to his daughter, consists entirely of the income from royalties on his books."

Miss McDougall said Prof. Peck told her some time ago that four years ago he had given $100,000 to a former schoolmate, who had something to do with a banking business, with the understanding that the money was to be turned over to him when he asked for it. He tried to get it recently, he told her, and failed. He did not tell her the man's name.

CONANT & CO.'S SALES

OF CRESCENT WORSTED PROPERTY AT LAWRENCE AND AT CONCORD, N. H.

Yesterday afternoon the J. E. Conant Co. completed the sale of the properties of the Crescent Worsted company, commencing Tuesday afternoon at South Lawrence and finishing yesterday at Concord, N. H. The real estate at South Lawrence was sold in three lots to C. O. Andrews of Lawrence and Wm. E. Walsh of Lowell; the machinery, mechanical equipment, and other personal property was sold in lots to suit purchasers to Fradd & Wood of Manchester, N. H., Hudson Worsted Co. of Worcester, Cranston Woolen mill of Bristol, R. I., Root Worsted mill, Millbury, Mass., Walworth Bros. of Lawrence, A. J. Robinson, Somersworth, N. H., American Woolen company, John A. Simpson of Lowell, Edward Jefferson & Bro., J. K. Lamb, Textile Machine Co. and John J. McCloskey—the three last of Philadelphia. The total realized from the South Lawrence sale was $21,700; the purchaser of lot five, of the worsted spinning plant at Concord, N. H., was W. M. Burr of Boston for $10,500; lot six, or the house, was purchased by Charles P. Nash of Concord for $2500; the total sale amounted to $34,700. There can be no criticism from any standpoint of the character of the attendance at either of the sales. While the bidders hesitated somewhat to begin their bids at each sale of real estate, there was more or less rapid work once they got to going. Both days provided perfect weather conditions. Each sale was a success and the completeness of the transaction, as a whole, was quickly reached.

MOOSE HERD MISSING

KEPT ON OCTOBER MOUNTAIN FROM WHICH THEY ESCAPED—ANIMALS HIGHLY PRIZED

LENOX, March 26.—Lost—One herd of moose.

Harry Payne Whitney's highly prized animals that for several winters have roamed through his October mountain estate are missing.

To find them, Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, accompanied by two sons of James A. Burden of New York, reached Lenox yesterday. They intend to set out into the still wintry fastnesses of the Berkshires today.

Together with deer and other game, the moose have had the run of the Whitney estate, but have been restrained from escape by a high wire fencing encircling the mountain.

The 40 animals were missed, but the weather was so severe that the caretakers assume they had sought shelter in some remote part of the estate.

The storms of February made it increasingly difficult to search for them successfully. It has been found that part of the fencing was destroyed, and it is feared they have escaped through this. Mr. Whitney and his searching party are prepared to go the whole length and breadth of the Housatonic valley after the animals, though they will cover October mountain first.

REALTY INTERESTS SAFE

IN ASSESSMENT OF PROPERTY IN BOSTON SAYS ALL WILL GET SQUARE DEAL

BOSTON, March 26.—Relative to a conference between Mayor Curley and a committee representing the Massachusetts real estate exchange as to which certain reports appeared in the daily press yesterday morning, the committee from the exchange, which consists of Frederick O. Woodruff, A. H. Tuber and H. O. Cutter, gave out yesterday afternoon the following statement:

"A report that the mayor was about to order a general advance in assessments upon downtown business property in Boston was recently brought to the attention of the exchange and this committee was appointed by the directors to confer with the mayor regarding this matter.

"It was the judgment of the exchange that while individual pieces of down-town property might reasonably stand a larger assessment, the city as a whole was fairly assessed at present. It was felt that some portions of the business district are now assessed for all that they are worth, and that a further advance in assessment would result in hardship to the owner and also to the tenants, who in numerous cases pay the taxes.

"Great efforts are now being made by the mayor and various civic organizations to boom Boston. One important method is to treat our present industries so that we may hold what we have and a too radical advance in assessments would in our judgment not only hold in check any advance, but would tend to destroy the good work already accomplished.

"At the conference yesterday the committee did not attempt to dictate in any way to the mayor as to his policy in this matter, nor was any reference made to the work of any of the present assessors or to the work of any prospective appointees to the assessing department.

"The committee did not suggest that the assessors should confer with the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange or with any of its individual members as to valuations.

"The delegation was courteously received by the mayor and the conference accomplished all that the committee expected; namely, an assurance from the mayor that all parties interested would receive a square deal."

A Single Application Banishes Hair From Face

(Beauty Topics)

Here is a way to remove obnoxious hairy growths while you are preparing your toilette for the evening: Mix into a stiff paste enough powdered delatone and water to cover the hairs not wanted. Apply, and in about two minutes rub off and every trace of hair comes with it. Washing the skin to remove the surplus delatone leaves it soft, clear and free from blemish. To insure success, be certain that you get real delatone.

EXCESS OF BACHELORS

IN SAN FRANCISCO AND THE MARRIAGE TENDENCY NOT VERY MARKED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26.—Next to Newport, R. I., San Francisco has a higher percentage of bachelors than any other city in the country.

A report to be made soon by an association of collegiate alumni school survey class which has been investigating San Francisco's schools, estimates the percentage of unmarried men here between 25 and 45 years of age at 45.5. Newport's percentage is a trifle higher. The marriage tendency is not marked.

WILL IS VOID

For Lack of Proper Signatures—Not Enough Witnesses

BOSTON, March 26.—Mrs. Nellie A. Eastman wrote her own will without the aid of an attorney, but she had only two witnesses sign it, though the law requires three, so the instrument is inoperative.

"If any one concerned or mentioned in this will makes any trouble he shall be cut off without one dollar," the closing sentence.

Under her signature appear the signatures of Elmer C. Raymond and Leona C. Raymond, though there is no attestation clause or any wording to indicate that even they are witnesses. Mrs. Myra Eastman Gulliet, a daughter, is named as executrix.

The testatrix leaves all her property except $50 for a burial lot, to her daughter, Mrs. Gulliet, for life, and on the death of the latter the estate is to go to her children, if any, and if not then she may dispose of it as she wishes by will. If the daughter marries a second time "this will shall become null and void."

Notwithstanding the bequest to the daughter of all the estate, the testatrix later in the will leaves $1000 to the Haverhill, N. H. Congregational church and $100 to the chapel of that church, $500 each to nephews and nieces, except to Jess Corliss, who is not to have any on account of the way he used my father."

In the usual course the instrument will be offered for probate, disallowed because of the lack of sufficient signatures of witnesses, and administration will be taken out. The property will be treated as intestate and be distributed according to law to the heirs.

INTO COBURN'S WINDOW

TOURING CAR SMASHED LARGE PLATE GLASS WINDOW IN MARKET STREET

Late yesterday afternoon, the rear end of a powerful touring car crashed with terrific force through one of the large plate glass display windows in the store of C. H. Coburn Co., in Market street. It seems that the machine had just been replenished with gasoline and lubricating oil, and the operator cranked his car with the reverse gear on. In the window at that time was a card bearing this invitation: "Come inside and see the Monolac demonstration," and after the crash the demonstrator remarked that it was his intention that the demonstration should be given for public inspection only. The window had been tastily trimmed with cans of Monolac arranged in pyramid fashion, but the might of the contact upset the cans, leaving a beautiful rainbow effect upon the floor of the window. A section of the sash was also reduced to splinters. It was not long before Coburn's corps of expert glaziers were on the scene, clearing away the broken fragments of glass and preparing the sash for a new light of plate, 81½x96 inches. "That's the best part of it," said a looker-on, "they have the glass and the hands to set it." Just a year ago yesterday, a large roan horse walked into Coburn's store, but no damage was done then, except to the feelings of the youthful rider who was perched on its back.

The door was open and the horse, it appears, mistook Coburn's for Cahill's blacksmith shop.

FROM POLAR BEAR REGION

Letters From Member of Expedition—Karluk Still in Ice—Will Continue Three Year Trip

BOSTON, March 26.—Two letters have just been received by Dr. Samuel J. Mixter from his son, Samuel Mixter, with fifth members of the polar bear party who remained with the power schooner chartered by the Harvard expedition when she was frozen in the Arctic ice. One letter was dated Dec. 9 on board the Belvedere at Collinson point, where the writer was the guest of Dr. Anderson of the southern division of Stefanson's party and the other was written on Dec. 23 on board the Polar Bear.

This mail was taken on foot and sledges much of the way to Fairbanks, Alaska.

The first says in part:

"Still no word of the Karluk. This bunch, however, is all right and will continue the three year trip, anyhow."

In the second message, the writer says:

"Stefanson on his way out has just arrived, though the Karluk is still in the ice. The boat stuck in the ice about ten miles off Cross Island; they thought she was there for the winter. Stefanson came ashore with another man to hunt caribou and the same blow of Sept. 23 that let us into shore, took the Karluk to the westward, how far goodness only knows."

B. & M. WAS SANDBAGGED

Into Accepting Trusteeship Recently Agreed Upon, Says Counsel W. H. Coolidge.

BOSTON, March 26.—Counsel W. H. Coolidge of the Boston & Maine railroad declared today that the railroad had been "sandbagged" into accepting the trusteeship recently agreed upon by the department of justice and Chairman Elliott of the New Haven road.

Mr. Coolidge made the statement before the legislative committee on railroads.

Mr. Coolidge's comment came at the close of a hearing on a bill for the lease of the Hampden railroad to the Boston & Maine. H. E. Kurrus rose from the audience and referred to the Boston Holding company, through which the New Haven road controls the majority of the Boston & Maine stock as "illegal."

"We do not agree that it is illegal," retorted Coolidge.

"But you have agreed now," said Kurrus referring to the trusteeship for the Boston & Maine.

"We do agree," said Coolidge, "that we were sandbagged into accepting it."

Rep. Washburn of Worcester, who then asked Public Service Commissioner George W. Anderson, who was responsible for the personnel of the board of trustees. Mr. Anderson said that he thought Governor Walsh was largely responsible for the selection of James L. Doherty of Springfield and that Louis D. Brandeis was responsible for the appointment of Charles P. Hall of Newton.

BOSTON MARKET

BOSTON, March 26.—A fair amount of business was transacted in local mining shares during the early hours today. Values ruled firm and favorites had gained fractionally by noon.

SAME SLOW MOVEMENT

THAT CHARACTERIZED YESTERDAYS OPENING WERE EVIDENT TODAY

NEW YORK, March 26.—Speculative interest was lacking in the forepart of today's market, which was characterized by the same slow movements and yielding tendencies as the preceding session. Union Pacific was the only one of the leaders which opened above yesterday's close. In spite of the absence of demand no efforts were made to press stocks on the market and recessions were trifling. Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, which slumped violently yesterday on the dividend reduction, opened half higher at 76. Corn Products, another recent weak feature made a small gain.

Omission of the Railroad Steel Spring dividend was another unfavorable reminder to the bulls of the trend of industrial conditions, which tended to keep down the buying power of the market, although there was no pressure from the shorts. Railway Steel Spring broke 2½, but otherwise there was little variation from the low figures of the morning. Foreign operations were on a reduced scale. London bought scattered amounts of the International railroad shares.

The slow downward movement of stocks was resumed today. Steel was forced down because of the reports of declining business and prospects of lower prices. The railroad list again reflected the influence of dwindling earnings. Lehigh Valley's February net revenue decreased $552,000. Operations on the short side were light and declines were small but bulls feared to take the initiative because of the market's inability to absorb the stocks which a rise would bring out.

The market closed firm. Prices retraced their course slowly in the final hour, full recoveries occurring in Steel, Union Pacific and Reading.

PAY OF PASTORS

Plea That it be Increased Comes From State of Connecticut

WILLIMANTIC, Conn., March 26.—A plea for a more adequate support for the pastors in the rural communities was made in the report of Rev. G. G. Scrivener, superintendent for the Norwich district at today's session of the 74th annual meeting of the New England southern conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

"Never can we hope," he said, "to cope with the conditions and solve the problems confronting the church in rural New England until we can make it possible to appoint our strong and efficient men at the centers of our rural communities and keep them there."

In the conference he said there were 2⅞ churches, exclusive of students' charges paying their pastors $500 a year or less. Twelve of that number are in the Norwich district.

A considerable material as well as spiritual activity and in a number of instances increases in pastors' salaries were reported by the three district superintendents, Rev. Mr. Scrivener, Rev. W. T. ward of the Providence district and Rev. A. J. Coultas of the New Bedford district.

In the latter more than $40,000 had been expended in improving properties, a number of church debts had been reduced or cancelled and gifts and bequests to various churches and benevolences aggregating a little more than $22,000 were reported. There were 450 conversions, an increase over last year. Some of the churches show a decline in membership but about half show increases of one to 25 per cent.

WOMEN WIN OUT

Mass. House for First Time Concurred With Senate on Resolve

BOSTON, March 26.—Woman suffrage won a victory today when the house for the first time concurred with the senate in adopting a resolve which proposes an amendment to the constitution by which the word "male" would be stricken from the provision describing the qualifications of a voter.

The vote was 164 to 39.

TWO GENERALS RESIGN

Continued

Journment of the house of commons tonight on the subject of the reported resignations of Field Marshal French and Adjutant General Ewart. At the opening of the session a member inquired whether the two generals had resigned.

Mr. Lloyd George replied in the absence of the premier, who had gone to Buckingham palace to see King George.

The reply of Mr. Lloyd George was confirmation of the report that both generals had tendered their resignations.

PREMIER'S STAND GENERALLY APPROVED EXCEPT BY RADICAL ELEMENT

LONDON, March 26.—Premier Asquith was generally conceded today to have regained the support not only of the liberals but of the Irish and labor members of parliament by the stand he took in the house of commons yesterday in repudiating the guarantee given to the mutinous army officers in Ireland that they might decide whether or not they would serve against the Ulster unionists.

The government, however, is not considered as being altogether out of trouble yet. It has still to deal with the army officers under the new conditions established by the premier's speech. It is believed that as soon as the government formally withdraws the guarantees given by Colonel Seely, secretary for war and Field Marshal Sir John French, the officers will again resign their commissions and as one of them said:

"This time in earnest."

There is also to be settled the question of what the army council will do. Brig. General Gough, commander of the third cavalry brigade, in the course of an interview said:

"If Premier Asquith withdraws the guarantees he will have to throw over the army council and the government will be faced practically with the disruption of the army."

The liberal press in the provinces while endorsing what Premier Asquith has already done insists that he must go farther and actually withdraw the guarantee given to the officers. These newspapers say the premier must make it quite plain to all officers of the army and navy that they must under all circumstances obey the orders given them.

Many liberals, too, think Premier Asquith should have accepted the resignation of Colonel Seely who has always been suspected of being more unfonist than liberal in his sympathies.

COL. SEELY WHO TOOK ALL BLAME FOR ULSTER TANGLE, IS STILL IN OFFICE

LONDON, March 26.—Col. John E. B. Seely's statement in the house of commons yesterday, taking upon himself all the blame as secretary of state for war, for the mistakes of the Ulster entanglement, made one of the most dramatic situations in the history of parliament.

To make the drama complete, he once resigned his office, and in most public and formal manner Premier Asquith refused to accept resignation and testified in addition the affection and confidence in which Col. Seely was held by his colleague in the cabinet.

Col. Seely's explanation followed a sharp debate, before a crowded house started by Admiral Beresford's demand for particulars of a threatened naval demonstration off the coast of Ireland. There was a flood of questions on all phases of the crisis and finally A. Bonar Law, leader of the Opposition, asked for details of the contemplated resignations of cavalry officers, which Col. Seely proceeded to give.

He declared he had nothing to conceal, but that he thought, in view the information received by the government, it was necessary to take certain steps to protect the government depots. He had issued instructions for this purpose with the full authority of the cabinet. Gen. Paget came to London to discuss the best methods of carrying out the movements of troops.

LONDON PAPERS SAY THAT LORD MORLEY OUGHT TO RESIGN HIS POST

LONDON, March 26.—Lord Morley of Blackburn, during the course of his speech in the house of lords made the important admission that the two unauthorized paragraphs added to the Gough letter were drafted by Col. Seely in consultation with Lord Morley. The conservative morning papers commenting on this admission contend that Lord Morley, who holds the office of lord president of the council, ought to resign.

OPINION IN MILITARY CIRCLES THAT MORE RESIGNATIONS WERE IMMINENT

LONDON, March 26.—The opinion prevailed in military circles today that the resignations were imminent of Field Marshal Sir John French, chief of the imperial general staff, and Lieut. Gen. Sir John Spencer Ewart, adjutant general to the forces.

Field Marshal French and General Ewart were joint signatories with Col. Seely, secretary for war, of the two repudiated paragraphs that brought about the resignation yesterday of Col. Seely, which was declined by Premier Asquith.

Much comment was aroused by a conference at the war office of all the principal commanding generals of the British army, including Field Marshal French, Lieut. Gen. Ewart, General Sir Horace Lockwood Smith-Dorrien, aide de camp general to the king, and Lieut. General Grierson, general in command of the eastern district of England with headquarters in London.

Colonel Seely and Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, also had a long conference with Premier Asquith.

MOTORMAN TO BLAME

For the Death of Alfred Miner at Groveland on the Bay State Street Railway

LAWRENCE, March 26.—That Motorman Alfred Miner was responsible for the death of William Ahern of Groveland, who was killed when a car on the Haverhill and Andover line of the Bay State street railway, was overturned in North Andover on the night of Feb. 6, was the finding of Associate Justice F. N. Chandler in a decision announced today on the inquest he conducted after the accident.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

road was referred to the commissioner of streets and highways.

A petition by George F. White to lease or buy a strip of land on the Franklin school premises was referred to the commissioner of public safety and city solicitor.

The Prouty Pension

The following opinion relative to a pension for Lyman C. Prouty, an employe of the street department, was read by the mayor:

Lowell, Mass., March 17, 1914.
To the Municipal Council of the City of Lowell.

Gentlemen: Concerning the reference made of the commissioner of streets and highways and the city solicitor of a petition of Lyman C. Prouty, an employe of the department of streets and highways for retirement on pension pursuant to chapter 447, acts of 1912, the solicitor submits for your consideration the following:

Section 1, chapter 447, acts of 1912.

"Section 1. A veteran of the Civil war in the service of any city or town if incapacitated for active duty, may be retired from active service by the city council of the city, or by the selectmen of the town, at one-half the rate of the average compensation paid to him during the two years immediately preceding his retirement; provided, that no veteran shall be retired under the provisions of this act unless he has been in the service of the city or town for a period of not less than ten years preceding the time of his retirement."

The municipal council of the city of Lowell accepted the provisions of chapter 447, acts of 1912, by vote in meeting held June 5th, 1913. Therefore, the law is in force which entitles a veteran to a pension at the will of the municipal council, provided, that the veteran meets all of the requirements specified in the law:

First—The veteran must have been in the service of the city for ten years.

Second—He must be incapacitated for further service in said city.

Third—He must be in the employ of the city at the time of his request to be placed upon the pension roll.

Upon examination of the records of the department of streets and highways, I find that Lyman C. Prouty has been employed for more than ten years in the service of the city; that he is at present in the service of the city and that he is a veteran of the Civil war.

It is not a mandatory provision that the municipal council should grant a pension to the petitioner. It may do so, however, if it sees fit; and I should not grant a pension unless upon recommendation of the commissioner in charge of the department in which said petitioner is employed.

The law creating pensions pursuant to chapter 447 of the acts of 1912 in nowise provides how the payment for such pension should be made. If, therefore, the petitioner should be granted a pension, as prayed for, no money could be appropriated from the street department appropriation to provide for such pension for the reason that pursuant to section 32, chapter 645, of the acts of 1911, it is provided that "no money appropriated for a specific purpose shall be expended for any other purpose." And, since all moneys appropriated for the department of streets and highways have been appropriated for specific purposes, such moneys cannot be diverted from such purposes. In other words, moneys to pay pensions cannot be paid from appropriations made and intended for the departmental purposes of the department of streets and highways.

Respectfully,
J. Joseph Hennessy.

Commissioner Morse speaking to the question said that inasmuch as there is no appropriation for the pension he did not see how it could be granted. He did not see how it could be granted.

"Mr. Prouty was a valuable man to the city and I haven't got a word to say against him.

"He wanted to run a steam roller this year, and wanted the small roller. I didn't want a man to pick out his own job and I told him he couldn't have the small roller."

The mayor said that inasmuch as Mr. Prouty is not incapacitated for further duty he was not entitled to a pension, but he believed he should be employed as steam roller engineer, and Mr. Morse said he would give Mr. Prouty a roller.

Withdrawn His Name

In the synopsis of business to come before the municipal council today appeared a notice to the effect that Edmund J. Cheney had withdrawn as candidate for registrar of voters. This came as somewhat of a surprise as nobody seemed to have known that he was a candidate. The notice of withdrawal read as follows:

Lowell, Mass.
Dear Mr. Flynn, City Clerk, Lowell:

Will you please notify the honorable city council that I hereby withdraw my name as a candidate for registrar of voters.

Very respectfully,
Edmund J. Cheney.

$75,000 For Sewers

A loan order of $75,000 for sewers was productive of some discussion. This is a blanket loan covering sewer work for the year and on motion of Com. Brown, who said the order was not properly drawn, the matter was referred to him.

For Special Election

An order calling a meeting of the voters of the city of Lowell for a special election on the purchase of the Pillsbury estate for a contagious hospital site was read by the mayor. The time set for the election was Tuesday, April 7. Com. Brown moved adoption of the order. His motion was not seconded.

Sue O'Sullivan Rubber Co.

A request by the city solicitor for authority to enter suit against the O'Sullivan Rubber company for 1911 taxes was granted.

Traverse Jurors Drawn

The following jurors to serve in this city the first Monday in April were drawn by Commissioner Donnelly:

James H. Rogers, 663 Bridge street, optician.

Alexander Mirault, 5 Varney street, music teacher.

Charles A. Parker, 13 Second street, painter.

Thomas S. Cottrell, 44 Crowley street, weaver.

Charles W. Eaton, 105 Myrtle street, banker and broker.

Percy S. Smith, 104 Gershom avenue, barber.

$50,000 for Lighting

An order appropriating $50,000 for lighting the streets of Lowell for the months of January, February, March and April, 1914, and for such further time as may be necessary to exhaust the appropriation was read.

Commissioner Brown moved that the matter be laid on the table for one week.

Mayor Murphy said that some action would have to be taken within a week, as the contract called for it. Action in the matter was postponed till Saturday. Mr. Brown said the city should take over the Lowell Electric Light Co.

Alderman Brown's Report

The following report of his trip with the assessors to the cities of New Bedford, Fall River, Holyoke and Springfield, was read and accepted.

Mr. Mayor and Gentlemen of the Council:

At the request and by direction of the municipal council the board of assessors and myself have visited New Bedford, Fall River, Springfield and Holyoke.

In each city an inspection of methods of assessing was made and I personally made comparisons with the work in the various cities visited and our own.

The feeling is strongly impressed upon one who loves his city after visiting other municipalities that if Lowell is to remain an important city of the commonwealth heroic efforts must be put forward by all citizens of the city who desire a future for our people.

We are lagging behind in many respects. We are not growing—industry is not being invited here nor are conditions being made pleasant for the coming of new industries.

The four cities visited gave evidence of greater activity and more driving business conditions than prevail here and I have been deeply moved at the realization that something must be done or the city of Lowell will cease to contend for important place among the cities of the commonwealth.

In no city were general conditions more impressive than in Holyoke. While its leading industry is the manufacture of paper, small industries are crowding in and are being welcomed and conditions made to help and accommodate them. No empty tenements disturb the visitor's belief in the city's prosperity and no idle men fill the streets lamenting that "no man hath hired us."

Some dozen years ago this brave little municipality, then of less than 40,000 people, engaged in a fight to a finish with the corporations that refused to pay the tax levied upon them by the assessors. After the expenditure of large sums of money the corporations were defeated and thoroughly humbled and have since paid their just dues to the municipal treasury.

About the same time, with the treasury of the city almost depleted, the intelligent and aggressive people of the city, aroused to a full sense of their power and ability, wiped out the lighting monopoly that had for years held the city by the throat, and the city of Holyoke took over the gas and electric light plant owned by the Holyoke Water Power Co.

The results are marvelous. Lighting has been put at a cost of about 50 per cent of the amount asked from us here in Lowell. An arc street lamp for which we pay $80 per year, costs the city of Holyoke $45. The light furnished to home, store and office that costs the residents of Lowell 11 cents per kilowatt costs in Holyoke 6 cents.

But above all power is furnished to the small industry at rates that make Holyoke a mecca for that class of business and a great city is being built up on the Connecticut river; not because of superior location or any great natural advantages but because of the intelligence and aggressiveness of its citizens that will not be held in subjection by corporations unwilling to pay their honest taxes or by any foreign owned lighting monopoly.

I have at hand a vast mass of information on the subject which I shall put in form for the benefit of my associates in the council and I shall ask the council to visit Holyoke and see for themselves the conditions there, and I shall at an early date offer the order which is a necessary preliminary for the referendum to the people, that under the power conferred by statute the city of Lowell take over the plant and property of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation.

Steam Roller Man

Mr. Morse introduced Mr. Bryant, representative of the Buffalo Steam Roller Co., to tell of the repairs necessary to the steam rollers of the street department. Mr. Bryant said there was one of the rollers that should be sent to the shop for general repairs, but he thought the other rollers might go along for another year for comparatively slight expense.

In reply to Com. Brown, Mr. Bryant said that the different parts of the rollers, the different castings, are numbered or lettered and can be obtained at any time.

Mr. Bryant talked "steam roller" for about 20 minutes, and Mr. Morse then presented an order calling for $375 for repairs to steam rollers and that the work be done by the Buffalo Steam Roller Co. of Buffalo, N. Y. The city clerk was authorized to advertise the order.

Elect Charity Superintendent

At 1.35 the mayor moved that the position of superintendent of charities be declared vacant for the good of the service.

Alderman Donnelly asked the city solicitor's opinion verbally, as to the council's authority in the matter and the city solicitor said that in order to elect to the position there should first be an order of removal, stating cause for same. The position in question was then declared vacant and the council, on motion of the mayor then proceeded to the election of a superintendent of charities.

Mayor Murphy and Alderman Brown voted for Martin F. Conley; Aldermen Carmichael and Morse for Henry J. O'Dowd, Alderman Donnelly not voting. No choice. Alderman Donnelly said he refused to vote because of the ruling of the city solicitor.

A second ballot was taken and the result was the same as on the first ballot.

Alderman Donnelly moved adjournment to Saturday, but the motion was not seconded. A third ballot was taken with the same result.

On the fourth ballot Martin F. Conley was elected, Alderman Morse swinging from O'Dowd to Conley. Alderman Donnelly broke his reserve on this ballot and voted for Michael J. Dowd.

Dr. Brunelle Elected

On motion of Ald. Brown the council proceeded to ballot for a board of health member and Dr. Pierre N. Brunelle was re-elected. He received four of the five votes, Mayor Murphy voting for Dr. Joseph Lamoureux.

Registrar of Voters

The next up was the registrar of voters and the first and only ballot resulted in no choice. The present incumbent, J. Omer Allard received the votes of Brown and Donnelly; Carmichael for Charles E. Anderson and Mayor Murphy and Ald. Morse for Fred Harrison.

Adjourned to Saturday at 11 a. m.

GENERAL STRIKE

May be Called in Lawrence -- Grievances Against All Mills

LAWRENCE, March 26.—A proposal for a general strike for an eight-hour day was discussed at a meeting of the central committee of the Industrial Workers of the World last night. The matter was put over to Friday night for further consideration.

Members of the committee said after the meeting that grievances of various kinds had been received against most of the mills in the city and that some sentiment had been expressed in favor of making these grievances the basis of a general strike.

BALL PLAYERS STRIK

QUIT KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY TEAM BECAUSE SCHEDULE HAD BEEN CUT TWO GAMES

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 26.—The baseball team of the Kentucky university went on strike here today because of an announcement that the spring schedule had been cut from 14 games to 12 games.

The athletic committee of the faculty cancelled the two games because in their opinion the sport took up too much time from the college studies.

FIGHT ON CANAL TOLLS

The Most Important Legislation Struggle of Present Administration is on

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The Panama tolls repeal bill was obstructed in the house today by a parliamentary situation rich in motions, roll calls, demands for a quorum—all the agencies of delay at the command of its opponents.

Just when the rules committee had agreed on an arrangement to parcel out 20 hours for debate between the contending factions and the first skirmish of the fight was about to start the river and harbor bill, then the only obstruction to the tolls repeal bill was temporarily displaced and a new stumbling block—a conference report on the urgent deficiency bill—was inserted. A threatened filibuster on that prolonged the situation and gave indications that the repeal bill might possibly be forced over until tomorrow.

Administration supporters and opponents of the bill fought hard.

President Wilson, confident of victory, received reports of the situation at the White House. Leaders assured him a safe majority would carry the repeal.

The senate began its own debate with a speech by Senator Owen. Senator Lewis introduced a resolution for equal tolls for all.

For two hours the urgent deficiency bill fight waged. The river and harbor measure then again was held up while Representative Kindell of Colorado spoke on his controversy with the postoffice department over the franking privilege.

It was nearly 2 o'clock before Rep. Sparkman could call up the river and harbor bill.

IMPORTANT STRUGGLE

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Confronted by the most important legislative struggle that the present administration has experienced, the president's supporters in the house today prepared to draw upon their resources to the limit to carry the contest over the bill to repeal the provision of the Panama canal act granting free passage to American vessels. A sharp debate extending over the rest of the week, and possibly into next week was expected by those in charge of both sides of the controversy.

The division in the democratic ranks, the first serious defection that has confronted the president on a question of administration policy and the general elimination of party lines in the contest promised a bitter fight although the leaders of the president's followers expressed confidence that they would pass the repeal bill by a substantial majority.

When the house met today there remained a few pages of the river and harbor appropriation bill to be disposed of. It was understood that Chairman Henry of the rules committee was then to present the special rule limiting debate on the Sims' bill repealing the free tolls section to 15 hours. An effort was to be made to secure an agreement extending the time for debating the rule beyond the allotted 40 minutes. Both sides were preparing for a vote on the rule as a test ballot on the repeal measure itself. A score of members were ready to speak for or against the bill.

Democratic house leaders abandoned the idea of only 15 hours debate on the Panama tolls exemption repeal today and agreed to 20. This would bring a vote probably Saturday.

The opening of the convention was delayed nearly an hour and the time was utilized by the delegates in giving demonstrations for former Governor Frederick W. Plaisted, former United States Senator Obadiah Gardner, the four aspirants for the nomination for governor at the June primaries, and others. The delegates listened to selections on the municipal organ in the city hall auditorium, in which the convention was held. One was entitled "The Storm."

William R. Pattangall of Waterville was present as the presiding officer and delivered an address sounding the keynote for the state election campaign.

President Wilson conferred with several congressmen before the house convened. Representatives Covington of Maryland and Bell of Georgia, who are helping to line up the administration forces, told him there would be a majority of at least 50 on the passage of a special rule and of 75 or 100 on the adoption of the repeal.

TO SETTLE STRIKE

State Board of Arbitration Gives Hearing at Lawrence

LAWRENCE, March 26.—The state board of conciliation and arbitration conducted a hearing in city hall this afternoon in an effort to bring about a settlement of the strike of employes of the dyeing department of the Pacific mills print works. David Kimmond, chairman of the strike committee and members of the committee were present and Agent Walter E. Parker of the Pacific mills appeared in response to a summons.

After a brief discussion both Agent Parker and the strike committee agreed to meet at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for a conference in the main office of the Pacific mills print works.

1800 ON STRIKE

Settlement at Depew, New York, Predicted After Conference

DEPEW, N. Y., March 26.—A settlement of the molders' strike at the plant of the Gould Coupler works was predicted this afternoon following a conference between James McManus of the state board of mediation and arbitration and General Manager George Hayden of the coupler works. About 1800 men are on strike.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

SUIT THING.

"Are you sure that these eggs have no chickens in them?"

"Yes, miss. They are duck eggs."

QUITE UNNECESSARY.

"Ever keep a diary, Weary?"

"Wot's dat?"

"A record of wot a feller does."

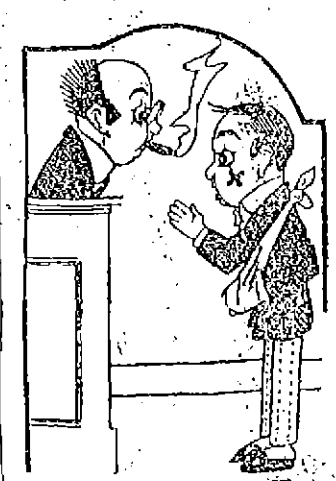

"Naw. De cops attends ter dat."

QUITE LIKELY.

"This is a commercial age."

"Sure. If Noah were to open the ark today, he would charge admission."

AUTO GOT THERE FIRST.

Judge—The prisoner claims that he tooted his horn before he ran over you.

Complainant—Maybe he did, your honor, but what good is that when a car is travelling faster than sound.

CHANCES BETTER NOW.

"Have you given Fred his final answer yet?"

"Not yet—but I've given him my final 'No!'"

HAD TO THINK QUICKLY.

"What in the world made you buy more postage stamps?"

"Why, I went into the drug store to get some face powder, and who should be there but Fred."

THREE KILLED IN AUTO

When it Swerved and Plunged Down Forty Feet Into Ravine at Dallas, Texax

DALLAS, Texas, March 26.—Three persons were killed and three seriously injured when an auto swerved, left the road and plunged 40 feet into a ravine here early today. Dr. Samuel P. Tipton, driver of the car, and Mrs. Hattie Loving were crushed to death. Mrs. Loving's son William was so badly injured he died soon afterward. Two women and a man were the occupants of the car. All were residents of Dallas.

FRED BLANDING SUED BY FEDS FOR RETURNING TO FOLD AFTER JUMPING

Fred Blanding, on the pitching staff of the Cleveland Naps, jumped to the Federals, and then he jumped right back again into O. B. (Organized Ball). Now Freddie is being sued by the Feds for breach of contract or something like that. Freddie says it doesn't make much difference what he's going, and for the Naps, and that's the end of it. Blanding was assigned by the Feds to the Pittsburgh team, but his ante was raised by the American league club, and he decided to return to the fold.

FLED FROM SHOCK AT MESSINA

MESSINA, Italy, March 26.—A shock of earthquake accompanied by a violent storm caused a panic today among the inhabitants of this district, most of whom fled to the open country. When the storm subsided it was found that the damage had been insignificant and that nobody had been injured.

NO MORE TO GET HOOK

NEW BEDFORD JUDGE PUTS BAN ON UMPIRE ALTORS—THEATRE MANAGERS FINED

NEW BEDFORD, March 26.—Judge Milliken put the ban on the juvenile actor in New Bedford today by fining Herbert S. Clark, manager of the New Bedford Amusement company $60 on six counts for allowing the exhibition of children under 16 years of age on the stage of his theatre. Thomas J. Charrette was fined $10 on a similar charge. The complaint was brought by Alfred Kaley, inspector of the state board of labor and industries.

EARTH SHOCKS FELT

THROUGHOUT MICHIGAN COPPER COUNTRY TODAY—NO DAMAGE WAS DONE

HOUGHTON, Mich., March 26.—Earth shocks were felt throughout the Michigan copper country today. No damage was done. The disturbance is supposed to have been caused by an air blast in one of the old mine workings. One of these disturbances occurred last month in one of the deepest mines while members of the congressional investigating committee were exploring a mile below the surface.

SUBMARINE LAUNCHED

QUINCY, March 26.—Submarine K-6 was successfully launched today. The boat was christened by Mrs. Ethel Roberts, wife of Lieut. T. G. Roberts, a United States naval constructor.

ALLEGED WHITE SLAVER

PROMINENT FALL RIVER BUSINESS MAN ARRAIGNED IN COURT ON COMPLAINT OF ORPHAN

FALL RIVER, March 26.—In consequence of statements made to the police by Jesse Moffitt, 16, of 210 Centre street, John Lange, a prominent business man, aged 40, was arraigned in district court today on a complaint alleging violation of chapter 421 of the acts of 1910 dealing with the enticing of women for immoral purposes. A plea of not guilty was entered, and the case continued until a week from tomorrow. The prisoner is married and has two children.

The complainant is an orphan.

SENATE PASSED BILL

Which Would Make It a Misdemeanor to Deliver Newspapers With Advertising Inserts For Profit

ALBANY, March 26.—The senate today passed the bill which would make it a misdemeanor to deliver newspapers with advertising inserts for profit without the consent and knowledge of the publisher.

TO BOOM LOWELL DAY

Views of several of Lowell's public parks and buildings are being shown in the various motion picture houses of the city today in an effort to boom Lowell day. The slides were made under the auspices of the Lowell board of trade, and include city hall, Fort Hill park, South Common playground and many others.

HEBREW DANCING PARTY

At Lincoln Hall for Benefit of the New Synagogue on Railroad Street

A very successful dancing party was conducted at Lincoln hall last evening for the benefit of the Montefiore synagogue, the affair having been organized by three popular young people of the Hebrew colony, Misses Celia Levin and Marion Smith and Mr. Max Shapiro, the trio being known as the Hondines.

The Montefiore synagogue is located at the corner of Railroad and Howard streets. Its construction was started some years ago, but the edifice was never completed because of a lack of sufficient funds. The three young people above mentioned took it upon themselves to raise sufficient funds to complete the structure and, accordingly they organized a party.

The social took place at Lincoln hall and was very largely attended and the receipts proved very substantial. The hall was decorated for the occasion and the happy gathering spent a most enjoyable evening. The program consisted of 20 numbers and several encores were called for. The music was furnished by Miner's orchestra.

The officers of the evening were Miss Celia Levin, general manager; Miss Marion Smith, assistant general manager; Mr. Max Shapiro, floor director; aids, everybody. The arrangements committee was as follows: Mr. Shapiro, chairman; Miss Smith, secretary, and Miss Levin, treasurer.

The organizers were warmly congratulated for the success of the evening and they well deserved the compliments they received, for it meant considerable work for a trio of young people to arrange such a successful reunion. It was stated last night that work on the synagogue will be resumed shortly and pushed along until the edifice is entirely finished. During intermission last night refreshments were served and a handsome souvenir was given each attendant.

ATTEMPT TO DEFRAUD

TRIAL OF MANCOVITZ ON CHARGE OF TRYING TO DEFRAUD WATCHMAKER CREDITORS

BOSTON, March 25.—John R. Murphy, chairman of the finance commission, testified in United States district court yesterday that David Mancovitz told him on or about Sept. 18 last of the $17,000 which Mancovitz said he had found in Jacob Watchmaker's house in Revere, but that witness did not discuss the matter of discovery of the money with anyone except in a telephone talk with Charles B. Jopp, the receiver, on the morning of Sept. 28, and nothing was paid over until the receiver asked him about the money found.

Ex-Representative Mancovitz is on trial on a charge of receiving money from the bankrupt Watchmaker with intent to defraud the latter's creditors.

The case is the outcome of an involuntary petition in bankruptcy filed against Watchmaker Aug. 7, 1913, by seven creditors, whose claims amounted to $2452. Watchmaker's schedule, filed later, showed liabilities of $117,000. He was arrested Aug. 8. Attempts were made for settlement with the creditors and investigation by the grand jury followed. Mr. Murphy was engaged in August by Mancovitz as senior counsel for Watchmaker.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

If any one has any doubts about the effectiveness and dramatic power that lies in moving pictures, let him hurry to the Opera House today and witness that movie "punch," "The Last Days of Pompeii." A finer film production could be hardly asked than this big stroke in motion picture drama that the Pasquali company showed here for the first time last month and are playing here for a return date today and Saturday. They bill it as "the supreme masterpiece of photo-drama" and one does not feel at all justified in contradicting this statement. The staging of "The Eruption of Mount Vesuvius" for this photo-drama and, even more so, that of the great series of spectacles given in the Roman amphitheatre, is a triumph of realism. Exciting chariot races across the screen with so much "go" that they make those of the circus seem like child's play in comparison. Certainly no scene the equal of that showing the lions let loose on the Christians in the arena has ever been shown on any stage. It is a marvel in photography, let alone motion pictures. But to go on and enumerate the "big" scenes in this tremendous photo drama would require too much space. The production is one of those things that must be seen to be appreciated, and to see this striking film production is to appreciate the important part the photo-drama must play in the future, and to be alive to its tremendous appeal at the present time.

"FINE FEATHERS"

Naming the great cast which appears in "Fine Feathers" is like calling the role of the drama's elect. For in this play appear such prominent stars as Robert Edeson, Wilton Lackaye, Max Figman, Rose Coghlan, Florence Rockwell, Lydia Dickson and the others who shared in this play's wonderful success during the season's run at the Astor theatre, New York, and the Cort theatre, Chicago. This is the identical company that will present "Fine Feathers" at the Opera House tomorrow night. Aside from its distinguished cast, "Fine Feathers" is the biggest drama of the day. It received the highest praise from the reviewers of New York and Chicago, and its engagement in the six New England cities after its stay at the Colonial theatre, Boston, will undoubtedly prove the biggest dramatic event in years. It is a play of modern American life, dealing with familiar phases of present-day existence, from the pen of Eugene Walter.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Pat Rooney II, son of the original Pat Rooney, and the best dancer on the vaudeville stage today, with Marion Bent, who is also rated as a dance specialist, give their engrossing act at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, and they are proving solid favorites. For full twenty minutes they purvey comedy and all kinds of dancing, and the act never lags. It is very well done, every bit of it, and the famous pair will be accorded a warm welcome. Charles and Fannie Van, in "From Stage Carpenter to Actor" have an amusing vehicle in which they impersonate a song and dance team who fail to measure up to requirements. They are finally released from further duty, and tell their audience that they will finish the act out in front of the drug store. Kathryn Purnell & Co., have a well woven comedy, and Black Brothers are banjoists and dancers of ability. Other acts on the bill are: Bello Opera, trapezist; Aubrey & Wilson, burlesque wrestlers; Felol & Schofield, juggling and comedy, and the Pathe Weekly pictures. Good seats remain for the rest of the week. Phone 28.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Today at the Merrimack Square theatre there will be an entire change of bill from that given the first of the week with the exception of Walter S. Weeks & Co. who will be held over. On the bill will be Gertrude Van Dyke & Brother, in what is said to be one of vaudeville's classiest pianologues; Joe Parsons, the famous whistler, and Jerome & Lewis, an excellent colored singing and talking team. The photoplays will be changed also and these will as usual be up to the minute. As usual there will be the two-reel dramatic feature which is always run, while the comedy will also be taken care of in the form of a screamingly funny 1000 foot subject. There will also be an educational film. Seats for all remaining performances now on sale at the box office. Box office phone 2053. Subscription list open.

THE OWL THEATRE

"The Blacksmith's Crime" is the special three-act drama offered at the Owl theatre. Miss Florence Turner in "The Younger Sister," a two-act Pathe production called "A Spoiled Life," and five other picked films complete the program. "The Perils of Pauline," the production which is creating a nation-wide interest will soon be one of the features at this house. The management spares no expense to get the best and most expensive features for the approval of its patrons. Always a good show at the Owl, there's a reason.

THE KASINO

Soon, very soon, the balmy breezes will blow through Kasino hall, contributing comfort and health to those within. The Kasino, you know, has portable partitions, so that the temperature is always under absolute control. This can be said of no other hall in Massachusetts. You and your friends are invited to hear Miner's band this afternoon and evening, also Friday and Saturday. Roller skating continues popular at the Kasino.

CHILDREN HATE OIL, CALOMEL AND PILLS

"California Syrup of Figs" Best For Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

BAY STATE POSTMASTERS

SEVERAL MASSACHUSETTS MEN NAMED—JOHN H. McDONALD NAMED FOR OFFICE IN ANDOVER

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Several Massachusetts postmasters were nominated yesterday by President Wilson, but cases of great controversy, with the exception of Andover, where John H. McDonald, chairman of the democratic town committee, was named, were not included.

The Andover case has been seething for some time and ex-Speaker of the Legislature John N. Cole, although a republican, has been fighting McDonald hard. He is understood to have written the senators asking that the nomination be not confirmed, but as he alleged nothing against McDonald's efficiency, Mr. Cole's wishes apparently did not prevail.

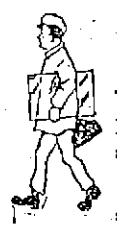

McDonald had the endorsement of National Committeeman John W. Coughlin, Humphrey O'Sullivan of Lowell, Gov. Walsh and three or four democratic congressmen.

Other nominations made by the president yesterday were: M. E. Comiskey, Plymouth; F. B. Estabrook, East Northfield; Otis C. Thayer, Lancaster; John M. Johnson, Lenox; Frank E. Gray, Reading; Luther W. Clark, South Deerfield, and John Dobson, Townsend.

Maine postmasters nominated yesterday were Vivian E. Howe, Presque Isle, and James B. Clark, Wiscasset.

MILLER REPORTED "SAFE"

CONG. ROGERS ASKS FURTHER INQUIRY IF HUDSON MAN IS DETAINED IN KORCHA, ALBANIA

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Cong. Rogers of Lowell yesterday was informed by the state department that James Miller of Hudson, Mass., reported to be under unlawful detention at Korcha, Albania, "was safe in that city." This information was received from the American consul at Salonica, Greece. Mr. Rogers is anxious to ascertain whether Mr. Miller is under detention, and has urged the department to endeavor to obtain full details.

BOY DYING OF BURNS

WAKEFIELD LAD'S CLOTHING SET AFIRE WHILE PLAYING ABOUT KITCHEN STOVE

BOSTON, March 26.—Harold Whittle, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Whittle of 752 Main street, Wakefield, Greenwood section, was seriously and perhaps fatally burned yesterday afternoon while playing about the kitchen stove with a stick during the temporary absence of his parents from the room. He was taken to the Massachusetts General hospital, where it is said that he will not live.

The little boy was left in the kitchen late in the afternoon while his parents were upstairs. He took a piece of kindling wood from behind the stove and poked the stove fire with its end. The stick caught fire and quickly communicated the blaze to the clothing of the boy.

His screams brought the father and mother to his side. With their bare hands they sought to subdue the flames and were severely burned about the hands and arms.

The clothes of the baby were literally burned from his body. Dr. Richard Dutton was summoned and ordered the child's removal to the hospital. The child had inhaled some of the flames and was badly burned about the body and legs.

BIG TENNIS TOURNAMENT

FOURTEEN OF THE LEADING PLAYERS IN BOSTON TO COMPETE FOR TROPHY

BOSTON, March 26.—Fourteen of the leading lawn tennis players of the east came here today to participate in the first annual invitation tournament in the new covered courts of the Longwood Cricket club at Chestnut hill. A trophy has been provided which will become the permanent property of the player winning the event three times not necessarily in successive years.

G. F. Touchard, national indoor champion, was pitted against R. C. Seaver in the first round. Among the other contestants were W. A. Larned, former national lawn tennis champion, R. N. Williams, the internationalist; T. R. Pell, N. W. Niles and G. P. Gardner.

Mrs. E. W. Thomas is home after spending several weeks in the south.

BAR JAIL MADE GOODS

AFTER A VIGOROUS PARTISAN CONTEST, THE HOUSE PASSED EXCLUSION MEASURE

WASHINGTON, March 26.—After a vigorous partisan contest, the house yesterday passed a bill to bar foreign convict-made or pauper-made goods from competition with the products of American free labor.

The measure, which now goes to the senate, follows a bill recently passed by the house forbidding the shipment of convict-made goods in interstate commerce into states which prohibit the sale of such products in the open market.

BURKE BY 10,000

Senator Crawford Admits Defeat—Majority Faction Wins in Renomination of Gov. Byrne

PIERRE, S. D., March 26.—Belated returns last night from the primary election indicated that Congressman Burke was nominated for United States senator by a majority of more than 10,000 votes over his opponent, Senator Crawford. Later yesterday Crawford conceded the nomination of Burke by 2000.

R. J. Woods last night conceded the renomination of Congressman Dillon in the 1st district.

Minority republicans conceded the renomination of Gov. Byrne, the majority leader, but claim that several candidates on their ticket have been nominated.

CROWNED WITH SUCCESS

We take this occasion to thank our many patrons for the splendid success that crowned the initial opening of the Gilday Gown Shop.

Just one month old today and still growing. Day after day we receive enthusiastic compliments over the attractiveness of our exclusive showing. "We can't begin to find such becoming models anywhere else, and your values are simply wonderful," is the general comment of many who have visited here. The daily sales have exceeded my fondest expectations. Gertrude A. Gilday.

JUST TO PROVE

That this shop is always on the alert to anticipate the demands of its patrons and to demonstrate our ability to show the most exclusive styles of the hour at modest prices, We Will Offer Today

A LIMITED NUMBER OF IMPORTED MODELS, SILK SUITS AND WRAPS, RECENTLY ON EXHIBITION IN BOSTON

All were purchased personally this week by Madame Gilday, who will arrange everything for their display and sale with the perfect taste for which she is so well known.

Garments as lovely as these with such wealth of fine workmanship, hand made to the very last stitch, you can imagine how difficult it would be to describe them here with due justice. Sufficient to say that no two are alike and each and every garment bears the label of many well known Paris designers. They are well worth telling about, seeing, and fine enough for the most discriminating to wear.

Will Hold a Special Sale of

Dancing Frocks of Silk from $15 Upwards. Smart Styles.

Afternoon and Evening Dresses $20 Upwards Exclusive Models.

Our previous dress sales have made for us many good friends and we hope to form many new acquaintances during this week's sale, to their advantage and our own. We believe this shop can render the real service for which those discriminating women have long been seeking here in Lowell.
